Playgrounds

blanked the remaining innings by the superb pitching of Mark Gleich with the help of catcher Joe Corbin.

Team Two of the girls' junior softball played its first game with Holton last week. They were beaten 25-1 but if anything, this game should spark some harder practice and improvement before the season ends. Team One was ahead of Burroughs Friday, 17-13, after the top half of the fourth inning. Due to darkness, the game was called and rescheduled for Monday.

At Chicago

Boys softball is off to a good start at Chicago Avenue Playground. The junior team defeated Highland but lost to John Burroughs. The intermediates beat Highland and Sunshine Center. Sonny Malcolm has hit a home run for the juniors and the homers of Dennis Garver, Dwaine Hatfield, Dick Wise and Jim Cantrell have helped the intermediates to win their games.

Track and field events plus a physical fitness program will be playground events for the coming weeks. Tetherball and four-square tournament playoffs are this week. Winners will participate in the city-wide tournaments.

There will be an advanced class in gimp work for arts and crafts this Friday at 1 p.m.

Junior leaders who have been of considerable help this summer are as follows: Jayne Martin, Debbie Swain, Pauline Pelletier, Daryl Moore and Danny Hardman.

At Glenwood

Children from Glenwood have been working out every afternoon for track. Boys and girls who have not signed up can still do so.

The junior boys' softball team has a 1-1 record. They will play their next game with Chicago Avenue next week.

A family picnic was held at Glenwood with children and parents taking part in games and contests.

A week of fun will again be offered to boys and girls between the ages of eight and 12 at the recreation department day camp at Indian Village. Camp fees are $2.50 per youngster. Only a limited number of applications for youngsters from this area are available and they will be on a first-come to go basis. All youngsters interested should check with one of the playground leaders immediately.

Arts and crafts participants are preparing for the recreation department's annual lantern parade. All youngsters interested should see playground leader Hazel Brovont immediately for information and instruction.

There will be an adult tennis class on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings from 5:30 to 6:30. Applications are being taken.

At Eakin

The champions from Eakin Playground who defeated Georgian Heights in tournament play were: tetherball, junior division, Jimmy Clark; intermediate, Jerry Young and Patty Thompson; senior, Tony Stankiewics. The senior boys' four-square team won in a close game while the intermediate girls' were able to hold their opponents scoreless. Members of these teams are: Tony Stankiewics, Gene Hendrickson, Patty Thompson and Rita Kozakovsky.

Preparations are under way for the drama festival and the lantern parade. Physical fitness contests will also be held this week. Information on this event and all playground activities will be posted on the bulletin board or may be obtained from the leaders.

Children wishing to obtain day camp applications can secure them from the leaders. These applications, which are for the period beginning July 30, should beturned in by July 12.

The intermediate boys' softball team won their game with the Westgate Blues. The junior team lost to the Westgate Cons.

Eakin Playground had one winner in the city-wide clown contest, Jack Miller, who won as the saddest clown of the boys.

At Highland

The children at Highland enjoyed the traveling zoo last week. Quite a nice assortment of animals were seen, but as usual the monkeys stole the show.

Physical fitness contests will be held this week.

All of Highland's softball teams played and were defeated last week.

For arts and crafts, the program will consist of making wall plaques and waste paper baskets.

Tetherball, four-square and horseshoe tournaments will be held next week.

New Hilltop Lions Officers Take Over

Houck, Ulmer Join Growing Capitol Ranks

Ron Houck and Ed Ulmer, two former OSU backs, have signed to play with the Columbus Capitols in the United Football League, A. C. Pickens, general manager, announced today.

Houck, a defensive halfback, played three years at OSU. A former All American player from Troy, he is 5'10" and weighs 180 lbs.

Ulmer played high school ball at Brookfield High [illegible] in Youngstown and was a punter and halfback [illegible] at OSU. He averaged 39 yards a kick last year in the Big 10. Ulmer is 6'2" and weighs 185 pounds.

'Incinerator' Gets Out Of Hand

MRS. EDNA SHUMATE lit some rubbish in her basement furnace at noon Tuesday, then went upstairs to call a friend. A few minutes later her house at 15 S. Eureka-av looked like this. Firefighters said the blaze melted part of the gas meter and gas was feeding the fire. The blaze which did an estimated $225 damage, was confined to the basement by men from No. 10 company, but smoke filled the entire house.

BATTALION CHIEF James Gale warned that many houses are potential fire traps when basements like this one are crammed with old boxes and papers.

Shriners Set Back By Strike

Some dozen or more Hilltop Shriners and their wives attended the Imperial Shrine Convention in Toronto last week and made news headlines by being aboard the S.S. South American, the ship which was tied up in Lake Ontario by the strike of dock workers operating the locks in the Welland Canal.

The canal was closed for some 36 hours until re-opened by a Canadian High Court order on Friday. The group spent some rather anxious moments wondering if they would be home in time to go to work Monday morning.

Among those making the trip: Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Biddle, Dr. and Mrs. Dan Bunner, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Cline, Mr. and Mrs. John Apel, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Goudy, Mr. and Mrs. George Levisay, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hilbert, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mider, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Frederick, Mr. and Mrs. Curt Wilcox, Adolph Eiselt, Ray McVay and Jack Trimmer. Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Planck and Mrs. Jack Merriman also attended the convention but made the trip by auto.

For the soul of the great painter or a great poet, love is divine in that it increases a hundredfold the empire and the delight of his art, and the beauties of art are his soul's daily bread — Stendhal

Ends Advanced Training

Raymond R. Riffle, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn F. Riffle of 241 S. Yale-av, has recently completed advanced individual training while serving with the 1st Armored Division at Fort Hood, Tex.

MRS. FLORENCE SMITH

Mrs. Florence Smith, 676 S. Wayne-av, died early this morning at her home. Arrangements are being completed by Spears Funeral Home.

Indians And Yanks Go Extra Innings; Pirates Score Impressive Win

AMERICAN

An extra inning ball game was the exciting action in the American Little Nine League that week. The Indians took a 13 inning game from the Yankees, 4-2.

Both teams went scoreless until the fifth when both teams scored two runs. In the twelfth inning Howard Pruitt led off with a single for the Indians.

Teammates Steve Hedges and Jim McVay drew walks. Jeff McDorman collected the tie breaking two RBI on a fielder's choice, making the score 4-2. In the Yankee's half of the twelfth, the side was retired 1-2-3.

The winning pitcher was Jeff McDorman, winning his third straight game to keep the Indians on the top. The Yankees loss was their third loss.

The Tigers won their second game of the season by defeating the Orioles 7-1. The Tigers held the Orioles scoreless for five innings. Dan Bethel scored the only run for the Orioles on a fielder's choice by Rick Dillahonty. Alan Fladt was the outstanding player for the Tigers with two doubles and scored twice. The winning pitcher was Mike Boggs.

The White Sox — Senators game was rained out Tuesday.

NATIONAL

The Cardinals-Pirates game was the most outstanding game of the season to date, with the Pirates winning, 4-3.

The Cardinals took the lead in the fourth inning 2-0. In the bottom half of the sixth the Pirates pitcher Gary Wiseman hit a double with two men on to tie the ball game, 2-2.

The Pirates were held scoreless for the next four innings with only one hit, as was the Cardinals. In the top of the eleventh inning Cardinals' pitcher Steve Smith stretched a triple and started for home and the tie breaking run, and he did just that by sliding under the tag.

The score was 3-2. In the bottom of the eleventh, the Pirates chance to come back seemed impossible. With two outs Cardinal pitcher Jeff Benson walked three straight men to load the bases. Gordon Locke, Pirates left fielder, hit a single to score Tim Wile for the tieing run and Harold Downing who scored the winning run. The Pirates had four runs on seven hits. The Cardinals three runs on four hits.

The winning pitcher was Dale Wiseman. The Cardinals had 20 strikeouts thrown to them by the Pirates' pitchers and brothers Gary and Dale Wiseman, while 24 Pirates fanned.

The Giants won their first game of the season by handing the Dodgers their third loss. Winning pitcher Dan Stickler struck out 13 men in six innings to do his share of the of the team effort for the Giants, while collecting a single and a last inning triple that scored the winning three runs for the Giants. Both teams were scoreless until the fourth when Dodger Bob Link broke the ice and scored the only run for [illegible] team. The final score was 3-1.

The Phillies won their game of the week by downing the Braves 10-6. They scored four runs in the first to the Braves two runs. The Braves were unable to gain the lead from the beginning of the game. The winning pitcher was Phil Isler. The Phillies had six hits; and the Braves had no hits.

Marine Is Graduated

Pfc. Patrick C. Hartigan, USMC, son of Mrs. Gladys Hartigan of 24 W. Fulton-st, has been graduated from the Motor Vehicle Operators School of the First Marine Brigade at the Marine Corps Air Station, Kaneohe Bay, Hawaii.

Completes Radio Course

Army Pvt. John P. Lemley, 18, whose wife, Joyce, lives at 280 S. Dakota, has completed an eight-week radio course at the Armor Center, Fort Knox, Ky.

OSU's soil testing laboratory last year handled more than 70,000 soil samples.

AAU Meet Includes Area Pools

On July 17th, the first annual Twin Towers Individual Championship Invitational Swim Meet will be held at Twin Towers Swim Club, Grove City.

Th meet is a sanctioned Ohio AAU age group swim meet with competition being for both girls and boys in age groups of 10 and under, 11-12, 13-14, and 15-16-17. Events will be by age group to give each youngster an equal chance at a title.

Qualifying heats will start at 10 a.m. over the 25 yard course. Events longer that 25 yards will require turns to complete. Finals, consisting of the five best qualifying times will be at 7:30 p.m.

Invitations have been extended to 36 clubs and pools who have teams in the Central Ohio District of the AAU and to bona fide AAU swimmers within the district who are not members of a particular team.

Larry Menshall, meet director, stated that the purpose of the meet is to stimulate and encourage age group swimming competition in the Central Ohio area. It is anticipated that the meet will attract over 500 swimmers from the area, providing not only competition for the youngsters but an outstanding sports event for the adults as well.

The public is invited to attend the day long event. Recreation, picnic, and parking facilities are conveniently located next to the pool.

Area pools participating: Aquamarine Cabana Club, Berwick Swim Club, Morningside [illegible], Excelsior Club, Walnut Hill, Lincoln Village, Swimland Sailfish Club, Hilltop, Twin Towers, Jewish Center, Groveport-Madison Recreation, Liv-Moor [illegible].

Picnic Slated For Saturday

The annual family picnic of Westgate Temple, F&AM, will be held on Saturday, July 14, starting at 3 p.m. at Murphy's Party Barn on Rt. 750 near Powell, O.

There will be games and contests for all ages. Members are urged to bring a well-filled basket for the 6 p.m. dinner. Round and square dancing will be held from 8 to 11 p.m.

AUBLEGRAPH

BY JOHN AUBLE, JR.
Hartley Sports Editor

Play To The Reserved Seats, Boy, It's All In The Game

I have a very successful friend who feels confident that his son should be playing in the major leagues (the boy did fairly well in high school sports) and is worried because the boy is majoring in speech and drama at college.

"What good is it going to do him?" he wanted to know. "He'll probably marry some poor little rich girl like everybody else's son and what good is the Stanislavsky method and the deep breathing and the pear-shaped tones and the 'How now, brown cow' going to do him then? As an actor, a Gregory Peck he's not. So there's no money that direction. What will happen is he'll be going the all-American boy route with the babies and the PTA. So why does he need all this education in how to imitate a bunch of bananas?"

I murmered something non-commital . . . felt it was the safest thing to do in these cases. There really wasn't time to get in a discussion.

But, it occurred to me that the ability to act may be the most important quality the kid could acquire if he does decide to go into athletics.

Act One, Scene Two . . .

Take the scene where the wife has the picnic basket and the jug all packed and the children are jumping up and down in anticipation (or, in the car, even).

You call your Industrial League team manager and say, "I'm sorry, coach, I won't be in today on account of that I have this feeling like my whole left side is numb and I can't keep a thing in my stummick."

Well, a lot of guys would give you a bad reading on that line. They will recite it like "John throws the ball to Mary," or they will overplay it and begin to sob or they will say that they have bust their appendix when the coach remembers that you got a weak off only last year for busting your appendix, and he will check with the hospital to see just how many spendices a man can bust.

Act One, Scene Three . . .

Or, how about this one.

You're playing the outfield and an easy pop fly ball comes sailing through the air towards you. There's no sun to blind you're eyes but the ball hits the glove and bounces out. What do you do then?

Well, any other clod without dramatic training would simply snap his fingers and utter "Sonofagun" but the crowd would still stay irritated.

But, with just a little effort and touching abit on your acting training, you can fake it enough to throw the crowd from their irritated mood into a mood of sympathy for you.

You play it like the final act of "Camile." Roll around on the ground a few times and clutch your foot like you sprained it or something and it hurts really bad and you don't know if you'll be able to make it through the season.

You keep this up long enough for the coach and the manager (with the little black bag) to run out to see if they can help and then you limp sorrowfully home (with your head bowed) like a hero returning from battle. The crowd eats it up and you stay in the lineup.

Act One, Scene Four . . .

Maybe the best chance to use your ability is durin a TV film clip or a press conference in which you're asked to explain the chances your team has of winning the pennant this year.

Ordinarily you'd clear your throat a few times and scuffle your feet and you'll really look bad. But, again, if you learned your college acting lessons well you can ham it up enough so that everyone will think you're a real pro and maybe you'll get a part in the movies or a contract for some commercial shots on the Game of the Week.

So, the way things look from here, you're way ahead if you study drama before entering athletics.

Maybe you ought to watch your complexion, too. Those close-ups can be murder.

$600 Sought For Charter

Hilliard Council will be asked by the city's Charter Commission for $600 to pay for drafting of a new charter for voter approval.

Around the same amount was spent by the last commission to prepare a proposal for a city manager type for the November, 1961 elections.

The group plans to meet each Friday at 8 p.m. and urges the public to attend.

MAKING SURE that greater Columbus area folks have a real "ball" Wednesday night, July 18, at Jet Stadium are these three Kiwanis Club members who are helping to head up the big Kiwanis-Columbus Jet night on that date. They are, from left, James Goudy (West-Franklin Kiwanis), Harold W. Fast (West Side Kiwanis) and C. Carl Stephan (Hilltop Kiwanis). These three men are ticket chairmen and will make arrangements for you and your family to have a night of fun at the ball orchard. Just call them.

Kiwanis And Jets Team Up Wednesday

Twenty-three Kiwanis Clubs in the greater Columbus area are doing it up big this year to make Wednesday, July 18, one of the most eventful nights in these here parts, pudnah!

They're offering an opportunity for residetns to enjoy an exciting evening at Jet Stadium.

But, they warned, come early and enjoy a fine pre-game show before the Jet game with the Atlanta Crackers.

And, as the icing on the cake, the big finale will be one of the largest fireworks displays ever seen in this city.

The nicest part about the whole thing is that monies raised on receipts from this game will be used for underprivileged children in Central Ohio.

The best way to get tickets is to contact the following men:

• Ted Kientz, president of West Side Kiwanis Club or that club's ticket chairman, Harold W. Fast.

• Richard Nash, president of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club, or ticket chairman C. Carl Stephan.

• O. O. Tope, president of the West Franklin Kiwanis Club or that club's ticket chairman James Goudy.

• Earl Metz, president of Eastern Kiwanis, or John Patton, ticket chairman.

• Members of Kiwanis Clubs throughout Central Ohio.

The pre-game show is expected to begin at 7:45 p.m. at which time recognition will be given to the Kiwanis Clubs in attendance and the master of ceremonies will give a run down of the youth groups that'll receive benefits from the gate.

Game-time is 8 p.m. and the fireworks will follow immediately afterwards. $600 worth will be sparked-off and the display will last about a half hour.

Statistics show that the average person of 70 has spent: three years in education, eight years in amusement, six years in eating; 11 years in working, 24 years in sleeping, five and a half years in washing or dressing; six years in conversation; three years in reading, and six months in worshiping God.—Dr. H. E. Russell.

Full-Course Program Set For HBA's Bean Dinner Guests

Entertainment on a grand scale — three days of it, all for the entertainment of Hilltop Business Association's guests, has been arranged during the

A few program spots for groups of local, talented performers are still open. Entry blanks may be picked up at Hartley Newspapers office or HBA. More information is available by calling Hilltop Business Association, BR. 4-7155.

Bean Dinner July 30, 31, and Aug. 1 at Westgate Park.

Planned program events start at 5 p.m. Monday, first day of the affair, and at 2 p.m. on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Finale on all three nights is the awarding of prizes. A total of $1000 in cash, merchandise and saving bonds will be given away during the three days.

Stacks of shining silver dollars will also be awarded winners in events planned for the younger set.

MATCH BOX DERBY

In addition to the popular pony tail contest and the annual games for small fry, three new events are planned—a match box derby, bicycle parade and twist contest.

The match box derby, scaled down version of the soap box race, is scheduled Tuesday at 2 for all boys 12 and Seventeen beauties are already registered for the Bean Dinner Queen contest, and there is still time for more to enter. Entry blanks are available at Hartley Newspaper office or HBA. All girls over 16, either residents of the Hilltop or employes of HBA members are eligible to enter.

under. Models of specified design, size and weight will be raced by their owners on a specially-built track for silver dollar prizes.

Boys who have already built the models for Cub Scout-sponsored races may enter their cars.

Others may purchase official kits for 35 cents at the Hilltop YMCA. All entries must be made and models submitted for inspection by noon, July 26, at the Hilltop "Y."

Exact specifications and weight limits for models are posted at the "Y," at Hilltop Business Association office, 2552 W. Broad-st and at Hartley Newspaper office, 2465 W. Broad-st.

More information is available by calling HBA, BR. 4-3400.

BICYCLE PARADE

The bicycle parade, discontinued for several years, will be revived for the 1962 Bean Dinner, Wednesday afternoon at 2.

A prize will be awarded the best entry by a boy and the best by a girl in three classes—under six, six through 10 and 11 through 14.

Those in the youngest age group may enter any decorated vehicle, including wagons and baby buggies and tricycles. Others may enter bicycles only.

TWIST CONTEST

A twist contest is also planned, and silver dollars will be awarded the best twisters in the 10 and under class, and in the 10 through 14-year-old group.

PONY TAIL CONTEST ENTRIES STILL OPEN

Lots and lots of pretty pony tails, judging by the number of entries already registered, will be bobbing in the parade scheduled Tuesday, July 31, 2 p.m. on the bandstand at Westgate Park.

The annual event, sponsored by the Rural-Urban News, The Hilltop Record and West Side News, will be judged on the second day of the Bean Dinner.

Five silver dollars will be awarded the first prize winner in three age groups — four and under, five through eight and nine through 12. The three second place winners will each receive two silver dollars, and one silver cartwheel will be awarded to each third place winner.

All little girls residing in the circulation areas of the newspapers may enter the event by calling the newspaper office, BR. 4-1155.

Philosophy of a French River Rat

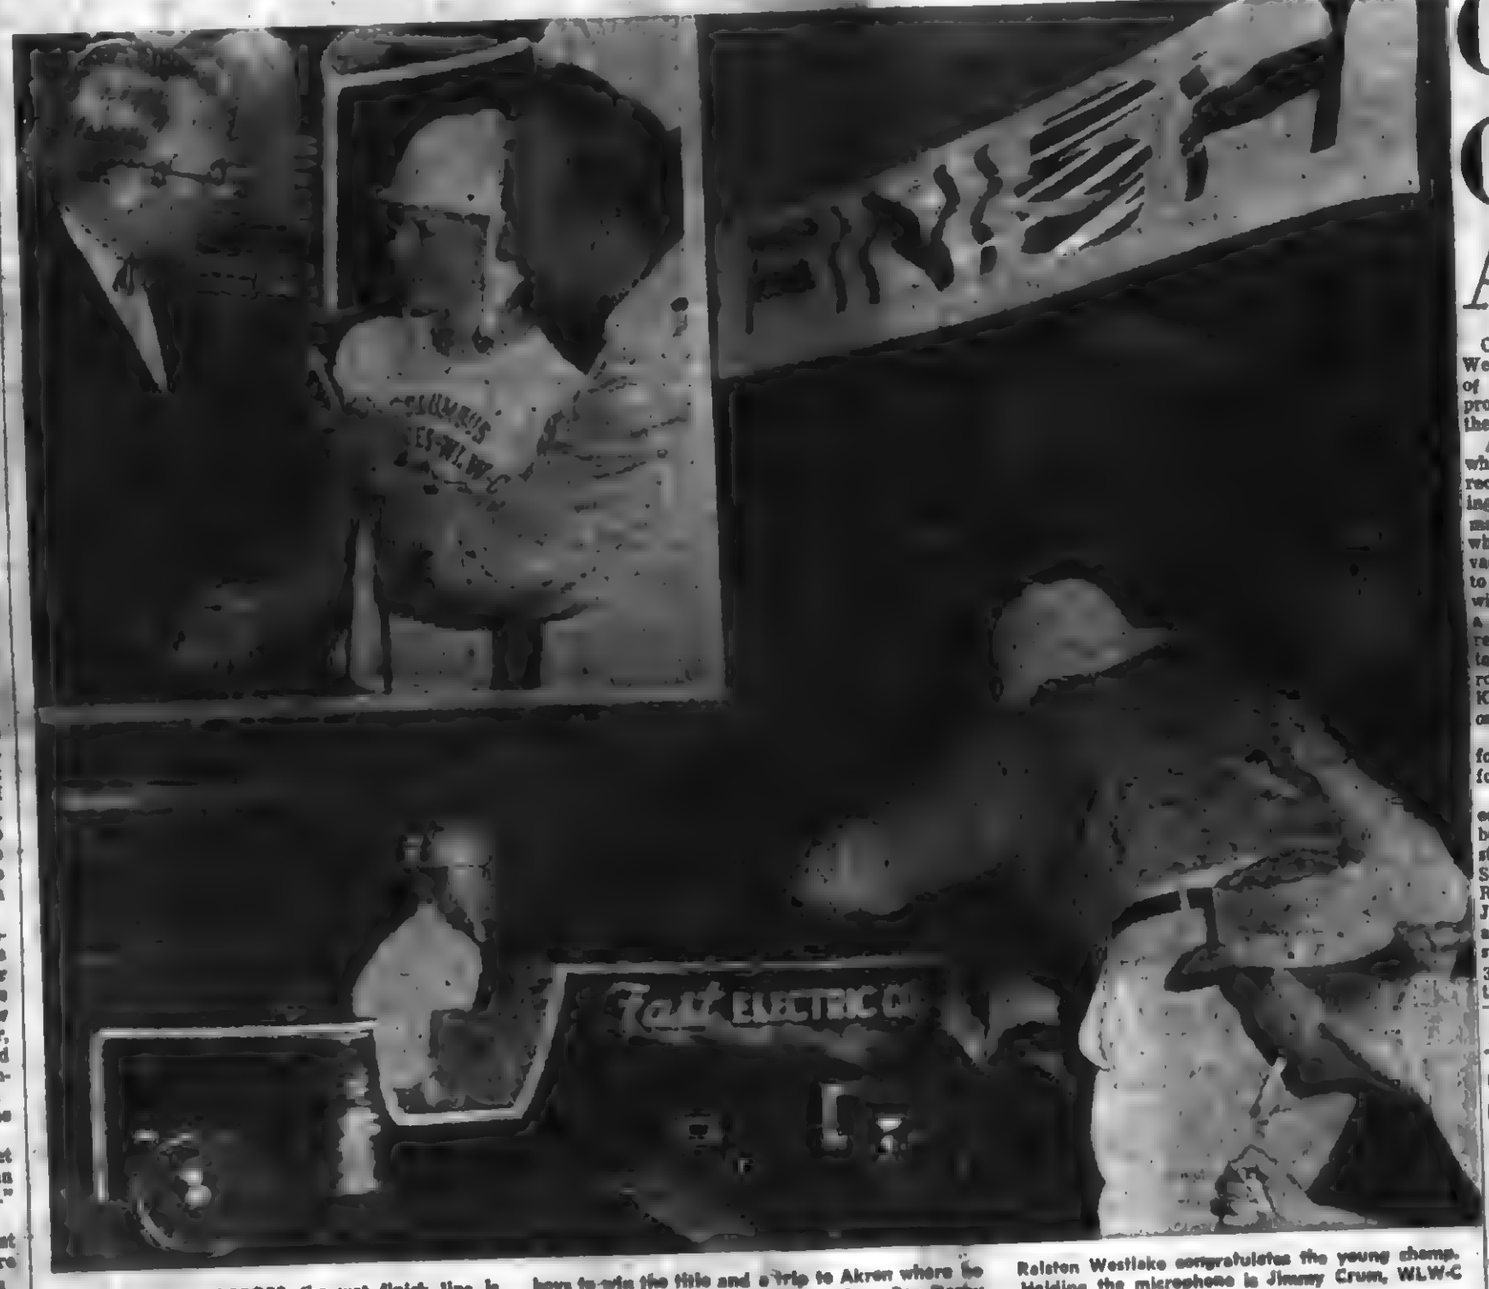
This and other bits to be found in this corner for the next few weeks will be a bit north woodsy. It's that time again for a period of relaxation and reflection in one of nature's wonderlands, the French River, in northern Ontario.

I hope good health and good fortune will continue to shine in my corner so I may have this annual sojourn far from telephones, television and automobiles.

This is no life for the person who is lonesome away from the crowds. I like people, but thoroughly believe one's soul needs an airing just the same as the blankets on the bed. And there's no better way to soak up some sunshine in the heart and the head as well as the outer skin than to troll, cast, or just sit alone over a pickerel hole.

Fishing can be enjoyed alone or with someone. I've had some mighty fine fishing companions in my time and dare say there is more likelihood of congeniality in a fishing foursome than among a similar lot of serious golfers or bridge players.

And if you would happen to be a fisherman who gets concerned when they just don't jump into your boat, then I hope we never fish together. In a beautiful country like this it is enough to just be happy that God saw fit to place the fishing waters in such a beautiful setting.



Some oldtimers here consult their barometers before picking up their casting or trolling rods. I had one once but I'm glad it's broken. Now I enjoy more blue water, green trees, rocky shores and cooling breezes, with no concern if the fish bite or not.

Surely it must be true that—

"Allah does not deduct from the allotted days of man those hours spent in fishing."

French River Observation

I never cease to marvel at the cleanliness of this shore line. Seldom does one see a piece of floating debris or so much as an old can or bottle along the shore . . . one of the usual delicacies of this time of year is in short supply: Blueberries are few and far between due to lack of rain. Days are sunny and around 70 degrees while nights go down to around 50 . . . Canadian money continues to be worth less than ours this year. You take a U.S. $20 bill to the bank and immediately receive $1.60 extra in Canadian money . . . . . The doctors strike in Saskatchewan is the outstanding topic of conversation among Canadians but most of them can tell you the latest scores of our American baseball teams . . . In this part of the country hillbilly music and rock and roll fill the airwaves . . . Weather changes can come up here faster than any place I've ever been. Many a drenching I've had when a 15 hp. motor lost a race with a black cloud that slipped in from nowhere.

STREAKING ACROSS the wet finish line in Columbus Area Soap Box Derby Champion Bob Held, 18, 863 Campbell-av. Bob defeated 39 other boys to win the title and a trip to Akron where he will compete in the All-American Soap Box Derby on Saturday Aug. 4. In the inset Columbus Mayor Ralsten Westlake congratulates the young champ. Holding the microphone is Jimmy Crum, WLW-C sports director.

City Moves On West Area Work

City business involving the West area and many thousands of dollars went under the approving stamp of council and the mayor Monday night.

An ordinance was passed which will allow the service director to proceed with obtaining a contractor for the second major section of Big Run Sewer while City Council is away on vacation. The proposed section, to cost an estimated $800,000, will be a westerly extension of a new $787,000 trunk line already serving part of the Hilltop. It will connect near Gantz-rd and extend to a point at Kingsford-rd, just west of Beaconcrest-rd.

A go-ahead also was given for the securing of easements for a Kingsford-rd relief branch.

The City Engineer was granted $23,259.75 to spend on rebuilding the surface of W. Richest from Washington-blvd to Sandusky-st. Chief Engineer Robert F. Werner said the Max J. Zeller Co. will apply two and a half inches of hot mix to smooth out and strengthen the 3200-foot stretch. Werner said two-lane traffic will have to be maintained for a while in a 100-foot area at the east end of the railroad bridge. Here a new lowered concrete foundation must be laid in order to keep the present bridge clearance.

The work, to start in about 30 days, will take about three weeks to finish, Werner said.

Contracts for a new Women's Workhouse on Jackson-pk were approved. Costing $369,296, it will be located 1000 feet south of the present Workhouse, and will include living quarters, recreation room, laundry and chapel for 45 women. Selected contractors include Sheaf Construction, general; William H. Rinehart, Co., plumbing, heating and ventilating; and Burroughs Electric Co., electric.

In commenting on the failure of Bexley to agree with Columbus officials on the Cassady-av rail project, Service Director E. H. Stork said a new crossing at N. Hague-av may be stepped up several years in priority. The Hilltop crossing has not been programmed in the current five-year Capital Improvement budget.

Campbell Av. Youth Wins Soapbox Derby

Sailing across the finish line and sporting a smile as wide as the race track, a 15-year-old West Side boy, Bob Held, 863 Campbell-av, won the Greater Columbus Soap Box Derby last Sunday.

With this victory the young sportsman reserved the right to represent Columbus at the national derby finals to be held in Akron, Aug. 4.

Bob, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver F. Held, spent three months working on his car which weighed 248 pounds (including driver), two pounds under the contest limit.

His favorite subject in school, shop and woodwork, paid good dividends as it gave him the skill needed to build the racer made of oak and black willow. Young Held credits much of his success to Starling Junior High shop instructor Jack Ledyga, who gave him advice and suggestions throughout the construction period. Cost of the car was $19.70, not including the wheels.

The persistent and spunky driver had his difficulties from the beginning. Bob approached more than 20 local business establishments before he could find a sponsor. However, Fast Electric Co., 1089 Sullivant-av, gave him his lucky break, and possibly a magic name which foretold victory.

On the track things didn't come so easy either. Held had to run seven times before eliminating the other contestants. Although he won the final run by three-tenths of a car length, the closest race was the second

Six Area Mayors To Go Cruisin'

Well over 200 Columbus area readers of Hartley newspapers, including six area mayors, will escape the heat Sunday when they join the second annual Hartley Newspapers' Aquarama cruise on Lake Erie. Reservations were closed Monday.

If you are not one of the lucky ones who made reservations for the tour this year watch for the announcements of the event next summer. Plans are being made already for the one-day-economy-package vacation next summer.

Persons who made reservations will receive their confirmations this week. These will set forth details of bus loading and the travel information needed by the cruisers. The confir-

Hilltop Boy Winner Of Guild Award

A student at Franklin Heights High School, Robert E. Riley, Jr., 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Riley, 3841 Fisher-rd, is the regional first place winner in the Fisher Body Guildsman contest.

Young Riley, who will be a sophomore, received notice of the honor yesterday in a telegram from Fisher Body located at Warren, Mich.

In September of last year the young craftsman began working on a wooden model of a car which he completed in June. It was then entered in the contest for judging.

For his work, Riley will receive a check for $150, a trophy and a trip to the Fisher Factory beginning July 31 and running to Aug. 3. National contest winner, of which the local boy is in competition, will be announced then.

Franklin Heights High School will also receive a trophy as a result of the regional win over all other Ohio entries.

Hilltop Teenagers: You Are Invited To A Luau, Friday

Third in a series of summer 'teen dances at Westgate Park shelterhouse will be held Friday, July 20, from 8 to 10:30 p.m.

Theme of the record dance will be "Hawaiian Luau," according to Mrs. Louis Boehringer, chairman. Jim Arrington will be emcee.

Girls are invited to wear muu-muus and boys may dress in "beachcombers."

On the decorating committee are Pamela Hill, Jane and Mina Busenberg, Judy Swartz and Sherry Boehringer.

BEAN DINNER CHALLENGE

Sentence Yourself To Be Prize Winner!

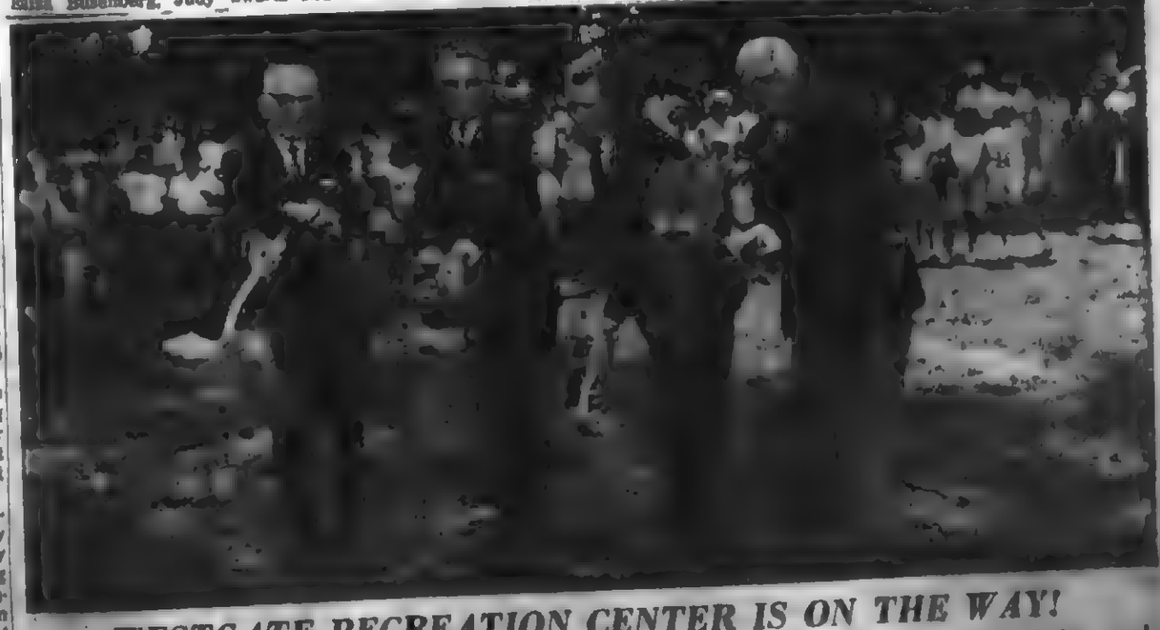
What do you think of the Hilltop Bean Dinner?

Can you write a short sentence summing it up?

If so, the promoters of the Hilltop Bean Dinner, July 30, 31, and Aug. 1, would like to hear from you. And they're willing to pay for it—in beans, of course.

On page - of this newspaper you will find a host of ads from West Franklin County area merchants. First thing to do is look the ads over. Then read the easy contest rules.

Finish this sentence in 25 additional words or less: "I like the Hilltop Bean dinner because . . ." Mail or take your entry to the Hartley Newspapers office, 2465 W. Broad-st. Entries must be postmarked no later than midnight, Saturday, July 21.



First prize will be one case of baked beans; second prize, 12 cans of beans; third prize, five pounds of white navy beans.

Winners will be announced July 25 in The Hilltop Record and West Side News. Good luck!

Valleyview Drive To Be Rebuilt

Columbus City Council has authorized Service Director Ernest Stork to engage an engineering firm at a cost of $6,600 for the reconstruction of Valleyview-dr.

The improvement will stretch from Hague-av to 300 feet west of Brinker-av and will involve tearing up the present street to lay a four-lane highway which will be 40 feet wide. A five-foot sidewalk will be on the south side of the new highway.

WESTGATE RECREATION CENTER IS ON THE WAY!

HILLIARD GIRL WINS DRESSER

DEBBIE SUE GASHA, 324 Wakefield-dr, Hilliard, was the grand prize winner of a double-dresser at Colonial Heights Furniture. The gift was given away during the recent grand opening of Colonial Heights new store in the Hilliard Shopping Center. Twelve other valuable prizes were also given away. The new store, which will carry a complete line of early American, Traditional, Provincial, and modern furniture, will be closed on Sundays and open from noon until 9 p.m. on all other days.

Run Away And Join A Circus? Forget It . . .

By JOHN AUBLE, Jr.

To all local youngsters who have been toying with plans to run away and join the circus this summer, here's a piece of free advice:

Forget it!

Times have evidently changed if, in fact, kids years ago did actually run away and join a traveling circus.

If it wasn't true, then it was one of the best publicized rumors of the century. It wasn't so long ago that a young singer came out with a song, "Good-bye Cruel World, I'm Off To Join The Circus" — a sad lament about a broken-hearted lover.

The young singer had better not practice what he warbles unless he lives in a state that has an unusual set of child labor laws.

The sad, cold facts were revealed after Hartley Newspapers sent questionnaires to the top circus shows in the country. They all had the same answers: You just can't run away and join the circus — the best you can do is pack your belongings in a handkerchief and take a slow walk around the block.

So, why does everyone seem to think that it's possible?

During the days of P. T. Barnum and other great showmen — when the circus was having its heyday 50, 60 or so years ago, kids probably did take up with traveling shows.

They probably chronicled their escapades, had a book published, and the bit became part of circus legend.

In junior high school I remember reading a book entitled "Toby Tyler and Ten Weeks With The Circus."

Here's a kid, I remember thinking to myself, who had it made. He ran away and joined the circus — it sounded thrilling. Next time a show comes to town, I'll try it.

The worse thing was, of course, that traveling shows very seldom "came to town." Circuses and traveling road shows were disbanding rapidly and the best you could do was to see an occasional amusement company show which usually consisted of a ferris wheel and a merry-go-round and about 50 characters, any one of whom you'd be afraid to let in your house.

But, I digress.

The experts say that circuses are at an all-time low. The great Ringling Bros., Barnum and Bailey Show folded up its tents for the last time in 1956 and is now only playing inside.

The James M. Cole Circus has forgotten about tents, too. The only tent show on the road now is the Clyde Beatty Circus. This is a far cry from that noisy, gold-plated yesteryear when traveling shows were bumping into each other on the highways.

Because the number of circuses has dropped so radically, there naturally aren't enough job openings for lads who want to run away and join them.

In the old days, (to use an old cliche) "there was a job for everyone in the circus." Most shows were even short-handed. They'd pick up kids in a town to help with certain jobs like watering elephants and pounding stakes in the ground but the kids would stay in their hometown when the tents came down.

Now, circuses are operating on a money-making, statistical basis. Sure, there is still some glamour under the big top (now, the hard top), but how long has it been since you've seen a circus parade?

Word from the Ringling Bros. and Barnum Show camp says that "we know of no incident when the Circus (they still use a capital letter on this word) picked youngsters up because of talent or any other reasons. The youngsters in the circus were born to it — usually from families that had been with the circus. Other than that, young people came of their own volition.

"There are no laws preventing a young person over 21 years of age from joining the Circus, but they can't be under 21. The laws in each state vary. However, we do not use anyone under 21 years unless they were born to the circus.

"The Ringling Circus is no longer a tent Circus and therefore, we no longer need the help we used to. There are no tents to put up and no seats to be placed, etc."

Chances look pretty dim, don't they, young man?

Even though it might take some of the excitement out of it, you're probably wondering if it would be all right if you got the consent of your parents. No soap.

James M. Cole, of the Cole All-Star Circus, says:

"We do not pick up any children even if it would be agreeable with parents, as all state laws forbid hiring children under 18. This has been a rule for 10 or more years with us and as far as I know of, with every average show or circus of today.

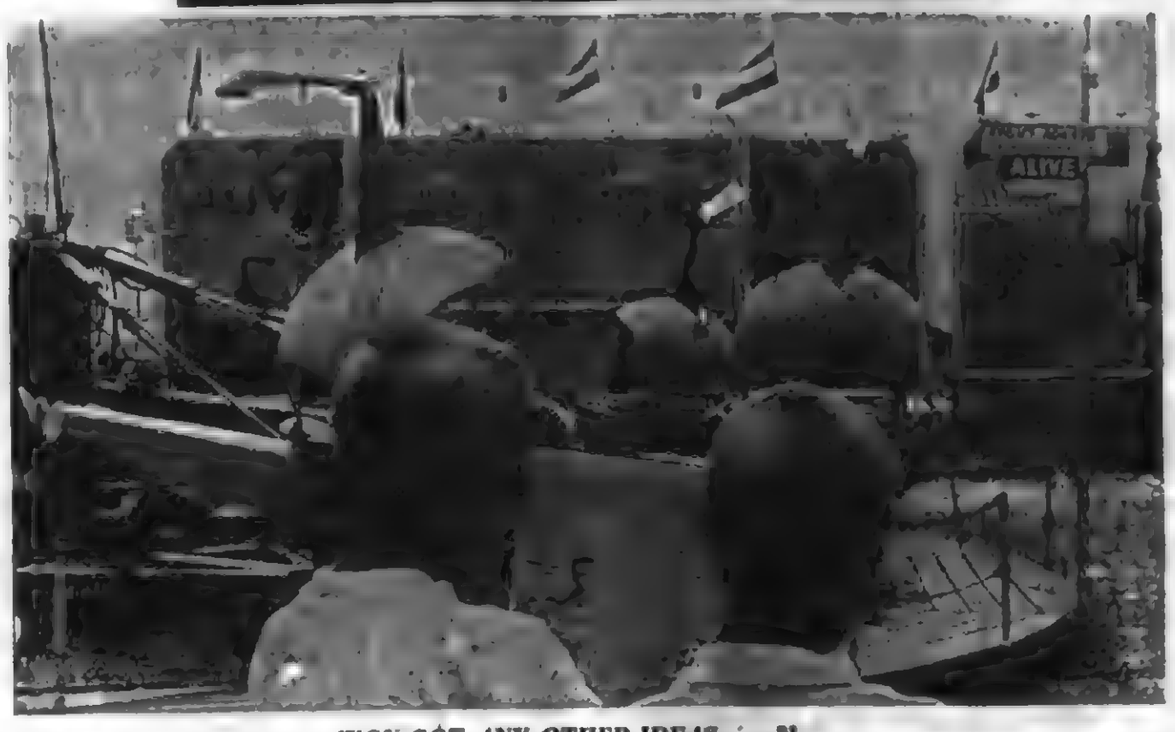
"Occasionally a young man will sign on with our circus," Cole said, "in the elephant or animal department, stating he is 18. A few days later the parents show up or the police, and we learn the young man (large for his age) is perhaps only 15 or 16 so we pay him wages coming and he is then returned to his home."

Of all the circus owners interviewed, Cole was the most sympathetic with the idea.

"I regret it is impossible to run away and join a circus," he said. "Many would like too but management cannot afford chances of fines in this matter.

"Lots of good talent is wasted that circuses could use, due to this law, as children need to express themselves.

"We wouldn't have as much trouble with so many children if they could work and do things they like and are suited for. The law keeps them from these good things and puts time on their hands and then into trouble."



Cole's son, Master James M. Cole, II, started training elephants at the age of four and worked a three-elephant act at the age of five as a professional.

Until Master Cole was 19, he played all leading fairs, Shrine circuses, Cuban Circuses and others. How did it affect him?

"He's a fine young man and now a very good show manager," said the senior Cole.

"A fine young man . . ." It would be interesting to learn just how many like these are products of the big circus family. A family that now, unless you're born into it, is strictly out of bounds for wide-eyed, circus-loving youngsters everywhere.

'Everything's Changed' Oldtimer Says Of Fishing Situation At Buckeye Lake

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROB COCHRAN

If the fish aren't biting it's always good sport to chat a while with Bill Hunt, the fishing expert of Buckeye Lake who has held forth at Hunt's Landing for the last 35 or so years. Bill's fishing memories go back a ways, and he says angling was best when the lake was full of weeds and stumps and the water was clear. That was back about 1908.

"You could hardly row a boat through it," claims Bill. "After every stroke of the oars you had to let them trail to let the weeds slip off. I used to slip up on stumps and watch the fish around them. They would be in the shade—on one side in the morning and the other side in the afternoon. Now speed boats tear along where rowing was hard work.

Even though fishing is never as good as it was in the old days, anglers had a pretty good spring at Buckeye according to Bill. Bass and bluegill fishing was better than for several years, but has tapered off now. "Now catfishermen are cleaning up," he said. "The lake must be full of catfish. I see the little ones just hatched out around the dock by the billions!"

Best baits are shrimp, nightcrawlers and a commercial catfish preparation. Melvin Phillips, Baltimore, recently checked in with two small wash tubs full of catfish caught in a single night. Another good catch was reported by Harold Graham, Columbus, who took 40 catfish that weighed 40 pounds.

Some of Bill's salty observations:

"No one flyfishes anymore. This used to be the best way to take bluegills—now no one flyfishes.

"The state sells more fishing licenses now, but there are fewer real fishermen.

"Fathers don't bring their sons fishing like they used to. The boys would rather go bowling, or something else.

"Fishin' is a year 'round business now—ice fishing is the best way to catch a lot of them.

"Weeds used to help fishing. They were full of little bugs and things and the fish stayed under weeds to feed and to rest in the shade.

"Sure the landing has changed, but so has everything else. We used to rent boats for 50 cents and throw in cushions and fishing poles free. Now it doesn't even pay to rent poles—they don't bring 'em back."

Requisite For 'The Good Life': Humbleness

William Benfield of the Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod, writes: "Too many of us have lost Christ's call to heroism and have grown comfortable and commonplace, small in minds and imaginations. The Christian Church has become too much an ambulance, dragging along behind, picking up the wounded, making bandages and soothing hurt feelings, when it should be out on the front line, getting hit in the face, but leading others and conquering the enemy."

Rev. Hydinger

However far afield this may be from the selfish, mundane and sensuous goals so oft advertised as "the good life", this comes mighty close to describing the life to which we have been called by God. 'Tis a call not to glory but to goodness, not to gaining but to giving, not to having but to using, not to popularity among men but to true and laudable service to God.

St. Peter tells us the "how" of attainment. He writes (I Peter 5:6), "Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that He may exalt you in due time . . ." The answer is simple, but the achievement is by no means a common thing. Humility is too little understood. It is too oft regarded as passive rather than as activating.

Where there is true humbleness before God, one knows he doesn't know all about God, he confesses it, and he seeks after knowledge of God.

Many fulfill the first two of these three qualifications: they know their ignorance, they confess it. But they do nothing whatsoever to overcome it. Some even brag about their ignorance as though this were sure to make them popular with men and pleasing in the sight of God, excuse themselves thereby from any serious involvement in the work of the Church.

Being proud of one's spiritual ignorance by no means makes it right, good or even acceptable. It rather makes ignorance more deadly. Commonly it comforts when it ought to disturb, it elates when it ought to debase, and it paralyzes when it ought rather to energize one to almost frantic search for the truth. Awareness of ignorance only condemns, unless it also moves the ignoramus to search for God. The Church issues still the Lord's invitation to all to "Come and learn of Him."

The humble person lets God be God—even with the contents of his purse.

Many a church member speaks of "My Church" until his purse is appealed to. Then he complains that "they" are always begging for money. True men of God are never parasites looking for something for nothing. They are rather grateful people who, having already received forgiveness of sin, Life and salvation as God's free gift, seek now to support His Work in every way possible. They regard their money and earthly possessions as ways of giving themselves to the Lord. They look upon the cries of the needy world and the financial appeals of the Church as opportunities to make holy the things which they possess by returning them unto The Lord. And they do so with delight! The uncommitted are ever unhappy because they want to keep what they have for themselves. But men of God are distressed only because they have not more to give.

Finally, the truly humble person also lets God be God—even with his life!

The lust of greedy men grasping, glutting, consuming, despoiling accounts for much of the world's activity. Oft even the help of Almighty God is invoked that their efforts may be the more successful, their rudeness and wickedness undetected, their sinfulness forgiven.

True humility is never evidenced by men asking God to drop what He is doing to come help them, but rather by men giving themselves to God in service of Him. Would that we all had that humility which bids men to say, "Here am I Lord! Send me!" and which moved us constantly to follow wherever He would have us go. Nothing less is truly to humble ourselves under the mighty hand of God. No other life is truly "The Good Life."

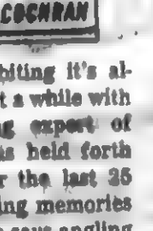
FOOD MARKETS THIS WEEK

It's Homegrown Sweet Corn Time Again!

By ESTELLE B. FRANKS



Vegetables—Homegrown sweet corn, tomatoes, green beans, cabbage, cucumbers, summer squash

Fruits—Peaches, watermelons, cantaloupes, seedless grapes, blueberries

Protein Foods—Fryers, grade A medium eggs, beef "specials", hams and picnics, dairy products

You can put the water on to boil and get ready for the best roasting ears of the season. Sweet corn is in large supply now with local growers in volume production. Late varieties, which are generally considered to be more flavorful, are being harvested.

The season is several days earlier than normal and already prices have dropped to fairly low levels.

Mrs. Franks

Low temperature and the shortest possible handling time are musts in order to get sweet corn from the field to the kitchen in top quality. To do this, up-to-date growers pick the corn at day-break — the cool part of the day — while the dew is still on the corn. It is hurried to the packing shed and thoroughly cooled with ice water—known as hydro-cooling. This cools the kernel as well as the cob interior, helping to maintain sugar content. To keep the temperature down the corn is then packed in ice for its trip to market.

Progressive retailers are anxious that you like the corn you buy, so they keep it in refrigerated cases or in iced display bins. They are aware that the transformation of sugar into starch is rapid at room or outdoor temperature.

Now it's up to you — once you've bought sweet corn, the sooner you use it the sweeter and juicier it will be. If you must hold it, even for a few hours, refrigerate it either in husks or in a moisture-proof bag.

Keep corn sweet by quick cooking. The small slender ears need only three or four minutes in boiling water; large sized ones a minute or two longer, but don't overcook if you like sweet tender corn.

Freezing and Canning is Here

If you plan to freeze corn for out-of-season use, late July and August is the time to do it. Quality is then at its best and the price the lowest.

The next six weeks is the period when many fruits and vegetables are at their best for freezing and canning. If you would like help on preservation methods, the following free bulletins are available from the Cooperative Extension Service, Room 317, Old Post Office, Columbus 15. Leftovers . . . by John McPeek

Is Planned Obsolescence Good For Us?

Just spent the past five minutes mentally listing all of my physical possessions.

Purpose: to determine if there is anything I own that is durably constructed.

With the exception of a few of my better books, there is but one object I have that was built to last, and that is this typewriter. It was manufactured 30 years ago and I venture to say that of the thousands of typewriters the same company will make within the next five years, this old machine still will be going strong when 90 per cent of the new plastic and chrome models have been tossed onto the scrap heap.

It's kind of hard to take when you think about it — to realize that practically everything you possess is lacking in quality: the television set, the refrigerator, the washer and dryer, the vacuum cleaner, the car that still looks new, the radio, etc., etc., etc. No matter how much care you may give them, all will fall apart within a few years. It's part of the system.

It's doubly hard to take when by natural inclination you have a strong appreciation for quality.

Yet by the very virtue (if that word can be so used) of the junkiness inherent today in the major part of all American products, we live a better life.

"Planned obsolescence," the industrial world's two favorite words. Our manufacturers spend millions in research each year, most of which is devoted to developing better performing products, better looking products, more functional products, but paradoxically, making sure none will last more than a few years.

And there is nary an economist in the country who will not agree that "planned obsolescence" not only is a healthy thing for our economy, but absolutely necessary if we wish to maintain our high standard of living.

How strange it is that if we desire more and more physical comforts, we must submit to buying junk, albeit attractive and excellent performing junk.

But are we building a Frankenstein? Could this junk pattern eventually permeate our moral standards? If our houses, our appliances, our cars, etc., continue to grow flimsier and gaudier each year, will not American morals eventually sink to a similar chrome-plated state of shoddiness?

Could be.

But perhaps our moralists will adopt industry's habits and every year or so, through the aid of research, come out with new moral models.

Then when our morals fall apart we will be able to hustle down to the Morals Showroom and trade them in on the latest models. Ahh, progress!

WITH THE GIRL SCOUTS

Fellowship, Service, Cheer Rate High At Vermont Camp

By BETSY BRUST
Special Roundup Correspondent
To Hartley Newspapers

The Girl Scout Senior Roundup is the destination of 32 Columbus area girls who are leaving today for Button Bay, Vt.

The girls are traveling by train to the camp site on Lake Champlain, where they will set up camp, live in tents, and cook all of their meals on charcoal grills for 12 days.

The Ohio Trefoil Girl Scout Council of the Columbus area is sending four patrols of eight girls as delegates to this international gathering. In all, 8300 girls, ages 14 to 17, and 1500 adults from all over the nation and many foreign countries will attend this encampment, which is held every three years.

"Roundup good felowship, service, and cheer," the first line of the Roundup song, expresses the purposes of the Girl Scout Senior Roundup.

"Roundup Good Fellowship"

One of the aims of this gathering is for girls to meet and get to know teens from all over the country and world. Each delegate has assembled "swaps" representing her home area, which she will trade with other girls. Delegates from the Columbus area have made small replicas of Colo, the first gorilla born in captivity, pumpkins as symbols of the Circleville Pumpkin Show, small bricks to represent central Ohio's brickmaking industry, and buckeye pins with felt "leaves."

Each patrol has prepared a demonstration of dances, crafts or skills so that the girls of other areas can take new ideas home with them. Hairstyling and brickmaking are two of the demonstrations from this area. Other patrols will make pumpkin custard and Indian corn cakes.

In a project entitled "Youth Serves Youth" girls from various Girl Scout councils will report on service projects they are completing. Karen Longhenry, 3309 Stephen-dr, and Karen Predmore, 3217 Stephen-dr, will report on their work at the Columbus State Hospital.

"Cheer"

The girls have already learned many new American and foreign folk songs. At Roundup the delegates hope to learn new ones from girls who live where the songs have been developed.

"The theme of Roundup," explained delegate Bambi Markham, 777 Pierce-av, "is 'Honor the Past and Serve the Future' because it is held in the 50th anniversary year of Girl Scouting in America."

Delegate Joan Van Jaslnski, of 3672 Patzer-av, Grove City stated, "We all hope to return with a greater appreciation of our heritage and a better idea of how to serve our country."

They'll Report On 'Youth Serves Youth'

Karen Predmore, of Troop 548, and Karen Longhenry, Troop 3217, on the Hilltop, have been asked to report on the council-wide "Youth Serves Youth" project at Girl Scout Roundup, Button Bay State Park, Vt., July 18 to 31.

These two scouts, along with Toni Warren, Janis Wright, Karen Born, Kathy Washburn and Diane Miller (also from the Hilltop), started, June 11, to work with young people at Kaiser Hospital, Columbus State School, in occupational therapy. In return they are earning a special badge, the Occupational Therapy Aide Bar.

Various crafts have been presented by these scouts. Puppets are Karen Predmore's specialty and weaving is Karen Longhenry's special skill. This is the first time this opportunity has been available. The scouts go twice a week and work with children from all over Ohio.

There will be no letup this summer in the local Girl Scout service project. Even while the two Karens are at Roundup, their fellow scouts will make trips to Camp Wildwood (on Rt. 161, northeast of Columbus) to help entertain State School children who are at a camp of their own.

Street Sweep Resumes Today; Schedule Given

West Side Neighborhood Council's annual street sweeping program was to resume today, Glen Beach, chairman of the Health Committee announced.

The annual event is made possible by an agreement between the council and the Street Maintenance Department.

Examinations To Be Given For City Jobs

Municipal Civil Service Commission will conduct examinations in the near future for several important positions in the Division of Building Regulations.

Applications must be filed, in person, not later than Thursday, July 26, at the Civil Service Office, 67 N. Front-st.

Positions open are: building inspector, electrical inspector, heating inspector, plumbing inspector, refrigeration inspector, plan examiner, housing inspector, senior building inspector, senior electrical inspector, senior heating inspector, senior housing inspector and senior plumbing inspector.

Local Marines In Big 'Battle'

Company L, Third Battalion, 25th Marines, of Columbus, will be among organized Marine Corps Reserve units from 18 cities of eastern seaboard states which will participate in Operation Trident, a tri-phibious assault exercise to be held July 23 to 26 at Camp Lejeune, N.C.

The units comprise part of the newly formed Fourth Marine Division, in reserve. More than 2,400 infantrymen, cannoneers, engineers and truck drivers supported by reserve aviation units training at the Marine Corps Air Station, Cherry Point, N.C., will storm Onslow Beach in their assault of the positions heavily fortified and defended by "enemy" reservists.

Layers of compacted soil just below tillage depth restrict or halt plant root growth by interfering with root penetration, not by restricting air or moisture supply to the roots, the U.S. Department of Agriculture says.

Although there is indirect evidence to suggest that fish can hear under water, there is no certainty that they do so.

Judith Crooks, Danny McCathrin Are United At Glenwood Methodist

MR. AND MRS. DANNY L. McCATHRIN

Arrangements of white carnations against a background of frosted jade foliage decorated the altar of Glenwood Methodist Church for the June 16 wedding uniting Miss Judith M. Crooks and Mr. Danny L. McCathrin. Rev. Warren Bright officiated at the 7:30 p.m. ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Crooks, 3533 Wicklow-rd. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John L. McCathrin, 60 S. Harris-av.

The bride wore a gown of crystalette over net and taffeta featuring long tapering sleeves and a lace bodice trimmed with iridescents and seed pearls. The back of the gown featured a bustle over a lace insert which terminated in a floor length train.

Her lace-trimmed veil of illusion fell from a queen's crown of irridescents and seed pearls. She carried an arrangement of white snowdrift pom-pom florets centered with a removable corsage of pink demure sweetheart roses atop a white Bible.

Miss Anna Sexton served as maid of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Barbara Crooks, Miss Mary McCathrin, Miss Julia May and Miss Connie Bailey.

The honor attendant was gowned in a daytime length dress of white lace over pink taffeta styled along princess lines accented by a crushed cummerbund with chiffon bow streaming down the front of the full skirt. The attendants were identically gowned in dresses of turquoise.

To complete their ensembles they wore matching veiled petal hats accented with pearls. They carried full cascades of pink asters, accented with jeweled satin ribbon and polished camellia foliage.

Mr. James Crooks, brother of the bride, served as best man and guests were seated by Mr. Danny Spitler, Mr. Orville Rinehart, Mr. Bob Osler and Mr. Tom Sexton.

A reception at the church followed the ceremony. Hostesses were Mrs. Shirley Hinkle, Mrs. Susie Spitler, Mrs. Gretchen Rhinehart, Mrs. Lou Wright and Mrs. Nellie Wright.

The new Mrs. McCathrin is a graduate of West High School. Her husband attended West High School and is now serving in the U.S. Navy.

Following a wedding trip to the Pocono Mountains of Pennsylvania, the couple will make their home in Norfolk, Va.

Mrs. Kruezneki To Host Group "A", OSU Mothers

Board members of Group "A," Ohio State University Mothers Club, will meet Tuesday, July 24, for a 12:30 p.m. dessert luncheon at the home of Mrs. Louis E. Kruezneki, 238 Powhatan-av.

The following officers and committees will serve for the coming year: Mrs. Louis Kruezneki, chairman of Group "A"; Mrs. George Bulkley, co-chairman; Mrs. Carl Grim, secretary, and Mrs. Cecil Campbell, treasurer.

Franklin County representatives: Mrs. George Bulkley, social; Mrs. Frank Smith, hospitality; and Mrs. Russell Rice, membership.

OSU Mothers Club Franklin County president: Mrs. D. W. Laird, 340 Fallsrd; Mrs. Leslie White, 2369 Taylor-av, co-chairman.

Committee members of Group "A": Mrs. R. L. Clements, devotions; Mrs. C. Ray Barnhart, historian; Mrs. George Bulkley, hospital guild; Mrs. Frank Smith, hospitality; Mrs. Russell Rice and Mrs. William Donley, membership.

Mrs. Laura Lennon and Mrs. Elmer Look, program; Mrs. Robert Grash and Mrs. R. W. Hastilow, project; Mrs. Howard Storch, publicity; Mrs. D. L. McCready, sunshine; Mrs. Howard Waidelich and Mrs. C. W. Young, telephone, and Mrs. C. W. Young, welfare.

EUCHRE PARTY

ABC Group of Sacred Heart Church will sponsor a progressive euchre party on Saturday, July 21, at 8 p.m. in Ryan Hall, First-av and Summit-st. Tickets will be available at the door.

Jerry Hummel Is Married In Colorado AFB Chapel

MR. AND MRS. JERRY J. HUMMEL

Miss Connie Kay Campin and Mr. Jerry Jay Hummel were married at Ent Air Force Base Chapel, Colorado Springs, Colo., June 7. The ceremony was performed by Lt. Col. Woodruff at 6:30 p.m.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. James Campin, Jr., of Imogene, Iowa. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Hummel, Columbus.

The bride wore a cocktail length gown of white organza and lace. The bodice was of white lace over beige satin and the skirt was full white organza. Her white veil was adorned with seed pearls.

Maid of honor was Miss Joyce Swanson of Essex, Iowa. She wore a street length semi-sheath dress of blue organza over taffeta and a small blue veil hat to match.

Mr. Woddie Armiethage, of San Diego, Calif., was best man.

Receptions were held at the home of Miss Carolyn Head in Imogene, Iowa, and at Miss Swanson's home.

Mr. Hummell graduated from West High School and has been in the Air Force for two years. He is a manpower technician at Ent AFB.

After a wedding trip to Leadville, Colo., the couple is now at home at 512 W. Pikes Peak-av, Colorado Springs, Colo.

TIMELY TIPS . . . FOR PLEASURE

BY BEVERLY FLEISHMAN

It's Tracy Versus Mike In New Stadium Comedy

The strongest recommendation to see "The Philadelphia Story" lies in its script. The play of the spoiled rich man's daughter, Tracy Lord, who is awakened to life and love by a brash magazine reporter is pregnant with humorous possibilities all deftly exploited by playwright Philip Barry. The sophisticated comedy, as it is usually tagged, is full of wise and witty lines.

BEVERLY

The success of the comedy depends mainly upon keeping the bright, fast pace demanded by the play. The Stadium Theater's production, on the whole, does justice to the show on this point.

Beverly Bushman, in the part of Tracy, holds the play together. She is brittle, quick, warm and avoids the usual hazard of the part; that of trying to carbon copy Katherine Hepburn, whose name is synonymous with the part she played on both Broadway and the screen. Opposite Miss Bushman as the reporter is Loren Schearer who strains to achieve the proper casual air.

The rest of the cast is well-directed though sometimes lacking is the particular kind of quickness demanded by the parts. The sum total is an evening of high humor.

Note: Due to the staging of the show which uses the theater entrances, there will be no seating after the beginning of acts.

'Dramatics Class Never Like This,' Say Happy Kenley School Pupils

Local high schoolers happy about their summer employment are the chorus members of the coming Kenley production, "Bye, Bye, Birdie." The enthusiastic singing and dancing group will help round out the regular professional chorus when the topical show on teenage life opens here July 24.

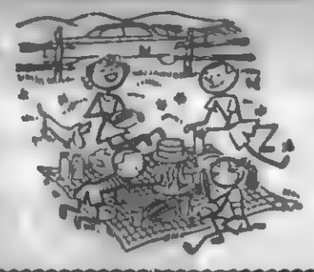
Profuse in their compliments for the show and the cast, the energetic chorus agrees that "this is the most wonderful experience of their lives." Most of the aspiring Thespians—from high schools all over the city—read of the try-outs in the paper and, on the basis of their school dramatic experience and private lessons, auditioned for the parts.

For the lucky number selected, the rehearsal schedule is rigorous, from 11 to 5 daily. Remarked Karen Kitchon, 2408 Johnston-rd: "It gives us something to do." Her only regret, she wishes she could see the show from the other side of the footlights.

Noel Robison, 3477 Fishinger-rd, exemplifies the aspirations of some of the teenagers who look forward to stage careers. Robison, who has studied voice, commented that "this was a wonderful chance for teenagers. Working with a professional cast is great!"

Williams Started Here . . .

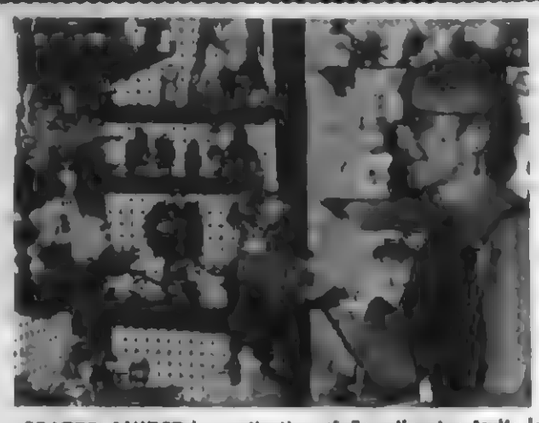
Another point of agreement among the chorus members was their admiration for the star of the show, Andy Williams, "who really understands kids." Williams, who got his start in Ohio with WLW-C's Ruth Lyons show, is familiar to Columbus audiences for his role in last year's Kenley play, "Pal Joey." At one time a member of the Williams Brothers singing group, Andy went on to become a popular single after his three brothers decided to retire. Since then he has made club and TV appearances and recordings.



Enthusiastic about playing in "Birdie," the singer recalls that it was the first show his French wife saw in this country. His opinion of the play was summarized in "I love it!" Co-starring with Williams is Selma Diamond.

Topical Teenage Show . . .

Bye, Bye, Birdie is a fast and funny take-off on the Elvis Presley cult. Outstanding choreography, from acrobatics to the twist; an exceptionally humorous script, and some situations that should be familiar to every family with teenage members combined to make it a Broadway hit.



THERE'S NO QUESTION as to how the high school chorus members feel about the star of "Bye, Bye Birdie"—Andy Williams. Pictured with the lead in the coming Kenley production are local teen-agers from Columbus who will supplement the regular chorus for the musical hit opening here July 24.

SEATED AMIDST her collection of Scandinavian trolls is Helen Winnemore, owner of Helen Winnemore, Inc., 721 E. Broad-st—Columbus' gallery shop of American and European arts and crafts.

From Helen Winnemor: 'We Need More Whimsy'

The unique gallery shop of Helen Winnemore is an attest to the philosophy of the owner — that people basically must enjoy what they are doing. It is evident from the shop's one-of-a-kind collection of contemporary crafts, artistically displayed, that Miss Winnemore has turned the art business into an art.

"We are more of an artistic endeavor than a commercial enterprise," volunteered Miss Winnemore, re-arranging a pair of salt and pepper shakers to show off their lines. "We like people to come in, browse and enjoy the materials. The thing that really feeds you is someone's enthusiasm."

Miss Winnemore, who is interested in everything, if only there were enough time," tells how she "backed in the door of the art business." "Someone asked me to have an arts and crafts exhibit for Berea College. When it was over I didn't know how to send the things back so I asked if I could sell them—thus started the shop."

That was 10 years ago in Grandview. Since then Miss Winnemore has continued to do what she likes best—collect and display beautiful artistic works.

The selection at Helen Winnemore, Inc., 721 E. Broad-st, includes some of the finest contemporary crafts made in the world—with wood pieces by a lathe craftsman in Bloomington whose works are on display in the Smithsonian, a Madonna and child, carving from Oberammergau, a German town famous for its passion plays, pottery pieces by the American potter John O'Leary, and stained glass from the art colony in Denmark.

One of the most delightful aspects of the shop is the corner devoted to displaying the puckish Scandinavian trolls—the traditional protectors of everything, according to the Nordic folklore. "We need more whimsy in art, stated Miss Winnemore, placing her favorite character—a gift from a Swedish friend—on the window ledge beside the droll assortment of animals.

"People are too-literal minded. "There is a positive imaginative element in everyone—we just haven't brought it out enough."

Assisting Miss Winnemore in bringing out that everything are "two people whom you have to mention" — Jack Barrow, interior decorator, and Mrs. Ruth Lea who has helped in the shop for the last eight years.

Miss Winnemore, whose search for unusual and "sincere" works of art take her from cottage craftsmen to the commercial market, claims that she and her associates are not artists. But one trip to Helen Winnemore, Inc., will convince you differently.

Former Ohioan Brings Sextet To Grandview Inn

"Wild Bill" Davison and his Dixieland Sextet are raising the roof nightly at the Grandview Inn. Davison, known for his blasting style on the cornet, is a native of Defiance, where he started his musical career playing in the local high school band.

Davison's engagement at the Inn is his first trip to Columbus in two years. The Sextet includes Vic Dickenson on the trombone, Charles "Red" Richards on the piano, Willie Wayman on bass, and Buster Bailey, clarinet.

The Sextet can be heard at the Inn through Saturday, July 21.

Gillis To Direct Ohio Educational TV Network Plan

Bud Gillis, WLW-C special broadcast services director, has been appointed executive secretary of the Ohio Educational Television Network Commission.

Starting Aug. 6, Gillis will direct the development of an educational network of television stations throughout the state.

He has been responsible for WLW-C public service programming, including "Viewpoint" and the award-winning "Probe" series. He also served as host of the weekly "Church-Ways" programs.

After 20 Years—Finally— A Stage Reunion For Stars

Prior to their appearance at Mershon Auditorium on Nov. 28, Helen Hayes and Maurice Evans will rehearse "As You Like It," "A program for Two Players" in New York.

This will be the first time that the leading lady of the American Theater and Broadway's foremost Shakespearean actor have appeared on the stage together since 1942 when the public was privileged to see them in the Theater Guild's "Twelfth Night."

For 20 years Helen Hayes and Maurice Evans have been promising each other a return engagement. However, it took 32-year-old producer Martin Tahse to come up with the vehicle that made their dream a reality.

This will be unlike any other Shakespearean presentation ever produced. The concept is so different that the American Shakespeare Festival at Stratford, Conn., has asked Tahse to present it there before he tours it across the country. Jerry Alden, a brilliant young film writer, is doing the script.

The national tour will open in Detroit on Oct. 17, then proceed from coast to coast, bringing the attraction to Columbus and OSU's Mershon Auditorium, as part of the Great Artist Series.

Concert Ensemble Plays At Mershon

Gordon Epperson, Mrs. Louise Chambers, and George Haddad of the OSU School of Music faculty examine the scores from Debussy and Ravel, which they will present in concert at Mershon Auditorium Wednesday, July 23, at 8 p.m.

This will be a free-admission program open to everyone in the greater Columbus area.

'Horse Eats Hat' At Denison

Playgrounds Prepare Drama Festivals, Lantern Parades

Participants of the City Recreation Department 77 playgrounds will compete in four sectional lantern parades concurrently at 8 p.m. Friday July 27. They will be held at the Westgate Park, Harder lake area (west); Schiller park (South); Franklin Park, (East); Whetstone, (North).

Many playgrounds will hold their own lantern contests prior to the sectional parades.

Tennis tournaments will start next Monday. Every playground has been invited to send one boy and one girl in each of three age divisions for competitions at local areas outfitted with tennis courts.

Tetherball, horseshoes and four-square eliminations are under way. Volleyball tournaments began Monday.

Drama Festival finalists will appear at 7 p.m. Friday, July 20 at Sunshine, Schiller, and Poindexter Recreation Centers.

This week's reports from the playgrounds follow:

GIVEN REMINDERS FOR SAFER PLAYING

A PICTORIAL LESSON was selected for the Sullivant Gardens drama festival, as the youngsters constructed an "All Too Soon Cemetery" with markers depicting safety violations. Drama festival will be held at 2 p.m. today at Eakin, Sunshine and W. Mound playgrounds. Finalists will appear at 7 p.m. Friday, July 20, at Sunshine Park. Appearing before their grim reminders are, from left rear, Francella Snow, 822 Buchanan-dr, Apt. B; Mary Fusner, 855 Coolidge-dr, Apt. C; Gloria Arnold, 762 Pierce-dr, Apt. C; Pamela Neal, 822 Souder-av, Apt. B; Cassandra Matteo, 815 Buchanan-dr, Apt. B; Yolanda and Debby Owens, 855 Coolidge-dr, Apt. B. Front row from left, Debbie Ann Mayes, 764 Pierce-dr, Apt. A; Orvetta Dunlap, 822 Buchanan-dr, Apt. C; Kathline Fusner, 855 Coolidge-dr; Apt. C; and kneeling, Marcella Borrago, 762 Pierce-dr, Apt. D.

At Glenwood . . .

Playground fun is busting out all over as the summer months pass. Some of the events to look for are volleyball tournaments July 16. Any boy or girl between the ages of eight and 18 may participate in this event.

Coming up next week is the Drama Show which will be held at Sunshine Park, July 17-18. The Drama Festival will be held July 20th.

Registration for Indian Village Camp during the week of July 30 is being taken now. The total cost for the week is $2.50, which includes bus transportation, insurance, milk, and craft materials. The money and registration cards must be turned in by Friday, July 20.

Boys and girls who are interested in helping on the work for the lantern parade should see Hazel Brovont. Lots of workers will be needed for an early start. Check the bulletin board for the time of organization meeting. Parents are also encouraged to help on this project.

Boys and girls will be able to make baskets next week. Smaller children can color, play with clay and paint.

The children of Glenwood enjoyed the traveling zoo last week. There was a nice assortment of animals, but the children liked the monkeys the best.

The junior boys beat Chicago-av and this makes their record 2-1. They will play Holton Park next week.

The junior girls' softball team lost their first game to West Mound and their second game to Haunts. The team is looking forward to some better games in the future.

The Junior Jet program is in full swing at Glenwood playground with four teams making up the league. The league standings are as follows: Giants and Braves are tied for first place with three wins and one loss. The Chiefs are in second place with a 1-2 record, and the Jets are in last place with a 1-3 record.

The children from Glenwood enjoyed taking part in the South Sectional Track meet Thursday, July 12.

Several new things have been added to our summer program. Everyday we will try to have a story telling time at 1 p.m. Also, there will be a tumbling and acrobatic class every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 7 p.m. for all interested boys and girls, and an advanced arts and crafts class for boys and girls, 11 years old and older.

At Georgian Hts.

The intermediate boys pounded the Westgate Reds 11 to 3 in softball last week. Goltz, Baker, Sprague, Miller, King, Clark, and Carr all got hits and Brammar homered. The winning pitcher was Brammer, the losing pitcher was Search.

The Junior boys defeated Eakin as Corbin, Byrum, Raike, Madden, MBiller and Wooten led the hitting attack. The winning pitcher was Cannon.

In the foursquare tournaments at Westgate, Marie Schmehl, Karen Hatfield, Larry Buchertield and Larry Roush won their divisions while in tetherball Marie Schmel and Joan Davis took their divisions. In horseshoes, Joe Corbin rang up a victory for Georgian-hts. All the winners advanced to the next ground in the city championship.

Successfully completing the physical fitness tests were Roger Alton, Dave Nethero, Dave Denbow, and Rick Miller. Ten girls have completed their tests also but have not yet received certificates.

In the girls softball, both teams were beat last week. The Lionettes lost to Haunts and the Tigerettes to Sunshine girls, however the Tigerettes pulled a close one from Burroughs, 26 to 33.

Many of the children are prepared to give their skits and plays along with other local playgrounds today at Eakin School. The best skit from each playground goes Friday to the Drama Festival.

at Westgate . . .

The Westgate playground track team ran away with the South Sectional Track and Field Meet championship last Thursday with 130 points accumulated by boys and girls in all age groups. The winners' names will be announced next week, after final tabulation.

The sectional Drama Festival was held today. The winners will be announced next week. The Westgate Festival will be held Thursday evening at 6:30. There will be many interesting acts including puppet shows, skits, dancing and a sidewalk art show. The public is invited.

Practice will start this week for the volleyball tournament. All boys and girls in the intermediate and senior divisions are urged to come.

There will be a special story hour for pre-school children and their mothers every Tuesday and Thursday at 2. Many special puppet guests will be on hand to read or act out the stories. There will also be special crafts for these children.

The Junior Jet Minor League standings are:

Tigers	3	1	0
Hawks	2	1	0
Giants	0	3	1

The Junior Jet Major League standings are:

	W	L
Reds	2	1
Jets	2	1
Hawks	1	2
Colts	0	3

The Junior Girls' softball scores were: Westgate Angels 22, Georgian Heights 1; Angels 8, West Mound 4; Westgate Devils 7, Glenwood 0. In the Intermediate division, the Westgate Jesters won over West Mound, 46 to 1.

At Chicago . . .

A very close softball game between Sullivant Gardens and Chicago Intermediate boys last week was won by Chicagoans, 14-13 and put them in undisputed first place with 4-0 record.

The Intermediate boys will play West Mound and Sunshine at McKinley Field this week. The Junior boys will play John Bourroughs and the Intermediate girls have a game with Sunshine and Haunts.

Jim Cantrell and Dick Wise were the winning team in senior foursquare and Charles Young took the honors in senior tetherball. They will represent Chicago in future tournament play this week at Sunshine Center.

It will be a busy week for arts and crafts because of the upcoming lantern parade. Chicago boys and girls will parade their lanterns Friday night, July 27, at Westgate Park.

The girls are busy practicing the hula, so they can take part in a skit on the history of the hula, which will be presented for parents and friends in a few weeks.

Mary Jane Hanns

at Sunshine . . .

Shell jewelry will be the arts and crafts highlight for this week. Boys and girls will be able to make shell earrings and brooches. Boys and girls are asked to bring in large and small cardboard boxes to be used for the lantern parade. Those who wish to participate in the lantern parade should see Beth Goodman immediately.

Round B of the four-square, tetherball and horseshoe tournaments was played Wednesday, July 11, a Sunshine, with Chicago and Sullivant Gardens. Winners for Sunshine were: horseshoes, Michael Harrel, Jim Taylor and Pat Cunningham; four-square, Mary Fout; tetherball, Philip Strait and Sue Font.

Boys and girls between the ages of 13 and 18 are eligible to play on a volleyball team and should sign up now for tournament teams.

Volleyball players of all ages are welcome at play at Sunshine in the evening from 7 on. Bring the whole family.

The Intermediate Boys' Softball team from Sunshine won its second game in a row last Monday against Highland. The team started the season off with two losses but now a new team spirit has elevated their confidence to a new point. The team players consist of Stephen Drake on the mound; Danny Fout behind the plate; Eddie Williams on first; Clarence Copeland on second; Dan Drake and Doug Minturn on third; George Wolf and Eddie Baker at shortstop; Charles Logan in left field; Bill Seabolt in center field; and Bill Sheridan in right field. Joe Seymour, Ralph Vincent, James Overstuff ready to substitute wherever needed.

The South Sectional Track Meet last Thursday at South High offered the opportunity for boys and girls eight through 17 to participate in officially timed track and field events. This track meet was just a preliminary for the Junior Olympics to be held at Ohio State University Stadium Aug. 4 for boys and girls eight through 17 years old. All contestants must be registered and have parents' consent to participate. The entry forms are available at Sunshine Playground. All boys and girls are encouraged to come over and participate in the practice sessions.

Patsy Scruggs took a fourth place in the Intermediate girls' low hurdles and Dan Gamble took second place in the Senior boys' low hurdles, at the sectional track meet at South High School.

Sunshine's game of the week honors go to American League team No. 2, coached by Lucky Rawlins, and No. 5, coached by Leroy Smith.

Rawlins' team jumped off to an early lead with two runs in the first inning and held Smith's team hitters scoreless until the fifth inning. Adding two more runs in the fifth. Rawlins' team was feeling good with a 5-0 score, but not for long. Smith's boys came alive in the bottom of the fifth and pounded out five runs as the battle rolled into the last inning with everything tied up.

Striking back with vengeance, Rawlins' boys capped their sixth inning with four more runs to put the game on ice. But Smith's Smackers turned on the heat and the ice thawed as Mike Smith stole home for the winning run. Final score was Smith's Smackers 9, Rawlins' Rollers 8.

Pitching honors go to Mike Mahley for pitching three innings of no-hit, no-run baseball. John Titko hit the only homerun and made it count for three runs to fire up his team to victory.

Boys and girls interested in going to Indian Village camp the week of July 30 must have their parents' permission slips and the $2.50 in by this Friday, July 20.

There will be a pre-teen dance this Friday for boys and girls eight through 12.

at Eakin . . .

After one week of league play the Eakin-Georgian Heights Junior Jet League standings are as follows:

In the second round of the city-wide four-square and tetherball championships, Jerry Young from Eakin won the Intermediate boys' tetherball championship. Jimmy Clark from Eakin won the Junior boys' championship. In four-square the team of Rita Kosacovsky and Patty Thompson won the Intermediate girls' championship.

Today (Wednesday) at 2 there will be a drama festival at Eakin School. Westgate Park, Georgian Heights, Binns and Eakin will present skits to be judged. The winning playground will then advance to the finals for the West Side to be held at Sunshine Recreation Center.

The arts and crafts groups are now beginning to prepare lanterns for the West Side lantern parade to be held at Westgate Park.

at Burroughs . . .

Burroughs had 20 youngsters participating in the South Field and Track Meet last Thursday. Many of these boys and girls are looking forward to the annual Junior Olympics, to be held Aug. 4 at OSU stadium. All those who wish to compete in this event must first fill out registration forms which can be obtained at the playground. For additional information concerning this special event please check with the leaders at the playground.

Burroughs arts and crafts participants are busy readying themselves for the upcoming lantern parade. Any boy or girl wishing to be a part of this program can do so by contacting Miss Donna Berlo immediately. Regular arts and crafts activities such as drawing, coloring and painting, gimp, bracelet making and papier mache are also being presented from 2 to 4 Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

Many boys and girls have already completed the physical fitness program and some have received certificates of merit. For those who have not had the opportunity to enter this program and wish to do so, a special class will be held this Thursday evening from 6 until 8 at the playground.

Some of the special events which will be presented at the playground in the coming weeks will include hobo hike, volleyball and checkers tournaments, bicycle rodeo, family cook-out evening, mothers-fathers softball, Junior Jet baseball All-Star games, dancing classes and programs, adult horseshoes, and many others. Check the playground bulletin boards for dates and times of these events.

In boys' softball, the Senior, Intermediate and Junior Colts are all undefeated so far. Results of last week's games were: (Senior) Burroughs 6, Westgate 4; (Intermediate) Burroughs 11, Westgate 2; (Juniors) Burroughs Colts 19, Sunshine 9.

In girls' softball, the results and standings are incomplete at this time but will appear in next week's playground news.

In fathers' slo-pitch softball, Miller's Sluggers downed Eddy's Bombers for the third straight week, winning for the third time by one run. Trailing 13 to 6 in what seemed to be a lost cause, Miller's batsmen exploded for eight runs in the top of the sixth inning, then held on to convert a seemingly lost game into a 14-13 victory. Miller and Glasburn paced the winners with three hits each while Bill homered for the Sluggers. For the losing Bombers, Ramsey and Mallo each collected three hits with Johnston, Wyant and Mallo clouting homeruns. Each team had 15 hits. These two teams will play again this Friday at 6 p.m. Fathers still wishing to play may

Hillcrest Baptist Church Honors Retiring Pastor

Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Roth will be honored with a farewell reception at Hillcrest Baptist Church on Monday, July 23 at 7:30 p.m.

The couple have served the Hillcrest Church for 14 years and Rev. Roth is retiring after 42 years of continuous pastoral ministry. He will preach his farewell sermon this Sunday.

The following people will take part in the special program being planned: Rev. Arthur Basile, Ohio Baptist Convention; Rev. Frank McCullough, pastor, Lincoln Village Baptist Church; Rev. William Hayden, pastor, North Baptist Church.

Rev. Jacob J. Ashburn, pastor, Oakley Baptist Church; Wendell Edwards, moderator, Hillcrest Baptist Church; Robert Fannor, chairman, board of Christian education; L. L. Ward, chairman of trustees; Mrs. Edwin Peters, chairman of deaconesses.

Harold Kitts, church school

superintendent; Robert H. Cotner, director of music; Mrs. Leora Roth, president, Women's Missionary Society; Paul Crosier, chairman of deacons, and John Burd, treasurer of Hillcrest Baptist.

The choir will sing "I Believe" and "You'll Never Walk Alone."

beat when he edged Daniel Fahrenbach by a half a length.

His best time in time trials was 35.6 seconds, .4 of a second faster than anyone else.

Held's victory was over Class B winner James Ziemich, 12, of 882 Caniff-pl. Third place runnersup in the derby were A. J. Mike Remenicky, 15, of 470 Westphalav in Class A and Barry Huff, 11, of 2586 Glenmawr-av, Class B.

Won Many Prizes

Many prizes were bestowed on the young racer whose victory was televised over WLW-C-TV, Channel 4.

Bob received a $500 U.S. savings bond, the S. E. Knudsen Trophy presented by the Greater Chevrolet Dealers of Columbus, a bicycle, Class A champion's trophy, baseball glove, table tennis set, three cell flashlight and a baseball.

In addition, for becoming the Columbus champ, he received a $50 clothing certificate from the Union Co. and a transistor radio for the fastest heat time.

Bob's parents and two brothers were in a crowd of about 4,000 at the Freeway track, just south of E. Fifth-av. His sisters stayed home out of the rain to watch him on television.

A busy schedule awaits young Held. Thursday he is to be a noon luncheon guest of the Columbus Jaycees and at 9:15 a.m. Saturday he will appear on "Derby Workshop" on Channel 4.

On Aug. 30 he will have a chance to meet Richard Dawson of Wichita, 1961 All America Champion and will be a guest of honor at the Hilltop Bean Dinner, Tuesday, Aug. 31.

Bob will leave with his parents on Aug. 1 for the national race. In Akron he will receive a siren-screaming police escort to Derby headquarters and while there will stay at Derbytown, a special lakeside camp outside Akron where he will meet more than 180 boys from throughout the world. There he will compete for the Grand Champ Crown on Saturday, Aug. 4.

In Akron he will also have a chance to meet stars of the TV show "Bonanza," Chevrolet executives, and will have the opportunity to drive his car down derby track one time before the race.

He will be given a special racing helmet and shirt and will compete for over $30,000 in college scholarships.

The Columbus Derby was sponsored by the Columbus Jaycees, WLW-C Television and local Chevrolet dealers.

'Rev. Joe' Will Return To Glenwood

Dr. Joseph B. Shellhase of Bellefontaine will be the guest minister at Glenwood Methodist Church Sunday. He will preach at both the 8:15 and 10:45 a.m. services.

This will be a homecoming for "Rev. Joe," as it is his first appearance at Glenwood since his retirement last year after serving the congregation 23 years.

He began work for the new church and as his last official mations will admit cruise passengers to the buses.

Chartered Lake Shore System buses will take our cruisers to Cleveland and back. The buses will load at the Great Western Shopping Center at 4 a.m. and at the Greyhound bus station at Third and Town at 4:30. Cruisers may select the loading point which is most convenient for them.

The good ship Aquarama will be at its docks on the Cleveland waterfront which is on Erieside-av right near the Cleveland Indians baseball stadium and passengers can board the ship at 9 a.m. EDT (8 a.m. Columbus time.) The ship will set sail at 9:30 EDT (8:30 a.m. Columbus time.)

Should you happen to oversleep and miss the bus and decide to drive to Cleveland, present your reservation confirmation to the ticket agent at the gang plank of the ship.

Cruisers will be able to become better acquainted with six of the Columbus area mayors. They are: Ralston Westlake, mayor of Columbus; Louis Geese, Dublin; Lloyd Peck, Obetz; Charles Leonard, Reynoldsburg; Walter B. Moling, Whitehall and William C. Miner, Groveport.

Remember — informality will be the keynote of the cruise. This informal atmosphere will help you make new friends. No one will be a stranger very long once you board the ship.

The informality applies to dress also. We suggest that you will be more comfortable if you wear sports clothing. We have ordered balmy weather for the occasion, but we suggest you might bring along a sweater or jacket. No matter how hot the city may be the lake breezes might be much cooler than you would expect.

Welcome aboard! Bon Voyage!

LEARNING GOOD HABITS EARLY

"Train up a child in the way he should go: and when he is old, he will not depart from it."

This statement made by Solomon, thousands of years ago is just as true and vital today as it was then.

Teach your children the good practice of saving for the future. Teach them to attend worship services in God's house by taking them each Sunday.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH ... THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE
The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Whether this generation in the land of God, or government or society as way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will necessary perish. Therefore, even from a purely point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Hilltop's Males Can't Get Used To This Gal—She Really Clips 'Em

By TED BEARDSHEAR

It was a close shave but I made it. That was my thought when Mrs. Mack Trent sharpened her razor and began to shave my face. Unusual? She's one of the few working female barbers in the state.

She is located at the Mack Trent Barber Shop, 2360 W. Broad-st. Lois works with her husband, a master barber, in a family assault on whiskers and sideburns that fall over the ears. They reside at 353 Brown-rd.

Pert, trim, vivacious, intelligent and attractive. You'd think that men would really appreciate that in a barber. Do they? No, according to Lois.

"Both Mack and I were surprised at the resentment men hold toward women in this profession."

Ungrateful I'd say.

One of the comments Lois has heard in the chair was "the only other woman ever to cut my hair was my mother." Perhaps this "mothering" is what causes the resentment, she offered.

Getting into the business was Mack's idea. He saw a lot of women barbers in the Hawaiian Islands and decided that it would be a good occupation for his wife.

"But that didn't sell me," said Lois. "It was my sister-in-law".

She's a barber, too.

Perhaps it runs in the family.

Lois says that when men walk into the shop for the first time they think she is a manicurist. Gruffly, they tell her they don't want a manicure. She says that it takes some time to convince them that her business is cutting hair.

It is embarrassing to her when she is flatly refused. "I guess they (the men) feel that this is one other occupation that women are penetrating, and they feel it is a male occupation."

We asked her what the most insulting remark was. She said that one customer asked about her schooling. He assumed, she said, that if she were a barber she had no other trade.

Nothing could be farther from the truth. Lois worked for 12 years at the Hilltop branch of the Ohio National Bank. She is a qualified secretary.

RECORD REPORTER Ted Beardshear gets his beard sheered by Lois Trent in the barber shop she and her husband, Mack, operate at 2350 W. Broad-st.

Are her customers free with their conversation? Lois said most men are serious and if they talk at all it's on current events or politics.

Smiling, she said that she had to keep up with what was happening in the world to be a good conversationalist, however.

Pampers Bald Heads

We asked her what her reaction was to partially bald men. "I give them as good a haircut as I can," she said. "Then I give them an extra massage to sort of compensate."

We asked if bald-headed men were more finicky then the full-maned male. "Only when they have a few strands that are covering their bald spot."

Teenagers especially resent a woman, according to Lois. "After 18, they are a little more accepting, though."

"Children don't seem to react any differently to a woman," Lois mused. "In school they emphasize our potential with children, but only the very small seem to react at all."

Lois has found that men are much more particular than she had imagined. "They like to get a barber and stick with him," she said.

About her profession Lois thinks "it takes a lot of patience, hard work, and determination—but I enjoy working with people."

According to barbering procedure, it takes seven and one half months of schooling (she went to Andrew's Barber College) and 18 months apprenticeship with a master barber. "Self-confidence is important."

Lois' main problem is working with people she grew up with. "I know them better and I want to do a better job." She thought it may have been easier if she had taken her apprenticeship where she hadn't grown up and worked for 12 years. She is a 1946 West High School graduate.

We looked at her textbooks. The subjects ranged from Bacteriology to toupees. Lois herself has yet to cut a toupee, but Mack has done it.

The shop itself has been in business since 1904 when Lois's mother moved to S. Oakley-av. Lois has been cutting hair for seven months in that location.

After the shave, I thought that here was one place where you could get clipped by a woman and still have your wife approve.

Accidents Kill Two

Sunday traffic accidents within the City of Columbus killed two persons within a two hour period.

The first accident occured at 1:20 a.m. when a car driven by Isaac Brown, Jr., 37, of 660 Lilley-av went out of control on the W. Mound-st Interchange, west of the Whittier-st exit and collided with one driven by Lennel Childs, 19, of 200 S. Washington-av. Brown was dead on arrival at Mt. Carmel.

Mrs. Margaret Fay Hufford, 25, of 7722 E. Main-st, Reynoldsburg was pronounced dead at St. Anthony Hospital after a car which she was driving went out of control on E. Main-st and collided with a retaining wall, spun around and ended up in a parking lot on the other side of the street.

William Whitis, 24, of 1614 Truro-rd, Reynoldsburg, a passenger in the auto, suffered head injuries.

Mrs. Hufford was pronounced dead at 9:40 a.m.

Girls Aid Westgate In Track Victory

Westgate Park piled up an amazing 130 points to win its first-ever Columbus Recreation Department Section Track and Field title last Thursday at South High School, with most credit going to the gals.

And they did it the hard way.

Westgate picked one of the toughest years to win the crown. A record-breaking 1,958 participants completed in the get-together.

The meet was open to boys and girls 17 years of age and under. No Westgate boy scored first place wins, however, while the girls hit for seven of them.

This was the final section meet of the season in preparation for the Junior Olympics contest which will be held Aug. 4 at Ohio State University stadium. It is open to all boys and girls living in central Ohio, according to Jerry Fedderson of the Recreation Department.

Other team scores for the South section meet were:

Highland, 94 1/6; Barrington, 91½; Palagrove, 87; Douglas, 70½; Blackburn, 51½; Pilgrim, 48½; Whitehall, 45½; Watkins, 44 5/6; Livingston, 44½; Willis Park, 33½; Beatty, 25½; Schiller, 22; Groveport, 18½; Deshler, 17½; Sullivant Gardens, 17½; Fair, 15; Pinecrest, 15; Main, 13; Hanford, 12; St. Dominic, 8½; Karns, 7; Leawood, 7; Scioto Trail, 7; Southeast Lions, 6; Scottwood, 6; Georgian Heights, 6; Christ the King, 4; Heimendale, 4; Poindexter, 4; Sunshine, 4; Haunts, 4; Fairwood, 3; Mohawk, 3; Burroughs, 2¼.

BILL ISENNAGLE, 362 S. Eureka-av, a letter carrier at the Hilltop Branch Post Office for eight years, is shown holding the trophy awarded him as champion of the first-ever, city-wide, post office sponsored bowling tournament. The silver trophy is of a rotating variety and will be kept in the post office of future winners.

Isennagle In Win Of Postal Bowling

The Hilltop Branch Post Office is "bowling over" athletic competiton throughout the city and they've picked an appropriate sport for their latest accomplishment.

The Hilltop Branch—more specifically, Bill Isennagle—"bowled over the competition" in bowling, too. It's almost getting to be old hat.

The branch won the first-ever championship trophy in golfing and slo-pitch competition, too, and now Isennagle comes home with two trophies in the city Post Office's first-ever bowling tournament.

Isennagle, 362 S. Eureka-av, has been a letter carrier at the Hilltop Branch for eight years. He does a lot of walking but is able to stay when he comes to a foul line, that's for sure.

During the elimination, personable Isennagle rolled a 195.5 in the final game after carrying a 165 average throughout the season—with his handicap.

Isennagle, who regularly bowls at CCC lanes, took part in the tourney finals at Linden Lanes.

The field of entrants started out ot 128 bowlers and was quickly reduced to 16 finalists.

Isennagle beat out Carl Rau, Station F Post Office in the South Side, for the crown. The two men rolled six games for the title and, ironically enough, Rau is one of Isennagle's best friends.

The Hilltopper was awarded a personal trophy, a bowling ball and bag and his postal station gets a huge rotating trophy to display.

Should Isennagle win two more tournaments, he'll get to keep the beautiful souvenir.

In all, he's been bowling about 10 years and has gathered three other trophies in that time. His wife, Peggy, also likes to bowl and has a trophy of her own.

The bowling tournament is another phase in a expanded athletic program that the Post Office is trying to develop. To date, postal workers are active in golfing, slo-pitch and basketball with regularly scheduled games and tournaments, too.

Trained As Jet Mechanic

Airman Third Class Alonzo J. Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl West, 194 Midland-av, has been reassigned to Shaw AFB, S. C., following his graduation from the Air Force technical training course for jet aircraft mechanics at Amarillo AFB, Tex. A grednate of Central High School, he entered the service in February 1962.

Weatherman Washed Out Local Speedway Racing Sunday Night

Sunday night, the weatherman frowned and washed-out the race card at the Columbus Motor Speedway.

But, with his approval, the Williams Road raceway will run three nights of racing this weekend.

Friday, many of the stars of the Indianapolis "500" are slated to make an appearance in their 110-Offies, for a full night of action, under USAC sanction. They will wind up the evening with a 50-lap championship feature.

Saturday, the flying stocks will take over the fast third-mile blacktop oval, for their Mid-Season Championship program, to be topped with a 35-lap feature.

Sunday, the super-modifieds will run a seven-event program, with a 25-lap feature.

All three nights, time trials will begin at 7 p.m. and the first race is set for 8 o'clock.

In the speedway's game of "Total," in which the fans try to pick the first five finishers, in order, the jackpot will be $1300 for Friday. Should there be a winner, or winners, the amount will start at $100 for Saturday.

Without a winner Friday, it will soom to $1400 for the Saturday activity.

You Think Trout And Bass Are Bad? Check This About Wily Carp

Admittedly, rainbow trout and largemouth bass are difficult to catch, sometimes driving an angler almost through the top of his hat. But there is a fish that is more wily than either, more difficult to catch, more segacious, and much, much more plentiful.

It is the carp, one of the most despised fish that swims, yet one of the most difficult to capture with hook and line. Carp are vegetarians, and afraid of their own shadows, so it takes real know-how to make suckers out of them, the Mercury fishing authorities claim.

Many experienced carp fishermen use a light flyrod, preferably with a tapered line and leader, camouflaged coloring in the leader and a [illegible] hook. In waters where carp are numerous they cast this outfit, baiting [illegible] with doughballs, canned corn or other vegetables. Let it lie where carp will find it and you have an experience ahead of you.

Carp are great to mouth a bait. Frequently they pick up a bait, worry it for a while and drop it. For this reason carp tackle must be light enough so it will not be noticed by the fish. Any weight or special resistance in the line and they take off like a shot.

If a weight is needed to cast, use one of the slipping variety with the line running through a hole in the center. This will give enough weight to cast, yet when the carp picks up the bait the line will run through the weight and the fish will feel no resistance.

Then when the carp is moving well, sock it to him! And be prepared for a tussle, particularly if you are using a flyrod or a spinning rod.

After you catch a carp, don't throw or give it away. Skin it and you'll find a red streak of flesh along its lateral line. Remove this and the fish makes a fine dinner, baked or fried.

Try it before you knock it.

Hughie Critz Picked For Reds' 'Hall'

Hughie Critz, star second baseman of the Reds during 1924-30, will be installed in the Cincinnati Baseball Hall of Fame as the oldtimer selected for the honor.

Critz will be officially inducted during the pre-game Hall of Fame ceremonies on Chamber of Commerce Night at Crosley Field Aug. 1.

Also installed then will be Ted Kluszewski and Bubbles Hargrave, the two former Reds selected to the Hall of Fame by vote of the fans — including Hartley Newspapers readers who sent in ballots last week.

Since the Hall of Fame was established in 1958, the 11 former Reds already installed are Ernie Lombardi, Frank McCormick, Bucky Walters, Paul Derringer, Johnny Vander Meer, Eppa Rixey, Ival Goodman, Ewell Blackwell, Ed Roush, Lonnie Frey and Billy Werber.

The first street to be illuminated by gas light in America was Pelham Street in Newport, R.I. in 1806.

Capitols Set Tryout Dates July 19, 23

Anyone interested in trying out for the Columbus Capitols professional football team should report to head coach Gene Fekete Thursday, July 19, at 7:30 p.m., at the Sunshine Recreation Center, 887 Sullivant-av. Registration and application forms will be given at that time.

The actual tryouts will be held Monday, July 23, at the Ohio State Exposition Center field.

"The tryouts are open to anyone in the city who wants to play professional football," Coach Fekete announced. Last year's tryouts yielded a couple of good players who had never played football beyond high school. "We hope to uncover a few this year," Fekete said.

The Capitols, Columbus' entrant in the United Football League race, will begin practice on Aug. 1 at the Ohio State Exposition Center field. Home games will be played at Jet Stadium.

"We hope to have a big turnout Thursday so that we can be assured that we have the pick of the talent in Columbus," Fekete said. Players signed after the tryouts, plus those from last year and those already signed, will comprise the 1962 club which kicks off the home season Sept. 15th against Louisville.

If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed . . . nothing shall be impossible unto you. — St. Matthew 17:20.

A Sports . . AUBLEGRAPH

BY JOHN AUBLE, JR.
Hartley Sports Editor

Telephone Opens New World Of Joy For Sportswriters

It probably never occurred to you, but it never ceases to amaze me how many people in this world rely on the sports desk of this newspaper, or any newspaper for that matter.

I didn't say they rely on the sports pages — I said how much they rely on the sports desk, specifically sportswriters.

An average day produces enough calls to verify that fact. Scribes are evidently supposed to be encyclopedias of sports lore with dazzling information at their fingertips for all phone callers.

T'aint so.

The most common calls to the Hartley Newspapers sports are to settle arguments.

Guys sit around bars, bars breed sports talk, and we're supposed to settle all arguments.

Questions like, "Could you tell me who was voted the most valuable player in 1945" or "My buddy doesn't believe that the New York Knickerbockers had 2,589 for a home game" are just samples.

Even when we do dig up the answer to a particular question, the phone caller—in an argument over a minute fact—isn't satisfied and makes you repeat your answer to all of his cohorts.

Psst! Hey, Buddy . . .

Naturally, the sports desk seems like an ideal spot to get tips for local race tracks. The calls come in for those, too.

It isn't unusual for a voice to come over the phone saying, "Any action for the fifth at Scioto, Buddy?" You say, "Nope. Haven't heard a thing" and sometimes that satisfies them or sometimes they press the point saying they have friends on the paper and it would be all right if we told them.

You also explain to them that the Federal Communications Commission would extract all the phones here in the office were we to give out racing information and that usually stops them.

All In The Family . . .

A good majority of the calls come from parents who are pushing their children into the sports world limelight. You get a guy who thinks his son will be the greatest golden gloves fighter in half a century and he's ready to send publicity photos et al.

Since it's easy to have typographical errors in sports copy—especially when statistics are involved—many of the phoners call in irate because of mistakes.

Usually the majority of our calls come from firefighters who sit around the office reading anything and everything and they're the first ones to spot the errors.

At any rate, the phone is an interesting fixture on the sports desk. Ten-to-one Alexander Graham Bell didn't know what he was letting us in for when he built the instrument.

Now, with Telstar . . . well, who knows?

Soap-Box Derby Yak . . .

The Soap-Box Derby in Columbus is history but it's a sure bet that there'll never be a derby that'll produce the laugh that passersby received during the test.

It happened out at the Fairgrounds during the test period and weigh-ins the day before the run-off.

An unidentified youngster stood by while an official checked over his racer to see if it met specifications. The judge took out his tape measure to check the length of the car and found that it was a couple of inches too long.

He glanced at the boy and said, "Son, your racer's a bit long." The boy, with the calmness that is only possible of a 12-year-old, said, "Oh, okay Sir," and reached into his nearby toolbox, withdrew a saw and promptly chopped the excess measurement off the nose of the car.

If this wasn't funny enough, half way through the cutting job, his saw hit a piece of metal and the kid discovered that it was a tool that he and his father had been looking for.

"Hey, Dad, here's that file we lost," he shouted.

Going Where It's 'Chile' . . .

Local insurance man, Joe Briggs, Jr., takes off from Miami, Fla., Aug. 10 for a skiing trip into the Andes Mountains at Portillo Ski Lodge in Chile.

Briggs, a partner in Briggs Insurance, 2596 Sullivant-av, reports that the trip is to attend a ski clinic at Portillo and exchange ideas with other sportsmen there, during Chile's winter season.

Briggs is also assistant to Walter Neuron at the Ski School near Mansfield, O. Neuron will make the trip, also.

3 West End Boys' Club Teams Lead

After last week's action three of the West Side Boys' Club baseball teams held onto first place in their respective leagues.

The Babe Ruth-Intermediate Knothole Team upped its record to 12-4 by virtue of two victories over Coffman Optical, 5-3, and the Blue Devils, 7-2.

The Senior Knothole Team held onto first place by beating the North End Merchants, 5-4, for their third victory without a loss.

The Pony League-Junior Knothole Team clobbered Clover A.C., 11-3, beat the Aragons, 9-1, and lost to Lockbourne, 5-4.

The Little League Team lost two close games. East Franklin beat them, 4-0 and so did Valleyview, 2-0.

Consumers spent four per cent more for food in the first quarter of 1962 than in 1961, but their disposable income averaged seven per cent higher, according to OSU extension economists.

'LITTLE NINE' WRAP-UP

Dodgers, Giants, Yanks, Indians Win; Braves In Upset Victory

The Dodgers dropped their fourth game of the season in the last inning to the Cardinals, 7-6.

In the Dodgers' part of the fifth, they scored two runs on one hit. In the Cardinals' fifth, they scored five runs on four hits, one of which was John McKee's home run with two [illegible].

The winning pitcher was Tom Lanker.

The Giants and the Phillies ended their game with a 7-6 score also, with the Giants finishing on top. The Giants being home team scored the winning run by the Phillies' pitcher walking the run in. The winning pitcher was Jim Kerr.

The upset of the season was claimed by the Braves when they came back two runs down to score six runs in one inning making the final score 6-2.

The Pirates scored two runs in the first and second innings and were unable to score the rest of the game.

The Yankees won their first game of the season, 3-2. They defeated the Tigers in a last inning rally. Tom Schoener's lead off double, followed by Craig Hedges' single, tied the game 2-2. A fielder's choice and an error loaded the bases with one out. Tom Morrow was awarded a walk, and the winning run was walked in. Warren Langdon was the winning pitcher.

The Indians maintained their first place title by shutting out the Senators, 5-0. The Senators were held to two hits by winning pitcher Jeff McDorman. Don Vollmuth and Jan Jenkins were the only Senators who received hits.

Former Colt Star Signed By Capitols

The Columbus Capitols have signed offensive end Tom Vernon for the 1962 season. Vernon was one of the "super stars" of the United Football League playing with the Columbus Colts last year.

The 6'3" 215 pounder is 24 years old and will report to the Capitols after a stint in the service. He played his college football at Michigan State from 1955 through 1959.

Vernon joined the Colts last year after playing with the Boston Patriots in the American Football League and the Franklin Minors in the UFL. He was all state and All American while attending Mt. Carmel Pennsylvania High School.

Capitols' coach Gene Fekete thinks that the team will be in championship contention with quarterback Larry Cline of Otterbein pitching to the rangy and fast Tom Vernon.

Thompson Gets BUC Promotion

Charles Thompson, Chillicothe, is the Ohio State Employment Service's new State Placement Chief, announced Donald B. Leach, administrator of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation of which the employment service is a division.

Former manager of the Chillicothe office, Thompson will assume new duties of working with statewide employment service programs required to meet changing manpower needs. He will be stationed at BUC headquarters, 427 Cleveland-av.

The new Placement Chief joined the employment service in 1957. He is a veteran, married with three children and a graduate of Ohio University.

BUSINESS REVIEW

DESIGNED with recreation in mind, Lincoln Village Lanes, Inc. is now under construction at 4170 W. Broad-st. This is an architect's sketch.

LINCOLN VILLAGE LANES

New Bowling Center Nears Completion

New highs in bowling and entertaining plushness are promised by the builders of Lincoln Village Lanes, 4170 W. Broad-st.

The enterprise, valued by the owners at $1.5 million, is well along in construction and is expected to open the first week of September.

Lincoln Village Lanes is situated on Route 40, just across from Nationwide Inn and Lazarus West, on a six-and-a-half-acre site. The single-story, ultra-modern steel and stone structure, measuring 290 by 168 feet, will be accessible from both Broad-st and Surface-rd.

Fifty Brunswick automatic pin spotters are being installed, along with a complement of new cluster-type under-lane ball returns and Tele-scores. Other facilities include a nursery, complete restaurant and separate snack shop, room with eight pocket billiard tables, large softly decorated cocktail lounge with piano bar and dance floor, meeting room for leagues and civic organizations, locker rooms, offices and rest rooms.

Outside there will be a landscaped frontage of 100 yards, play yard for children and parking for 500 cars.

Jack McComber, 4832 Beacon-Hill-rd, is president and general manager of Lincoln Village Lanes, Inc. He has been in the bowling business about eight years in the Columbus area. Eugene Coover, who has just relocated from Lima, is manager and public relations director. Mrs. Jean Lombard, well known in Columbus bowling circles, is daytime assistant manager. Glendon Davidson is restaurant manager.

Richard C. Clarke is the architect and Luethi Building and Service, Inc. is the contractor.

Trade Seen By Sears, Post Office

A second move by Sears Roebuck & Co. to establish a major operation in Columbus was indicated early this week when the firm offered to trade its Dublin-rd property to the Post Office Department.

Sears recently purchased a 31.6 acre tract at Nelson-rd and Maryland-av for $221,000. A 200,000 square foot warehouse is to be constructed on this site with provisions for expansion.

The Post Office Department purchased 24.3 acres from Sears along the Pennsylvania to build a $7 million facility. In April, the government asked to trade its 21.4 acres of the postal agency's frontal property along the railroad.

The new Nelson-rd tract of Sears' will be served by the Pennsylvania via a spur to be constructed in the near future.

HILLTOP COUPLE WINS

Boating Expert Heads Servicing At Rockenbaughs

M. W. Rockenbaugh, Inc., 3090 W. Broad-st, is announcing the appointment of Marshall Saunders as service manager.

The firm sells a complete line of Mercury outboard motors, including the new Marc-cruiser (inboard-outboard unit) Owens Fiberglass outboard boats, cruisers and yachts. Rockenbaughs also handle other makes of boats and accessories, and has a used car lot at 3090 W. Broad.

Saunders is a Mercury factory trained instructor and will be responsible for maintaining

NEW DISPLAY ROOM—Snyder Furniture and Interiors recently completed its display space at 3097 W. Broad. The firm features a design service for hobbs and office, and offer a complete line of furniture and accessories.

Snyder Furniture Offers Design Service, Furnishings

Snyder Furniture and Interiors at 3097 W. Broad-st offers a complete line of home and office furnishings. Brand name merchandise as well as the unusual are provided at competitive prices.

No job is too small or too large, such as choosing the proper shade for a lamp, to the completion of a home or a suite of offices. Draperies, furniture, carpeting and accessories, all are coordinated at no additional price beyond that of the furnishings.

Ralph Synder and Bob Kennedy, his assistant, are both graduates of Ohio State University School of Fine Arts, and have practiced in Columbus for several years. With their background, complete design service is their specialty.

Snyder will plan the home, room or office, order what is necessary for the job, arrange easy terms, and work from prints and floor plans.

Snyder has a complete line of draperies, carpeting, furniture, lamps, upholstery, slipcovers, cornices, shades and blinds and accessories of all kinds. The store is open 9 to 5:30, Monday through Saturday; evenings by appointment.

Heigle Is Again Given Award By Ashland Oil Co.

Roy Heigle of Heigle's Ashland Service, 2541 W. Broad-st, is $40 richer this week as a result of good customer service.

Heigle, who operates the Ashland Oil service station on the Hilltop, was visited recently by one of Ashland Oil's "Mystery Drivers," and as a result was awarded the cash prize for his good customer service and the cleanliness of his station by L. G. Walker, district manager for Ashland Oil.

Awards under this sales-promotion program are based on salesmanship, driveway service, station cleanliness and appearance, and other key points in service station operation.

Heigle, who is now an eight-time winner, said he is keeping on the alert for an opportunity to pick up another cash bonus.

Belcastro Gets Promotion From Ohio Fuel Gas

Anthony Belcastro, 631 Savannah-dr, general engineer for the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., has been promoted to Western Pipe Lines District superintendent for the firm, it was announced by A. M. Hutchinson, vice president in charge of transmission. Headquarters for the Western District is at 100 Brentnell-av.

Belcastro, 38, has been with Ohio Fuel for eight years. He started as an engineer trainee in 1953, and was assigned as an engineer in the Pipe Lines Department a year later. In 1957 he was transferred to the Western Pipe Lines District as a district engineer. He was promoted general engineer in 1961.

Born in Fairmont, W. V., Belcastro was graduated from Victory High School in Clarksburg, W. Va., in 1941, and West Virginia University in 1949. He holds a bachelor of science degree in mining engineering.

Belcastro is a member of St. Mary Magdalene Catholic Church. He and his wife, Sarah, have a daughter, Paula, eight, and two sons, Mark, six, and Perry, four.

Cockroaches are active at night and may wander freely outdoors. They live only where they can find food and shelter, note OSU extension specialists.

do so by merely being at the playgrounds at that time.

Burroughs is fielding 10 Junior Jet teams this year. These teams are divided into two leagues, the International and Major Leagues, according to age classification. The International League (8-9 year olds) consists of four teams called Jets, Hawks, Chiefs and Marlins; the Majors (10,11-12 year olds) consists of six teams called Reds, Yanks, Tigers, Braves, Giants and Indians. Schedules for all the games to be played by these two leagues for the summer can be obtained at the playground. Coaches are still needed to work with five teams. Any adult interested and having the time should contact Mr. Barefield at the playground.

League standings as of July 13 were:

Majors	W	L
Indians	1	1
Tigers	0	2
Internationals

The big event for Highland Playgrounders during the week July 9-13 was the South Sectional Track and Field Meet at South High School July 12. Highland scored 94 1/6 points for second place in the meet.

Highland had six first place wins. Jerry Clayton had first place in the 180-yard low hurdles, 120-yard low hurdles and the running broad jump. Ronald Bell tied for first place in the senior high jump. Ronnie Elland had first place in the intermediate high jump and 120-yard low hurdles; Pat Jackson in the running broad jump. Second place winners were Charles Smith, 440-yard run; Bernard Kienser, Charles Smith, Chester Elland and Larry Groves, 440-yard relay; Larry Groves, 100-yard dash; Charles Smith, 220-yard dash; Mary Bates, 75-yard dash, and Caroline Coles, Deborah Garnes, Carolyn Jones and Yvonne Bowman, 200 yard shuttle relay.

Third place winners were Deborah Garnes, standing broad jump; Billy Gray, shot put; Larry Groves, 100-yard dash; Dick Moore, 120 low hurdles, and Billy Green, high jump.

Fine performances were given by Maria Owens, Rienda Hill, Deborah Thompson, Wayne Mixon, John Coleman and Randall Taylor.

Highland will take part in the drama festivals to be held this week. Arts and crafts will be centered around lantern making for the forthcoming lantern parade to be held July 27 at Westgate Park.

At West Mound

This afternoon West Mound Playground will serve as host to several other area playgrounds in presenting short skits and shows. Each of the playgrounds represented will present its piece and each will be rated in preparation for the drama festival to be held Friday. Parents and friends are invited to come and enjoy the show with the children.

The sectional track meet at South High, physical fitness contests, and football were the main sports activities at West Mound during the past week. Twenty-five boys and girls made the trip to South for the meet in preparation for the Junior Olympics of Aug. 4 The leaders urge everyone who has not yet completed his physical fitness test to do so this week. Requirements for each group are posted on the bulletin board.

Softball results for the week are: Junior Girls defeated the Glenwood Birds, 6-5, then lost to the Westgate Angels, 8-4. Intermediate Girls were defeated by John Burroughs, 26-7, and also by the Westgate Jesters, 46-1. Junior Boys lost to Haunts, 7-2. Intermediate Boys were bested by Chicago, 36-8.

Junior Jet scores for the week are: Braves, 11; Marlins, 0; Yanks, 4, Braves, 3; Bucks, 15, Yanks, 2; Colts, 9, Bucks, 8.

Registrations for Indian Village Day Camp are still being accepted, and will be until July 19. The Camp offers youngsters the opportunity to swim, play, hike and learn Indian crafts. Everyone should bring his own bathing suit and towel and lunch. Milk will be provided, along with insurance, craft materials, and bus transportation for only $2.50 for this week.

The Lantern Parade is coming up soon and anyone interested in making a lantern for this event is welcome to do so any day between 1 and 3 p.m. You are urged to get an early start so that as much time can be spent on the event as possible. A regular story hour will be held every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 2:30 p.m.

at Holton . . .

Big upset! Holton's intermediate boys softball team won over the undefeated Binns team by a score of 12 to 6! Holton was really sweating it out at the end of the second inning as the score was 6 to 0 in favor of Binns, but they came up in the fifth inning and kept the lead the rest of the game. Team members are Don Bender, Terry Burns, Tom Close, Mike George, Jim Gallagher, Tom Hankle, Joe Hunter, Steve Moon, Norm Parrish, John Postle and Dave Thompson. The team batting average is .380.

The senior girls lost a close game to Karns 19 to 17 Team members are Sandy Bertram, Rosie Spires, Bobs Grace, Carol Hughes, Sue and Sharon McCann, Judy Grace, Pat Bertram, Linda Gussler, Helen Hunter and Nancy Spires.

Playground tournament winners for horseshoes, tetherball and four square were: Bob Grogan, Don Bender, Steve Bertram, Rosi Spires, Pat and Sandy Bertram, Rosie Spires, Pat and Sandy Bertram, Norman Parrish, Larry Roffee, Danny Plants, Thomas Hunter, Jerry Whittacre, Karen Lombard, Linda Gussler, Diana McCann, Maria Renner, Diane Reed and Debbie Moon.

A reminded to all to watch Channel 6 every other Saturday morning at 11 o'clock to see the "Fun for Everyone" program put on by the Columbus Recreation Department.

at Binns . . .

Binns has been busy getting ready for the special events coming up this summer. Boys and girls who are interested in being in the Lantern Parade can make and work on their lanterns every Tuesday and Thursday from 2 to 4 o'clock.

John Miller, junior boy, won his first horseshoe match over Burroughs with a very good score. Dave Bush, intermediate boy, was defeated by Burroughs and senior boy, Bob Knies won his match.

All of the playground four square champions won their tournament from Burroughs by forfeit.

In tetherball, Beverly Riesser, intermediate girl, was defeated by Burroughs with a score of 2 to 2. Lynn Morgan, Glenn Sanders, and Steve Hedges won their matches by forfeit.

The Intermediate Boys Softball team is looking forward to their third win this week against Westgate. Last week they were defeated by Holton with a score of 12 to 8.

Applications and information for Day Camp are available each day from the playgrounnd leaders. The deadline for these applications is 3:30 p.m., July 18.

Many interesting special events are being planned for the future at Binns so the leaders urge everyone to check the bulletin board daily.

at Haunts . . .

Eleven-year-old Mike Stumpf pitched the first no-hitter game of the year by beating first place Jets 1-0. Stumpf, who pitches for the second place Giants, faced only 21 batters—three men got on base through errors. The Giants also beat the Braves earlier in the week 5-4. The Jets beat the Braves 12-4. The standings at the end of the week were: the Jets 4-2, the Giants 3-3, and the Braves 2-4.

Friday the 13th proved to be a lucky day at Haunts. The Intermediate Boys Softball Team beat Eakin 16-3. Gerry Green was the winning pitcher (3-0). The Intermediate Girls won over Sullivant Gardens 7-4. Jean Kersey was the winning pitcher (3-0). The Junior Girls team defeated Glenwood 20-4. Connie Gressle was the winning pitcher. Earlier in the week the Junior Boys Softball Tteam beat West Mound 13-6. Dave Adams was the winning pitcher, (1-0). The Seniors Boys tied Highland 14-14; the game will be replayed. Every softball team at Haunts remains undefeated as of the third week.

At the South Sectional Track Meet, Haunts had 17 participants. Shiela Page was second in the girls' high jump.

Volleyball teams will be organized this week. Anyone interested should contact Bob Mason at Haunts. There will be four teams—two girls and two boys teams, 15 and under and 16-18. These teams will participate in playground tournaments.

Registration for the Junior Olympics Track and Field Meet on Aug. 4 at OSU will begin this week. Anyone 17 and under is eligible to participate.

Work on the Eastern Parade, which will be held July 27 at 8 p.m. in Westgate Park, is continuing daily. The theme this year for Haunts is the Columbus Sesquicentennial. A large float plus the individual lanterns will be made during these two weeks at 1:30. All children are welcomed.

The British sang "Yankee Doodle" to poke fun at American colonists But the Americans adopted the song and made it popular throughout the colonies, and played it as the British left after the surrender at Yorktown.

Nearly 90 per cent of all American adults are coffee drinkers.

State Fairgrounds Now Ohio Expositions Center

It's now obvious to passers-by that the site of the Ohio State Fair, known to thousands as the "fairgrounds," is the "Ohio Expositions Center."

Signs have been posted at entrances at all four approaches to the Expositions Center to show the name switch. Plans are being made for a huge electric sign to be erected at the main gate on 11th-av later this month.

The name change is not the only thing that's new; even the sponsorship of the fair has switched from the Department of Agriculture to the 16-member Ohio Expositions Commission, appointed last fall by Governor Michael V. DiSalle.

"The Ohio Expositions Commission's purpose is to operate the Expositions Center and the various affairs presented there during the year and to promote the people of Ohio, their products and activities," said Rowland Bishop, general manager of the Ohio Expositions Commission.

The commission has planned a more balanced fair with an emphasis on industry and agriculture. This year's industrial exhibit is the largest in the fair's 107-year history and agriculture will be just as prominent as ever.

The OEC has wasted no time in giving the 1962 State Fair a "new look." The fair's dates were extended to 11 days, the longest run in its history; games of chance were barred from the midway, and the practice of issuing thousands of free passes was discontinued.

Jehovah's Witnesses To Convene 3 Days

Columbus congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses has been invited to attend an assembly in Lima July 20 through 22, announced G. I. Riemenschneider, presiding minister of the local congregation.

The assembly is sponsored by the Watchtower Society of Brooklyn, N.Y., legal agency for Jehovah's Witnesses. The convention will feature speakers from Ohio, Indiana, and traveling representatives of the Watchtower Society. The theme will be "Courageous Ministers."

WE RETIRED TO PORT CHARLOTTE FLORIDA ON $222 A MONTH

"We have a limited income to live on and we felt our monthly income would go further here than anywhere else." This couple made a wise decision, just as many others have done at Port Charlotte. This wonderful home community was designed to give retired families with limited incomes excellent living conditions. It's a fact, because Port Charlotte stands as living proof of it. You can plan your retirement on a very small income and still enjoy life as never before. Come in and see slide film and color photos.

Hilltopper Pam Scott To Perform With Civic Ballet In New York

Seventeen-year-old Pam Scott usually likes to sleep late in the morning, now that school's out, but next Monday she doesn't figure she'll have any trouble rising—and shining—at 5:30 a.m. And, that's before breakfast.

Miss Scott, 641 S. Burgess-av, will journey July 23 to New York City along with 32 other members of the Columbus Civic Ballet to perform for the American Congress of Dance.

This is the annual get-together for ballet dancers and instructors who convene to exchange tips on the art and pick up new methods to further it.

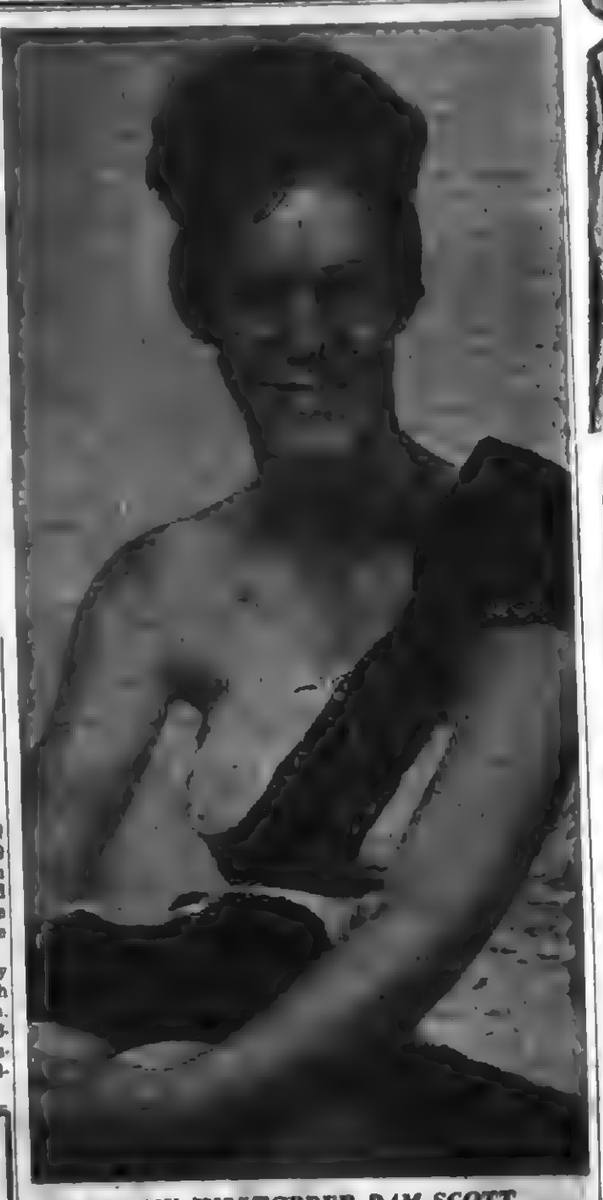
According to Pam's mother, Mrs. Richard Scott, she's "thrilled to death over the opportunity." All of the Civic Ballet members will be accompanied on the chartered bus by their instructor, Stella Becker.

Pam, a senior at West High School and member of the Westkets there, was one of the original members of the Civic Ballet when it was formed three years ago.

She has performed in such presentations as "The Fire Bird," "Nutcracker Suite," "Midsummer Night's Dream," "Hansel and Gretel," "Ali Babe and the Forty Thieves," "Cinderella," "Pinocchio" and many others.

She's a soloist and member of the Beckerettes (a precision tap dance group) and appeared in Jewish Center and Stadium Theater productions.

Last summer, the lass even found time to pitch baseball and play volleyball at Burroughs playground and taught dancing with the Columbus Recreation Department.



She's a member of the Burgess-av Evangelical Church and has a sister, Melody (10) and a brother, Dickie nine.

Pam will spend a full week in New York and all of the incoming ballet enthusiasts have taken over the Piccadilly Hotel and all of the performances will take place there.

New Signs Irk Residents On W. Mound

Fifteen property owners on W. Mound-st just north of Bishop Ready High School have asked the city to take down the "no parking" signs which were erected July 11 on the north side of their street.

Howard O. Kincade, 3178 W. Mound-st, was author of the petition which declared: "The posting of these signs has worked as an inconvenience and detriment to us . . . since there are no alleys behind our properties and since the driveways are short there is no place for a service truck, a doctor making a call, or a friend calling, to park. We also feel these sings have greatly hurt the value of our property."

Kincade said he had not read newspaper accounts this spring of the city's intention to clear all parking off of W. Mound-st. The petitions were mailed Friday to William Hicks, president of City Council, and William Neno, chairman of the Traffic Commission.

Neighborhood Council Asks About New Tar

West Side residents attending the bi-monthly Neighborhood Council meeting last Thursday evening received useful information about street maintenance and sanitation methods from two city supervisors.

Providing the information were Hoby Clay of the street maintenance department and Roland Brauch of the sanitation department. The matter of spreading gravel and tar on the brick streets of the West Side was discussed.

Clay explained how this annual application increased the life of the streets and prevented the loosening of the bricks.

Glen Beach, chairman of the health committee, reported on the progress of cleanup and repair in the Hamilton Addition area. Frank Schneider, traffic committee chairman, reported on the meeting held by that committee with the Walsh-av residents and other traffic matters.

Walter Cunningham, council president, received a petition early in the evening meeting from the residents of Ryan-av, requesting that the Neighborhood Council take up the matter of allowing parking on one side of Ryan-av with the City Traffic Commission. The petition was turned over to the Council Traffic Commission for action.

Harmony Prevails At Westgate Center Groundbreaking

By MARCUS ORR

Westgate Park Recreation Center, first large structure to be scheduled under the $3,100,000 Parks and Recreation Bond Issue of 1960, was given a community sendoff Friday.

Under sunny skies and against a backdrop of shade trees in the east side of the park, city and local civic officials broke ground simultaneously with four spades.

A crowd of about 75 was on hand. There were the ever-inquisitive youngsters who probably were not aware of the immensity of the project being started . . . "One of our finest buildings for one of our favorite spots in the city," as Recreation Superintendent N. J. Barack put it.

In the crowd also were those who worked since the mid-40's to bring a year-round place of recreation here . . . Mrs. Ray Cave and Mrs. H. C. Booth, for example. There were the mothers represented by Mrs. Arthur O. Hall. During several critical days last spring when there was a move to oust the project from the park, Mrs. Hall took 4,099 signatures to City Hall. Another mother on crutches, Mrs. John P. Scribner of 3354 Eakin-rd, was there with her two daughters. Mrs. Scribner had carried the Westgate School PTA petitions.

Perhaps the most stimulating part of the program was the short response given by Pierson 'Pete' Block. Block had been leader of those nearby residents who fought the placement of the center in Westgate Park, because of the confusion it might bring to the neighborhood. Block had been called forward unexpectedly by his friend Mel Dodge of the Recreation Department, who was master of ceremonies.

"Only in a democracy could the little people make as much noise as we did and be heard," Block said. "But now the two dozen of us have agreed to take this thing and run with it. We will give it every bit of assistance we can and try to make the center a great success. I think it can be that."

Others introduced and giving response were: Mayor Ralston Westlake, Recreation Director Barack, Rabbi Raymond Zelizer, member of the Recreation Commission along with Mr. Oelgoetz, Mr. Herbert Mote, James L. Wagner, William Z. Bell and Harry E. Richter; William M. Hicks, president, and Donald E. DeVore of City Council; William Walton, assistant superintendent of the Division of Parks and Forestry; J. Robert Frakes, president, Hilltop Community Council; Marcus T. Orr, managing editor, Hartley Newspapers; Leroy Miller, city expediter; John P. Schooley, Architect; and Ward Foster of Sheaf Construction Co.

The benediction was given by Rev. C. T. Langholtz of St. John Lutheran Church.

Reactivation Of TICO Is Rushed

Swift action was taken late last week by state mental health department officials to open the Training Institute of Central Ohio (TICO) to capacity and begin operation of the unused Juvenile Diagnostic Center swimming pool.

The action to activate the TICO, which has been operating at half-capacity since it opened in 1961, and the pool came following the recommendation for an expenditure of $270,000 for the project by House Speaker Roger Cloud.

A target date of Jan 1 has been set for opening the center, but Robert K. Dean, assistant director of the Mental Health Department, hopes to have the pool operating within the next week.

The swimming pool, part of a $300,000 gym, pool and chapel building, has been filled with stagnant water since it was completed in December.

When money became available last week, John R. Ferguson, juvenile division chief, and Reuel Cochran, chief of business administration, was instructed by Dean to cut the red tape in getting the pool in operation.

Applicants were also being studied for cottage parent jobs at the center along with other job vacancies.

Camp Fire Girls

The year's activities of the Tom-Ki-Wa-Ya Camp Fire group were climaxed by a spaghetti dinner in honor of parents. Invited guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sherlock, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. John Fleming, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Boggs, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Triplet, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Amore, and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Brandt. Those cooking and serving were: Debra Sherlock, Pamela Sherlock, Jill Snyder, Susan Fleming, Vickie Boggs, Rebecca Triplet, Kathy Amore and Lorraine Brandt. Mrs. Brandt and Mrs. Sherlock are the guardians of the group.

The Ki-Da-Ke-Wa Camp Fire Girls concluded their meetings with a picnic and swimming party. Penny Foote, Elizabeth Kinsworthy and Dianna McCann were responsible for planning the meeting as rank requirement. Teri Brown, Janet Clay, Michele Hobbs, Christ Horn, Cathy Foster, Carole Krueger, Ann Jenny and Marta Renner attended. Mrs. Pat Hobbs and Mrs. Pat Clay are their guardians.

AT SCHOOL

ROBERT MERRILL BROCK, A2/C, son of Mrs. Vivian Brock, 54 Orel-av, and the late Robert C. Brock, has completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex. He has entered technical school at Goodfellow AFB, Tex. Brock is a 1960 graduate of West High School.

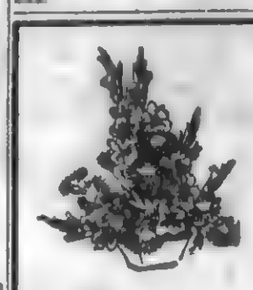
Carbon dioxide given off by dry ice can be used to put laboratory animals to sleep for a short time. In U.S. Department of Agriculture tests, the gas worked better than chloroform or ether.

MRS. ROBERT CLEMMONS, left, newly named United Appeal chairman for the West Side area, discusses campaign plans with Mrs. Raymond P. Overturf, Residential Division chairman for the United Appeal campaign.

Mrs. Clemmons Is West Area Chairman Of UA

Mrs. Robert Clemmons, 458 Westmoor, chosen for top job in this year's United Appeal campaign, will serve as West area UA chairman.

Her appointment this week by Mrs. Raymond P. Overturf, chairman of the Residential Division, marks a vital step in plans for the fall campaign. The UA county-wide, door-to-door drive is conducted by this division.



Opportunity to support 64 community agencies, providing a wide variety of health, welfare, and youth services is at UA campaign time. The UA extends your helping hand to your community neighbors as well as next door.

Mrs. Clemmons, an enthusiastic campaigner for many years, is active with Cub Scouts and is program chairman for the Valleyview Elementary PTA. She is mother of four, Steven 11, Michael nine, Richard seven, and Linda three.

In getting set, Mrs. Clemmons is recruiting volunteer workers and urges all help-minded people to contact her at home.

After thorough study of needs of our community and the programs of the UA agencies, the United Appeal Citizens Screening Committee has set this year's campaign goal, $3,785,-

Beans Are Simmering . . . So Are Plans For Annual HBA Festival Next Week

A POTFUL OF BEANS, program plans, too, are getting a final stirring in preparation for the annual Hilltop Bean Dinner by E. C. "Curley" LeFever, general chairman for the affair, at left, and Nelson Greene, jr., president of the sponsoring Hilltop Business Association.

Curtain Will Go Up Monday On 1962 Hilltop Bean Dinner

The annual Hilltop Business Association Bean Dinner, eagerly anticipated by HBA members and its thousands of supporters alike, opens a three-day community open-house stand at Westgate Park this coming Monday, July 30.

Beans, of course — three tons of them simmered slow with plenty of ham, will be served free on all three nights of the Bean Dinner, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, July 30, 31 and Aug. 1.

More than $1000 in prizes, a continuous program of contests and games, entertainment on the bandstand, and displays including an X-15 rocket plane, a mobile communications center and a huge, exact model canal boat, will also be free for the expected 30,000 guests.

Officially open Monday at 4, the midway, lined with rides and refreshments stands, will open at that time and continue in operation throughout the three-day affair.

$1000 IN PRIZES

Prizes will be distributed each day and evening under two giveaway plans.

On-the-spot winners will be selected several times an hour, and the final event on each evening's program will be a prize drawing of coupons deposited in boxes of participating merchants.

Preliminary judging of candidates for the Bean Dinner Queen contest will be held Monday night at 8. Finalists will be judged and the winner and two runners-up selected Tuesday, 8 p.m.

Entries are still open in the event, and eligible girls over 15 may register at the HBA office, 2552 W. Broad-st, HI. 4-2400, before Saturday noon.

King of The Hilltop will be announced and crowned Tuesday evening following the selection of a queen.

The winner from the four service club-sponsored [illegible] dates will be determined by the amount of money placed in voting containers in business places throughout the area. The money will benefit the Hilltop YMCA Swimming Pool fund.

HOLE-IN-ONE CONTEST

Golfers will have an opportunity to prove their skill in the hole-in-one contest, to be held on the east side of the lake.

Hilltop Lions and Kiwanians will race in a relay event around Harder Lake, manning boats with ping-pong paddles,

SEE PROGRAM ON PAGE 14

Tuesday evening at 7. Winner of that event will compete with the cup-holders, Hilltop Y's Men in a similar race Wednesday, 7 p.m.

JUST FOR KIDS

Little girls, 12 and under, will vie for silver dollar prizes in the Pony Tail contest Tuesday, 2 p.m. on the bandstand.

At the same time a matchbox derby, patterned after the soap box race, will be held on the park oval, with boys 12 and under racing their models.

A bicycle parede is also planned for the kids, 14 and under, Wednesday at 2, and a twist contest that afternoon at 5.

Musical Entertainment

Mrs. Joseph Grantonic will present programs of organ music on the bandstand, at 5 p.m. Monday, 3:30 p.m. Tuesday and at 4 on Wednesday.

"Dixielanders" will present music, Dixie-land style, on the bandstand at 6 p.m. Monday and the popular "Diehler's," musical variety group, will return this year on Tuesday and Wednesday at 9 p.m.

A jazz band will perform at 9:30 Wednesday.

AND FOR VARIETY

"Grand Squares," square dance group, will exhibit their skill at 9:30 p.m. Monday and Tuesday, and Kay Coulson will present a baton-twirling act, using fire, at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Students of Vicki Paige will present a dance review on the bandstand at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, with tap, ballet and acrobatic and baton acts included in the show.

A group of Pilot Dogs will be put through their paces by trainers on the bandstand, in an unusual exhibition of their obedience training at 3 p.m. Wednesday, and a team of tumblers from the YMCA will demonstrate their skill in a performance slated Wednesday evening at 7:30.

Hilltopper, 23, Begins Peace Corps Stint

A Hilltop man began a new chapter in his life this week as he joined the ranks of the U.S. Peace Corps.

Roger Suver, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. V. Suver, 321 S. Sylvan-av, left Sunday for the University of Maine where he will begin studies to prepare him for service in Africa.

During his two months at the university he will study Mende and Lemme, languages spoken in Sierra Leone, West Africa (where he will serve) as well as the customs of the country and its people.

Following his studies he will take a month of physical training in Puerto Rico and then fly to the independent West African state. One of 37 members of the Sierra Leone project group, his probable duty will be to set up and maintain a boat and motor repair shop for the town fishing fleet.

They will also set up a "motor bank," where men with broken motors can borrow good ones while their own are being repaired. The natives will be taught repair work and management so that eventually the responsibility of the business will be theirs. Suver expects his work there to last about two years.

Roger Suver

A 1956 graduate of West High School, Suver attended Ohio State University where he took accounting. He served four years in the U.S. Navy and since that time has been employed by the Ohio Fuel Gas Co.

He applied for Peace Corps duty in May and was accepted July 2.

A farewell party for Suver was held by family and friends Saturday night at the Prime Rib.

Lantern Parade Comin' Up

The unique and popular lantern parade, which will be held at Westgate Park at 8 p.m. Friday, July 27, features participants from 13 Hilltop and West Side playgrounds. The children will parade around Harder Lake at dusk with their twinkling band.

"Lucy"

The public is invited to see this small-fry spectacular which is a favorite of children and adults alike.

Mistress of ceremonies for the event will be WBNS-TV's Lucy Gasaway of Lucy's Toy Shop.

Playground award ribbons will be given for the first, second and third place in the following categories: prettiest, cleverest, most unusual, most original, most spectacular, best designed, showiest, funniest, most grotesque and best constructed.

Judges for the event will be Judge Robert Draper; Richard Nash, president of Hilltop Kiwanis Club; Galvy Gordon, president of the Hilltop Lions Club and Councilman Ronald DeFlaw.

Cleanup Of River Area Is Sought

Columbus Service Director Ernest H. Stork ordered Saturday that most of the waste land along the Scioto River through the city be converted into scenic parks.

Stork's directive went to Richard Lawwill, city parks superintendent.

Both Stork and Water Superintendent Frank Wright reported that work was moving along on a $190,000 city project to clean up and repair the concrete revetments, banks and levees.

The parks superintendent reported he had $15,000 reserved to begin immediate development of one park area on the east bank of the river, south of Mound-st. Director Stork said that an abandoned site along the Scioto-dr, on the west side of the river, north of Greenlawn-av, will also be used for a park.

Several new parks may be built along both sides of the river [illegible] Broad-st and Greenlawn-av.

Ninth Ward Dems Schedule Picnic

Ninth Ward Democratic Club will hold its 12th annual family basket picnic, 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 5, at Committeeman Frank A. Schneider's farm, one mile north of State Rt. 665 on Biggert-rd.

To get to the farm, drive south on the 3-C Highway through Grove City, turn right at Pleasant Corners, then on Rt. 665 and follow the signs through Darbydale to Biggert-rd, turn right one mile.

Margaret Duey, president of the organization, said a member of fall candidates will be on hand.

Family Of Bill Cline Gets Assist From Many

"The world will little note, nor long remember—" is a line from Lincoln, but in the case of William Cline, Sr., it is not necessarily true. Columbus folks, apparently, are not forgetting Bill.

Cline, 38, of 532 S. Wayne-av, died June 25, only a few hours after he tried vainly to rescue a 78-year-old woman from flaming [illegible].

At 11 o'clock on a Sunday night an 18-year-old driver smashed into the rear of the Cline car which had stopped to discharge Mrs. Jennie Klopp, 78, at 2188 W. Mound-st.

Bill Cline

Bill, his wife, Martha, and two sons, William T., Jr., nine, and Charles M., six, were able to get out of the car but Mrs. Klopp, apparently stunned, remained in the back seat.

Cline tried repeatedly to pull her from the car, but gasoline-fed flames were too much for him. Mrs. Klopp perished at the scene. Bill died of third degree burns the next morning in Mt. Carmel Hospital.

This was not Bill's first act of heroism, for he had received the Silver Star and four battle stars during the war.

For four years Bill regularly took Mrs. Klopp to Calvary Apostolic Church, 38 W. Greenwood-av. He took special delight in working for his church.

Friends Collect $1,000

Now, only a few weeks after the tragedy, Mrs. Cline and her two fatherless sons are feeling the warmth of a community respect for Bill's bravery.

Two "flower funds," nearing $1,000 have been collected. The first, a check for $400, was signed by James K. Stewart, assistant pastor of Calvary Apostolic Church. Mrs. Esther Holt, 2188 W.

Introducing . . .
9-Point Regal

Nine-point Regal—that's printers' talk for the larger, more readable type you'll find in this and succeeding editions of the Hartley Newspapers. With it, of course, comes the need for closer editing of stories and picture captions. All this, we believe, makes for a better [illegible] paper. And that's our objective. Here's hoping you like nine-point Regal as well as we do.

AFTER THREE APPEARANCES—

Picketers Absent From Pool Tuesday

Following three consecutive evening demonstrations at the Hilltop Swimming Club, 2737 Valleyview-dr, picketing members of the Congress on Racial Equality (CORE) failed to reappear Tuesday.

The activity began last Saturday, soon after "flyers" bearing the CORE label were distributed to many Hilltop and Valleyview homes. The circulars declared that the pool is not a private club and is "practicing illegal racial discrimination." They went on to read that a Negro girl was refused membership at 5 p.m., July 16, and that a white girl was told a few minutes later she could join.

However, Robert Case, manager of the pool, refuted this claim, asserting that the membership quota was filled three weeks ago and that no applications have been accepted since then.

About two dozen placard-carrying picketers turned out Saturday and again on Sunday. Thirty walked for about 20 minutes Monday evening. About half of them were white.

In each case CORE representatives called the sheriff and Valleyview Mayor Robert R. Fisher several hours in advance to secure police protection. They were advised by the authorities to keep off pool property, which is posted, but were permitted to use the adjacent sidewalk.

Two pickets were taken to Riverside Hospital for examination after alleged brushes with hecklers following their Sunday appearance.

Robert Case, pool manager, said he had received telephone assurances that no Hilltop CORE members or sympathizers have taken part in the activity.

Case said most of the demonstrators apparently have identified themselves to be from out of the city and many are not Ohioans.

CORE is concluding two weeks of a national training institute on methods of combating segregation and discrimination. The sessions have been held at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, 30 W. Woodruff-av.

Salute To Provincial Police

It's Sunday afternoon on the French River and we've just had a pleasant visit by Jim Jolley and Terry Nasson of the Ontario Provincial Police, who dropped in to investigate the report of our cottage being broken into. No damage except a front door glass broken and a large skillet missing. Probably a passerby looking for a bed for the night [illegible] a pot in which to cook his [illegible].

For several years now we have enjoyed the friendship of these fine lads of the river police force and it is good to know they are at our service with a $40,000 speed boat in case of emergency.

In some nine years in this area we've heard of little that would border on crime. We like to think that this is a combination of living among fine people who have respect for the law, backed by a fine provincial police force.

It All Balances

How's fishing?

When someone asks this question, I'm reminded of David Niven's story about the old fisherman off the Isle of Wight who put it this way—

"Some days you have a lot of luck—

"And some days you don't even get a nibble—

"But it all balances."

Sunset on Twilight Bay

Just now the sun is slipping down into Twilight Bay and disappears like a mother tippy-toeing from a baby bed, knowing that the rest ahead should bring us new life and beauty again in the morning.

It seems only seconds ago that we could reach out and touch that big orange ball as it rested on the horizon. And now already it is out of sight, but a multicolored sky lingers on like the melody of a love song with a special meaning.

One cannot fully appreciate the writings of Emerson or Thoreau until he sits alone with nature in her big outdoors on an evening like this.

No fascinating movie this—no plot, no unhappiness, no struggles—just the pleasant revelation that surely God must have meant for men and women to enjoy this beauty.

The shadowy rippling waves, the leaves of the white birch twirling in a ballet to the accompaniment of cool breezes through the white pine needles.

Thoreau said it thus: "These motions everywhere

Newspapers Seek 'Suburban Homemaker of the Year'

This newspaper will take part this fall in a nation-wide search for the "Suburban Homemaker of the Year." The program, planned as a tribute to all American homemakers who play such a vital role in community and family life, will be sponsored by the Suburban Press Foundation, Inc., of which this paper is a member. The Foundation, a non-profit national organization of suburban newspaper publishers, is concerned with the development of better communications media for the suburban communities which now comprise such a large segment of our national life.

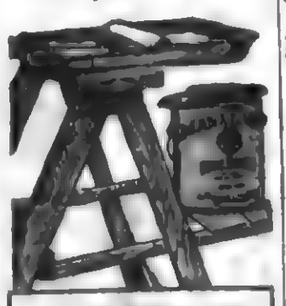
The Homemaker Award program has been made possible through a public service grant to the Foundation by the American Dairy Association which recognizes the contribution being made by suburban newspapers in the vital field of communications.

Foundation member newspapers throughout the country will select a "Suburban Homemaker of the Year" from their communities. Selection will be made on the basis of outstanding family and community service. From this group of suburban homemakers a "National Suburban Homemaker of the Year" will be selected by a panel of judges made up of prominent personalities in the fields of education, suburban family living and civic affairs. The award and a cash grant of $5000 will be presented to the homemaker chosen for this national honor at a ceremony in Chicago in mid-November.

An announcement of the standards which will be used in selecting this community's "Suburban Homemaker of the year" will appear in this newspaper soon.

Central YMCA Club Schedules Hike Saturday

The Central Ohio Hiking Club of the Columbus YMCA has scheduled a four-mile hike in Fairfield County, southeast of Canal Winchester, for Saturday, July 28.



The hike will be led by Mabel and Ron Varner. Hikers should be assembled and ready to depart from the lobby of the Central YMCA, 40 W. Long-st, by 6 p.m. The time of return to the YMCA is 10 p.m.

Anyone interested in joining the group (men and women over high school age), call the YMCA program office at CA. 4-1131 on or before Friday, July 27, to make reservations.

Transportation will be by private cars. Transportation cost for YMCA members is 90 cents and for non-members $1.40, which may be paid at the Y on the day of the hike.

John Tyler, 10th U.S. president, was married twice and had 15 children.

Youngsters Look To Lantern Parades, Junior Olympics

Sectional lantern parades and the upcoming AAU Junior Olympics are the talk of the playground this week. The public is invited to see unusual displays of hand-crafted lanterns at simultaneous children's contests at 8 p.m. Friday, July 27 at the following places: Westgate Parks, Harder Lake area (west); Schiller Park (south); Franklin Park (east); and Whetstone Park (north).

Partcipants are being selected in each of the 77 city-supervised playgrounds for a track meet at OSU Stadium, Aug. 4.

Intercenter playground tournaments in volleyball began Monday. Tether ball, horseshoe, and four square tourney eliminations are in progress.

Followng are this week's reports from nearby playgrounds:

at Sunshine . . .

Last Wednesday afternoon a preliminary Drama Festival was held at Sunshine. The skit presented by Sunshine was one of the winners to participate in the finals.

Last Friday, July 20, Sunshine Recreation Center was host for the Drama Festival finals. Eight playgrounds and centers took part in the final presentation of the annual playground skits. The skits were all nicely directed and acted out. George Stonerock, professional dancer, and Mathew Grant, impersonating musician, provided entertainment between acts for the large audience attending the Drama Festival.

This week all arts and crafts periods will be used in preparation for the Lantern Parade. Boys and girls are urged to come in between 1 and 6 p.m. to help on this project.

Junior Jet Game of the Week honors go to National League teams 6, coached by Anita Davis and George Wolfe, and team 1, coached by Gordon Stewart.

The Davis-Wolfe coaching combination held the league leading number one team to only two runs going into the fifth inning, and chalked up seven rurn of ther own. Adding two more tallies on the bottom of the sixth came up, team six was feeling good with a nine to five lead. But Stewart's boys exploded for 5 runs in the last inning to squeak out a 10 to 9 victory.

Mike Propst, pitcher for number six, takes pitching honors for allowing only two hits and no runs during his three innings on the mound.

David MaGill of team number one and Mike Propst of team six collected one four-bagger each to help their teams.

The Junior Girls softball team of Sunshine as of the present has a two and one record. Last Thursday they beat Georgian Heights 34 to 12 making their second win of the season. All of the girls played a fine game and Theresa Peterfish, Cynthia Boulding, Sharon Vincent and Janet Ingles hit home runs to help boost the winning score.

Tournament play in foursquare, tetherball, and horseshoes is still being conducted. Suellen Fout and John Stansberry are in the running in tetherball and Pat Cunningham is still pitching horseshoes, as play goes into Round D.

There will adult volleyball teams formed at Sunshine in the evenings starting at 6:15 every night. All adults are encouraged to come over and play.

at Highland . . .

Highland played host to Holton Playground during the past week for the tetherball, four-square and horseshoe tournaments.

Frank and Michael Johnson successfully passed their physical fitness tests.

Highland's senior boys are forming a summer basketball league. Any other playground interested in playing a basketball game is asked to contact the leader on Highland Playground for arrangements.

The Junior Olympic track meet will be held Aug. 4 at Ohio State University. Those boys and girls 17 years old and under who live within Highland's Playground district and wish to participate in the events should come and pick up their registration forms.

The annual lantern parade will be held at Westgate Park July 27.

This week's arts and crafts program will be concerned mostly with making lanterns. Anyone interested in being in the parade should bring a box and join the program.

at Georgian Hts.

This past week saw Larry Roush, Karen Hatfield, and Marie Schmehl continue in the city wide four-square tournament by beating Binns Playground.

In physical fitness, Harry Starkey successfully completed his requirements.

Friday both the boys' softball teams took it on the chin; the juniors losing 9 to 5 and the intermediates being pounded 18 to 12. For the juniors, Gleich hit a home run with Joe Corbin, Gunning and Bob Corbin, Denbow and Miller, each having a hit.

For the intermediates Brammer had three hits followed by Fala, Goltz, Rudolph and Clark with 2 hits each while Carr and Baker had one each.

This week the volleyball tournament for intermediate boys and girls gets under way. Clark, King, Miller, Morian, Moore, Carr, Kunz, Taylor, Fala, Brammer, and Goltz make up the strength of the tall team.

Last week, 17 children participated in the sectional drama show held at Eakin School.

This week will probably be the busiest one of the summer; the children are getting ready for the annual lantern parade this Friday night. The playground's theme is Indians and the lanterns they make depict Indian designs and letter writing. Tuesday, a craft specialist from the recreation department visited us to help with the project.

at Sullivant . . .

Sullivant Gardens was very successful this week in the softball leagues. The junior girls defeated Georgian Heights 29-5.

The intermediate girls beat Sunshine 27-5. Geraldine Watson paced the team five hits in five turns at bat including three home runs.

The intermediate boys defeated Highland 11-3 to remain in second place in their league. Rick Baker was the winning pitcher. He aided his own cause with three hits.

The junior boys defeated the Burroughs Colts 4-3. Both teams were undefeated up until this game.

With this victory Sullivant Gardens remained in first place in the league.

Members of the junior boys team are: Kenny Reed, Sammy Wilson, Larry Wilson, David Justice, Leroy Sylvester, LaFollette Payne, Classon Marteina, Shermon Hancock, Herbert Riggins, Darrol Watson, Dave Givens, Henry Woods, Jerry Givens, Mike McCants, Herbert Taylor and Arthur Jefferson.

There has been much interest in physical fitness at Sullivant Gardens. Those attaining their certificates are Mike McCants, Sammy Wilson, LaFollette Payne, Leroy Sylvester, James Hughes, Don Graveley, Sammy Hancock, Richard Baker, Kenny Reed, Steven Arnold, David Booth, Veries Echols, Dennis Echols and Classon Marteina.

In the track meet at South High, Sullivant placed 15th.

Winners were Geraldine Watson in the girls' standing broad jump.

In girls' relay team winners were Lenny Mitchell, Chick Henderson, Charmaine Davenport and Valerie Powell.

The children of Mrs. J. Sims' craft classes are making lanterns. The theme is "Who's Who At the Zoo?" featuring a traveling zoo lantern.

at Chicago . . .

Chicago intermediate boys are still leading their softball league with a 6-0 record. They defeated Sunshine Center, 13-1, but had a hard time winning the West Mound game, 20-19. This week, they have a game with Sullivant Gardens and it will decide which team will represent this league in city playoffs.

Chuck Young won again in senior tetherball.

Outer space was chosen as Chicago's lantern parade theme. The parade will be held at Westgate Park Friday night, July 27, at 8 p.m.

All children who wish to make a lantern are welcome to come to arts and crafts every afternoon.

THEY SWING FOR KIWANIS

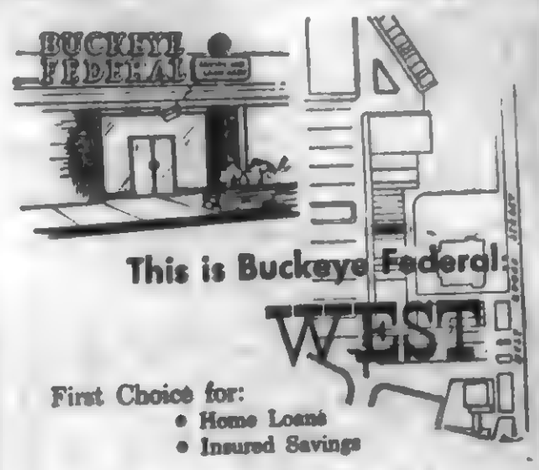
at Holton . . .

Girls and boys from Holton presented a short skit and song at West Mound last week called "Randy The Polka Dot Reindeer."



The following participated: Dianna and Ricky McCann, Marta and Peggy Renner, Karen Lombard, Cheryl Wilson, Jerry Whitacre and Doyle Plants. Helpers were Sue McCann and Linda Gusher.

The junior girls softball team beat the Westgate Angels 11-2 and wil play Hauntz this week.

The annual sectional Lantern Parade will be Friday evening at Westgate Park. Holton will close at 5 p.m. so that children and leaders can prepare to go to Westgate at 7 p.m.

Children who wish to participate in the parade must register and have permission slips to present to Mrs. Gibson or Mr. Echlebarger by Thursday.

Litterers Cost Us $50 Million

In addition to being unsightly and costly, highway litter also is a deterrent to traffic safety.

"Accidents may be caused when motorists are forced to swerve to miss objects thrown onto streets or highways," says Russell H. Campbell of the Columbus Automobile Club, "and the result may be a damaged vehicle and serious injuries to the occupants.

For this reason, auto clubs urge their members to set good examples for all motorists by placing trash in proper receptacles, or in litter bags carried in their cars.

Highway litter, in addition to marring scenic beauty and producing traffic safety hazards, also takes many dollars which might otherwise go into road improvement projects.

The AAA official reports that more than $50 million are spent annually to clean primary highways alone. Many more millions are spent to clean city streets, picnic grounds, parks, and other public places.

Now, in the midst of the vacation period, it makes good sense to examine your family's roadway travel habits. Don't join the slovenly ranks of the "Litter League."

A MODERN VIEW (AFTER REMBRANDT)

Selling U.S. Short

Well folks, that stock market isn't what it's supposed to be. There seem to be a lot of people around selling America short. Sure we have our ups and downs. Sometimes we forget it has to go down as well as go up. But that isn't much reason for losing our reason.

We've still got pretty good prospects in this country of ours. Population's growing like crazy. People are lots better educated than they used to be. Lots more people needs lots more things. There are a whole bunch of little facts like that. And they all add up to a mighty good United States of America.

There isn't anything going on here that we haven't been through before. What we need are a better business climate; more profits; lots less taxation, and more talk about you — John Q. Public. Let's just not forget that this is 1962 — not 1929.

Bean Dinners Live On

Out on the Hilltop they're about to hold another Bean Dinner.

From July 30 to Aug. 1 at Westgate Park you'll see about as good an example old-fashioned homecoming and socializin' as there is around. There's no big profit motive in the event — it's just something the community merchants cooked up many years ago in appreciation of the people who patronize them the whole year through.

And cook up they do! Again this year they'll serve three tons of free beans to the public.

Bean Dinners became popular after the Civil War, we're told. Veterans groups made a hero of the good old Army ration staple, and community bean fests grew to be tradition. A number of Southern Ohio towns still hold them.

Early-day Hilltoppers, a hardy exponent of togetherness, once conducted picnic rail excursions to Buckeye Lake. With the advent of the super highway and two-car families, such excursions died out. But the Bean Dinner idea has survived, even in an era when county fairs are struggling for life and the State Fair has been modernized into an "exposition."

The Circleville Pumpkin Show, the Ashville Fish Fry, the Millersport Corn Roast, the Hilltop Bean Dinner . . . all are typical vestiges of Americana which we hope will never "succumb to progress."

"I remember a proverb said of old: who loseth his freedom, in faith he loseth all."—John Lydgate.

Strangers Sometimes Have Advantage In Learning Local Fishing Secrets

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

Right in the midst of the vacation season might be a good time to throw a little cold water on your plans.

Everyone has visions of sparkling water and jumping fish when they start out on a trip, but it doesn't always happen that way. Do not go to a strange lake or stream and expect to catch fish as well as the natives do. It just won't happen.

They know more than you. The natives, that is, not the fish. Maybe not about the Einstein theory or the exact fashion in which an atom is split, but more than you do about the composition of the lake bottom, where the bars lie on which fish feed and along which banks is the best fishing.

So what to do?. Two things. Either hire a guide or ask questions. The first is the easiest and perhaps the most expensive (don't forget that the loss of time on a vacation may cost more than a guide's fee). But if you can spare a few moments around a boat dock or tackle store, you can usually pick up some tips. Ask questions and listen carefully. Maybe you can even sweet talk one of the natives into going fishing with you.

Most people like to impress people with their home territories, and this goes double for fishermen. A stranger who confesses his ignorance stands a good chance of being taken under the wing of a local angler to be shown what good ol' lake Stumpknocker really has to offer.

If you cannot find anyone to talk to, look for other fishermen on the water. Boats will be seen traversing the good areas. While it is not courteous to barge in on some one else's fishing hole, nothing prevents you from noting the location for future use.

Be observant and ask for help. Someone will answer your plea, and keep your fishing plans from sinking. An old native with a lot of local pride is the best fishing lifeguard there is.

Sunglasses For Monofilament

While we're passing on tips, here is one from Dick Jennings of Cortland Line. He's announcing a new fishing line, but the interesting thing is that it contains a mysterious substance that screens out the ultra violet rays of the sun, those nasty rays that make line wiry and hard to manage. Thus the line retains its vitality and strength though the use of Dur-X "sunglasses."

AROUND EDUCATIONAL CIRCLES

SCHOOL FIRES

WASHINGTON — Major fires cost American schools and colleges more than 8.7 million during 1961 according to the National Fire Protection Association. This was the result of 17 "large loss" fires with individual losses of $250,000 or more and does not include thousands of smaller fires which brought the yearly cost of all school and college fires to more than $25 million.

OVERFLOW

CLEVELAND—The Cleveland Board of Education will spend at least $24,980 next year to rent outside space to cope with the overflow of students in elementary classes. The out-of-school facilities include space in churches, the Cleveland Public Library and the Salvation Army.

What Makes For An Acceptable Meditation?

"Let the words of my mouth, and the meditations of my heart, be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord, my strength, and my redeemer." Ps. 19:14.

One of my favorite hymns is this:

"Sweet hour of prayer!
Sweet hour of prayer!
That calls me from a world of care,
And bid me at my Father's throne
Make all my wants and wishes known;
In seasons of distress and grief,
My soul has often found relief;
And oft escaped the tempter's snare,
By thy return, sweet hour of prayer."

The divine sentiment of this song gently lifts my soul from the realms of the earthly to the realms of the heavenly. It is there that I find peace from the troubles of life and rest from the strife therein.

Rev. Ashburn

It is a good thing, I believe, to seek the presence of the Lord through moments of meditations.

Daily the soul of man needs to take flight from "a world of care," and find sweet communion at the "Father's throne." Daily we need to go there in acceptable meditations in order that we might find divine direction; gain heavenly visions; secure proper perspective; and renew our spiritual strength.

What makes for an acceptable meditation? A sincere heart that believes that God is and is able to do all that he has promised. Uttered and unuttered words of praise and thanksgiving to God for his continued goodness. Time that is chosen for God alone and not pinned haphazardly on the end of a busy day or sandwiched in between the thoughts of this world. Eyes that are lifted up unto the hills whence cometh our help. A will that is yielded wholly unto God's will. A spirit that is filled with love for God and all mankind.

To approach the throne of grace thusly will open the flood gates of heaven. There you shall see the Lord, and there you shall receive his blessings. There you shall find relief for the soul and there you shall find renewed strength for every duty to which life calls.

PRAYER:
Dear Lord before thy throne
I come,
Upon my bended knees.
Behind me are life's toils and cares,
Before me thy matchless
grace.
Give me I pray the strength and power,
The cares of this world, to

Peaches Lead Fruits; Ohio Crop Down

By ESTELLE B. FRANKS

Fruits — Peaches, melons, seedless grapes, lemons, blueberries.

Vegetables — Homegrown sweet corn, tomatoes, lettuce, green and yellow beans, cucumbers, squash

Protein Foods — Fryers, grade A eggs, chuck roasts, canned hams, dairy products

Fresh peaches take over at fruit counters and roadside markets for the next several weeks. Volume is increasing and should be seasonally heavy from now into early September. The southern states are now shipping the late varieties, such as Redhaven, Sunhigh, Golden Jubilee, Elbertas and others. Early varieties of Ohio peaches are available now at many roadside markets coming mostly from southern and central counties. Volume harvest in the Lake Erie region begins this week.

Mrs. Franks

In northern Ohio, Erly-Red-Fre are now being harvested and will last for about two weeks. Then Jerseyland can be expected about Aug. 1 followed by Redhaven, the freestone variety so widely sought after for home freezing. Sunhavens will also be ready the first part of August, followed shortly by the Golden Jubilee, a good variety for canning. By late August, harvest of Halehavens and Sullivan's Elbertas is usually underway, with Belle of Georgia, Elbertas and Shippers' Late Red available by early September. These same varieties will be a few days earlier in southern and central Ohio counties.

In Ohio, June 1 estimates placed this year's peach crop at 850,000 bushels — down 11 percent from both last year and average, and the second smallest in 12 years. Prospects vary greatly in different parts of the state and even within specific areas. In general, winter injury was greater than usual in the central and south while prospects in several northern counties appear near normal, although conditions are variable.

Fortunately, the peach crop nationally is estimated at only one percent under the large 1961 crop and 18 percent more than average. A huge crop of clingstone peaches in California will make up about two-fifths of the total U.S. crop, but these peaches are used mostly for commercial canning. If we drop the California clingstones from fresh market consideration, prospects are a little less promising but are still above average.

When buying peaches, you will find the blush is not a dependable key to ripeness and quality. Better signs of maturity and ripeness are a white or yellow background color and a fairly firm flesh. Peaches that are picked too green will not ripen, lack flavor and usually shrivel. Partially ripened peaches will "mellow up" at room temperature. Store only ripe ones in the refrigerator.

Strange Things Can Happen To 'Quitees'

I've just lighted a cigarette, and if my sluggish brain works at its normal after-dinner pace I'll have smoked three or more of the evil, smelly things by the time this column is foaled.

Why do we smoke? All of us know smoking is unhealthy. It plays havoc with our arterial network, scums up our pulmonary system and it's pretty much medically proven it contributes to cancer.

Most of us at one time or another have quit, or attempted to do so. Some 10 years ago I did. It was a spur of the moment thing, a New Year resolution. And I stuck to it for 15 months. But with each passing week of abstention I grew fatter and fatter.

I might have stuck to my resolution, but one night as I was donning my pajamas for bed, I caught my wife snickering. And it didn't help when she made cracks like: "Have you selected a name yet?"

So I abandoned my nicotine-induced "pregnancy" and went back to nervously flicking ashes about in her living room.

Some people can quit without growing fat. Wally Nichols is that kind. Some time back he threw off the habit for "40 days and 40 nights." Why did he start again? Says it was a case of either smoke or doze away his law career.

"I couldn't stay awake," testified Wally, peering through a cloud of smoke. "I don't know why, but during those 40 days I became lazy and totally indifferent. All I wanted to do was sleep. Didn't even want to eat; just snooze."

If we must smoke, it's comforting to know that the makers of cigarettes also are ensnared.

A couple weeks ago the Associated Press carried a story about the head of one of our largest tobacco companies who was suing his wife for a divorce. The judge was won over when the nicotine tycoon testified that his non-ever-loving spouse blew cigarette smoke into his face while he was attempting to quit.

An odd thing about shaking the habit is how it induces "quitees" to go about boasting to friends how much better they feel. This is true of Tom Selby. Or at least it was a while back. Now that he's smoking again he no longer talks about how well he feels.

Then there's the type who can't quit unless he makes a stiff wager with a friend to bolster his self-confidence. That's what Doctors Tom Bacon and Bill Hackett have done — bet each other to see who can stay off longest. Each time they meet they sniff each other. Apparently, quitting the habit weakens a man's trust in friends.

Others who quit, some of them many times, include Bill Robison and Judge Bill Grubbs, neither of whom lasted long enough to achieve any degree of local admiration.

At the moment, reports are that Matt Rea is still holding up under his vow to never smoke again. Good boy, Matt. We're pulling for you—pulling on our cigarettes, that is.

One, two, three, four, five . . . that's how many butts I just counted in the ashtray. Holy smokes, I've got to do something. If only I could find a successful quitter who would tell his secret, I'd walk a mile to see such a fellow.

STATE DAV CONVENTION DOWNTOWN THIS WEEK

State convention of Disabled American Veterans Auxiliary is being held this week at the Deshler Hilton Hotel July 26 through 29.

Representatives from the department of Indiana and Kentucky as well as from other organizations will be welcomed at the 2 p.m. session Friday. Following that, Miss Carolyn Wood, 872 Linwood-av, will entertain at the Forget-Me-Not Tea.

Saturday's agenda will feature Dr. Sam Beanstolk of Chillicothe VA Hospital, who will address a joint session of the chapter and auxiliary.

Mr. Albert Daniels of Greenfield, candidate for National DAV Commander, will be introduced at Saturday night's banquet.

Howard Drake, 4200 Colby-av, will be soloist at Sunday morning's joint memorial service. The convention will close with election of state officers Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. George D. Sriner, 1040 S. Roosevelt-av, department commander, has appointed the following committees from Capitol City No. 3 Auxiliary in the Hartley Newspapers' area to assist with the convention:

Sandrea J. Gard, Philip A. Renner Repeat Vows June 16 In Hilliard

Rev. Walter L. Plummer performed the 7:30 p.m. marriage ceremony uniting Miss Sandrea Jeanne Gard and Mr. Philip Andrew Renner on June 16 at Hilliard Methodist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Gard, 2109 Ridgeview-rd, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Karl A. Renner, 4688 Trabue-rd.

The bride's gown was of silk organza and rose pointe lace over tulle and taffeta. The basque bodice was topped with a scalloped sabrina neckline dotted with irridescent sequins and pearls.

The bouffant skirt of silk organza featured a double flounce of the lace at the hemline while the organza was caught up with lace cabbage roses.

A Swedish crown of crystals held her bouffant veil and she carried a white Bible topped with lily of the valley and centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Patricia Giuffre, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor, while bridesmaids were Miss Virginia Burbridge, Miss Carol Otworth and Miss Judy Sparks.

The attendants were dressed in ice pink silk organza sheaths with matching overskirts. The push-up sleeves were worn elbow length. They carried cascade bouquets of red roses and better time roses, and matching hats with circular scalloped veils completed their outfits.

Mr. Karl Allen Renner was his brother's best man. Ushers who seated the guests were Mr. Paul Giuffre, Mr. Glen King and Mr. William Renner.

Master Ronnie Giuffre, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer.

A reception at the church followed the ceremony.

The bride graduated from Hilliard High School and is associated with Madisons Beauty Salon.

Mr. Renner is also a graduate of Hilliard High School and is a senior in the College of Agriculture at Ohio State University.

Following a wedding trip the couple is residing at 75 E. Hudson-st.

MRS. PHILIP ANDREW RENNER

Twigs Sponsor POG Play

Twigs of Children's Hospital will sponsor the play, "Yes, My Darling Daughter," Monday, Aug. 13 at 8:30 p.m. at Playhouse-On-The-Green, to raise money to aid the hospital.

The play, by Mark Reed, is a gay comedy about modern daughters and "problem" parents.

Participating Twigs are 64, 50, 42, 97, 101, 44, 83 and 62.

Tickets may be purchased on or before Monday, Aug. 6, from Mrs. John N. Major, AM. 7-3989.

Group Tours Ag Research

Seedlings and several members of the Prairie Junior Gardeners took a guided tour to the US Department of Agriculture Research Service in Delaware Thursday, July 19.

They saw the forest disease laboratory, forest insect laboratory and shade tree and ornamental plants laboratory.

Mrs. Richard Maples, of the Lincoln Village Beautifiers, accompanied the group.

Seedlings will meet Thursday, July 26, at the home of Sherry Maples, 464 Old Village-rd.

F. Dean Lusc will speak on "Glads In Your Garden." The girls will plan their educational display for the Franklin County Fair.

Oriental Food Tops For Patio Dining

Order a variety of Chinese dishes from your nearby restaurant or make your own in advance—chop suey, chow mein, green peppers, tomatoes and beef in Cantonese sauce, and such.

All can be reheated or kept hot on the back of the barbecue.

To make you the queen with the gourmet touch, serve an exotic arrangement of frigid pickings — thin cucumber slices marinated in an herbed oil and vinegar dressing.

Uncooked cauliflower buds to be dipped in a mayonnaise, curry and Worcestershire sauce mixture; curls of white turnips; carmeled baby carrots; celery tidbits filled with fish salad.

Or do rumaki—chicken livers and water chestnuts wrapped in bacon and grilled on skewers.

Theatre Party Planned By Sorority

Members of Iota Tau chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, International Sorority, will have a theatre party Saturday, July 28 to see Kenley Players' production of "Bye, Bye Birdie" starring Andy Williams.

Following the show members and their guests will be entertained at the home of their social chairman, Mrs. Ruby Shingladecker, of 129 E. North-st. Assisting with the party is co-chairman Miss Jean Wilson.

Twig Works, Parties

Lincoln Village Twig 129 will work in the Fourth-st Thrift Shop on July 26.

A husbands' party has been planned for Aug. 18 at the home of Mrs. Jack Frost, 4814 Annhurst-rd, Lincoln Village.

Nurses' Association Seeks Top Members

Ohio State Nurses' Association, District No. 12, is conducting a search to honor outstanding representatives in the nursing profession. A dinner in their honor will be held next winter.

The 10 categories or fields of nursing to be recognized will be general duty nurses, nursing service administrators, educational administrators, consultants and teachers, public health nurses, office nurses, occupational health nurses, operating room nurses, private duty nurses, nurse emeritus (retired), and nurse in military service.

The awards committee together with selected persons from allied professional fields and outstanding members of the community will make the selections.

BAR-B-CUES

The formula for regal dining on the patio begins with one main barbecue dish if the hostess is to relax and enjoy her own party. Planned menus are the key.

FAMILY GATHERS

A family gathering of 51 was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Schatz, Russells Point, O., on Sunday, July 22.

Mrs. Hulett Is Married In Florida

Mrs. Guy Hulett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Schenz, 2349 Big Run-rd, Grove City, became the bride of Mr. Haydn Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Pizar, Lake Worth, Fla., on July 14.

The 4 p.m. ceremony was performed by Rev. Gordon Gentry at the Christian Church in West Palm Beach, Fla.

The bride wore a short dress of pale pink chiffon nylon over pink taffeta, trimmed in pink satin. Her shoes and elbow-length gloves were also of pink. Her accessories of pearls and earrings were gifts of the bridegroom.

Her head piece was a queen tiara of small pearls with a soft pink veil. She carried a small white prayer book with her corsage of pink sweetheart roses and lily of the valley, accented with white streamers of satin and strands of small pearls.

Matron of honor was Mrs. David Distelhorst, formerly of Columbus, now of West Palm Beach. She wore a dress of orchid jersey dacron and carried a corsage of pink and white sweetheart roses.

Best man was Mr. A. J. Michael of Tequesta, Fla. Ushers were Mr. Cecil Spencer and Mr. Glenn.

A reception followed the ceremony at the church.

The new Mrs. Williams was formerly medical secretary for Drs. Lloyd and Stewart Woofenden of Lake Worth, Fla.

The couple was to take a wedding trip to Columbus to visit the bride's family. On their return they will reside at 240 Arlington-rd, West Palm Beach, Fla.

COUNTY PICNIC

Second annual Gallia County picnic will be held July 29 at 1 p.m. at Westerville Park.

For information call TU. 2-3244 or BE. 5-4955.

WING 41 SELLS TICKETS FOR AUG. 8 POG COMEDY

RELAXATION AND RECREATION was there for the taking by members of the Hartley Aquarama Cruise last Sunday. On the left Columbus Mayor Ralston W. Westlake, his daughter Marilyn and Mrs. Westlake relax on the top deck and on the right, other members of the Cruise party take advantage of the recreation facilities in a friendly game of shuffleboard in the sun.

VERY FUNNY . . .

Cruise Was Lotta Yaks

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

Hartley Newspapers tour guides, on the return trip following a cruise on the good ship Aquarama last Sunday, asked this typical question of the tourists:

"How did you like the cruise?"

And, typically enough, the tourists gave this typical answer:

"It was a lot of laughs."

That answer was as typical as it was literal since one of the main highlights of the trip was laughter.

The cruise last Sunday seemed to be packed with more funny situations than the maiden voyage last year. Anyone without a sore side from the jollity had either (1) fallen asleep, or (2) fallen overboard.

It would seem almost impossible that anything funny could happen to nearly 200 sleepy-eyed greater Columbusites as they boarded the buses at 4 a.m. Sunday.

Actually, the incident could've been very unfunny but, all's well that ends. You see, the bus was nearly to Mansfield on Interstate Route 71 and through the early-morning for a horn sounded and a car was barely visible with an arm wildly waving out of the side window.

The driver of the car flagged the bus over to the side. Naturally, everyone left their seat to get a better view. The car driver turned out to be a young woman named Jeanne Askins who had missed the bus.

She parked her car at a freeway plaza and joined the cruise. The humorous thing is that Miss Askins was born in Paris, France, lived for awhile in West Africa and has done other extensive traveling. This was the first time she'd ever missed the boat . . . er, bus.

Walking up the gang-plank to board the Aquarama, two elderly ladies were overheard. One said, "Sylvia, I hear they dance on this boat . . . are we going to twist?" The other lady, looking to be an equal age with the first, said, "No, dear. We're going to do the Mashed Potatoes today."

Right in the middle of a large group of people, a small boy's voice came from that corner of the ship, rose and unfurled like a banner over the crowd with the encouraging words, "Daddy, this boat's like the Titantic, huh. I read about the Titantic in school, and . . ."

Of course, you overheard the typical small talk like, ". . . I hear that no one can find the skipper" or, "I think we made a wrong turn—there's the Eifel Tower."

Other wisecracks included: "Man overboard, ha ha ha," "I just heard a weather report and, frankly, we're in trouble," "When do they light the smoking lamp," "I understood somebody locked all of the rest room doors," and "Contrary to popular belief, please ignore the 'No Smoking' sign—we're about to sink."

The laugh was on this reporter, too. Here's what happened.

As a Hartley staffer, I was a tour guide on Bus No. 2 (there were six buses altogether).

It wasn't hard to tell that everyone was half-asleep as they boarded the bus for the return trip. However, I had heard requests that some of the folk wanted to sing on the way home.

"Why not," I thought. "Everybody sings on buses. I'll lead them in a song fest, boy, and everyone will be gay and merry all the way home."

On the bus, I made the announcement that "Now, we'll all sing 'Jingle Bells'," and the response wasn't too receptive. I even checked with the bus driver for some sure-fire melodies that bus riders like to sing.

He suggested "Margie," or "Pack Up Your Troubles In Your Old Kit Bag and Smile, Smile, Smile," and we tried these. A few more joined in.

After a few choruses of "Good-Morning Mr. Zip, Zip, Zip," and "There's So Many Holes In The Mattress It Might As Well Be Spring," most everyone was singing.

"Say, hey, this is great," I thought. "Oh, what fun they're having."

Another Hartley tour guide, Ed Churchill, was hosting Bus No. 1. After pulling into the terminal downtown, Churchill reported that a woman left the bus, paused, and said to him, "Thank you, young man, for sleeping."

Puzzled, Churchill pushed the question and asked, "What do you mean?"

"I mean, thanks for sleeping," came her reply. "I understand that some nut on the other bus kept the people awake singing all the way home."

at Hauntz . . .

Hauntz' version of "The Three Little Pigs" received second place in the judging at Sunshine and it was repeated Friday night at Sunshine. The narrated play was accompanied by a singing chorus and piano sound effects. The cast included:

Susie Pitt, narrator; Sammy Pitt, Candy Jones, Cindy Jones, Linda Wheeler, Peggy Nieswander, Sharon Bourgeois, Zondra Runyons, Mary Maynard, Stacia Surrell, Patty Schmidt, Jerri Schmidt, Jim Wheeler, Diane Bolognone. Director and pianist was Linda Phillips. Props were built by the cast.

Papier mache lanterns were prepared for the coming lantern parade. Animal lanterns will be complemented by many other styles and types.

Jerry Green's Junior Jet Braves were the team of the week at Hauntz. They beat the first place Jets 7-6. The Braves were led by their first baseman Ken Jones, who got six hits out of eight turns at bat. While the Braves won two games, the Jets and Giants split their two games. Jeff Rice had the only home run of the week. The standings at the end of the fourth week are:

Jets	5	3
Braves	4	4
Giants	3	5

Hauntz suffered its first softball loss of the year at the hands of John Burroughs. The Intermediate Boys lost 6-5 with Jerry Green losing his first game (3-1). Ray Robinson hit a homerun for Hauntz. The Senior Boys and Intermediate Girls won by forfeits to Highland and Chicago-ay. The Junior Boys beat the Westgate Cons 14-2. Ken Jones was the winning pitcher (1-0). The Junior Girls will play West Mound Monday evening.

In the tetherball tournament at Hauntz the winners were: Bill Lanning, Junior Boys; Dave Adams, Intermediate Boys, and Sally Dorsam, Senior Girls.

Horseshoe winners were Steve Evans and Rita Rees.

Steve Evans and Ronnie Wheeler, Jim Alexander and John Farrell, and Sally Dorsam and Donna Shank were winners of the four-square tournaments.

An intermediate boys volley ball team was formed this week. There will be practice every Monday, Wednesday and Friday evening at 7 p.m.

Junior Olympic tryouts are being held for all boys and girls 17 and under.

at Binns . . .

The Intermediate Boys Softball team scored its third victory of the season against the Westgate Blues with a score of 13 to 8. Today they are looking for a fourth victory when they play Hauntz.

A boys volleyball team has been organized. On the team are Jim Buck, Tom Baughman, John Miller, Steve Hedges, Glenn Sanders, Dave Bush, Phil Suchman, John Snider, and Chuck Wright.

The girls have also formed a volleyball team. Members are Lauren Snider, Sue Snider, Jane Snider, Marcy Stevens, Peggy Knies, Bev Reiser, Christine Ford. Practices are held every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at 4 p.m.

John Miller, junior horseshoe champion, defeated Georgian Heights last Monday but was defeated by Haunz on Friday. Bob Knies, senior horseshoe champion, will play Westgate this week.

In tetherball, Glenn Sanders defeated Westgate and Lynn Morgan defeated Eakin but was defeated by Hauntz on Friday. Jeff Miles was also defeated by Eakin.

In Four Square, Lynn Morgan and Sue Snider were defeated by Westgate while Phil Suchman and John Miller defeated Westgate. John and Phil were defeated Friday by Hauntz.

Everybody at Binns is eagerly anticipating the Lantern Parade this Friday night at Westgate. The finishing touches on the lanterns will be done tomorrow and Binns Busy Bunnies will be ready to parade.

at Burroughs . . .

Burroughs was one of the first place winners in the west side Drama Festival held at various playgrounds last week. Burroughs and the other winners then met at Sunshine Recreation Center Friday to present their programs. The theme of the Burroughs skit was "The J. B. Chorus Line" which consisted of a song and dance act. The participants were Debbie, Carol and Gail Ward, Brenda Bazil, Charlene Gomer, Kathy Shute, Janet Doycheff, Sue Slane, Berte Graham, Kathy Amore, Dianne Richardson, Cynthia Tanner, Jean Cusic, Diane Trabert, Nancy and Judy Kuper, Kathy and Karen Clinger, Tom Hammon, Bob Sowers and Floyd and Phil Manson. Piano accompanist for the "chorus was Sue Evans. The leaders at Burroughs would like to thank all persons who helped make this program a success for their time and effort.

Burroughs Arts and Crafts participants will be working in high gear this week for the annual Lantern Parade which will be held this Friday evening at Westgate Park. All lanterns must be completed by Thursday night. Anyone having a lantern to complete should do so at once. Miss Donna Berlo is in charge of this project.

In the city-wide horseshoe and tetherball competition, Burroughs has the following youngsters undefeated: Tetherball (Jr.) Nancy Kuper, (Intermediate) Carol Ward; horseshoes (Int.) Carol Ward, (Inter.) Nick Damopoulos. These youngsters were victors over Westgate last week and will move on in city competition.

In softball, the girls have been having a lot of fun if not too many victories in league play. The Junior girls with a winless record were downed last week by Westgate while the Girls Intermediate team was facing a similar situation having been beaten recently by the Westgate Intermediate team. The Juniors have a 0-3 record while the Intermediates sport a 1-1 record.

In Boys softball, the Junior Colts were dropped from first place and a perfect record by a scrappy Sullivant Gardens team 4-3. This was the first loss suffered by the Colts in four starts. The Junior Mustangs have a 1-3 record losing to Holton, Burroughs Colts, and Chicago while their lone victory has been against Highland. The Intermediate Boys made it four without a loss by downing Hauntz last week in a close one, 6-5. This team has Eakin, Westgate Reds, and Binns to play before rounding out the season. The Boys Senior team kept pace with the Intermediates by also winning their fourth without a defeat as they downed Holton last week. The Seniors have West Mound to play next, then end the season against Hauntz.

In Fathers Slo-Pitch softball, Miller's Sluggers continued their jinx over Eddy's Bombers for the fourth straight week and for the third time in as many weeks had to come from behind to accomplish the feat. Both teams scored two runs in the first inning but by the top of the sixth, the Bombers had pulled out in front by a 11-7 score and a possible first victory. Then the Sluggers duplicated last week's feat by scoring eight runs in the bottom of the sixth to finish on top at the end 15-11. Bob Miller and John Bill, both of the Sluggers, hit home runs during this sixth inning uprising. The Bombers were held to two extra base hits while the winning Sluggers pounded out six, two for the distance. These two teams will again face one another this Friday at 6 p.m. Both teams are still looking for players. You don't have to sign up, just be at Burroughs this Friday at 6 p.m.

In Junior Jets the Chiefs lead the International league with a 5-0 record while the Reds top the Majors with four wins and no losses. Game schedules are available at the playground. Each player and coach should have one.

at Eakin . . .

After two weeks of league play the Eakin-Georgian Heights Junior Jet League is now in full swing. Each boy is enjoying his chance to play organized baseball. The standings are:

	W.	L.
Marlins	2	1
Giants	2	1
Tigers	2	1
Braves	1	1
Yanks	1	3

Advancing into the final rounds of the city championships Eakin still has two active champions. In junior boys' tetherball Jimmy Clark is champion; in intermediate

Billy Graham Crusader Guest At Hilltop Church

Rev. Howard O. Jones, associate evangelist of the Billy Graham Crusade Association, will be guest speaker at Hilltop Methodist Church Sunday, July 29 at the 11 a.m. service.

The service is sponsored by the Methodist Men Organization of the church and the Methodist Men's Chorus will sing.

Rev. Jones spent seven years in Monrovia, Liberia, West Africa, and has conducted crusades throughout Ethiopia, the Sudan, Kenya and Nigeria. He recently took part in the Billy Graham Chicago Crusade.

Officials of the Methodist Men are Maceo Jackson, president; Clarence Froe, vice-president; George Slate, Sr., secretary; Admiral Ross, treasurer; Aquila Fleweien, reporter; Porter Cook, devotions; William Bell, publicity; Robert Beatty, attendance; Thaddeus Alexander, membership; James R. Goodrich, program, and David Cradle, projects.

Vacation Bible School Begins At Westgate

Vacation Bible School will be held at Westgate Methodist Church for two weeks beginning July 30 and running through Aug. 10. It is daily except Saturday.

Theme this year is "The Bible."

Rev. Roth Retires But Ministry Continues

MINISTER ON-THE-GO is Rev. Roth, even in his automobile. The Hilltop Record featured a picture of him 12 years ago when he got his first REV license plate; he has been identified all over the state by his car ever since then. Here he displays the old and the new.

COLLECTOR AND CARPENTER, Rev. Roth is proud of both. Here he is shown with one of his antique irons which he plans to have sandblasted and then put on display. He's done much work in his ample tool room, building cabinets and partitions in his new home.

FORMER ARMY CHAPLAIN'S field organ has become a source of delight to the Roths. They purchased it at an Army Surplus Store and it has found its way into many homes for prayer meetings.

FARMER (WHOOPS, REV.) and Mrs. Roth have taken to truck gardening in their back yard, already having enjoyed beans, lettuce and tomatoes. In the background can be seen the patio and overhead that Rev. Roth built himself.

By PATTY HARTLEY

What does a minister do when he completes 42 years in the ministry and retires?

From the sound of Rev. Aaron L. Roth's plans, his retirement will never become effective and the "golden years" of his life will be anything but dull.

For instance, he officially retired from Hillcrest Baptist Church on June 1, but has remained in the pulpit there until his successor, Rev. David L. Fish, can take over. After Aug. 1 he will be preaching at 10th Avenue Baptist Church, where they are presently without a pastor. He will always be available for vacationing pastors too, he says.

But even with all the work there will always be, retirement has its benefits. Rev. and Mrs. Roth have bought a home at 652 Holly Hill. After having lived in parsonages all their married life, this has brought quite a change to the daily routine.

"Our home has been our intense hobby," said Rev. Roth. An avid handyman, he has partitioned rooms in the basement, built a patio with overhead, and furnished his study in the basement. He added, "I was fetched up around tools."

Mrs. Roth agreed that it would be good to have her husband around the house a little more, if she could drag him away from his hobbies. He has many which include collecting quotable poetry which he presents in the form of a program, writing articles and collecting old radiator caps.

He has had frequent articles in the national Baptist magazine and once a writing of his appeared on the same page as an article written by Queen Wilhelmena of Holland. His radiator caps have become conversation pieces in many circles. He polishes them, fills them with lead, and uses them for paperweights.

Rev. Roth's experiences in the ministry have been many. In his 42 years he has had only five pastorates. He explained that "ministry is much more effective after a long term."

In 1920 he began his ministry by making pastoral calls on a bicycle in Ada. From there he served churches in Corry, Pa., Chicago, Ill., Detriot, Mich., and came to Hillcrest in 1948.

He has been active in the Council of Churches, having served as a member of the board of directors and chairman of the steering committee for the School of Religion. He was president of the Ohio Baptist Ministers' Council and for some years in Columbus conducted a weekly radio program known as "Sunday Hilltop Moments." During World War II he was a civilian chaplain and mailed taped messages to servicemen in the Arctic Circle for use in their self-conducted religious services.

Rev. and Mrs. Roth have three children: son, Cortland L., 228 S. Sylvan-av; daughters, Mrs. Harriet Kleinfelder, Birmingham, Mich., and Mrs. Miriam Mann, Lubbock, Tex.

What thoughts go through a retiring minister's mind? "There's a feeling akin to pain at the separation, but it's inevitable," said Rev. Roth. "There has been a sort of benediction resting over us from the people since we announced our leaving."

Baptist Church Calls Assistant

Rev. Louis C. Tulga has been called as assistant to the pastor at Immanuel Baptist Church, 3417 Palmetto at Derrer-rd. Rev. William A. Brock is pastor.

Rev. Tulga is a graduate of the general course from Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, and holds a BA in history from Wheaton College, Wheaton, Ill.

He received his MA in New Testament studies from Wheaton College Graduate School of Theology and is presently enrolled in the graduate school at Ohio State University working toward his doctorate in classical history.

Rev. Tulga has served as pastor of First Baptist Church of Wellington for the past three years. He and his wife, Lois, have two children, Brian and Louise.

BOOK FAIR

Members of Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church are asked to begin savings books for the book fair which will be held later in the year.

Rev. Koster Is Appointed At TICO

Rev. Gerald Melvin Koster, pastor of Hilltonia Evangelical United Brethren Church, has been appointed chaplain at the Training Institution of Central Ohio. He replaces Rev. Oscar Rees, who will assume a hospital chaplaincy in Iowa.

TICO is a training institution for delinquent boys where the philosophy is treatment and rehabilitation. William M. Balson is superintendent.

Rev. Koster will work closely with other members of the staff in all areas of concern and will direct the religious program for all Protestant boys, which includes a counseling ministry and conducting a worship service on Sunday.

The appointment became effective July 16. Rev. Koster will continue to serve as pastor at Hilltonia, working part-time at TICO.

Make a Wish . . . FOR HIS FUTURE

A birthday party really thrills the children, and probably the climax comes when they blow out the candles, and make a wish. His wish would probably be for a bright shiny new toy, but you as a parent would wish for him the things that really count, such as good health, happiness, friends and along with these deeper and more serious things should be a prayer for him to have the right interest and relationship to God. You can help these things by taking him to church Sunday.

Ordinance Is Needed To Legalize Job

A new ordinance officially appointing a deputy marshal will have to be adopted by Valleyview Council so that Ralph Marioth, 2338 Valleyview-dr wil not be holding the part-time job illegally.

Marioth was appointed on July 2 to serve while Village Marshal Frank Dillon was on a one-week vacation. Solicitor Gale King said the appointment was not set by ordinance, thus making it illegal.

Egg production per hen in Ohio increased from 183 in 1930 to 213 in 1960, according to OSU Extension poultry specialists.

Roundup Scouts, 8500 Of Em, Carry Swaps In Straw Hats

Hello from the sixth largest "city" in Vermont—the 1962 National Girl Scout Roundup.

By Friday morning all 8500 girls had arrived in Button Bay, Vt., and set up their tents, unpacked their duffle bags cooked their first meal, and built their own table.

Patrols of eight girls from all parts of the country live and work with girls from other areas. A Texas drawl, New England clip and western slur — all often heard coming from one tent as girls "swap a token with a tale well spoken."

Betsy

All of the girls have straw hats with broad brims that tie under the chin. As delegates trade small pins symbolizing their home with other girls, they fasten their swaps on their hats, remembering some small thing about her new friend's home.

Swimming in Lake Champlain has become a sport and there is high competition among the campers to see who can stay in the icy water for the longest time. While out of the water girls comb the beaches for small round stones with holes in them known as buttons. The area is named for these.

Last Friday evening the entire camp met on the shore of Button Bay for a program entitled "Honor the Past," part of the Roundup theme. Mrs. Charles Culmer, president of the National Girl Scout organizations, lit the Roundup lamp that will burn throughout the encampment.

A message of challenge to the Girl Scouts was read from President John F. Kennedy as he urged the girls to learn how they could best "serve the country and mankind." A taped message of greeting from Lady Baden-Powell, World Chief Guide and widow of the founder of Scouting, was played to the group.

The girls gave a standing ovation to Mrs. Arthur O. Choate, who was the first president of Girl Scouting in America after the founder, Juliette Lowe. She was also Mrs. Lowe's godchild.

Messages of welcome were delivered by the Hon. F. Ray Keyser, the governor of Vermont, and Lt. Col. Garrison of the United States First Army. The two groups that these men represented have provided many services for the 250-acre camp. The Red Cross was thanked for its health facilities and the American Legion Auxiliary for its donation of 101 state and American flags.

The stage, facing the natural arena, had a 24 by 60 foot map of the United States marked with the 12 Girl Scout regions. Four girls from each region described their areas as they placed an emblem of their home on the map, such as a riverboat from the Ohio region and a cotton blossom from the Deep South.

Girls are now preparing to attend forums concerning their place in the world, and special forums in French and Spanish.

Yesterday (the 24th) there was an all-encampment campfire to celebrate the 50th anniversary of Girl Scouting in the United States.

Throughout the entire camp period girls are learning and sharing ideas through demonstrations of skills from home.

Pulitzer Prize Drama To Be Staged At Stadium

"All the Way Home," the Pulitzer Prize play that has been based on a novel that has also won the Pulitzer Prize, will be presented by OSU's Stadium Theatre in its first production in Central Ohio for a limited five performance engagement through Saturday, July 28.

The director is Roy H. Bowen.

Its story of a woman married to a reformed drinker, a man of a different religion from hers, and her reaction to his death in an automobile accident, was first told in a novel called "A Death In the Family," by the late James Agee, to whom the Pulitzer prize was awarded posthumously in 1958.

When this emotionally loaded and highly esteemed story was turned by Tad Mosel into "All the Way Home," this stage version was also crowned with the coveted Pulitzer award, as well as with the New York Critics Circle Award for the best play of 1960-61.

During its 42-week run in New York, "All the Way Home" came to be known as "The Miracle on 44th Street." The play had almost closed after its first five performances, due to an initial wariness on the part of theatergoers toward a sombre play. Alfred Sullivan told his listeners that he thought it "one of the greatest shows I've ever seen on the stage," and after other admiring devotees similarly boosted the show in newspaper comments, the drama's life was miraculously saved for a run in its 44th street theatre.

Under the direction of Bowen, the cast will include Joyce Cavarozzi as the bereaved wife, Richard Weisbacher as her doomed husband, Roberts Christian (Aunt Hannah) as her compassionate aunt, Margaret Barricklow as her ineffectual mother, Danny Clark as her small son, Rufus, LeRoy Johnson as her father, and Cada Van Doorn ,Al Converse, Vera Marie Badertacher, Robert Jones, Lynn Briggs, Mary Terrell, Edith Mendelson and others.

BETTY HUTTON STARS NEXT

BETTY HUTTON plays the explosive lead in "Gypsy" in the next Kenley attraction opening here for a week's run Tuesday, July 31. The rowdy musical was popularized on Broadway with Ethel Merman in the role of Gypsy.

'Bye, Bye Birdie' Offers Laughs Close To Home

Anyone who has lived through the Elvis Presley era and can still laugh about it will have a few hearty chuckles with the Kenley Players' production of "Bye, Bye Birdie." The musical take-off on a crooner and his screeching teen-age fans may go down as a footnote to American "culture" — 1950-60 version. The play is a classic only in that it so well re-creates the current high-school idiom.

BEVERLY

Aside from being good fun, the show has a pleasant musical score. None of the songs have become great hits, but when sung in the context of the play by Andy Williams and Carmen Alvarez — they are catchy and somethimes clever.

One of the most colorful numbers in the show is the scene of "The Telephone Hour Song." A several tiered construction supports the singing dancing chorus members who twist and wail about "going steady." The audience loved it.

The cast as a whole works well to make the light, romantic — and zaney story — easy to take on a summer evening. Selma Diamond is as funny as you would expect her to be. Of special note is the performance of Ciya Challis as the lisping female fan of crooner Birdie. And Richard Tone as Conrad, the teen-age answer to "everything" must have watched a lot of Presley to get the part down so perfectly.

"Bye, Bye Birdie" makes for an evening of light and delightful entertainment. You may even go out singing "I Love You Conrad" — especially if you're under 18.

Expert Cast Insures Good Season

Columbusites can count themselves among the fortunate Ohioans who are within driving distance of one the finest Shakespearean theater groups in the United States.

The Great Lakes Shakespeare Company at Lakewood, Ohio, (just 6 miles west of Cleveland) has a cast of outstanding professional actors, under the direction of Arthur Lithgow, well known for his presentation of the Shakespeare canon at Antioch College. The repretory cast will present a selection of plays from now until Sept. 9 with matinees and Twi-Nite performances on week-ends.

The first production of the season—"As You Like It"—was a combination of polished action, imaginative set design, and flawless direction. The part of "Touchstone," the famed clown, was played by Donald Moffet with perfect timing, with never a line lost of the valuable part. Rosalind, the disguised Duke's daughter was expertly handled by Ann Murray.

From the main characters to the humorous minor bits each part was played with ease, giving every indication that the casts will repeat the high quality of their performance in the rest of the season's productions.

Carlos Montoya Learned Art From Experimenting

Carlos Montoya, the great Flamenco guitarist who will appear at Mershon Auditorium on OSU's Celebrity Series on Jan. 23, learned his art from listening and experimenting. "You don't learn Flamenco in a conservatory," he notes.

Comparing to our modern jazz, Montoya considers Flamenco style more difficult because, as he points out, "There is elaborate harmony and counterpoint."

Montoya switched from gut strings to nylon after a rather frustrating experience at a concert in Berlin several years ago. Three strings snapped during one number and he finished by improvising on the remaining three. Since then, gut strings have been taboo.

Taboo, also, is anyone other than Montoya himself carrying his prized guitar. Not even his wife is permitted to tote the instrument that was specially made for him 12 years ago. "It goes with me. I don't let anyone else carry it,' he emphasizes.

Season ticket book sale of the 1962-63 Celebrity Series continues at the Mershon Ticket Office, 15th-av and High-st, open week days from 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Summer Theaters' Playbitts

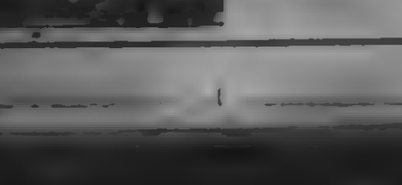
KENLEY PLAYERS: "Bye, Bye Birdie," nightly at 8:30 through July 29 starring Andy Williams and Selma Diamond in topical musical of teen-age life. Opening July 31: Betty Hutton in "Gypsy."

STADIUM THEATER: "All the Way Home" nightly at 8:30 through July 28; Tad Mosel's Pulitzer Prize winning adaptation of "A Death In The Family." Opening Aug. 1: "Kiss Me Kate."

DENISON SUMMER THEATER: "Blood Sweat and Stanley Poole," nightly through July 28; hilarious army comedy. Opening July 31: "Paint Your Wagon."

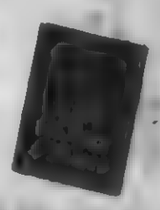
PLAYHOUSE-ON-THE-GREEN: "The Little Foxes," nightly at 8:30 through July 28; Lillian Hellman's play of family greed. Opening July 30: "See How They Run."

Hellman's 'Little Foxes' Is Drama Of Hubbard Clan



One of the most outstanding dramas of the last decade, "The Little Foxes," starring Lois Kibbee, will be presented at Playhouse-on-the-Green for six nights beginning Monday, July 23. The play is concerned with the cruelty, greed and grasping ambition of a hate-filled Southern household of 1900.

"The Little Foxes,' a harrowing horror story, has been called one of the most finely-wrought dramas ever written by an American. Lillian Hellman is the author.



The cunning and vicious Regina, to be played by Miss Kibbee, Ben and Oscar — the Hubbard clan — enter into an agreement with a rich Northern investor to build a cotton mill. As the play unwinds, they connive with great slyness to profit each at the other's expense.

The play, which has been seen abroad in London, Moscow and Belgrade, ran on Broadway for 388 performances, and for 31 more on the road. Tallulah Bankhead starred in the original cast.

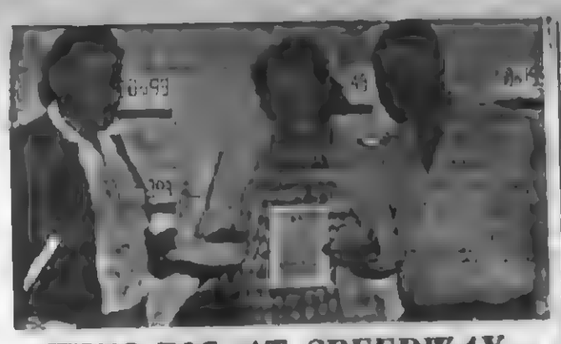
'Blood, Sweat And Stanley Poole' To Premier At Denison Theater

The midwestern premiere of the recent Broadway comedy, "Blood, Sweat and Stanley Poole" will run through Saturday, July 28, at 8:20 p.m. in the tent on the lower campus.

Written by James and William Goldman, the hilarious action revolves around the efforts of a scholarly private to teach old master sergeants new tricks.



The play will be directed by Kenneth G. Roberts, and Richard G. Smith is the settings designer.

Dave Siever plays the knowledgable young private, Ogelthorpe, and John Shuck, John Davidson, Jack Johnson, Robert Armstrong, and Tom Ligon are cast as the master sergeants.

Other members of the cast include Sherry deRhodes, Alix Roterus, John Reynolds and Frank Clark.

"Blood, Sweat and Stanley Poole" is the sixth of ten productions scheduled for the Denison tent this season.

WINS BIG AT SPEEDWAY

Smart As a Loon

If someone labels you "crazy as a loon," don't take offense. In truth, you, like the bird, may be smarter than most people give you credit.

In the first place, Mama and Papa Loon winter in the swamps of the Gulf Coast, then fly north to Canada early in the spring.

At the first signs of any danger they can dive under the water and stay under, coming up quite some distance away.

The only time Mama Loon steps out on land is when she lays two greenish brown eggs on a nest of rushes near the water's edge. She can't walk but reaches the nest by flopping forward.

Baby Loon comes out of the shell in a period of three to four weeks and waddles out into the water, not to return to land until it is time for him to raise a family, too.

The loon and his mate are most always close to each other and when you see one you will see the other very soon. A mean must have his mate!

Family—

Mound-st, daughter of Mrs. Klopp, in her mother's obituary suggested that flower money could be donated to a William Cline fund, instead.

The second memorial, which is now just short of $600, is to be delivered this weekend. It comes from Bill's co-workers at Jeffrey Manufacturing Co. and even includes contributions from persons all over the city who knew Bill only through a newspaper clipping.

Troy H. Salyers, 1782 Ferris-rd, one of Bill's closest friends in the maintenance department at the Jeffrey Co., will make the presentation. "We had money for flowers, but people wanted to do more," Salyers commented. "Bill was that kind of man, always doing something for others."

"There's been a tremendous response," he continued. "One old gentleman, Charles Handley, 95, of 261 Bryden-rd, called us out to pick up his check for $50. Former employes, and their families, are adding to the fund. It's amazing."

By Monday the Jeffery collection had reached $570.50—but we're going to reach $600 before we go see Mrs. Cline," Salyers vowed.

This coming Saturday another chapter will be added. Bill's seven brothers, all of Columbus, and other relatives will gather at 532 S. Wayne-av. They'll paint the house occupied by Martha Cline and her two sons.

Physical Fitness? Here's How Bearcat Does Its Bit

President Kennedy has, on different occasions, called the physical fitness of this country "frightful."

I agree with him.

Word came this week that the Bearcat Football Association is planning to do some things to change the situation. It's a start in the right direction.

Naturally, you can expect to hear the "Voice of the People" soon shouting against the government for demanding a physical fitness program in schools across the nation.

I feel that it's a shame that a gargantuan government like ours has to concern itself with our ability to push ourselves out of bed in the morning when there's other matters which need its attention.

You know, 10-20 years ago the government wasn't needed to tell folks to keep fit. That was in the days when hop-scotch, jumping rope, hiking and leap frog took the place of television, electronic toys and rolling out of bed at noon.

Bearcat Betterment Bits . . .

All persons interested in physical fitness program for young Americans—and, in Bearcat football, itself—are invited to attend an open meeting on the subjects at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, Aug. 2, in the Chittenden Hotel.

"The physical fitness of every youngster playing Bearcat football this spring will be of major importance to coaches of all teams participating in the Association's schedule," said Commissioner Edward Walker.

Through the efforts of Bearcat coaches, the program proclaimed by President Kennedy will be applied to all youths playing on teams in the league.

The program, which is National in scope, is based on testing each youngster for speed, strength, endurance and agility. There are five required events and three optional tests.

Rather than compete against each other in the required events, the youngsters will compete against a norm established by qualified group of physical educators.

Required events include springs, walking, running, pull-ups and sit-ups. Optional tests include passing, punting and place-kicking a football.

Everybody's Problem . . .

This gives you an idea about what just one group is doing to aid the physical fitness of Americans. If nothing else, it's indicative that there are some far-sighted people who believe it is necessary to do something.

Sure, the criticism is bound to come. Those are those who believe strongly that anything official from Washington demanding physical fitness will have an opposite effect. People don't like to be told to do something.

This reporter hopes that when the official word does come . . . that people develop an awareness to the point of shame and that they desire to do something about the condition of themselves and their families.

The biggest problem will be getting them off their soap-boxes and into a push-up position.

Big Weeks Ahead For Jets

Defending champion Columbus Jets' chances for a first division berth in the International League for 1962 might well be determined in the next couple of weeks.

Currently in fifth place after the Sunday, July 22 games, five games behind fourth place Buffalo and six behind third place Rochester, the Jets play Rochester eight games in the next two weeks. ter Sunday, July 22, games, five games behind fourth Thursday night of this week, and then return home on Monday, July 30th, to play the Red Wings a four game Monday through Thursday series.

The Jets hold an 8 to 6 edge on the Red Wings for the season, having won four and lost three both at Jet Stadium and Red Wing Stadium. First change in the International League standings in sometime was made Sunday, July 22, when the Red Wings moved ahead of Buffalo and the Richmond Vees vacated the basement in favor of the Syracuse Chiefs.

The Jets have a four game series with the Chiefs this weekend in Syracuse — single night games Friday and Saturday and a Sunday afternoon doubleheader. The two teams resume their series in Columbus for three games on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 3-4-5.

Before leaving on their road trip the Jets had won 45 and lost 48 — 24 and 26 at home and 21-22 on the road. The Jets had hit 97 home runs and Jet pitchers had given up 89. The Jets have been in 11 shutout games, winning six. The Jets have won 13 of 30 games decided by one run, nine of 15 games decided by two runs and four of seven extra inning games.

Sunday, July 15, may have been a climatic day for the 1962 Jets. Prior to the postponement of a doubleheader with Jacksonville that day the Jets had won six straight and 18 out of their last 27 games. After that the Jets lost three out of four to Atlanta and two out of three to Richmond.

When the Jets return home on July 30 it will be Family Night and ladies will be able to sit anywhere for fifty cents and the men for one dollar. Jet badges and book tickets will be good.

Junior Olympic Plans Announced By CRD

The Columbus Recreation Department will conduct the annual Junior Olympics program with the track and field division being held at Ohio State University Stadium on Aug. 4, while the swimming and diving meets will be held at Maryland Park Pool on Aug. 8 and 9.

The Junior Olympics track and field meet is open to any boy or girl 17 years of age and under (ages as of Aug. 4) from the Central Ohio area. Separate competition will be held for girls and boys in the following age groups. Midget Division, 11 and under; Junior Division, 12 and 13; Intermediate Division, 14 and 15; and Senior Division, 16 and 17.

Entry blanks for this track and field meet, which are available at city playgrounds or at Room 124, City Hall, must be submitted to the Recreation Department by Aug. 2.

The Junior Olympics swim meet will include a total of 30 swim events for boys and girls 16 and under. By expanding to a two day meet, all of the Junior Olympic events will be offered to swimmers from the Central Ohio area. Separate competition will be offered for boys and girls in the following age groups: Midget Division, 10 and under; Junior Division, 11 and 12; Intermediate Division, 13 and 14; and Senior Division, 15 and 16.

Entry blank for the swim meet are available in Room 124, City Hall, and each swimmer must have an individual entry form. This form must be submitted to the Recreation Department by Aug. 6.

A. A. U. memberships will be required of all swimmers.

City-Wide Horseshoe Tourney End Nearing

As the City Horseshoe League is drawing to a close, defending champion Garland Equipment heads into a tie for first place after defeating New Rome Recreation Center number one team, 2209-2076, at Sunshine Park last Friday.

Both teams will tangle with Caskey Cleaners the coming week before they meet again Friday, July 27, at Sunshine Park at 7:45 p.m. for the championship if neither hasn't been upset by Caskey Cleaners.

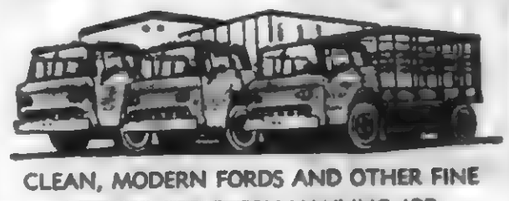
The highlight of the Garland-New Rome game last week was that it was played before the largest crowd to ever see a horseshoe game in this city. LeRoy Hill of Garland had the season high game at 120 and the percentage pitching of Clarence Handon featured Garland's victory over New Rome. These same men are now making a move in the Ohio League with the aid of Paul Swartz, Robert Johnson and Clinton Hodges.

The Ohio Central District AAU Tournament will be held Friday, Aug. 17, at Sunshine Park, beginning at 6 p.m. Qualifying will be Thursday, Aug. 16, beginning at 6 to 10 p.m.

There will be four classes—A, B, C and D.

City Returns Walsh-av To Two Way

City Traffic Commission has approved the return of two-way traffic on Walsh-av and parking on the north side of the street only.



The action was taken after residents complained about the one-way plan, through the West Side Neighborhood Council.

Every typical American citizen must work three months and 16 days to pay his share of local, state and federal taxes for the year 1962.—Human

WINNERS ANNOUNCED

Open House Continues At Jefferson Savings

Jefferson Savings Association, celebrating the remodeling of its offices at 2 W. Main-st, West Jefferson, has been holding Open House since June 18, and will continue it until Aug. 1.

On July 14 a pair of table lamps and an electric razor were awarded to two lucky open house visitors whose names were drawn by Mayor Ray Carter.

During Open House each person starting a new savings account of $250 or adding this amount to his or her present account will receive a 12-piece set of Anchor-Hocking "Fire King" Coppertint Ovenware. Everyone who stops to see the newly finished quarters will be offered ice cream and coffee, and souvenir gifts. There will be candy and balloons for the children.

Charles A. Dozer, managing officer, said the officers and directors of Jefferson Savings Association "are very pleased with the number of folks who are taking advantage of the Coppertint ovenware offer, and are particularly gratified that so many friends and customers have stopped in during open house.

"We are continuing our celebration until Aug. 1 to give all an opportunity to visit and take advantage of our ovenware offer," he said.

Early Morning Parking Banned In Mid-City Area

Chief George W. Scholer has announced that Columbus police have been instructed to begin strict enforcement of a city ordinance which prohibits parking on certain streets in the downtown area between the hours of 3 a.m. and 7 a.m.

The parking ban will apply to all downtown streets in the area between Civic Center-dr and Fourth-st from Livingston-av to Spruce-st.

Scholer explained that the ban during the early morning hours is necessary to give the Service Department opportunity to operate the street cleaning equipment.

More than 201,000 Ohio workers owe their jobs to exports. This doesn't include the 14,700 workers in the state who owe their jobs to Ohio's agricultural exports.

Veteran Phone Operator Will Retire July 30

Mrs. Helen Norma O'Hara, veteran PBX switchboard operator at the State Office Building, retires July 30 after 34 years of service with Ohio Bell.

Mrs. O'Hara is the wife of George W. O'Hara, and the couple resides at 571 S. Oakley-av.

A native of Zanesville, Mrs. O'Hara spent much of her earlier years in Canton where she was graduated from Canton-Lehman High School. She began her telephone career in that city in 1925, but transferred back to Zanesville the following year.

Mrs. Helen O'Hara

During World War II she worked for the Southern Bell Telephone Company at Alexandria Army Air Field, Alexandria, La., as a switchboard operator and rejoined Ohio Bell Telephone here in 1946. She has been working at the Ohio Bell-operated state office switchboard since 1951.

X-15 MAY BE SEEN AT WESTGATE PARK DURING BEAN FEST

WORLD SPEED RECORD for winged aircraft was broken June 27 by pilot Joe Walker, Edwards Air Force Base, Cal., when he rocketed the X-15 to 4159 miles per hour. Another X-15 pilot, Air Force Major Bob White, the week before, set the world altitude mark with the X-15 by flying 250,000 feet in the air. The first man to fly a winged aircraft into space, he has been given astronaut's wings. The aircraft flys under the pilot's control through the atmosphere, in space and again in the landing mission. It was first flown aboard a mother ship in March, 1959; made a glide flight two months later, and made its first powered mission in September of the same year. The X-15 may be seen throughout the three-day Hilltop Bean Dinner, July 30, 31 and Aug. 1 at Westgate Park.

Pony Tail Contest Still Open

All little girls, eligible to enter the Pony Tail Contest but not registered, may still compete in the event, slated at the Hilltop Bean Dinner Tuesday, Aug. 31, 2 p.m.

Anyone 12 and under with a pony tail hair-do, living in the circulation areas of West Rural-Urban News, The Hilltop Record or West Side News, is eligible.

Little girls not registered may still enter by appearing at the band stand at Westgate Park at contest

Silver dollar prizes will be awarded the first three winners in each category, four and under, five through eight and nine through 12.

Five silver dollars will be awarded each first prize winner, two silver dollars for second place and one silver cartwheel for the third place winners.

BROTHER AND SISTER ACT!

WINNERS of the Hartley Newspapers Hilltop Bean Dinner contest, who competed by completing the sentence, "I like the Hilltop Bean Dinner because . . ." pose with Joseph Knapik, classified advertising manager of the newspapers. A brother and sister were the first and third prize winners this year. At left is Harry Wayne Conrad, nine, 1947 Vaughn-st, first prize winner holding part of his prize case of baked beans and, at right is his sister, Rita, 12, third prize winner, with five pounds of navy beans. Mrs. John Herbert, 1490 Little-av, second place, received 12 cans of baked beans as her prize.

PING PONG PADDLERS . . .

Lions, Kiwanians, Y's Men To Race At Harder Lake

With ping pong paddles as oars and club members as crews, the boat race between Hilltop Lions, Hilltop Kiwanians and Hilltop Y's Men will be staged on Westgate Park's Harder Lake at the Bean Dinner.

The popular event, discontinued for the past couple of years, will be revived as a two-night event.

Hilltop Lions and Hilltop Kiwanians will compete in the relay race Tuesday, 7 p.m., with the winning crew battling the cup-holders, Hilltop Y's Men, Wednesday evening at 7.

Meet Your Candidates

Voters attending the Bean Dinner will have the opportunity of seeing, first hand, some of the candidates for office who will be listed on the ballots in November.

They will be briefly introduced on the bandstand Monday and Tuesday evenings at 6:30. There will be no speeches.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Nelson Greene

Hilltop Business Association president, Nelson Greene, Jr., represents all HBA members in inviting the community to attend the annual three-day Bean Dinner, next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at Westgate Park.

His invitation, personally directed to all, is:

"For the past 20 years the Hilltop Business Association has held its annual Bean Dinner to thank its customers and friends in the community.

"This presents an opportunity for the residents in this area and in metropolitan Columbus to enjoy afternoons and evenings of festivity at Wesgate Park.

"The event this year will be held July 30 and 31 and Aug. 1.

"Free beans will be served each evening, so be sure to bring your family and friends to meet the business men and women who have appreciated your patronage."

Teen Dance Draws Crowd

An estimated 250 teenagers went to the Hawaiian luau and dance last Friday at Westgate Park. The dance was one of a series conducted this summer by the Hilltop Community Council and the City Recreation Department. Jim Arrington was emcee.

Theme for the next gathering in the open shelter house Friday, Aug. 3, will be "Western Style." Hours are 8 to 10:30 p.m. The dances are open to Hilltop youths only, age 13 to 19.

J. G. Harkins Retires From City Service

Columbus' long time communications director for the police and fire departments has submitted his resignation to Safety Director Albert Giles.

James G. Harkins, 70, of 2771 Rosedale-av, who went to work for the city in 1928 is credited to have built the communications system into one of the finest in the nation.

Harkins, who submitted his resignation Monday, directed installation of the fire department's own radio system in 1948 and the new police and fire communications system last September.

The new system which cost $375,000 permits direct conversation between the caller and fire communications, which allows the office to obtain more detailed information.

The retiring director has been ill for several months and said he did not feel he could continue working full time. George Brannan, radio division foreman, has been acting as superintendent during Harkin's illness.

Giles reported that he is now looking for a permanent man to fill the vacancy.

To hope means hoping when things are hopeless, or it is no virtue at all.—G. K. Chesterton

Care Is Urged To Halt Increase In Garage Fires

Because of the increasing number of residential garage fires in Columbus, the Bureau of Fire Prevention said it must warn everyone of the dangers of careless and illegal trash and rubbish burning. Most of these garage fires are the result of unattended fires, according to the bureau.

A city ordinance states that "dry paper, cardboard, leaves and wood may be burned on residential property in a non-combustible container after sunrise and before sunset, and that a competent person must remain in the immediate vicinity of the fire until it is out."

The bureau said common precautions must be observed, such as not burning rubbish on windy days, allowing safe distances between the burner and building or other combustibles, and keeping small children away.

Persons have been severely burned or even lost their lives by standing too near fires and in several recent instances, the trash fire has extended not only to the garage, but to the home itself.

Ask Permission For Restaurant

Robert R. Grove, 2729 Rosedale-av, is seeking a variance from the Board of Zoning to establish a restaurant at 831 S. Richardson-av in a one-to-four family residential district.

A public hearing will be held before the board in council chambers, second floor, City Hall, at 2 p.m. Friday, July 27.

McKINLEY-AV 'RACE COURSE' To BECOME $156,000 STRAIGHTAWAY

SPORTS CAR DRIVERS will have to find another "run" after Nov. 30. Construction on the McKinley-av curves near Marblecliff Quarries should be completed by that time at an estimated cost of $156,000. The C. G. Jackson Construction Co. was awarded the contract by Franklin County to take out the dangerous bends. Pictured above are four of the curves in the ½ mile stretch. Workmen are now starting the new bridge for the straighter road. The county decided to take the action because of the heavy truck traffic in the area.

THREE Ohio boys designed and built these smartly styled miniature automobiles of the 1962 Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild competition. All three entries won first state awards of $150 each, then went on to win regional honors, which entitles the boys to an expense paid trip to the Guild convention in Detroit from July 31 to Aug. 3. The upper car was built by Thomas V. Lonchar, 19, of Euclid. The center car was entered by David R. Morgan, 16, of Fairview Park. The lower was designed by Robert E. Riley, Jr., 16, of 3841 Fisher-rd, in Columbus' West Side.

Bob Riley Named Top Car Builder

A West Side resident has been named by the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild as one of three Ohio teen-age boys who are among the nation's best model car designers and builders.

Robert E. Riley, Jr., 3841 Fisher-rd along with Thomas Longchar of Euclid, and David Morgan, Fairview Park have been selected as first state and regional winners in the 1962 Guild competition.

As regional winners, each of the boys has already won $150 in cash. The model cars now compete with other regional winners for one of 18 university scholarships valued at $1000 to $5000 each. All three of the young designers will attend the expense paid four-day convention in Detroit starting on July 31. The winners of the $38,000 in scholarships will be announced the first evening at the awards banquet.

Riley's entry in the Guild competition required about 200 hours to finish. It is a metallic grey sports convertible which features exposed side mufflers and wire wheels. Bob wants to attend Purdue University after graduation from Franklin Heights High School.

West Side Plans Shift Over Funds

The Urban Renewal Commission subcommittee recommended Tuesday that near West Side projects be handled by the City Planning Commission after U-R director John Willison reported that there aren't enough funds in his department to take care of them.

The West Side project, stressing rehabilitation of the lower West Side, was first submitted to Mayor Ralston Westlake nearly two months ago. Spearheading the drive are the Gladden Community House and the West Side Neighborhood Council.

The only hope for additional urban renewal funds to work on the project, Willison said, would come if the voters approved a new bond issue. The city's $5 million bond issue approved in 1956 will be exhausted when the renewal commission completes five projects being worked on now.

girls' four-square Rita Kozacovsky and Patty Thompson are still champs.

Last Wednesday, preliminary drama festivals were held throughout the city. At Eakin nine plays were presented by children from Eakin, Georgian Heights, Westgate and Binns playgrounds. Eakin won with a skit entitled "The Wolf and the Seven Little Kids." Participants in this skit were: Danny Martin, Diane Howard, Sharon Howard, Marsha Merz, Liz Hackett, Mike Hackett, Joey Clark, David Mall, Thelma Priest, Cathy Barr, Maky Oglesbee, Katy Oglesbee, Ronnie Cohagen, Mike Cohagen, Debbie Miller and Erlina Miller.

Friday evening, these same children presented this skit at Sunshine Recreation Center in the West Side finals.

This Friday, Eakin will participate in the lantern parade to be held at Westgate Park. Eakin's theme is "Circus." Lanterns made by the children from wire, crepe, paper mache and cardboard will be displayed.

Eakin intermediate boys' softball team beat the Westgate Reds, 12-6, last week. The intermediate girls' team won from West Mound and lost to the Westgate Cons. The junior boys lost to West Mound.

Tennis tournament will be held July 23. Anyone interested should sign up at the park.

Glenwood won first place in the sectional drama show held at Sunshine Playground. Glenwood's entry was "The Three Bears." The cast included: Linda Baker, 162 Columbian-av, as narrator; Charlene Davis, 136 Columbian-av, as Goldilocks; Kenneth, Larry and Marvin Hamiter of 207 Clarendon-av, as the three bears.

Others in the cast were Linda Kilby, 171 Lechner-av; Linda and Bonnie Baker, 156 Lechner-av; Kathy Peterson, 186 Columbian-av; Patty Baker, 162 Columbian-av; Larry and Christine Davis, 136 S. Columbian-av.

The finals in the drama festival were held Friday evening, July 20, at various places around the city. Glenwood repeated its final performance at Sunshine.

at West Mound

A drama festival was held at West Mound Playground July 18. Children from John Burroughs, Highland, Holton and West Mound presented skits for a live audience and a panel of three judges.

John Burroughs' "Chorus Girls of J.B." was chosen to represent the area at the drama festival at Sunshine, July 20.

West Mound's production of "Spaghetti" was given second place honors. Participating were: Randy Barnes, Bobbie Carroll, Luke Johnson, Janet Nelson, Sandy Johnson, Barbara Nelson, Mike Johnson, Connie Ward, Danny Skinner and Allen Schilling, director.

Dick Skinner is still in the city-wide competition in intermediate boys' tetherball. Dick has bested challengers from Hauntz, Highland and Holton and will face the winner of the John Burroughs-Westgate game during the coming week.

Everyone has been working hard this past week on lanterns for tomorrow night's parade at Westgate. Over 20 West Mounders are expected to show during the evening.

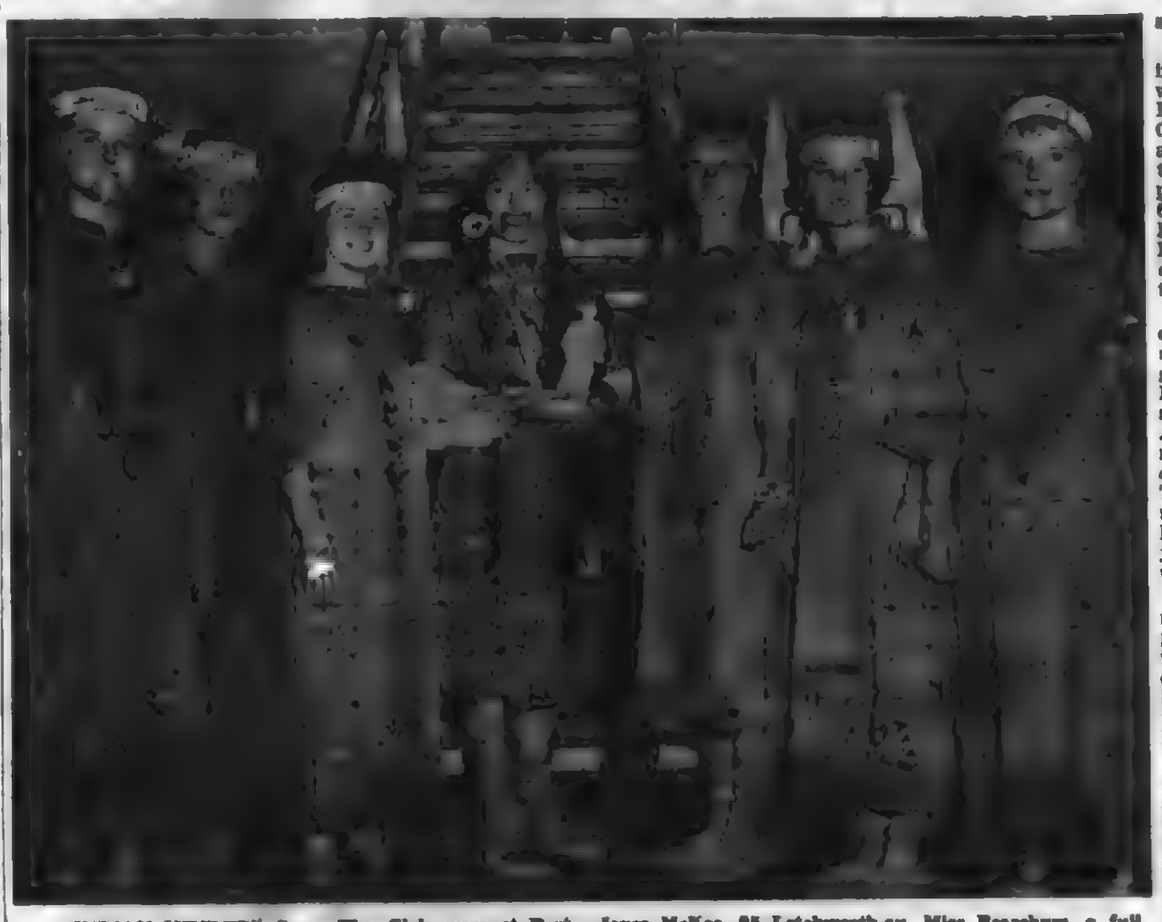
Crafts for the coming week will include gimp bracelets and lanyards, basket weaving and egg shell mosaics.

Junior Jet results for the week are: Bucks 7, Marlins 0; Braves 8, Colts 3; Colts 7, st. just across the railroad. Marlins 0; Yanks 16, Marlins 4.

As of Friday, the standings in the league show the Colts and Bucks in first place followed by the Yanks, Braves and Marlins.

Tom Morgan was West Mound's representative at Jet Stadium for Kiwanis Night.

West Mound's junior boys' softball team now has a 2-2 record. This week, they defeated Eakin, 10-0.



The intermediate boys lost to Chicago, 19-18 and the seniors defeated Sunshine by forfeit.

Gil Rankin pitched a no-hitter against Eakin in the junior softball game.

Intermediate girls lost to Eakin by forfeit.

CAMP FIRE DAY CAMP PLANNED

It's An Indian Summer For These Girls

"INDIAN MINDED" Camp Fire Girls were at Port Columbus July 16 to meet Miss Brenda Bearchum, 18, the 1961-62 Miss Indian America VIII, from Sheridan, Wyo., who was appearing at the Indian Lore Festival at Magnetic Springs. Left to right are: LeAnne M. McLaughlin, 337 S. Chase-av; Diana Curry, 88 Letchworth-av; Shirley Miller, 367 Diane-blvd; Miss Bearchum; Linda Rittenhouse, 84 S. Brinker-av; Vicki Hastings, 241 Guernsey-av; Joyce McKee, 35 Letchworth-av. Miss Bearchum, a full blooded Indian, holds a statuette of Christopher Columbus which was presented to her by the Camp Fire Girls through the courtesy of Robert Hampton of the Great Western Branch of the Buckeye Federal Savings and Loan Association. The day camping groups also gave her a Camp Fire charm bracelet.

News 'n' Notes of Camp Fire Girls

Blue Bird Camp Fire Horizon Club Girls of the Southwest District of Columbus and Franklin County Council of Camp Fire Girls are living and playing the "Indian Way" these days. Theme of their program for Day Camp Aug. 6 to 11 and Aug. 13 to 18, at Darby Creek Metropolitan Park will be about "Ohio Indians, Their Lore and Culture."

The campers will be divided into Indian tribes representing those tribes which migrated to Ohio. The Ottawa, Erie, Miami, Delaware, Shawnee, tribes will be represented. Adult leaders will assume the names of the important Indian chiefs such as Pontiac, Little Turtle, Cornstalk, Logan, to name just a few. These adult leaders will be assisted by 45 junior counselors who also will take on Indian names.

A camp totem pole will be made which will be a composite of all clans. Peace pipes will be smoked and the games of skill such as Indian wrestling and the challenges will take place at the Council Ring.

All who were signed up for Day Camping at Darby Metropolitan Park will hear about the Miss Indian America VIII (Brenda Bearchum) who was selected to reign over 500 actual Indian tribes for the year 1961-1962.

Several Camp Fire junior counselors were on hand to meet Miss Bearchum at Port Columbus when she arrived July 16. Miss Bearchum, from Sheridan, Wyo., participated in the four-day Ohio Indian Lore Festival at Magnetic Springs. She will also crown the new "Miss Indian America" at the "All American Indian Days" festival at Sheridan, Aug. 3-4-5.

Food Permits For Fair Due August 10

State Fair food handlers' permits should be obtained from the Columbus Board of Health prior to Aug. 10, Dr. Ollie M. Goodloe, city health commissioner, reported.

A communicable disease examination, including chest X-ray, must be taken in order to obtain a permit. Examinations are given free at the health and safety center, 181 Washington-blvd.

The health clinic for food handlers is open from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. and from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. It will be closed to fair workers after Aug. 10.

Persons who wish to make application for work at this year's Ohio State Fair are requested to apply at the Ohio State Employment Service fair office which will be located adjacent to the administration building on the fairgrounds beginning Aug. 13.

Unclaimed Auto Auction Dated

Columbus Police Department is rolding a public automobile auction of automobiles held by the department 90 days or more and unclaimed. There will be approximately 150 of these cars for sale.

Sale will be held at 10 a.m., Saturday, July 28, at the Police Auto Pound, W. Whittier-st. just across the railroad.

ONE WILL REIGN AS 'KING OF THE HILLTOP'

FOUR CANDIDATES, representing four area service clubs, are competing for the "King Of The Hilltop" title and will be crowned at the Bean Dinner Tuesday evening. Winner will be determined by balloting, with voting done by money placed in the containers displayed in business firms throughout the area. Proceeds from the event will be given to the Hilltop YMCA Swimming Pool Fund. From left are, Hilltop Lions' candidate, Bob Case, 236 Powhatan-av, owner of Hilltop Swimming Club and the miniature golf course at Great Western; Hilltop Y's Men's John Clay, 328 N. Warren-av, of Clay Printing Co., 193 S. Ogden-av, Hilltop Kiwanian Bill Jones, 5949 Timberbrook-ln, manager of City National Bank Hilltop Office, and Howard Wilson, West Franklin Kiwanian, 89 Powhatan-av, Hilltop attorney and coordinator of student activities at West High.

James Murphy

Hilltop's Santa Maria Council 2966, Knights of Columbus, has chosen James Murphy, 710 S. Terrace-av, as their "Knight of the Year."

The honor is given for outstanding work in the phase of Columbianism. In bestowing the local man with the honor the Santa Maria Council reported that he "has made the Columbian Squire Circle 871 one of the outstanding circles in the state."

Purpose of this group is to educate boys between the ages of 14 and 18 in civic, religious and patriotic duties. Murphy was chief counsellor of Bishop Ready Circle 871.

The award was presented at a dance held at Valley Dale on July 20. In addition, Murphy was recently appointed state district chief counsellor.

Men and their actions must be seen in proper perspective; some are judged best close at hand, some at a distance. — Rochefoucauld

Speed-up Is Urged By West Council

Stepping up efforts to secure completion of action on its proposed traffic recommendations, the traffic committee of the West Side Neighborhood Council again sent a letter to Jack Gallagher, city traffic engineer.

Frank Schneider, committee chairman, said the letter contained the following main points: the return of two-way traffic flow to Walsh-av, with parking on the north side; the installation of yield and stop signs on streets in the Hamilton Addition; forwarding of a petition from residents of Ryan-av, requesting parking on one side; and an inquiry regarding further action on original traffic proposals.

These proposals include the installation of one-way traffic flow on Town and Rich-sts; stop signs at Glenwood and Broad, Davis and Town; neon lights under the expressway crossings of Town, Rich, Sullivant and Greenlawn; exclusion of truck traffic from West Side residential streets; elimination of left hand turn at Souder and Mound; installation of traffic lights at the expressway off ramps on Town, Rich and Greenlawn; and the revamping of Mound-Central intersection.

Annual philanthropy in the U.S. reached an all-time high of $8.7 billions during 1961 and it is estimated that, by 1975, it may exceed $15 billions.

Vess Caps Worth Cash To Groups

More than 65 organizations in Columbus are taking pare in Vess Beverage Company "cash for bottle caps" plan.

The locally-owned company will pay to any nonprofit, charitable or service organization one-half cent for every bottle cap from 3V Cola, Whistle, White Rock, Vess Flavors, Hires Root Beer and Bubble-Up. According to Vess, the caps are worth twice as much as the seals or caps on other products with similar charity plans.

Bottle caps must be presented in quantities of 150 and taken to Vess, 1655 W. Fifth-av, for redemption any Tuesday or Wednesday from noon to 3 p.m. Caps must be sorted by product into bags (preferably plastic).

Checks will be sent to recognized organizations and cannot be made payable to individuals, Vess officials said.

BELL TELEPHONE PROUDLY PRESENTS 'TELEMOBILE'

A COMMUNICATION SHOWCASE on wheels that can also be used as an emergency telephone center will be displayed at the Hilltop Bean Dinner Monday, July 30 and Tuesday, July 31. The dual-purpose Telemobile has its own power generating system, five coin telephones for public use and two radio telephones. In the event a disaster occurs which disrupts regular telephone service in a community, the vehicle can be driven to the location and three switchboards, which are part of its equipment, connected quickly to outside lines so that the entire unit will function as a communications headquarters until normal service is resumed. Also featured in the Telemobile is a display of telephone equipment ranging from the latest colored instruments to switchboards, teletype machines, local and long distance dialing apparatus and the new solar battery which converts energy from the sun into electricity. Echo I, the first space communications satellite, and a plan for an active satellite system covering the world is also included in the Telemobile display.

KAY COULSON, 13, 2337 Midland-av, will present a baton-twirling act, using fire, at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday, at the Bean Dinner.

Free Posies Are Offered To Brides

Complete floral arrangements for a wedding — the best exclusive Garrison's Bridal Flowers can offer — will help make her dream wedding come true for some lucky engaged girl.

For the third year, Garrison's gift at the Bean Dinner will be fabulous flowers for a complete wedding from bouquets and boutonnieres for the bridal party to corsages for mothers and decorations for church and reception.

Anyone planning to be married within the next year is eligible to enter.

Brides-elect may register by depositing coupons, clipped from the ad appearing on this page or secured from Garrison's booth in the YMCA tent at the Bean Dinner, in the container beside the booth.

Drawings will be made Wednesday evening at 10 on the bandstand. The winner need not be present at the time.

The only floral shop in Columbus specializing exclusively in weddings, Garrison's business is located at 48 N. Powell.

The firm, fully equipped to handle each floral detail from the smallest ceremony to the most elaborate church, temple or club wedding, also supplies unique aisle decorations and many types of candelabra and arches.

Each wedding is planned individually and serviced free of charge by a staff of trained personnel.

Origin of the phrase "rule of thumb" stems from ancient times when a unit of measure was provided by the distance from the tip of the thumb to the knuckle, or to the second joint, according to the 1962 Britannica Book of the Year.

Match Box Derby Patterned After Soap Box Race Rules

A Matchbox Derby, with rules of racing modeled after the Soap Box classic, will bring silver dollar prizes to owners of winning models at the event, slated Tuesday afternoon at 2.

Standard kits may be purchased at the Hilltop YMCA for 40 cents. Cub Scouts who have made models for previous Match Box Derbies may enter their cars.

Specifications of size and weight are posted at the Hilltop YMCA or Hilltop Business Association office, 2552 W. Broad-st.

All models must be entered at the Hilltop Y by noon, July 31.

Hilltop boys, 12 and under, are eligible to compete.

Camp Fire Girls

The Me Ka Kwa Camp Fire Girls—Debbie Barker, Patricia Kinsworthy, Pam Foote, Susan McCann, Daryl Mueller, Patti Wheeler, Pamela White and Patricia White—met at the home of their co-guardian, Mrs. Clyde McCann to work on entries for the State Fair and on their Torch Bearer requirements. Mrs. James White is their guardian.

A program was planned for the Great Western Shopping Center Camp Fire Girls Day, Sept. 22, at a meeting at the home of the committee chairman, Mrs. Jeanne Sutherland. Members of her committee present were Mrs. Pat Hobbs, Mrs. Jo Ann White, Mrs. Nancy Truelove, Mrs. Fern Dellinger, Mrs. Jerri Brandt and Mrs. Thelma Sorg. Mrs. Dianna Haist, district director, also attended the meeting.

IN MARINES

MARINE PVT. Lowell T. Titus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Titus of 28 Rodgers-av, has completed four weeks of individual combat training with the Second Infantry Training Regiment at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

ENDS COURSE

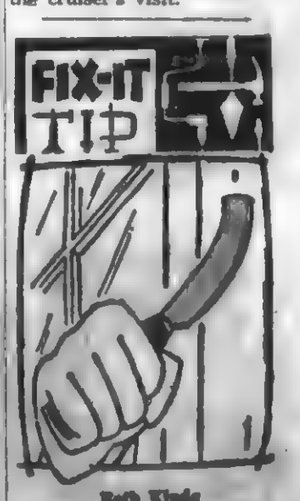
PVT. CHARLES H. SCHAFER, 24, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clem R. Owens, live at 3257 Parkside-rd, recently completed the communications center specialist course at the Army Signal Training Center, Fort Gordon, Ga. Schafer is a 1956 graduate of West High School and was employed by United Sheet Metal Company, before entering the army.

West Sider Finds 1897 Fair Relic

Souvenirs provide memories and one of the oldest known souvenirs of the Ohio State Fair had Fair officials remembering last week.

Earl Artrip, 976 Thomas-av, dug up a small boat made out of sea shells with the inscription "Ohio State Fair-1897" while working in his backyard. He called fair officials about his 65-year-old find. The boat, still in perfect condition, was identified as a souvenir of the 1897 exposition.

The lettering and the coloring are hardly worn and there is no rust on the small metal chain and anchor. Artrip had no idea how the small souvenir made its way into his backyard.



Fairgoers attending the 107th annual State Fair, Aug. 24 through Sept. 3, are expected to buy thousands of souvenirs ranging from pennants to figurines. These souvenirs will one day remind them of the 1962 State Fair just as the small boat brings back memories of the 1897 Ohio State Fair.

TB X-Rays Are Added To Bean Dinner

The Christmas Seal X-ray cruiser will provide free chest X-rays at the Hilltop Bean Dinner, Westgate Park, July 30 and 31 and Aug. 1, according to the Tuberculosis Society and the Hilltop Business Association, co-sponsors for the X-ray program.

The cruiser will operate from 5 to 10 p.m. Monday and from 3 to 10 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday, according to Charles H. Campbell, chairman for the general public X-ray survey. Christmas seal X-rays spot suspected contagious tuberculosis and other serious respiratory diseases, such as emphysema, sarcoidosis and silicosis.

Bert Korte, of the Hilltop YMCA, is chairman of special X-ray promotion committee. Pastors of 38 Hilltop churches have been asked to distribute pamphlets encouraging participation in the X-ray program. These will be distributed to church-goers prior to the cruiser's visit.

Both Kinds

It's a good idea to have both a stiff putty knife and a flexible one when you repair. The stiff knife is best for puttying around windows and for scraping off loose paint. The flexible knife is better for smoothing out filler when you repair holes and cracks in plaster and wood.

AF Recovery Units Of Ohio Go On Active Duty

A SIMULATED RECOVERY exercise is conducted by the Columbus Reserve Recovery unit. The Columbus Fire Department cooperates in the mission by making available its own Port Columbus crash equipment (seen at far right).

Citizen-airmen from 39 central Ohio counties, assigned to Air Force Reserve Recovery units, reported Sunday, July 22, for their first two-week unit active duty tour.

Recovery units include the 8378th Air Force Recovery Group located at Fort Hayes, the 9223rd Air Force Recovery Squadron at Port Columbus, and the 9224th Air Force Reserve Recovery Squadron at Springfield Municipal Airport.

Colonel Edward M. Dawson, Jr. of Columbus, commands the 8378th Group with Lt. Colonel Oren L. Jefferies of Worthington, Commanding the 9223rd Squadron, and Major Oliver A. Waggoner of Bellbrook, Ohio commanding the 9224th Squadron.

Activated in July 1961, these Recovery units along with others throughout the nation man a network of emergency landing fields available to military aircraft in the event of a national emergency. Under the command of Continental Air Command these Recovery Units are comprised of teams of crash-rescue, refueling, firefighting, decontamination, medical, aircraft maintenance, communication, supply, radiological survey, and security personnel, trained to provide emergency service with equipment, facilities and "know how."

The Columbus and Springfield units have conducted several simulated recovery exercises with Air Force aircraft. During the active duty tour additional training will be accomplished on Air Force tactical aircraft in order that the units may be more effective in their mission of strengthening our nation's defense posture.

Although the units will train at specific locations, mobility plans are being developed which will enable them to move to other facilities in the central Ohio area.

The Recovery Mission was developed because of the necessity for reflex action in event of a national emergency. Instead of weeks and months to react to a national emergency, time has shrunk to minutes in this ballistic missile age.

Former military service personnel interested in more information on the central Ohio Recovery units may call the 8378th Group at Fort Hayes. Positions are now available for persons qualified in certain speciality classifications.

ONE OF THE ARTISTS who will have a display at the Central Point Shopping Center's "Sidewalk Art Show and Sale" will be Mrs. Phyllis Spochner, 2778 Sherwood-rd.

Central Point Fetes 'Sidewalk Art Show and Sale,' July 27, 28

Central Point will be taking on the atmosphere of the Paris left bank on Friday and Saturday, July 27 and 28 when the center's merchants' association stages its "First Annual Sidewalk Art Show and Sale."

Association officials reported that the show will not be limited to display only. Numerous artists will be painting with water colors while others will sketch people on the walks.

Most of their works will be for sale at moderate prices. Exhibits will be displayed from noon until 9 p.m.

Something to enhance the interest of the event will be the personal appearance of Columbus Sesquicentennial Queen Sue Zollinger at 3 p.m.

Late July marks the time when stores are clearing summer stock to make way for fall merchandise. All Central Point stores, located at W. Mound at Central-av, will be loaded this week-end with "bargain buys."

Attain Dean's List

Pamela A. Mobley, 342 Letchworth-av, and Richard H. Sines, 139 S. Westmoor-av, have been placed on the Miami University Deans' List for the spring semester.

National prisoner statistics unit of the U.S. bureau of prisons reported in March, 1961, that 57 prisoners were executed in the nation during 1960, fewest in any year for which records exist, except for 1956-1959.

City Stalls Engineering, Tennis Funds

City Council, crippled this week by absenteeism, postponed until 3 p.m. next Monday any action on funds for more engineering on the Wilson-rd extension project and for resurfacing tennis courts at Westgate Park. The engineering expenditure will amount to $21,000.

Thirty-day legislation, of local interest, which reached council asks for the prohibitation of parking between 4 and 6 p.m. on the north side of Sullivant-av, from Central to Guilford-av.

The city has awarded $500 to Mrs. Woodrow (Doris) Edwards for injuries suffered May 17 when she fell through a city sewer manhole.

Players Guild Of Prairie Twp. Changes Name

The Players Guild of Prairie Township has adopted a resolution to change the name of this community theater group to "Prairie Players." The name change became effective at the general membership meeting held last month.

The first activity under the new name was a presentation of a children's play "Niccolo and Nicolette", at the Lancaster Methodist Camp Grounds. This play, which was very well received when presented in Columbus, was attended by more than 400.

The next production, "The Seven Year Itch" will be presented Sept. 28th and 29th. It will be produced by Richard Ireland and directed by Mrs. Paul Noblitt.

The next general meeting will be held at 8 p.m. Sunday, July 29, at El Rancho Gun Club, 141 Doherty-rd, just west of the El Rancho Motel, 5800 W. Broad-st. For information call Mrs. Richard Butler, 878-4744.

Street Sweep Resumes Today; Schedule Given

West Side Neighborhood Council's annual street sweeping program was to resume today, Glen Beach, chairman of the Health Committee announced.

The annual event is made possible by an agreement between the council and the Street Maintenance Department.

The street cleanings will occur consecutively every Wednesday until Aug. 8.

Occupants are asked by council to remove their cars and other vehicles from the streets being cleaned. Most streets will not be posted, but official Neighborhood Council notices will be delivered to all residents prior to cleaning dates.

Following is a schedule of Wednesday, July 25, and Wednesday, Aug. 1, with the sides to be cleaned:

Rezoning Appeals Are Reviewed

New petitions to be presented before the City Planning Commission, 9 a.m. Wednesday, July 25, include the rezoning of six lots on the south side of Rickenbacher-av, east of Emerson-av, from one to four family residential district to a commercial district. The Southworth Poultry Firm wants to construct off-street parking and a metal loading garage.

Also to be discussed is the Westgate Recreation Center in Westgate Park at the northeast corner of Westgate-av and Parkside-rd.

The final plat of Holly Hill Subdivision was to be reviewed.

City Hall Employe Retiring After 34 Years Of Service

Mrs. Albert W. (Frances) Ept, of 136 Haldy-av, a 34-year employe with the City Division of Public Lands and Buildings, is retiring Friday, July 27.

In her honor, Mayor Westlake has proclaimed Friday

Frances Ept

"Frances L. Ept Day."

In his proclamation the mayor said that "Frances L. Ept is a lady who shows love and respect for her friends and associates—kindly, gracious and friendly, she has given generously of herself during the years." The mayor referred to her as "trouble shooter" in the city's office of Public Lands and Buildings.

Mrs. Ept opened the first switchboard in City Hall, Mar. 16, 1928, under an appointment from Col. William H. Duffy, then director of public service. Ten years ago she became an intermediate clerk concerned with payroll duties, a position she has held until the present.

A testimonial dinner was given last week at Desert Inn by a committee of co-workers. A money tree (a live flowering crab tree with about $150 in bills pinned to it) was presented to her, along with other gifts.

Next Thursday, luncheon will be held for Mrs. Ept at the Jai-Lai by office associates. Friday, a tea will be held in the department office for city employes.

Mrs. Ept received an all-day salute July 23 on WCOL.

Her husband, Albert W., is on disability retirement after 40 years as an engineer for the C&O Railroad. He once operated the Hilltop Riding Academy.

What are Mrs. Ept's plans for the future? First she's going to Michigan and then she's going to do some "politickin'" for the Republicans this fall.

Old Photos Can Help Tell Of City's Past

Prized photos, picturing another era, another way of life, are being sought by Hartley Newspapers for use in their historical issue to be published next month.

This issue, commemorating Columbus' Sesquicentennial, will tell the story in words and pictures of Franklinton and Columbus, their beginnings and growth.

Pictures that are applicable to the subject and of a quality to be reproduced in the newspaper will be used in the issue and then returned to their owners.

Persons having such pictures are asked to bring them or mail them to the office, 2465 W. Broad-st. All should be clearly marked with the owner's name, address and phone number.

3 Local Cadets Are Training At Indiantown Gap

Three local cadets are scheduled to complete six weeks of training at the Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) summer camp at Indiantown Gap Military Reservation, Pa., Aug. 3.

They are active in the ROTC program at Ohio State University.

Cadet Leslie E. Wilson, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl H. Wilson, 2977 Palmetto-st, was graduated from West High School in 1959.

Cadet Richard A. Barrett, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert F. Barrett, 175 Binns-blvd, is a 1959 graduate of Holy Family High School.

Cadet Fred G. Gunderson, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Gunderson, 60 Letchworth-av, was graduated from Aquinas College High School in 1959.

Big Deals Often Turn Out To Be Peanuts

Pressure, pressure, pressure.

This evening's experience here on the French River reminds me of business back home.

As I grab a handful of peanuts and head for a nearby pickerel hole it's like looking forward with anxiety to opening the morning mail . . . always expecting something good to pop out.

The anchor is overboard and hook baited with a choice minnow and lowered into some 30 feet of cool water.

Then it happens: A tug, then another, and up I pull. But no fish and no minnow!

Performance repeated! Another nibble. Then a real jolt. And the windup reveals the same nothingness.

Again, again and again. And then finally success number one — a keeper.

Then as fast as I bait up, number two and number three, each one just a little bigger. This is a real big deal. I've even forgotten the peanuts. Too busy to eat them. Too much pressure!

Now . . . a period of quiet. Someone must be tampering with business. The customers are gone. But wait! Wow . . . what a crash! My reel spins and I start winding in and after a few moments I have the answer to the problem. I've hooked Mr. Pike, a big one probably two feet long, but as his head reaches the surface he is able to take off for the deep again.

Ever find yourself sitting on top of a big deal and suddenly someone noses in on you?

Yes, just like business. Oh well, the pressure is off now. So I guess I'll be satisfied with peanuts!

Evening Reflections: Tall pine trees with their arms stretched out to the heavens offering up thanks for another lovely day . . . white birch leaves in their premature fall attire of yellow due to a long midsummer thirst . . . white gulls on evening patrol looking for a last stray morsel like a kid who visits the refrigerator before going to bed . . . the still of dusk broken by a wailing loon who sends his message to the little woman advising her he is on the way home for the night . . . the breezes come to a lingering halt as Mother Nature tucks each little ripple in for a much needed rest . . . and far down across Twilight Bay a last patch of sunlight continues to try to hold on to today.

Small World: It's always nice to know that wherever you are in the world today you are likely to run onto someone from home. And it's nice to share reminiscences of far away places . . . For two weeks it has been pleasurable to have our neighbors Paul and Eileen Lugger and sons, John and Jerry, nearby in the Dr. R. J. Miller cottage . . . And a nice little visit from our good friends Lowell and Evelyn Shroyer who are vacationing on the west shore of Lake Nipissing . . . Emmett Seely and the Mrs. will join up with them this week as will Mr. and Mrs. Bill Southworth . . . And for five days we had the pleasure of having Bruce and Marcie Tanner put their feet under our table. Bruce complained about me throwing back "small" fish and Marcie caught her first fish. . . . Come this Friday I will be joined for a week's fishing derby by Howard Lloyd, Joe

HELP! HELP! WE NEED PIX

Can YOU help us?

Hartley Newspapers are in need of pictures to illustrate the story of the founding and growth of Columbus to be told in the sesquicentennial edition to be published next month.

Of particular interest are pictures of former landmarks no longer a part of the city scene — the covered wooden bridge across W. Broad-st, stage coach stops in and around town, and old buildings and street scenes.

Anyone owning such pictures is asked to call the newspaper office, BR. 4-1155 and ask for Betty Daft.

All borrowed pictures will be returned, undamaged, to their owners.

BEAN-QUET FIT FOR A KING, and queens too, are the fare at the Hilltop Bean Dinner, running through tonight. Enjoying a heaping plate of them is King of the Hilltop Bob Case, the Hilltop Lions Club entry. Queen Julie Anderson, 15, is trying to make sure he doesn't soil his shirt. King Bob and Queen Julie will be on the grounds this afternoon and evening for various events.

AT WESTGATE PARK . . .

Half-Ton Of Beans Left For Final Day

By Patty Hartley

Beans, balloons, beans, boat races, beans, beauty contests and beans — all have been in abundance at the 1962 Hilltop Bean Dinner being held through this evening at Westgate Park.

A stroll around the grounds brought sights of happy families, lost children, candy-smeared faces, an enthusiastic tot tumbling into Harder Lake as he watched the boat races, the older folks with their lawn chairs, and everywhere people eating beans.

Highlight of the three-day event was crowning of the royalty. Queen Julie Anderson, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Richard Anderson, 202 S. Algonquin-av, was crowned by Mrs. Ralston Westlake and was presented a silver tray and certificate for a modeling course. All she could stammer was, "I was very surprised."

Hilltop Lions Club brought their King of the Hilltop candidate to victory for the second straight year as Robert Case was announced winner of the penny vote which has been going on for the past several weeks. Case stated, "I'm tickled for the YMCA pool fund." C. H. Campbell, executive secretary of the Hilltop Business Association, sponsors of the Bean Dinner, said that balloting brought in $390, a little under last year's total.

RUNNERS-UP

Runners-up in the queen contest were Judy Dale, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Dale, 54 S. Terrace-av, and Sandy Elliott, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Elliott, 3969 Randell-rd. Judges for the event were Mary Selleck, Carol Miller, Bill McCormick, Judge Bruce Jenkins and Mayor and Mrs. Ralston Westlake. Dean Lewis of WBNS was announcer.

Categories for judging were poise, charm, voice and appearance. Runners-up received $25 savings bonds. A preliminary contest on Monday night narrowed the field to eight candidates.

Joe Briggs, in charge of things at the bean building, said of participation: "Very gratifying. Members called upon to do the job were here to do it. Exceptional!" He reported that about 700 pounds

Nurse-Missionaries To Be Commissioned

Janet and Janis Harvey twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Harvey, 648 S. Harris-av, will be commissioned as missionaries at a special 10 a.m. service honoring them Sunday, Aug. 5, at Burgess Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church.

The women have been appointed by the Board of Missions of the EUB church to serve on the nursing staff of the hospital at the denomination's mission station at Espanola, N. Mex., and will leave for that assignment on Aug. 13.

They are graduates of West High School and the Ohio State University School of Nursing.

Stayton James, representative of the Division of Home Missions, will be guest speaker at the service. A presentation will be made to the girls and a commissioning ceremony read.

Rev. Irvin H. Lane, pastor of Burgess Avenue EUB, said the public is invited to the service.

Papers Rate High In AHNA Contest

Hartley Newspapers scored three high honors this week in a nationwide competition. They were among winners of the Better Newspapers Contest revealed at the annual meeting of Accredited Home Newspapers Association in Washington, D.C.

The Hilltop Record and West Side News won honorable mention for general excellence in the 10,000-to-30,000 circulation category. A similar award went to the Eastern Review for "best typography."

The column "Inside on the Outdoors," written by Rod Cochran of Darbycrest, earned honorable mention in the "best local feature column" division. Appearing in all Hartley Newspapers, the column was entered by the West Rural-Urban News.

Only one first prize and fewer than six honorable mentions were granted in each category of the contest.

Valleyview Seeks Legal Control On Picketing

By ED CHURCHILL

"The village of Valleyview is caught between the devil and the deep blue sea."

At least that's the way an observer at a special meeting of the Valleyview Village Council Monday night put it.

The meeting was called by Robert Fisher, village mayor, in the hope that some way could be found to prevent what he feels will be inevitable violence at the Hilltop Swim Club, 2737 Valleyview-dr.

Which is the devil and which is the deep blue sea was not made clear, but the reference was to: 1. The Congress on Racial Equality pickets at the pool; and 2. West Columbus teenage groups and Negro groups from outside of the village who go there "looking for trouble."

The pool is being picketed because of, say CORE officials, "illegal racial discrimination" on the part of pool owner Robert Case.

To add to the troubles, Valleyview residents feel that the news media were not reporting the whole story, and Case has refused to do anything but sit and watch.

Three tentative agreements were proposed by the council.

The first would be a ban on parking or stopping along Valleyview-dr, which would eliminate congestion and keep traffic moving through, eliminating much of the chance for intimidation.

The second decision was to give Frank Dillon, village marshal, the authority to break up what he considered to be any "potentially dangerous" group of people, which would include both the pickets and the outsiders.

The final move was to table

'Need Positive Thinking On Wilson-rd Effort'—Mayor

Columbus' Mayor Ralston Westlake said he will try to arrange a meeting with county commissioners "yet this week" to enlist county cooperation in extending Wilson-rd south from Broad-st to Sullivant-av. The area in between lies half in the county and half in the city.

An ordinance to spend $21,000 in city funds for more engineering on the project drew strong criticism from two councilmen Monday. Observing that Columbus already has spent several thousand dollars on preliminary studies and needed easements, Councilmen Robert Southwick and Tom Moody said no further expenditures should be made until the county commits itself to part of the construction costs. Last June a report from Barrett Associated Engineers placed the total cost of a two-lane road and overpass at $607,300.

Mayor Westlake, long a supporter of the Wilson-rd proposal, vigorously defended the ordinance. He said he believes Columbus needs to have a complete picture of the project ready before taking it to the commissioners. "Someone has to think positively in these cases," He said, "if we expect to get things done." He pointed out that the Spring Sandusky Interchange engineering was initiated by the county, but Columbus later shared some of the costs. He said the city has moved fast to get the Broad-st and Sullivant-av frontages before they could be developed commercially.

The measure received the necessary six votes for emergency passage only after the mayor acceded to an amend-

West Side Sewer Work To Start Soon

City Council appropriated $1.2 million Monday night from Capital Improvement funds and authorized advertising for bids to build a 90-inch trunk through the lower West Side.

Known as Part II of the Scioto Main system, it will connect with Part I at the northeast corner of Greenlawn Cemetery and extend northwesterly to W. Broad-st at Schultz-av.

Carl W. Schoene, chief sewerage engineer, said another month will be consumed winding up two lagging easements and advertising before the contract is let. Construction work will last about a year, he said.

Scioto Main will relieve many of the existing sewers in the West Side and near the state institutions, and later will serve Upper Arlington and possibly Hilliard. Contracts for Part I (grit chamber to Green Lawn) were let last month. A third section, running from Broad-st to Harper-rd and McKinley-av also is about to be approved.

Council last Monday also:

- Cleared the way for $6,500 worth of improvements for the new south portion of Southview Park.
- Accepted the annexation of 2.5 acres of Florence P. Distelhorst property near Harmon-av.
- Finally approved money for hard surfacing six tennis courts at Westgate Park.
- Banned parking on a portion of the south side of Greenlawn-av, east of Harmon-av, and on the north side of Sullivant-av from Central to Guilford-avs.
- Rejected rezoning the second lot north of the alley north of W. Broad-st on the west side of Oakley-av from residential to parking.

Life Of Janie Leighninger Veritable Lesson In Courage

A courageous girl lost her fight for life this week. Jane Hartman Leighninger, 21, succumbed to cancer Monday, July 30, at Mt. Carmel Hospital where she had been hospitalized for over a month.

Jane is the daughter of Mrs. Paul Leighninger, 289 Powhatan-av, and the late Paul Leighninger. She was a 1958 graduate of West High School.

Her battle with the fatal disease was a comparatively short one, but one which touched the lives of many. Upon her return from a summer session at the University of Hawaii last summer it was discovered she had a malignant tumor in her right leg, and she underwent amputation of the limb.

Janie

Having completed her junior year at Ohio Wesleyan University the previous year, she took correspondence courses during her convalescence and returned to OWU for spring semester.

During spring vacation a new outbreak of the disease showed up in her lungs, but she alternated trips to New York for treatment with schoolwork and was graduated in elementary education with her class on June 3.

At Wesleyan she was a

Union To Honor Fire Hero Cline

Two years ago Local 67, International Association of Firefighters, instituted a "Firefighters' Heroism Award." Until this time the award has remained unearned. But union members upon hearing of the heroic act of Bill Cline has decided to make the award Aug. 8 posthumously to Bill's widow, of 532 S. Wayne-av.

Bill died of third degree burns trying to save the life of a 78-year-old woman. She was a passenger in his car when it was struck from the rear at 2188 W. Mound. Bill tried repeatedly to pull the stunned woman from the rear seat but gasoline-fed flames overcame him. He died the next day in Mt. Carmel Hospital.

"This is one of the most heroic citizen acts we have seen in some time," said Lt. Frank Grashel, vice-president of the union.

The award will be made next Wednesday. Mrs. Cline and her family will be taken to dinner by a delegation of union officials before she goes to downtown headquarters for the formal presentation.

FRIENDS, FAMILY REMEMBER BILL CLINE

ONE OF MANY TRIBUTES to the late Bill Cline was paid Saturday when Troy H. Salyers, 1783 Ferris-rd, presented a $600 check to Mrs. Cline, the first endowment from a voluntary "flower fund" formed at the Jeffery Manufacturing Co. Salyers was a close friend and co-worker of the man who died after trying to save a woman from an auto fire June 24. The presentation was made while seven of Bill's brothers and other relatives spent the day painting the Cline house at 531½ S. Wayne-av. Starting at the top of the ladder and viewed counter-clockwise are: James Christian, 124 E. Blake; Earl Cline, 3114 Carl-rd; Jack Cline, 2131 Ward-rd; Charles Cline, 2155 Century-dr; Tommy and Ray Osborn of St. Louisville, and on the porch, Robert Cline, 2166 Werty-rd. Not in the picture are Jimmy Cline, 31 S. Warren-av; Edward Cline, 3155 Century-dr; and Raymond Cline, Powell, RFD. Mrs. Cline also will receive a $300 benefit soon from Local 103, International Association of Machinists, Salyers said.

Legion Will Distribute American's Creed Cards

"I Am Proud TO BE A CARD CARRYING AMERICAN."

That's the message on cards which will be given away, Thursday through Saturday, Aug. 2-4, at the eight Casto shopping centers by American Legion and Auxiliary members seeking to encourage positive Americanism.

The wallet - sized white cards, printed in red and blue, include a space for the individual's signature, a flying flag, the words "I pledge myself to the American's Creed," and the information that they are sponsored by the 12th District (Franklin county) of the Legion.

On the reverse side is the text of the American's Creed, which closes with the words: "I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it, support its Constitution, to obey its laws, to respect its flag, and to defend it against all enemies."

Legion and Auxiliary members will be posted at the Northern Lights, Graceland, University City, Town and Country, Great Eastern, Great Southern, Central Point and Great Western Shopping centers throughout the three days to hand out the cards, according to Albert Reed, new district Americanism chairman. He recently retired as commander of Southway Post 144.

The organization has secured 100,000 cards for initial distribution, said John L. Worrell, 978 Hillsdale-dr., new Legion district commander. Most of the 25 posts will furnish manpower for the effort, and more help has been assured by Auxiliary members, directed by Mrs. C. W. Heacock, 1652 Bostwick - rd., the district president.

Special Roundup
Correspondent To Hartley Newspapers

Girl Scouts from all over the United States were wished a "happy 50th birthday" at a gigantic birthday party for the girls at the Senior Roundup in Vermont.

Fifteen scholarships were presented by the Reader's Digest Foundation to college freshmen who will study the social sciences. The Girl Scouts were chosen for this honor because of the organization's service to youth and the individual girl's potential and previous service.

Mrs. Georg Trapp of the Trapp Family Singers spoke to the girls, praising their interest in singing and urging them to continue learning new songs. In her honor, the entire assembly sang "Do Re Mi" from "Sound Of Music" which is the story of her family's adventures.

Hundreds of colored balloons were released over Lake Champlain and floated into the night to carry the spirit of the gathering to Girl Scouts all around the world.

A new song, "There We Would Be" was taught to the girls so that they could carry it back to all of the Brownies, Girl Scouts, Intermediates and Scouts in the program.

A huge birthday cake, placed before a backdrop of the United States held 50 candles which were lit for different phases of Girl Scouting and its program. As the last candle was lighted for the future of Scouting, lights twinkled through the backdrop.

At the end of the ceremony each group of eight girls lit a sparkler to show how they will carry the sparks of friendship wherever they go.

Last Saturday night the Girl Scout's reply to President Kennedy's challenge to learn to "serve your country and mankind" was read. Each girl wrote her individual reply which was combined with all of the others to frame the final answer.

The demonstration area in the middle of the camp has demonstrations from every state in the union, Canada, Puerto Rico, and the Philippines. Silver rocket spires and butterscotch sunflowers stand side by side as girls show something from their home area.

Groups have been curing tobacco, making rope, styling hair, creating jewelry, and explaining industries of their homes.

Indian dances from all over the country have been executed as the Texans teach "dudes" how to twirl a lariat or crack a bullwhip.

On "The Village Green", the central gathering area, local demonstrations of dairy farming and using marble slabs are going on omtinuously.

A large white dome houses pictures from Girl Scouts of all ages from all over the country which depict in drawings or photographs something of their "Home Frontier."

The Roundup has attracted between 4,000 and 10,000 visitors a day since its opening, including national government officials, the Boy Scout President, and Smokey the [illegible].

The two trading posts where girls can buy souvenirs, candy, postcards and camping supplies have run out of almost all of their merchandise several times and sold an order of 1,000 Roundup sweatshirts in three hours.

Aerial photographs of the entire site and troop photos are so in demand that some girls will not receive mailed pictures for weeks after Roundup.

Tuesday the last half of the 8500 girls left Button Bay for home and as the remainder of the staff trickles out, Button Bay will return to its former status as a Vermont State Park.

Women 45 and over accounted for three-fifths of the female labor force over the past 15 years, but for only two-fifths of the gain between 1960 and 1961, according to a recent study.

Tibbals Ground Is Given Only Partial Rezoning

In action taken Tuesday, July 24, the Franklin County Commissioners voted to rezone 6.237 acres of land owned by Todd Tibbals Inc., north of Sullivant-av, south of the New York Central Railroad and west of Georgesville-rd to light manufacturing. Tibbals has asked that 28.4 acres be rezoned.

The smaller tract was approved because the State Highway Department said it plans to buy part of the property for the Columbus outerbelt. The department asked that not all the area be rezoned from residential and agriculture.

Tibbals has said that an Elphant Lumber Co. store is planned for the rezoned site.

Frank-rd Bridge Will Be Test Site For De-Icing

A research project to determine the effectiveness of insulating material to stop ice forming on decks of bridges will be launched on the Frank-rd bridge over the South Freeway this winter.

A request of $74,963 to finance the project was approved by the State Controlling Board. Also included in the experiment will be the bridge over Alum Creek-dr on W. S. 71.

Instruments will be placed on the two bridges between November and March to determine effectiveness of a temperature lowering chemical foam. The foam will be placed on one bridge only and then comparisons will be made.

Prices Advanced At Port St. Lucie

PORT ST. LUCIE, Fla. — General Development Corp. at Port St. Lucie, Fla., announced an increase in both the sales price and monthly payments for homesites in its large 36,500 acre community on Florida's East Coast.

Effective Aug. 15, the price of all Port St. Lucie homesites will be increased by $200. At the same time the down payment will be increased to $15, with monthly payments at $15 minimum.

Widespread improvements General Development has made at Port St. Lucie has resulted in raising property values, plus the fact that Port Lucie is in the area of direct impact from the government's multi-million-dollar lunar-shoot program.

Local representative for The General Development Corp. is Marvin C. Yerke and Associates, Inc., 233 S. High-st.

Robert M. Edwards

Lincoln Village Man Directing Herbert Effort

John D. Herbert, Republican candidate for Treasurer of Ohio, has appointed Robert M. Edwards, as his Franklin County campaign chairman. Edwards, a Columbus attourney, resides at 433 Weymouth-ln in Lincoln Village.

Edwards will be in charge of lining up campaign workers, running the campaign in the city and county, and generally acting as Herbert's representative in the area. He said he will work closely with the regular county Republican organization in the post.

Edwards has scheduled an organization meeting of all interested volunteers for Herbert for Tuesday, Aug. 7 in the GOP Glee Club Hall, 57 E. Weber-rd, starting at 8:30.

Herbert has served as an Army officer in Korea; in the Ohio National Guard; as an assistant Ohio Attorney General; and is presently a practicing attorney.

Edwards stated that the basic issue at stake in the campaign was whether the voters would tolerate a "royalist-type succession" and the establishment of a "family dynasty" in the treasurer's office. The Democratic nominee is the son of the present state treasurer.

Central Point Will Hold 'Dollar Days'

The Central Point Shopping Center, W. Mound-st at Central-av, is joining the seven other Columbus shopping centers, developed and operated by the Don. M. Casto Organization in staging "Big 8 Dollar Days" on Friday and Saturday of this week.

All the stores at Central Point have gone all-out to provide outstanding bargains in seasonable, back-to-school and early fall merchandise. Large crowds are expected to take advantage of this dollar-stretching sale.

ONG Trains In Michigan

Ohio's 37th Infantry Division of the National Guard rolled into Camp Grayling last week to begin its annual two-week training in Michigan.

The main convoys, carrying more than 8,000 men, poured through the gates Saturday and all units were operating Sunday.

On Aug. 4, the 37th will hold its annual review which is open to the public. To be honored this year is Col. John Lovko, Painesville, who recently retired as commander of the division's 1st Battle Group, 145th Infantry.

The Ohioan's will return home Aug. 11 and the Indiana National Guard division moves into the sprawling camp.

SENIOR CITIZENS HOME NEARS FINISH

CONSTRUCTION CREWS are starting on the 11th and last floor of the Senior Citizen's Apartment and a separate recreation center, located between Sullivant-av and Rich-st, opposite Sunshine Recreation Center. The $3.5 million project will be completed around the middle of February. As of July 1, 29 per cent of the project was finished. Rent range will depend upon the amount of income of the individual couples. There are 188 units in all, including 65 efficiency apartments, 81 one-bedroom apartments, 42 two bedroom apartments. Recreation activities will be sponsored by the Columbus Recreation Department. Housing is under the control of the Columbus Metropolitan Housing Authority.

Young Scientists To Show Work At State Fair

Ohio's top young scientists and their work will be on display against a background of blinking lights and whirling motors during the first Junior Science exhibit ever presented at the Ohio State Fair, Aug. 24-Sept. 3.

One hundred high school science students will show their projects and experiments at the 1962 Exposition, according to Prof. Gerald Acker, biology department chairman at Bowling Green University and director of the Junior Academy of Science.

Sponsored by the Ohio Academy of Science, the Junior Science exhibit will be housed in the Youth Center. All of the young exhibitors have won previous honors and were selected from hundreds of applicants to show their projects at the fair.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration will also sponsor an exhibit at the Junior Science show. A A Mercury space capsule, similar to the one used by America's astronauts in their orbital flights, and a Spacemobile equipped with models of launch vehicles, satellites and space probes demonstrating man's exploration of outer space highlight the NASA exhibit.

Warns Autoists Not To 'Fumble' Freeway Exits

"Where do I get off?"

That is no question for last minute decision on a turnpike or freeway, says Russell H. Campbell of the Columbus Automobile Club.

"Travel over a high-speed route should be planned carefully before ever beginning the trip," the local AAA official asserts.

"Fumbling" for the right exit or a sudden change of one's mind or lane often leads to trouble. Getting off at the wrong place encourages short-cut violations such as 'U-turns' to get back on. In addition to inviting arrest, such unwise and illegal actions can cause serious accidents."

The AAA Club official notes that members should secure from their clubs routings which give full advance information on entrances and exits along high-speed routes.

Locust Trees Made Unsightly By Two Insects

If your locust trees are turning brown, you can probably blame it on either leaf miners or mimosa web-worms. Ohio Division of Forestry officials say all varieties of locusts are being hit by these insects.

Bob Reddett, assistant division chief, said although attacks by these insects will not in themselves kill the trees, they do make them unsightly and pave the way for attacks by other insects, viruses and diseases.

The forester said the best methods of control were spraying with malathion or sevin, a new insecticide. He pointed out, however, that applying these sprays this year would probably do little if any good, as the insects have already done their damage.

The insecticides are most effective when applied in May or June. Recommended treatment to control both leaf miners and mimosa web-worms is one tablespoon of wettable malathion to a gallon of water. If sevin is used, it requires one-half tablespoon to a gallon of water.

Cleanup Seen For Dirty Scioto Area

By Sam Dobbins

Many Ohio cities have been faced with the task of giving their rivers a face-lifting, and have successfully done so. Through community projects and work sponsored by local organizations, the Greater Miami River in Dayton has become one of the more scenic spots in the state along with the Muskingum River flowing through eastern Ohio.

The Scioto River, a long-time problem for the City of Columbus, is now going to have its turn.

Following a recommendation by the Downtown Area Committee (DAC), Service Director Ernest H. Stork ordered Park Supt. Richard Lawwill to begin converting the river area between the Greenlawn-av Dam and the New York Cenrtal Railroad tracks, near the Sandusky Interchange into scenic parks.

Dobbins

"Columbus is not getting the full esthetic value from its property along the river," Lawwill stated.

"We also need the areas opened," he added, "so that water can move freely along the shoreline during flood times."

According to the park superintendent, his division is going to "pull out the potential of this property and make every possible recreational facility available."

When present plans are completed the park division's goal is to have:

- Clean banks along the Scioto.
- A better flow of water through the channel.
- A new park for recreational purposes.

The major project will be construction of what has been temporarily tagged as "Whittier-st Park," just north of the Greenlawn-av Dam.

Present plans call for better landscaping, construction of a boathouse and restroom facilities, installation of picnic areas and building a parking area. The site is also popular with fishermen and is far enough from the sewage plant to escape pollution.

The area, if cleared of underbrush and debris, would be wide open so that water could easily flow during floods, Lawwill reported. He added that flooding would not jeopardize park maintenance because it would only take a minor clean-up operation when the water settled back into the river.

Elimination of some of the dirty areas would probably end the problem of winos and less desirables who use the area as a home base.

The superintendent reported that one major problem would be landscaping.

"The area has natural beauty," he said while criticizing some of the fringe development, "but a lot of improvement is needed. He reported that restaurants elevated along the shoreline would possibly help beautify the areas and would attract people.

Park officials had hoped the city would relocate its auto pound but doubt if it will ever be done. The City Airport Commission has suggested construction of heli-port near the pound area to help provide faster intra-city transporation.

Along with Whittier-st Park, plans call for beautifying other minor areas along the river.

The park division has been allotted $95,000 which came from its share of the city's 1960 general bond issue. The funds are to be distributed to the park board over a five-year period, with $15,000 available in 1962.

The park division can not have the lump sum all at once. "The spending has to be justified," Lawwill said, "and we will draw from each year's allotment."

The area at present is not easy to maintain.

City workers spend much of their time in the winter trying to remove much of the brush and useless trees. An all-out cleaning of the site and construction of a park would probably eliminate some added expense to the city.

Much of the land on the landfill sites has no topsoil and what grass there is is hard to mow.

William Walton, assistant park superintendent reported that the workers have been told not to remove any major trees while they are cleaning revetments and areas where work is to be done.

Somewhat of a complexity has arisen as to which city department will do what? However, the park director reported that his staff will be working in conjunction with the water department.

The water department will clean the area, the park division is to build and do the landscape work on what is needed, the airport commission will handle the heli-port, and the division of sewerage the sanitary system for restrooms.

Lawwill also added that some type of protection will be needed and would probably be furnished by the river patrol. He reported that officials from the Natural Resources Dept. make a periodic check on the area but couldn't supply enough protection if a floating boat dock is constructed.

It has been suggested that the heli-port would be handy in case of emergency.

Other sites where work is to be done are located near Central High School and just south of the proposed Whittier Park.

Lawwill said that the city wouldn't be able to do much in some places but added that landscaping would help to bring out some of the esthetic value.

"When He came up He asked him, "What do you want Me to do for you?"—Luke 18:41.

Make Your Prayers Specific, Not Superficial

The last few verses of the 18th chapter of the Gospel of St. Luke tell us of an interview Jesus had with a blind man as He entered the village of Jericho on His way to Jerusalem where He was to meet His death, and become the Saviour of all who would believe on Him. Mark tells us that the name of the blind man was Bartimeus. He was a beggar, sitting beside the road, hoping that those who passed by would be moved by his plight to give him a few coins. He could not see to work, so there was no trade open for him. He could not see to walk, so others had to lead him by the hand. He could not witness what was going on about him, so he had to depend upon others to tell him what was happening.

Rev. Martin

On this particular occasion, when Jesus was coming into Jericho on His way to Jerusalem, Bartimeus knew that something unusual was happening in the roadway before him. He could hear many feet padding along the dusty route. He could hear voices as people talked to each other, but he could not see what was happening. He called out for information and he was told that all the excitement was due to the arrival of Jesus of Nazareth, who was approaching the village. Somehow, somewhere, Bartimeus had heard of this Man. People had talked about the miracles He had performed.

When Bartimeus learned who the important personage was who traveled down the road, he began to shout for help, "Jesus, Son of David, have pity on me!" He shouted so loudly that the people seeking to question Jesus could not hear. The crowd tried to quiet the blind man so they might hear the words of Jesus, but Bartimeus was not to be silenced. Finally he gained the attention of Jesus, who ordered that the blind man be brought before Him. "What do you want Me to do for you?", asked Jesus. Bartimeus did not hesitate. He knew what he wanted. "Sir, I want my sight back," he answered. Jesus replied, "Have back your sight; your faith has cured you." Bartimeus recovered his sight, and instead of remaining a beggar he became a follower of Jesus, praising God. He had no further need to beg, for he now had what he wanted, and his praise moved other people to praise God for what they had seen.

If Jesus were passing by today, and stopped and addressed the same question to you, what would your answer be? Have you any need you recognize as being so paramount you would rather have this one desire than all other things? Blind Bartimeus had a ready answer to the question; he wanted his sight, and he had faith that Jesus Christ could restore it to him.

We need to express our faith in more definite ways, to ask for specific blessings. We need to pinpoint our faith to specific areas of need instead of keeping our faith so general in its nature, so vague in its application and so superficial in its expectations. We know much about God, but we need to develop a more specific personal relationship and dependence upon Jesus Christ. Jesus is more than a figure in history, pictured on the pages of the Bible; He is a power in the lives of those who will believe in Him and put their faith in Him as Bartimeus did.

What will you have of Jesus Christ? That you may have your sight? That you may be rid of some special sin? That you may acquire some particular virtue? That you may have power and ability for some particular task? If we were more definite in our asking of God, what a revolution there would be in our world. It would lead to a faith that issues in definite service and involves a marked personal religious experience with Jesus Christ which releases His saving power into all the difficulties of the world and makes them right. When Jesus asks, "What will you want Me to do for you?", be ready with your specific prayer, consecrated with your abiding faith.

Blame It All On That Sheepherder!

I had one heck of a crummy morning on the golf course.

I've been sulking since. The wife and kids haven't helped. When I tried to take my misery out on them, they ignored me. Even the cat has been avoiding me.

The sad part is that the self-torture I and several million other Americans inflict upon ourselves every time we bounce onto a golf course can be traced back several millenniums to an unknown sheep herder, who out of boredom took his crook and swung at a defenseless rock.

Now if that rock had ricocheted back from a tree and smitten the odoriferous herdsman smartly between the eyes, a lot of suffering in this cruel world could have been forestalled. But no, the rock sailed briskly down the pasture. This so delighted the simple sheepherder, he rushed about blabbing of his feat to his fellow herdsmen. Before long lambs everywhere were going astray as their keepers merrily flailed away at rocks.

For some centuries that is where the situation stayed. But then the Scots, possibly because rocks were cheap, adopted the pasttime.

Although it was to no avail, some of my Highlander ancestors were not without good sense. In 1471, the Scottish parliament, sensing the evil inherent in golf, passed a law prohibiting playing of the game.

The law might have stood, but some 20 years later King James IV himself was caught in his kilts swatting a golf ball about. This set an extremely bad example for his subjects and even efforts of the clergy failed to halt the mania. They did succeed in getting the town council of Edinburgh to issue a proclamation that "na inhabitants of this burgh shall be seen at the pastymes sic as golfe upoun the Sabboth day."

Didn't do much good, though. Even the unhappy Queen Mary Stuart, according to her enemies, was seen jouncing along behind a golf ball a very few days after her husband was murdered. (Could history be wrong? Maybe he was dispatched because he walked across somebody's line of putt).

Needless to say the game soon filtered over to America, where for a long time it was a private sport of the well-to-do. But in recent years, like bowling, it has become every man's game.

It is supposed to be a gentlemanly game, a sport that develops character and refinement. What a farce that is! I've known many friends who took up the game and not one of them became the better for it. Of course, they did enlarge their vocabularies, but not in such a manner to be of service off the links.

There are reports psychiatric science is thinking of developing specialists to deal with phobias and traumas developed in golfing patients. If this proves true, one of these specialists stands to make a fortune if he will drag his portable couch out to the local course and set up shop at the ninth hole. He'll find more nuts passing by than he can shake a mashie at.

Miss Eileen Downey, 1755 Alum Creek-dr, social chairman, is in charge of arrangements. She is assisted by Mrs. Richard Moling, 660 Maplewood-av, Mrs. Mary Bancroft and Miss Ellen Jones,, Westerville, and Mrs. Betty Rittenhouse, 4562 Gramsby-rd.

CREAM MARMALADE

With a loaf of enriched sandwich bread on hand, delicious and wholesome snacks like little cream marmalade sandwiches are a snap to prepare. For 12 sandwich triangles, blend together an eight-ounce package of cream cheese and one-fourth to one-third cup orange marmalade.

Trim crusts from 12 slices enriched white sandwich bread. Spread six slices with cream cheese-marmalade mixture and close with remaining slices. Cut each sandwich into two small triangles and serve with iced tea or coffee.

HOT 'N' SANDWICH

Savor every golden August moment with in-the-sunshine soup 'n' sandwich luncheons served in the backyard or on the patio. For quick and tasty sandwiches, spread enriched white bread with process cheese or liver sausage.

Roll up the sandwiches jellyroll style and toast in a moderate oven (350) until heated through. Canned tomato soup or a combination of tomato and chicken-rice soups would be good go-alongs with the roll-up sandwiches.

ICE CREAM SOCIAL

Unity Church of Christianity, 3568 Olentangy River-rd, will hold an ice cream social Saturday, Aug. 4, 7 to 9 p.m., rain or shine.

Columbus Alpha Chis Will Picnic Sunday

Reports on national convention will be given by Peg Brown, Delaware, president of Alpha Omicron chapter at Ohio State, and Melinda Mathews, 82 Aldrich-pl, president of Beta Phi chapter at Bowling Green. These women just returned from the conclave in Miami, Fla.

"DIAL-A-DIETITIAN" SERVICE IS FREE

Controversial discussions on food and nutrition can be had by calling "Dial-A-Dietitian," 221-7040.

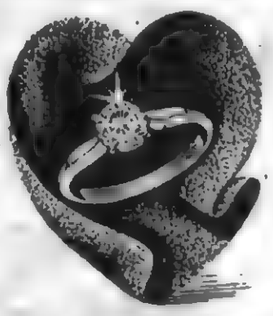
A qualified dietitian will return the call with the information desired. This free service is courtesy of volunteers of the Columbus Dietetic Assoc.

WIDOWS DINNER

Widows of World War I chapter five, will meet for a potluck dinner at 6:30 p.m. on Aug. 8, in room 208 of Veterans Memorial Auditorium, 300 W. Broad-st. Plans will be discussed for a picnic on Aug. 26.

EUCHRE PARTY

A progressive euchre party sponsored by the DEF Group of Sacred Heart Parish will be held Saturday, Aug. 4, 8 p.m., in Ryan Hall, First-av and Summit-st. Tickets are available at the door.



SPECIAL BREADS

Turn your ingenuity loose on new sandwich fillings and combinations then vary your choice of breads for more interest. Use sandwich standbys of enriched white and whole wheat breads, of course, but try sliced French, Italian, Russian and Vienna breads, too. These crisp-crusted and rough textured breads are especially good for main meal sandwiches like submarines.

Cinnamon, raisin, fruit and nut breads make delicious snack and tea sandwiches when spread with butter, cream cheese or peanut butter. Experiment with variety breads such as rye or oatmeal. Check your bakery counters for specialties in your area like sourdough and cheese breads.

Miss Patricia Ann Probst Weds Mr. Robert Griffith At Hoge

MRS. ROBERT JOHN GRIFFITH

Arrangements of yellow gladioli and majestic [illegible] decorated the altar of Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church on July 21 for the 2:30 p.m. wedding ceremony uniting Miss Patricia Ann Probst and Mr. Robert John Griffith.

Rev. Calvin W. Didier officiated at the ceremony.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd W. Probst, 614 Crescent-rd. Mr. Griffith is the son of the late Dr. and Mrs. Robert Lyle Griffith of Pittsburgh, Pa.

The bride wore a gown of ivory silk faced peau de soie, designed on semi-princess lines with brief sleeves. The plain round neckline was trimmed with re-embroidered Alencon lace; which was also used as motifs to enhance the picked up side drapes of the skirt which extended in the back to a wide circular train.

She wore a matching lace crown which held the short bouffant veil of imported silk illusion and carried a bouquet of white Gamellas with Stephanotis.

Mrs. Norman H. Mizer of Dayton served as matron of honor and Miss Marcia Holzapfel was maid of honor. Other attendants were Miss Sue Howison, Miss Janice Mizer, Coshocton, and Mrs. Leo P. Boston, Indianapolis, Ind.

Their dresses were maize chiffon sheaths with Venice lace cumberbunds and they wore matching lace trimmed pill box hats with circular veils. They carried round bouquets of yellow daisies and Quaker Maid sweetheart roses.

Mr. Brian Nyquist of Toledo was Mr. Griffith's best man. Ushers were Mr. James Rose; Mr. James Worden, Crestline; Mr. Robert Ebert, Dayton; and Mr. Wayne Long, Bryan.

A reception immediately following the ceremony was held at Ilionka's Provincial House.

The new Mrs. Griffith is a senior at Ohio State University in the College of Education. She is a member of Alpha Xi Delta Sorority.

Mr. Griffith served a three-year tour of duty with the U.S. Marine Corps, and graduated from Ohio State University College of Commerce where he was a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity. He is now associated with Anchor Hocking Glass Corp, of Cincinnati.

Following a wedding trip to Florida the couple will be at home at 2025 Galbraith-rd, Cincinnati.

Mrs. Smith

Mrs. Smith Is Elected To CBA Board

Mrs. Mildred Smith, owner of Christian Book and Gift Store, S. High-st, was named to the five-member board of directors of the Christian Booksellers Association at their 13th annual convention in Chicago last week.

Mrs. Smith was fortunate to even have attended the convention as she was in an automobile accident enroute there. She suffered a broken nose and injuries to her arm, side, back and leg. She returned home for doctoring and then journeyed back to Chicago.

Lutheran Women Are Benefactors To Local Church

Mrs. Clifford W. Yung, 1786 Wyandotte-rd, and Mrs. David W. Wetterman, 181 N. Roys-av, representatives of St. James Lutheran Church, 1683 Rome-Hilliard-rd, recently returned from the Central District Convention of Lutheran Women's Missionary League, Missouri Synod.

On the business agenda, Mrs. Herman Krueckeberg of Decatur, Ind., was elected district president. $50,000 was voted to be distributed to newly organized churches to be used toward their building programs. Bethany Lutheran Church of Columbus was granted $4,000 of this amount.

Mrs. Herman Koppelmann of St. Louis, Mo., addressed the convention concerning the work beging done in New Guinea by missionaries.

Koster Family To Be Hosted

Hilltonia EUB Church will honor its pastor, Rev. Gerald Koster and family, at a reception at the church on Sunday, Aug. 5, 7:30 p.m.

Guest speakers will be Rev. W. E. Jones, pastor emeritus of Hilltonia; Dr. D. S. Mills, retired minister and conference superintendent, and Rev. Harold Davidson, chaplain at Juvenile Diagnostic Center.

The three choirs of the church will sing. Public is invited to attend the program and join in refreshments.

Rev. Koster is beginning his eighth year as pastor of Hilltonia, the longest pastorate in the history of the church. He was also recently appointed chaplain of TICO.

Hoge Memorial Plans Daily Church School

Vacation church school at Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church will begin Monday, Aug. 13 and run weekdays for two weeks from 9 to 11:30 a.m. There is no pre-registration.

Children age four through last year's sixth graders are welcome.

Volunteer help in providing cookies and transportation will be appreciated. Anyone interested should call the church office.

Bellows Avenue Church Lauded for Evangelism, Plans Homecoming

Bellows Avenue Church of the Nazarene was recently honored at the annual assembly of the Central Ohio District when the pastor was awarded a certificate of evangelism.

The church has taken 35 new members into its fellowship this past year and has conducted two revivals, a Boys and Girls Gospel Crusade and a Winter Youth Week with youth speakers.

Sunday, Aug. 5 will be Homecoming Day and will be observed at Sunday School, 9:30 a.m. and at the 10:30 a.m. worship service. Installation of the newly elected church board will be followed by Communion.

Attend Church Sunday

New Pastor Takes Over

Rev. David L. Fish will assume the pulpit at Hillcrest Baptist Church and preach his first sermon there this Sunday. He and his family are expected to move into the parsonage Friday.

Rev. Fish comes to Hillcrest from Mansfield Diamond Hills Baptist Church. He succeeds Rev. Aaron L. Roth who has served Hillcrest for 14 years.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish sincerely to thank friends for their kind expressions of sympathy and for the beautiful floral offerings in our recent bereavement in losing our mother, Mrs. Maude Rinehart.

Triumph OVER THE SEAS
"What is man . . . Thou madest him to have dominion over the works of thy hands"
God has blessed man and given him the right and power to rule over his creation. As man has needs, God has given him the knowledge and ability to meet these needs. Pictured here is only one of many such triumphs. Our nation has particularly been blessed. Let us each Sunday attend worship services and give thanks to our Lord, who is so generous.

SHAKESPEARE PARODY PLAYS STADIUM

CURRENTLY PLAYING at the Stadium Theater is Cole Porter's "Kiss Me Kate." It will be showing every evening 8:30 p.m. until Aug. 12. Starring in the production is Nancy Walz and Ted Pritchard. Pictured are Skip Balthaser, Pritchard, (center) and Gene Gerrard in one of the scenes of the show.

'Born Yesterday' Slated At POG

"Born Yesterday," one of the most successful laugh hits of the post-war Broadway stage, will be presented at Playhouse-on-the-Green for six nights beginning Monday, Aug. 6. Lois Kibbee, Art Kassul, and Alex Dayna will co-star in the production.

"Born Yesterday" tells of a big-time war profiteer who brings his dumb blonde with him on a trip he makes to Washington for the purpose of bribing a senator or so. Finding that his ex-chorus-girl companion lacks sufficient graces for the social life of the capital, to which he has elevated her, the former junk dealer hires a tutor to smarten her up. To his dismay, his dumb doll learns too much. For one thing, she learns that she doesn't have to take his brow-beating.

Currently appearing nightly through Saturday at Playhouse-on-the-green is "See How They Run." Tickets for all performances are on sale at Central Ticket Office, 46 N. High-st, and all Richman Bros. stores. Telephone reservations may be made by calling CA. 8-1305.

Kate, The Shrew, Tamed In Stadium Production

OSU's Stadium Theatre is presently giving the famous Cole Porter Musical, "Kiss Me Kate," for 12 performances with Ted Pritchard and Nancy Walz as the entertainingly tempermental stage couple who are "So In Love" with each other between fights backstage at a pre-New York tryout of Shakespeare's "The Taming of the Shrew."

This is the musical hit that scored a run of 135 weeks in New York when it opened there in 1948, with a book by Sam and Bella Spewack.

Ted Pritchard plays Fred Graham, the ex-husband of Nancy Walz in the role of Lilli Vanessi. They met while performing in an old-fashioned schmaltz-waltz operetta, which, though their ways have since parted, they recall mockingly to each other in the song, "Wunderbar."

As both star and director, Graham finds himself in a delicious position of power over his glamourous ex-wife. She, having been an important star without his help, resents his "taming" spiritedly enough to prove herself well-cast as the Shrew.

Personal and professional jealousies flare and crackle, till the troupe's juvenile, played here by Jamie Jameson, signs the star's name to a hefty I.O.U. in a local "floating crap game" — for which the would-be-dignified Shakespearean actor has to answer to a burly pair of gents sent over by the mob to collect. Graham turns this to his advantage by using the thugs to keep Lilli from walking out.

With the gangsters holding the increasingly-shrewish Lili at bay while offering their advice in song to "Brush Up Your Shakespeare," Graham has a field-day as Petruchio spanking with relish his recalcitrant stage-wife.

The parallels between Shakespeare's lustily-battling couple and the real-life feud are continued until happily resolved when Lilli capitulates both for herself and Katharine in singing "I Am Ashamed That Women Are So Simple" — and she reallly means it when she submits to Graham-Petruchio's final plea to "Kiss Me, Kate."

'See How They Run' Now At Playhouse-On-Green

Jean Middlebrooks, Peter Harris, Raymond Thorne, and Martha Miller appear in the farce-comedy, "See How They Run" currently at Playhouse-on-the-Green.

The merry comedy is concerned with the plight of an English vicar's American wife who gets herself into dizzy complications. Returning to the vicarage after an innocent evening with a GI corporal, with whom she had once troupes in USO shows, Penelope Toop finds a stern-faced bishop waiting to see her husband.

For the sake of discretion, her soldier-actor friend exchanges his uniform for a clergyman's suit. From then on, the comedy becomes more and more comically involved, particularly when five men race around the vicarage dressed as clergymen, no one being sure who is who or which is which.

WOSU TV, Channel 34 has signed off the air for the duration of the summer and will resume operation on Tuesday, Sept. 4.

Visit To Old Kentucky Home Will Highlight August Tour

A return trip to My Old Kentucky Home at Bardstown, Ky., plus a reserved seat for Paul Green's popular musical drama, "The Stephen Foster Story," will feature the Franklin County Historical Society's fifth bus tour of the current season, Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 11 and 12.

Another important stop will be at Lincoln Homestead State Park at Springfield.

Chartered air-conditioned busses are scheduled to depart from the Greyhound terminal at 8:30 a.m. Saturday and are to return to Columbus at approximately 10 p.m. Sunday.

Prices of the weekend tour, open to both members and non-members, are: Members, $24; new adults, $26; children and students $20.

Price of the tour includes roundtrip bus fare, a reserved seat to "The Stephen Foster Story," admission to My Old Kentucky Home, and Saturday chicken dinner at the Kentucky Home Restaurant.

Other meals and the motel are not included in the tour price, but the Historical Society will make motel reservations.

Tour and motel reservations must be made by Thursday, Aug. 9; refunds will not be made after that date.

For reservations, call: weekdays, 2-8120-5, Society office, CA. 1-7467; evenings and weekends call 287-6861.

Ballet, Opera Program In One-Day Showing At Palace

Mozart's "Don Giovanni" and "The Ballet of Romeo and Juliet," both in color, will be presented in a one-day program at the Palace on Wednesday, Aug. 15.

The title role in "Don Giovanni" will be played by Cesare Siepi. Other cast members include Lisa della Casa, Elisabeth Grummer, Erna Berger, Desto Ernster, Anton Dermota, Otto Edelman and Walter Berry.

The Chorus of the Vienna State Opera and the Vienna Philharmonic Orchestra, directed by Wilhelm Furtwangler, will support the singers. The picture was made at the Salzburg Festival.

Dancing in "The Ballet of Romeo and Juliet" will be prima ballerina Galina Ulanova with Zhdanov as Romeo. The music was written by Serge Prokofiev.

Seats will be unreserved but may be purchased in advance.

Sherry O'Neil Plays Cleo Again

Kenley favorite Sherry O'Neil plays the comedy role "Cleo" in the forthcoming production of "Most Happy Fella"; she played the part six times on the west coast. Her comedy partner will be Dean Dittman in the role of "Herman" which he played for two years in the National Company. He sings the rousing "Standing on the Corner." Ohio patrons will remember him also for his comedy role as the sheriff in "Destry" last season.

Combo At New Inn

Stouffer's University Inn at 5021 Olentangy River-rd, is featuring a patio combo from 7 to 10 p.m. with dancing by the pool from 10-12 p.m. on Friday and Saturday evenings. The new English-style Inn also features patio dining, shuffle board, and poolside entertainment.

DENISON STUDENTS IN PLAY

JON REYNOLDS AND HELEN BROWN, both Denison University students, are cast in leading roles in "Who Was That Lady I Saw You With," Aug. 7-11 at Denison Summer Theater. Miss Brown, who will be a senior this fall, plays the adoring wife of a chemistry professor caught kissing a student. Reynolds, a junior, plays the professor's wise-cracking friend.

Summer Theaters' Playbitts

KENLEY PLAYERS: "Gypsy," starring Betty Hutton, nightly through Aug. 5. Opening Aug. 7: Jane Powell in "The Most Happy Fella."

STADIUM THEATER: "Kiss Me Kate," nightly through Aug. 12. Last production of the season.

DENISON SUMMER THEATER: "Paint Your Wagon," nightly through Aug. 4. Opening Aug. 7, "Who Was That Lady I Saw You With."

PLAYHOUSE-ON-THE GREEN: "See How They Run," nightly through Aug. 4. Opening Aug. 6, "Born Yesterday."

New Version Of 'Grand Illusion' At The World

"It is too bad that films have such a short life," French director Jean Renoir, wrote twenty-five years ago, but not long after the completion of "Grand Illusion." "Techniques change, actors' styles of playing change, and just as fashions are outmoded films go into oblivion to join others that once moved us."

Although it was long considered lost, when the complete negative of "Grand Illusion" was found recently, Renoir set himself the task of disproving his earlier statement.

At the recent Brussels World Fair, "Grand Illusion" was voted one of the six greatest films of all time. The movie will play in the Film Classics Series at the World Theater, 2159 N. High, Sunday evening at 8:15 in addition to the regular program.

At Ease . . .

TIMELY TIPS . . . FOR PLEASURE

By BEVERLY FLEISHMAN

Hutton Less Than Explosive

The "blonde bombshell" didn't explode as expected in the Kenley version of "Gypsy."

Betty Hutton has made her reputation on her special brand of dynamism and a husky voice that vibrates to the balcony and back. However, on the Tuesday opening she labored under what seemed to be a case of first-night jitters, a sore throat, and an orchestra that gave her more competition than support.

Despite these drawbacks, the show was saved by a few bright solo numbers and a Minsky burlesque scene. Jim Moore's partner-less dance demonstrated his ability for smooth singing and dancing and added a note of vitality.

BEVERLY

The parading young ladies in the burlesque scene met with enthusiastic audience approval, giving some splash to the otherwise slow-moving show.

The supporting members of the cast, namely Vincent Beck, Bernadette Peters and Dianne Barton, handled their parts adequately.

"Gypsy" has the potential for an entertaining play: it has a strong score, known for such songs as "Everything's Comin' Up Roses" and some good laughable scenes. Perhaps with a few kinks smoothed out, some of the explosive quality of the show can still be captured.

The American Revolution lasted from April 19, 1775 to September 17, 1783.

Bel Ringing Big At Sands

Genial Mike Joseph, owner of the beautiful Sands Supper Club at 3915 E. Main-st, is rapidly living up to his slogan, "The Showplace of the Stars."

He's got a real winner there now—mysterious Bel-Sha-Zaar, the authenic Egyptian belly (oops, hip) dancer from Cairo, Egypt.

She dances at the Sands—injecting mighty funny comedy routines—to the music of Red Samets and his "Sandmen."

Cancer Checkup Should Be Annual Affair Says Clinic

The Columbus Cancer Clinic this week is re-alerting the residents of this area of the importance of an annual Cancer check up.

The Clinic, provides detection and treatment services in its facilities at University Hospital. Operating funds come primarily from United Appeal contributions.

Clinic officials suggest getting a check-up from a family doctor, or by making appointment at the Cancer Clinic. The phone number is AX. 4-1234.

Cancer Clinic officials are noting that both men and women over 21 should be tested once a year. Persons over 40 should be particularly careful as Cancer is more prevalent in their age group.

The Cancer Clinic is in its 41st year as the community's treatment and service agency for Cancer. Descriptive leaflets on use of the facilities are available for group distribution.

Central Point Will Stage 'Kids Dog Show' Saturday

Saturday, Aug. 4, at 9 a.m. the merchants of the Central Point Shopping Center, W. Mound-st at Central-av, will stage their annual "Kids Dog Show" in cooperation with Ken-L-Ration. The show will be held in front of the Penney store.

There is no more heart warming picture than a "boy and his dog". Multiply this one by some 50 to 60 boys and girls, showing their pet pooches in competition for the barrage of trophies, ribbons and prizes contributed by the Ken-L-Ration people, and you have all the elements for a barrel of fun.

Each entrant will receive a free sun visor, arm band, badge, booklets on dog care and training, lollipops, and balloons. In addition to the cups and ribbons being awarded to four top winners in each of five classes. There will be such prizes as a wristwatch, camera set, paint set, baseballs, purses and "T" shirts.

Those entering in advance may get entry blanks at Reeves Sporting Goods, otherwise at the show. Dogs should be on leashes and be present by 8:45 a.m. Saturday.

The Dog Show is a part of Central Point's "Dollar Days" week-end sale, being held on Friday and Saturday of this week.

Asks Night Club Permit

An application by George Kotsands, 5960 W. Broad-st, Prairie Township, for a night club permit is being processed by the Ohio Department of Liquor Control, its director, George R. Dick, announced.

Columbus Will Host State Meet Of Republican Vets

War veterans from throughout Ohio will meet in Columbus on Sept. 21 and 22 for the Twenty-Third Annual Convention of War Veterans Republican Clubs.

Purpose of the statewide meeting will be to elect officers, ratify the selection of district committeemen, select the city for next year's convention and transact any other business which might be brought before it.

Representation at the fall event to be held in the Deshler-Hilton Hotel will be by county clubs. Each club is entitled to five delegates and five alternates for the first 30 members and one delegate and one alternate for each additional 30.

Names and addresses of delegates and alternates should be mailed to John A. Serrott, executive secretary, 1747½ McAllister-av. The secretary urged registration immediately so that applicants names can be placed on the roster.

Membership cards, plus payment of the 25 cents charge per member, must be recorded in the club records on or before Aug. 1. Checks are to be payable to Stan Heise, treasurer. Both cards and checks are to be sent to Serrott.

The chairman of each delegation may cast the votes of delegates representing the first 30 members, whether such delegates are present or not, but each additional representative must be present on the floor of the convention to vote.

Reservation cards for the week-end event will be mailed to the county clubs and should be returned to the Deshler as soon as possible to insure a room. All delegates attending the event should carry their credentials as means of identification, reported president James F. Worster, Sr.

Any club that wishes to submit a resolution to be acted on should submit it to Worster, 6517 E. Broad-st, Blacklick, O., not later than Aug. 1.

The convention will be comprised of one business meeting and speakers luncheon. Ted Hysell will be the chairman.

Registration headquarters will be opened in the rear lobby of the hotel at 4 p.m. on Sept. 21.

County War Vets Slate Local Fete

The Franklin County War Veterans Republican Club's annual stag picnic will be held at Oak Park, 5442 Sunbury-rd, Tuesday, Aug. 14, 3 to 8 p.m.

There will be food, games and prizes, along with a chance to meet candidates running in the state election.

Tickets can be purchased from the following: Paul Scott, 83 S. High-st, phone CA. 1-6761; Stan Heise, city hall, CA. 1-2211, extension 318; or Tom Enright, courthouse, CA. 1-1181, extension 323.

MARTHA HERBET

Hilltop Woman Named Home Servic Adviser

Miss Martha Nell Herbet of 3126 W. Broad-st, has been employed by the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. as a home service adviser in Columbus, it was announced by Elden H. Davis, central district manager for Ohio Fuel.

Miss Herbet, who will be known professionally as "Betty Newton", will visit homemakers in the Columbus area upon request to demonstrate proper uses and new developments in gas appliances. She also will be available for talks and cooking demonstrations for clubs and other interested church, social and civic groups.

Born in Teaneck, N.J., Miss Herbet was graduated from Teaneck High School and received her bachelor of science degree in home economics from Wittenberg University, Springfield, O.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis W. Herbet, live at 584 Kent Ave., Teaneck, N.J.

Miss Herbet is a member of American Home Economics Association and Alpha Delta Pi social sorority.

R. W. Stuart To Head New Nursing Home

Robert W. Stuart, hospital administrator and consultant for many years, will serve as administrator of Murray Hill Manor, a 98-bed nursing and convalescent home to be constructed on Greenlawn-av.

His appointment was announced by Warren E. Wittmann, president of Virginia Homes, Inc., builder of the facility.

Stuart brings to the administrator post a wealth of diversified experience acquired during the past 26 years. As administrator of the Southeast Ohio Tuberculosis Hospital at Nelsonville, he was responsible for its initial planning, equipping, staffing and operation. He served as a hospital consultant with the Division of Hospital Facilities of the Ohio Department of Health, and as equipment consultant for the Ohio Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction.

Stuart and his wife, Teresa, reside with a daughter, Lisa, at 955 Caniff-rd. Stuart also has a son, 2nd Lt. Martin J. Stuart, stationed with the Air Force at Chandler, Arizona; and another daughter, Sharon, of 130 W. Pacemont-av.

Murray Hill Manor, this city's first modern nonsectarian nursing home in 40 years, is being built at a cost of $573,000 and will open late this year. The professionally staffed home will have accommodations for both men and women.

Fire Destroys Fiberglass Insulation

Three hundred bales of fiberglass insulation in a warehouse at the strikebound Ideal Dispenser Co., 3201 Alberta-st, were destroyed by fire of undetermined origin Friday night, firemen said.

The fire was confined to a rear storage [illegible], according to firemen. It had apparently been smoldering for some time.

Fire Capt. Robert Lynch said there was no damage to the warehouse. There was no estimate of the damage to the bales.

OSU Union To Meet

Ohio State University Employes, Local 580, AFSCME, AFL-CIO, will hold an open meeting, 9:30 p.m., Saturday, Aug. 4, at 276 S. Third-st.

Zoning Change For Restaurant Nixed By Board

The opposition of the Columbus Police Dept., Planning Staff and 186 Hilltop residents was enough to persuade the Board of Zoning Adjustments to turn down a bid to allow a restaurant to replace a beauty salon at 831 S. Richardson-av.

Residents and Police felt that juvenile problems would develop in the area as they have in other commercial districts and the Planning Staff felt that it "just wasn't wise" and didn't coincide with the city's planning scheme.

Teen Hangout To Stay Closed

The appeal of Robert Grove, 2729 Rosedale-av, owner of the B and D Snack Bar, 831 Richardson-av, was turned down by the Board of Zoning Adjustment.

The city board refused July 27 to allow the reopening of the Hilltop snack shop after police testified it had become a troublesome teenage hangout.

SBA To Counsil Small Business

The US Small Business Administration will extend its program of financial counselling assistance in Columbus through August, according to J. G. Garwick, regional director, Cleveland Office, Small Business Administration.

Each Tuesday, Aug. 7, 14, 21, 28 and Sept. 4, a loan specialist from SBA will be available in Room 30, Old Post Office Building, to Columbus [illegible].

Businessman who may have been unable to secure appointments before and those who wish to take advantage of this contact Mrs. Rose Mary Martin, Manager, Industrial Department, Columbus Chamber of Commerce, telephone CA. 1-1321.

Westgate Hawks To Battle McKeesport

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.
Hartley Sports Editor

The only thing wrong with George Bernard Shaw's lament: "The trouble with youth is that it's wasted on children" is that it's not entirely true.

And, a group of hard-playing Hilltop youngsters can prove it.

The fact is that these lads aren't wasting any of their youth. If anything, oldsters stand on the sidelines and wonder where they get the stamina to be so youthful.

The boys are the members of the Westgate Hawks — an Ohio Boys' Football Foundation team that's breaking into local headlines on the wings of a terrific winning streak.

Now, Charlie Carney, business manager for the Hawks, reports that the boys — all under 13 years of age — are making a real bid for national headlines.

The Hawks have dated an exhibition game with the fabulous McKeesport (Pa.) Little Tigers on Sept. 22.

Any "Little guy" football pontificator worth his salt will tell you that this McKeesport team is claimants to the national midgets champion and winner of the annual Milk Bowl game in Pharr, Tex.

The game with the Hawks will be played in Irwin, Pa.

It sounds very cut and dry here in black and white but the events leading up to this game are far from cold. For instance:

The Hawks played two hard years in the fast Ohio Bearcat League. In 1958 the team totaled 10 wins and no losses, and scored 294 points to 14 for opponents and average 315 yards gained per game.

In 1959, same season record, the team had 232 points to the oppositions 32 with an average of 254 yards per game.

In 1960, the team ended with a 7-0 record, scored 256 to the oppositions' 32 with an average of 297 yards per game.

In 1961, the same 7-0 record scoring 216 points to only 14 points for the opponents.

In all, the team holds a 35-0 record for the four years and that's nothing to sneeze at in any league. They're practically unbeatable.

Now, what about the Little Tigers with big claws from McKeesport? Under the tutorship of Coach Bill Lickert (a milkman by profession, incidentally the squad compiled a fabulous 48-0 record since the group was organized under Lickert in 1954.

That just about speaks for itself.

The Hawks have a trio of talent at the helm, including backfield and head coach Dennis McDonald. Married, and the father of a one-year old future Hawk, McDonald was all-city quarterback at West High School in 1956-57 and attended Ohio State University 1958-1962 majoring in math.

Assisting McDonald is Karl Fulton who's also married and the father of a girl and boy. He played end at South High School and staffed the Camp Lee (Va.) military team in 1947. He joined the play-for-pay ranks in 1948 and attended Ohio State University in 1949, playing freshman football there.

Line coach is Ed Richardson. He's the bachelor of the group and, at the present time, is serving in the National Guard. He was all-city and all-state tackle at North High and played in the Ohio All-Star game in 1956-57. He attended Ohio State University in 1957 and 1958.

What about individual team members? The Hawks are loaded here.

Of the returning backfield, Winfred Dearing scored 36 points last season with an average of 9.7 yards per carry. Another youngster, Mark Carney, scored 12 points with an average of 6.7 yards per carry. Eleven boys will be returning from last years' squad.

In 1958, the Hawks played Newport, Ky. for the Ohio-Kentucky crown and defeated that team, 16-14. They did the same thing in 1959 by a 22-14 score. In 1960, the Hawks topped Belmont, Ky. for the same crown by a 27-12 tally.

All proceeds from the McKeesport game will go to aid the Hempstead High School signed to journey to the Band in Irwin, which has been Orange Bowl next January in Miami, Fla.

The game will be played on the Hempstead High field.

The Hawks have the "angle." They do need an "angel," however. They're presently seeking a sponsor for the McKeesport trip as well as customers for the chartered bus which will transport followers, former players and anyone else interested. Information can be obtained along these lines by contacting Carney at BR. 6-1710.

The McKeesport episode will be another chapter in that Columbus area magic currently enjoying success under the name of the Westgate Hawks.

Capitols Hold First Try-Outs

The Columbus Capitols, the local entrant in the United Professional Football League, held their first official tryouts Monday evening at the Ohio Exposition Center.

Head Coach Gene Fekete reported a turnout of over 50 players and indicated that "four or five of the boys looked particularly good and have a good shot at making the club."

Fekete said that the tryouts would continue through Friday, Aug. 27, and that any football player, regardless of previous experience, who may be interested in playing with the Columbus Caps should report to the Fairgrounds' field at 6 p.m.

West Side Boys' Club Heads For City's Pony Loop Crown

The West Side Boys' Club Pony League—Junior Knothole team, coached by Mike Kane, won the championship of the City Recreation Junior Knothole South Division and now will play the Junior Warhawks, the north champions, this week for the city championship.

In their last league game they downed the E.B.A. Mustangs by a 12-0 count.

The Senior Knothole team clinched a tie for the championship by blasting Sunlite Products 12-0 on John Evans' no-hitter.

The Babe Ruth Intermediate Knothole team ran its season record to 20-4 by virture of four victories last week. On Monday they edged St. Charles 1-0 in a pitchers' duel. Boys Club pitcher Dan Thatcher scattered six hits and drove in the game's only run. On Tuesday they mopped Worthington, 7-6, as Dana Noble walked with the bases loaded in the last inning. John Morlan, in relief of Dale Bettinger, got the win. Wednesday's game with the Prairie Rangers was rained out.

On Thursday, they battered the host Lockbourne Air Base 15-6. Thatcher with four hits and Morlan with three hits paced the attack.

Jack Husch, Steve Pennell, and Dan Dent shared the pitching chores. On Saturday they moved into undisputed first place in the Babe Ruth League by blasting the Peers Club, 18-2. John Postle and Morlan with three hits each backed up Pete Eyer's three hit pitching.

STRAIGHTAWAY

BY BILL GRAY

There was one winner in the feature race and five winners in the game of "Total," Sunday night at the Columbus Motor Speedway.

Dayton's Al Smith notched his sixth feature win of the season and his second straight as he moved into the lead on the ninth lap and went all the way, unhindered. Trailing, in order, were Don Townsend, Ralph O'Day, George Hill and Neal Sceva, to round-out the first five.

Those five, coming in in that order, earned $40 for each of five fans who correctly selected them. The "Total" jackpot was up to $200, after Mrs. Adkins took home $1500 the previous Sunday.

This Friday, the flying-stocks will be at the Williams-rd raceway for seven events.

Sunday night, there will be $2000 in prize money for the super-modified Mid-Season Championship.

Swim, Track Meets On Recreation Agenda

Excited local entrants for two big upcoming city-wide recreation contests are getting in final practice this week.

First on the agenda is the Central Ohio Junior Track and Field Meet which will be held at OSU Stadium Saturday, Aug. 4.

The second attraction is the Central Ohio AAU Junior Olympic Swim Meet to be held Aug. 8 and 9 at the Columbus Recreation Department's completely remodeled Maryland Park pool.

Interested swimmers may enter as a team from a playground or a team from a Central Ohio pool. The meet has been expanded this year to two days and includes all recognized Junior Olympic events.

Participants from playgrounds are toeing up for the approaching city - wide tennis tournaments.

Tether ball, four square and horseshoe tournaments will be moving into the quarter finals this week.

Following are this week's reports from nearby playgrounds:

At West Mound

The Lantern Parade was a fine success for West Mound's 22 entries who brought back from Westgate Playground certificates for participation, as well as second place honors for funniest lanterns and third place for the best constructed lanterns.

Those present with their lanterns were: Bill, Mark, and Randy Barnes, 766 Butler-av; Mike, Ronnie and Sandy Johnson, 2095 W. Mound-st; Sharon, Debbie and Donald Coleman, 4544 E. Livingston; Jim, Pete and Mary Wright, 1060 Midland-av; Dianna Speakman, 2224 Eakin-rd; Danny Mead, 782 Butler-av; Alta and Clyde Eastwood, 2099 W. Mound; Eddie Ruis, 771 Whitethorne; Doug Crawford, 779 Whitethorne, Jerry and Tom Morgan, 326 Nashoba.

This week marked the finish of the softball leagues. The Junior Boys closed out the season with a 3-3 record, losing to the Westgate Cons, 5-4. Junior Girls lost to Hauntz, 10 to 5. The Intermediate Boys beat Sunshine 19-10 for their first victory of the season, and the Intermediate Girls forfeited to Westgate's Clowns, ending their season.

In the Junior Jet League the Colts and the Bucks are still battling it out for first place, followed by the Braves, the Yanks, and the Marlins.

Dick Skinner has entered the quarter-finals in Senior Boys tetherball by defeating Binns' challenger.

at Binns . . .

Binns Playground is proud of its "Busy Bunnies" who won three ribbons in the Lantern Parade. They won a first place for Best Design, a second place for the Best Constructed, and a third place for the Prettiest. Participating in the Lantern Parade from Binns were Jane Samko, Anne Riner, Christine Riner, Lynn Morgan, Cynthia Marple, Charles Wright, Timothy Marple, Karen Suchman, Karl Suchman, Lee Snider, Jane Snider, John Riner, Pete Riner, Judy Hollingshead, Wanda Hollingshead, Sandra Allen, Susan and Steven Lowry, and Gregg Zorich.

The Intermediate Boys softball team is now tied for second place. They defeated Hauntz last week in a very close game with a score of 9 to 6. This week they will play Eakin and next week Burroughs. They are hoping to win the next two games so they will gain a tie for first place on the West Side.

Bob Knies defeated Hauntz last week in horseshoes and will have another match this week with a North End playground. Glenn Sanders was defeated in tetherball by West Mound.

Boys and girls from Binns are attending day camp this week. They are Denny and Molly McAndrew;, Cathy, Mary, and Tim Strapp, and Jeff Miles.

The playground now has new hours of 12 to 8, rather than 12:30 to 8:30.

At Chicago . . .

Chicago-av playground took three prizes with them as 27 children blasted off for outer space during the lantern parade July 27. The children won third place for the funniest, second for the prettiest and first place for the most original. The four lanterns showing Astronaut John Glenn's orbit around the earth, had movable parts and were selected to be in a city art show.

Chicago Intermediate boys were defeated by Sullivant Gardens 10-7. A play - off game between these two teams will decide which team will represent the West Side in the city playoff.

At Sunshine

Junior Jet game of the week honors go to the Angels, coached by Morris Stacy, and the Tigers, coached by Lucky Rawlins. The final score: Angels 5, Tigers 1.

Hits in the game for the Angels were collected by Rodney Barton, Dick Orahood, Jim Marcum, Ralph Elswick, Rufus Stacy and Hank Reynolds. For the Tigers Bob Bell, Mike Mahley and Kelly Morgan.

Pitching honors this week go to all four hurlers: Dick Orahood and Jim Marcus of the Angels and Mike Mahley and Kelly Morgan of the Tigers.

The Junior Boys' softball team at Sunshine had two successful games last week by defeating Highland and Chicago Playgrounds. This group of Sunshine boys have met defeat all season but are present for every game and are eager to play ball. They deserve much commemoration for the strong desire to play and cooperate as a team.

The team members are Dave Gainer, pitcher; Charles Logan, catcher; Charles Agins, first; Stacy, second; Bryon, center field; Brooks Dixon, right field; and Chucky, short field.

The Junior Olympics Track and Field Meet will be held this Saturday, Aug. 4, at Ohio State University Stadium. All boys and girls desiring to compete in this event have to be registered by 9 a.m., Aug. 2. The Junior Olympics swim meet at Maryland Pool will be held Aug. 8 and 9 for all boys and girls 11 and under to 17 years of age. The participants must be members of the Amateur Athlete Union. The application blanks can be obtained at Sunshine.

Last Friday night the annual Lantern Parade was held at Westgate Park. Sunshine had as its theme "Fun Around the World." A big float of the world centered the parade, followed by individual lanterns of the various countries and a symbol of the type of recreation most enjoyed in that country.

The playground won three ribbons: first place for the cleverest; second place for the most unusual; and third place for the prettiest. The boys and girls all worked hard on their individual lanterns and contributed a lot of time on the big lantern.

at Glenwood . . .

This past week all arts and crafts periods were used in preparation for the Lantern Parade. The annual Sectional Lantern Parade was held Friday night, July 27, at Westgate Park. Mistress of Ceremonies was Lucy Gasaway of "Lucy's Toy Shop." The children and parents of Glenwood had a wonderful time at the Lantern Parade. They were especially thrilled when they learned they had won first place for the prettiest entry and second place for the most spectacular entry.

Children from Glenwood who entered the parade were: Diane, Beth, Christine, Mary, and Steven George, all of 62 Belvidere; Larry, Kenneth, and Marvin Hamiter, 207 Clarendon; Linda and Bonnie Baker, 156 Lechner; Linda and Patty Baker, 162 Columbian; Karen Letsinger, 1947 Fairmont; Kathy Peterson, 186 Columbian; Linda Kilby, 171 Lechner; Patty Linard, 2040 Fairmont; Kathy Maxwell, 175 Midland; and Larry Davis, 136 S. Columbian.

The children of Glenwood are having a week of fun at Indian Village Camp this week. They leave for camp at 8 a.m. from Glenwood and return at 5:30 p.m. daily through Friday.

The Ohio Central District A.A.U. Horseshoe Tournament will be held Friday, Aug. 17, at Sunshine Park, beginning at 6 p.m. Qualifying will be Thursday, Aug. 16, from 6 until 10 p.m. There will be four classes— A, B, C, and D. The entry fee is $2 for the tournament.

The Junior Olympic Track Meet is open to any boy or girls 17 years of age and under (ages as of Aug. 4) from the Central Ohio area.

Junior Olympics' program with the track and field division will be held at Ohio State University Stadium on Aug. 4, while the swimming and diving meets will be held at Maryland Park pool Aug. 8 and 9. The Junior Olympics swim meet will include a total of 80 swim events for boys and girls 16 and under. A.A.U. membership will be required of all swimmers. Entry blanks for the swim meet are available in Room 124, City Hall, and each swimmer must have an individual entry form. This form must be submitted to the Recreation Department by Aug. 6.

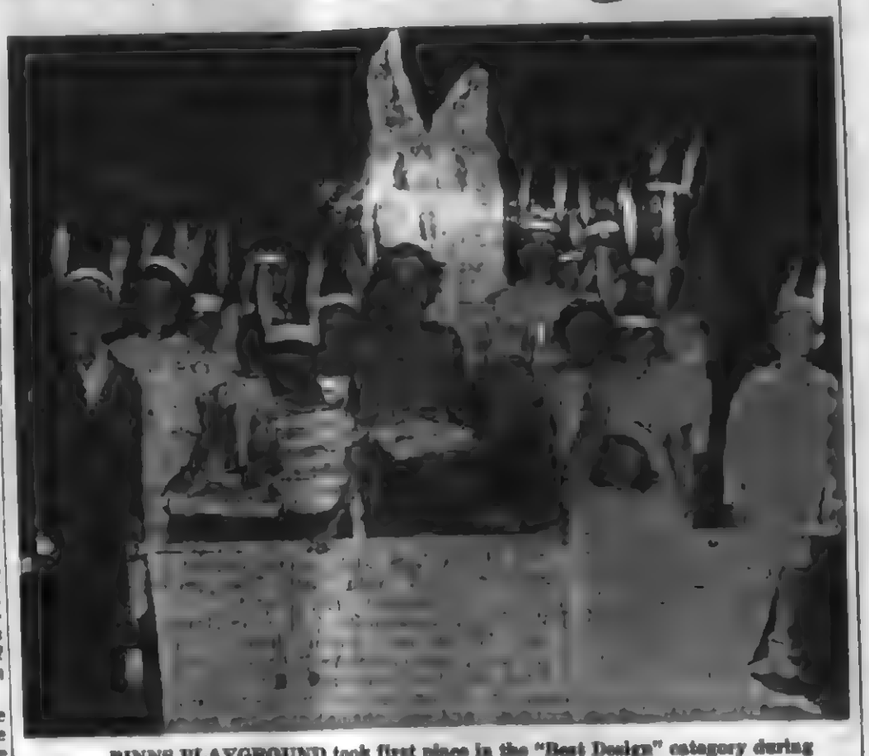
At Holton

Children who are attending Indian Village Camp this week are: Diana McCann, Marta Renner, Brenda Smith, Dale Cothern, Carles and Jerry Blevins and Phil Smith.

Holton's theme for the Lantern Parade last week was "Christopher Columbus." Teen-agers who worked on the large statue of Columbus lantern were: Tom Close, Doyle Plants, Rosemary Spires and Tom Hankel. Steve Moon made a special lantern of Columbus' three ships. Others who were in the parade were Debbie Moon, Marta, Peggy and Janet Renner, Dianna McCann, Karen Lombard, Cheryl Wilson, Bobby Calendine, Jean Brown, Donald, John and Pam Mason, Breana Marker, Steve Murphy, Michelle Hobbs, Karen Lombard and John Gusler.

The Junior Girls softball team won over Hauntz and will play them again this week to determine the league championship.

This week the children will be doing paper mache' and wood stick craft during the craft hours 2 to 4 daily.



Playground hours have changed and will operate from 12 noon until 8 p.m. Monday through Friday.

at Eakin . . .

The lantern parade, one of the biggest summer events sponsored by the Columbus Recreation Department, was held last Friday night at Westgate Park. At Eakin preparation for the event went on all week. We would like to thank Mr. and Mrs. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Clark and Mrs. McCleaf for their help in the preparation. Eakin's theme was "Circus." We took first place in the "funniest" division and third place as the most spectacular.

Although rain spoiled some games last week, Junior Jet baseball was still king at Eakin and Georgian Heights. The standings:

	W	L
Braves	3	1
Tigers	2	2
Yanks	1	4
Reds	1	4

BINNS PLAYGROUND took first place in the "Best Design" category during the Lantern Parade held at Westgate Park, July 27. They took two other ribbons. Theme for the playground was "Binns' Busy Bunnies."

Lantern Spectacular Draws Big Crowd

Winners in the West sectional lantern parade, held July 27 at Westgate Park, have been announced by Chuck Moore, area supervisor.. There were 290 participants from 13 Hilltop and West Side playgrounds. They paraded around Harder Lake at dusk with their candle-lit lanterns as a crowd of 200 watched.

Mistress of ceremonies was WBNS-TV's Lucy Gasaway of Lucy's Toy Shop.

Judges were Judge Robert Draper, Richard Nash, president of Hilltop Kiwanis Club; Galvy Gordon, president of the Hilltop Lions Club; Councilman Ronald DeVore, and Fr. Claggett of St. Mary Magdalene Church.

Winners in the various categories and their themes were: Most Spectacular: first, Georgian Heights, "Indians"; second, Glenwood, "Mother Goose"; third, Eakin, "Circus".

Best Design: first, Binns, "Binn's Busy Bunnies"; second, Hauntz, "Sesquicentennial"; third, Sunshine, "Fun Around The World."

Cleverest: first, Sunshine, "Fun Around The World"; second, Sullivant Gardens, "Who's Who At The Zoe"; third Burroughs, "Sesquicentennial."

at Sullivant . . .

The intermediate boy's softball team moved into a tie with Chicago for first place in the league with a win over Highland 16-8 and a thrilling victory over Chicago 10-7. Chic Frasure was the winning pitcher in both games.

The junior boys softball remained undefeated and in sole possession of first place with a victory over Highland.

The junior girls kept winning by defeating Georgian Heights 27-7 and Sunshine 10-3.

The intermediate girls defeated Sunshine 25-10 in another contest.

The women's adult team defeated Olmstead 7-6 and played to a tie with Windsor-Terrace 5-5 after seven innings.

Kenny Reed has reached the quarter finals of the horse-shoe tournament.

In the four-square tournament Mike Mattox, Darrel Watson, Joan Fields and Sharon Reed have also received the quarter-finals in their respective divisions.

In the Lantern parade at Westgate Park last Friday, Sullivant Gardens received a first, a second and a third-place ribbon. The theme was "Who's Who at the Zoo" and featured a traveling Zoo.

Mrs. Juanita Sims

at Highland . . .

The Highlanders had a very exciting week getting ready for the Lantern Parade. Many of the boys and girls who made Lanterns were not able to participate in the actual parade, but we had a very good turnout, twelve boys and nine girls. Our theme for the parade was Columbus' businesses. We were awarded a participation award. We also won third place for the most unusual and second place for the showiest.

We had a very impressive turnout of parents at the Lantern Parade. Many thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. Tall, and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis for their efforts in getting the children to and from the parade.

Our softball teams took a rest last week. The Intermediate boys were the only team to play. Our volley ball teams are all ready and set to start their inter playground tournaments.

We will be doing basketry this week for Arts and Crafts.

Registration blanks for Junior Olympic Tract Meet must be in by 8 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 1.

at Hauntz . . .

Going into the last week of Junior Jet play, each team has a 5-5 record. The Giants won two games this week while the Braves split and the Jets lost their two. Home-runs were hit by Charles Ventola, Charles Maynard and Steve Evans.

The Junior Boys' Softball team won the championship of League I. They finished their season undefeated by beating Georgian Heights 14-0. Dave Adams was the winning pitcher (2-0); Ronnie Wheeler had three hits. The Intermediate Boys lost their second game in a row, 9-6, to Binns. Mike Shafler led the attack for Hauntz with a home run. Jerry Green was the losing pitcher (3-2). The Senior Boys' team drew a bye, but they will play John Burroughs for the championship Wednesday at 6. The Intermediate Girls won their fourth straight victory. They beat Sullivant Gardens 14-12. Jean Kearney was the winning pitcher (4-0) and Rita Rees led the hitting with 5 RBI's.

The Junior Girls lost their first game 17-6 to Holton, but they will play Holton again this week for the league championship.

Steve Evans and Rita Rees have advanced to the quarter finals in the city horseshoes tournament. In the four-square tournament Hauntz had the following winners: Steve Evans and Ronnie Wheeler, John Farrell and Jim Alexander, Sally Dorsam and Donna Shank. Bill Lanling, Dave Adams and Sally Dorsam also advanced to the TED SCHROECK (left) owner of a gasoline service station at Elden and Broad-sts, is just one of the nearly 100 merchants throughout greater Columbus who is joining with Perry Warren's (right) Central Ohio Independent Businessmen's Association to help finance cancer research. Merchants set aside a margin of their profits and send the money to the association which forwards it to the American Cancer Society on E. Mound-st.

UNDER COIBA

Merchants Take Up Charity Work; Aid Cancer Research

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

Greater Columbus area merchants are marching into the charity ranks in double-time under the leadership of crusader Perry Warren who, this time, is toting the sword of the American Cancer Society.

Warren, a North Side resident, is best remembered for starting an anti-trading stamp drive in this area about a year ago with the help of service stations.

This time, service stations, along with other merchants, are being hantled together by an association formed by Warren, known as the Central Ohio Independent Businessmen's Association (COIBA).

Warren launched his attack on cancer primarily in the Hilltop area but, in a mere two weeks, it has spread through Columbus and is gaining support throughout the county.

As Warren explained it, merchants are solicited by the COIBA group and asked to set aside a "margin of their profits" which they forward to the COIBA office and from there Warren says the funds are sent to the American Cancer Society on Mound-st. Just what percentage of sales will go to the Cancer Society was not disclosed by Warren.

Paul Walker, Franklin County chapter director for the society, said in a recent telephone interview that his organization "sanctions any group that will help financially."

This project is believed by Warren to be the first time that the American Cancer Society has allowed the use of the trade-marked red sword in connection with advertising by an outside group.

Warren used the sword on large posters which service stations display in front of their establishments. They read: "Buy Here And You Help Cancer Research."

The signs are being distributed primarily to business places which do not issue trading stamps and Warren explained that the money used for buying the stamps is about the same amount that the merchants set aside for the Cancer Society.

Since COIBA is not quite a month old, Warren claims he's financing the poster expenses "until things get rolling." He's also had business-card size handouts printed that merchants give to customers.

These "hand-outs" also display the Cancer Society's emblem and read "Buy Here—Buy Health. A Share Of Our Profits Each Month Is Sent To The American Cancer Society To Help Find The Cancer Answer." There's room on the card to stamp the merchant's name and address.

To date, Warren reported that he has approximately 100 area merchants actively participating in the project. He's hopeful that the number will jump considerably in the "next couple of weeks."

member of Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority and served as rush chairman, pledge class president and Pan Hel representative of that group. She was also active in student government and the Association of Women Students. In Columbus she was an active member of Westgate Methodist Church.

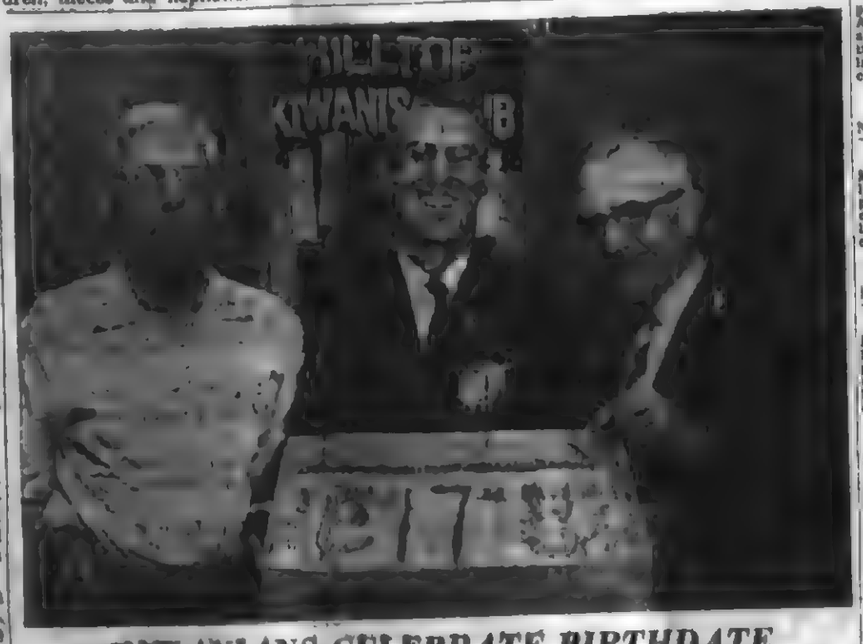
Typical of Janie's extreme faith was this excerpt of a letter she wrote to a hospitalized schoolmate last fall: "Keep your chin up, sweetie—we all have our crosses to bear and I promise it makes better 'men' of us."

In addition to her mother she is survived by brother Jeff and maternal grandparents Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Seiler, 29 Eldon-av.

Friends may call at Jerry Spears Funeral Home, 2693 W. Broad-st, today from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m. Funeral service will be held Thursday at 1 p.m. with Rev. C. G. Everson officiating. Interment will be at Sunset Cemetery.

In lieu of flowers friends may contribute to the Jane Leighninger Cancer Fund.

Southview To Become Largest Park In City



Another chapter to the "Saga Of Southview Park" was written Monday night by Columbus City Council and, with each succeeding chapter, the plot-line develops a brighter outlook.

Southview, which has caused headaches for local housing authorities and city recreation leaders, had the OK given to it by the solons and the Recreation Commission will begin taking bids for the expansion of the area.

Main trouble was with the Greenlawn Housing Project which failed to clear out of the area in an allotted time bound only by a "verbal agreement."

Now, however, the land is becoming more and more available to the recreation men and, as it looks now, Southview will become the largest park in Columbus.

Upcoming work, authorized Monday by council, includes grading, excavating, the clearing of 10 trees and installing five drainage sumps in the Greenlawn-Stimmel-rd area site.

KIWANIANS CELEBRATE BIRTHDATE

A HAPPY SEVENTEENTH birthday party was celebrated by the Hilltop Kiwanis Club. Especially honored was the charter president, Dr. Jim Miles of 3900 Dublin-rd. The club still has 24 active charter members and has a present roster of 119 members. The organization has won numerous state and national awards and sponsored the initiation of four other Kiwanis clubs. From left are: Dr Jim Miles; sponsored the initiation of four other Kiwanis clubs. From left are: Dr Jim Miles; Elmer Hegenberger, 106 Binns-blvd, education and fellowship chairman; and president Richard Nash, 625 Crossard-rd.

quarter finals of the tether-ball tournament.

This is the big week for the track team at Hauntz. Saturday they will compete in the Junior Olympics at Ohio State.

After long preparation and some frantic last minute work the lantern parade got under way Friday night at Westgate. The covered wagon was pulled by a cow, which was made and drawn by Trina Smallwood. This wagon received second prize for the best designed lantern in the parade. The lanterns were horse heads, a frog, a pig, Indians, squirrels and horses. More than 25 persons from Hauntz were in the parade.

TOOK SOME DOING (CHEATING?), BUT LIONS WIN

LOSERS AGAIN were the Hilltop Kiwanis in the boat race between them and Hilltop Lions Club at the Bean Dinner. Here they're shown trailing in the first heat as the ping pong paddles, which were substituted for oars, just didn't take them where they wanted to go. Lions will take on Hilltop Y's Men, winners for three years, in tonight's 7 o'clock event on Harder Lake.

Indian Missionary... At Community Tonight

Rev. Nathan Krampitz of Canada will speak at Hilltop Community Church, 179 N. Huron-av, tonight at 7:30. Pastor L. Richard Rahrar invites all to attend.

Rev. Krampitz is a seminary graduate and pastored at Yorktown, Sask., Canada. He and his family have been appointed missionaries to India where he will serve in the Bible training Center at Alahabad.

of the free beans were consumed Monday night and another 900 pounds last night. But that's not all — the rest of the 2400 pounds will be hot and ready for hungry hordes tonight from 5 to 8.

PONY TAILS

The annual pony tail contest, sponsored by the area Hartley Newspapers, had dozens of entrants with perky pony tails anywhere from two inches to two feet. Petite winners in the under four class were Kathy Jo Wing, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wing, 1665 Brown-rd, first; Leslie Geahwilm, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Geahwilm, 975 S. Richardson-av, second, and Kathy Smith, 4, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Keith Smith, 60 N. Huron, third.

In the five through eight class were Patty Jewett, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Jewett, 465 Pasadena, first; Jackie Lynn Steele, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Steele, 173 S. Chase, second, and Becky Spangler, 6, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Michael Spangler, 3149 Whitehead-rd, third.

Winners of the nine through 12 group were Carol Reece, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Reece, 3128 Wicklow-rd, first; Christine Schaefer, 9, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Schaefer, 996 S. Harris, second, and Cecilia Monsour, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Monsour, 524 S. Eureka, third.

Judges for this event were Mrs. Hazel Roberts, Mrs. Kathryn Poenisch, Mrs. Sarabell Terhune and Mrs. Josie Chase. Announcer was Galvy Gordon of the Columbus Public Library. Each of the little winners received silver dollar prizes.

BOYS COMPETE

For the masculine tastes the Pinewood Derby was held Tuesday afternoon and the following boys walked off with prizes: Craig French, 2844 Valleyview-dr, Class B, $5; Charles Bergmann, 678 S. Roys-av, Class A, $5; Steve Andrews, 705 Powhatan, best decorated, $1, and Steve Campbell, 745 Powhatan, best designed, $1.

This afternoon and evening offer a fancy fare of events yet to be run, including the bike parade at 2 p.m., Pilot Dogs exhibition at 3 p.m., twist contest for youngsters at 5 p.m., tumbling exhibitions by the "Y" at 8 p.m., followed by musical talent and the final prize drawings.

The final in the boat race, with participants using ping pong paddles for oars, will be run at 7 p.m. at Harder Lake between the Hilltop Y's Men and victors over Hilltop Kiwanis in Tuesday's regatta, Hilltop Lions Club.

PRIZES GALORE

Merchandise winners to date are as follows: Opal Carter, Autumn Stone, Darrold T. Lee, C. E. Pike, Robert Penny, Nellie Cardosi, Bernis Black, Dick Euring, Judith Hughes, Don Heischman, Susan Renick, Mrs. Henrietta Newman, R. T. Shea, Robert Kovach and Oscar Meier.

Effie Wickham, Mrs. Rita Rowe, Mrs. H. A. Herbert, Vernon L. Creasop, Jennie Tier, Joan Lehman, Menda Ratliff, Carl C. Ruggles, Bob Hield, Robert Watrous, Frank Sekoll, Daniel Douglass, Mrs. Clara O'Donnell, Mrs. Vera Wooten, Gary L. Sixt and Bob Staley.

David Cummings, Don Clifton, Ray Wymer, Sharon Moony, Sue Eddy, Linda Giffin, Mrs. P. A. Lightle, Norma J. Carver, John Jordan, Sue Siniff, Forrest W. Fox, Wanda Hildebrand and Arthur Bellar.

Winners in the grandstand prize drawings of 10 silver dollars are Homer Young, Mrs. Alberta Staten, Carl W. Black, Stephan Cook, Robert Leslie, W. C. Robbins and Robert Mitchell.

Those winning five silver dollars were Mrs. Everett Warren, Raymond Saylor, Mrs. Ellis W. Jones, Mrs. Karl Ausenhermer, Ruby Hart and Gene Nelson.

Twenty-five dollar savings bonds were won by the following: David G. Abrams, Gary Link, Bob Delon, Gayl Holt, Mrs. D. S. Davis and Mildred Morris.

FAIR MEANS OR FOUL was the cry of Lions as they set out to beat Kiwanis. Here a Lion attaches an outboard motor to the boat which was loaned to them (minus spark plugs and gas) by Kiwanian Bill Jones. Jones said he hoped it would slow them down, but the Lions couldn't be stopped.

ment that county commissioners must approve the plan next. Commissioner chairman Glenn L. Myers told the press this week that county funds for such a project are insufficient at present.

Westlake said the road's extension should not be deterred, because it is "badly needed." "I am sure the commissioners are aware of this," he said.

The mayor added that it is possible that the work could be advanced a few months now that cooperative plans for an underpass at Cassady-av in Bexley apparently have fallen through.

Councilman Moody, Southwick and William Fornof have disagreed with the mayor on other matters in recent weeks, especially on the hiring of outside engineering help. Monday, however, was the first instance of caustic open debate on the council floor.

The mayor said he reminded Fornof that a $25,000 survey on the possibilities of extending Frank-rd (a favorite project of the South Side councilman) had been approved without assurance that outside participation in the costs would be forthcoming.

to pool owner Case and try to persuade him to seek an injunction limiting the number of pickets.

CORE members have picketed the pool four times in the last 11 days, and attempted to at least two other times, but changed their minds when it started raining. The picket groups have numbered as high as 28 persons in the past.

Officials of the organization have sent letters, telegrams and post cards to Mayor Fisher telling him that they want and have a right to police protection by Valleyview.

Village Solicitor Gale King, however, gave his legal opinion to council Monday night that Valleyview was not responsible for the safety of the pickets.

Fisher said that he had already informed the CORE office that the village was not capable of providing police protection for more than two or three pickets, but his advice went unheeded.

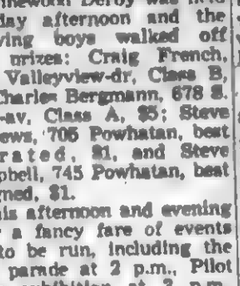
He described the pickets as "martyrs," saying that if they weren't given police protection it would only strengthen their hold on the situation.

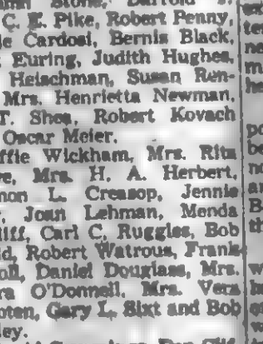
"This thing could lead to trouble, possibly mass violence," said Fisher, "unless the people not directly affected and concerned get out and stay out."

Marshal Dillon injected a note of humor into the meeting when he said that CORE officials asked him to stop two pickets from picketing the pickets.

Dillon told the CORE people: "No sir, I won't stop them. They have as much right to picket as any one of you."

Another meeting, with Solicitor King, Mayor Fisher and some of the councilmen will be held next Monday night to determine the legality of the agreements and to discuss further protection measures.





DANCERS

TAKING part in a series of "teen dances" at Westgate Park are these four terpsichorians starting from the bottom and going up: Carol Horky, 263 S. Sylvan; Mike Steiff, 62 N. Burgess; Susan Hoffman, 3144 Wicklow-rd, and Mike Hobbs, 292 S. Roys-av. A "Western Dance" will be held Friday, Aug. 3, at 8 p.m.

'BEST EVER' FAIR STARTS MONDAY

Members of Kenley Cast To Cut Ribbon At Grand Opening

The Franklin County Fair Board has enough events, displays and shows scheduled to keep a visitor busy looking during the entire five days of the fiesta.

Orson Bean and Gretchen Wyler of the Kenley Players "Say Darling" production will start things off by cutting the ribbon at the fair gate at 7 p.m. Monday, Aug. 13.

Bean and Miss Wyler won't be the only celebrities there however. Wednesday will be Mayor's Day, with all the Franklin County mayors invited.

Also several radio and TV personalities have been engaged to put on various sock-hops, square dances, round dances and floor shows.

Cinderella and Flippo will also be there for the kids.

A complete schedule of events for the fair can be seen in the full-page ad on page 8.

Midway entertainment will be provided by the Deggeller Amusement Co. of Evanston, Ill., on the larger midway this year.

The Junior Fair King and Queen will be picked Tuesday evening.

For the farmers, either by profession or pretension, there will be an Ayershire and Guernsey cattle shows, a large machinery display and more than 1,400 animals exhibited.

For the women there will be a flower show that is said to be bigger than the one at the State Fair, a ceramics display, cooking, baking, sewing, handicraft displays and exhibitions.

A record 135 entrants have registered for the 4-H Horse and Pony Show in showmanship and horsemanship contests.

Friday will be "Youth Day" with a parade, frolics and contests, and an all-county combined band concert climaxing the day.

The most popular aspect in the past history of the fair has been harness racing and the Fair Board seems to have an excellent card of night racing lined up for this year.

Three nights of racing will start at 8 p.m. Aug. 15.

Free admission to the mutuels area, will be featured this year, although reserved and box seats will still be sold for the grandstand.

EXPERIENCED AND EXCITED are these two ladies: Mary Bradley, age 11, and daughter of horseman Bailey Bradley, 2630 Amity-rd, is entering fair competition for the first time. She has entered her horse in the showmanship and horsemanship classes. Mrs. Katie A. White, 28 E. Columbia-st, Hilliard, shows off her 41st year's entries. She has 15 entries in the women's division this year and is sure to add to her more than 350 ribbons won over the past 40 years. She is entering canned goods, rolls, potted plants, pickles and bread classes.

'Urban Atmosphere' Expected To Boost Attendance Record

Franklin County Fair Board officials are planning an "urban" event atmosphere this year, according to Tom McNutt, public relations director.

Although most county fairs revolve around agricultural events, McNutt credits the change to an increased urban interest in 4-H clubs, garden groups and suburban growth into the country.

The publicity director reported that entries in flower shows have almost tripled in the past few years. He added that a ceramics exhibit will add more to the "urban touch" along with the standard livestock, farm and agricultural displays.

Four years ago, around 50 4-H clubs had displays, while around 150 are expected this year. One 4-H'er from Columbus last year entered a stereo record playing unit which he built himself, a far cry from usual crafts entered in the foregone "country fair."

But local farmers have no reason to feel slighted. The fair will supply plenty of activity for them. Entries in the tractor pulling contest have steadily increased, along with the hundreds of livestock displays.

Extensive remodeling has taken place on the fairgrounds, McNutt said fair officials were attempting to get rid of the dead space. The area beneath the grandstand has been cleared and exhibits will be shown there.

Several areas have been blacktopped, several buildings remodeled and a new commercial display building constructed.

Racing, enjoyed by country and city folks alike, will be even better this year, according to McNutt. A new drainage system was built, and even if it rains, it isn't expected that the track will be too wet for racing.

Attendance at the fair has been growing since Franklin County's was named "Top Fair in Ohio" in 1959. Officials are shooting for a 25,000 attendance goal as compared to 23,000 last year, 21,000 the year before and 19,500 in 1959.

The fair will be from Monday, Aug. 13 to Friday, Aug. 17.

School Board Buying Houses To Make Way For Expansion Of School Sites

A program of site expansion and remodeling of west area schools has been in progress throughout the summer. None of the projects will be completed by the opening of school. Razing of structures and expansion of playgrounds will continue through the 1962-63 school year. Following is a local progress report:

CHICAGO — site expansion; bought four properties to the immediate north, want to purchase one more site, with a total addition of one-half acre. This will increase the size of the site 75 percent. Chicago Avenue was the smallest elementary site in the city system.

AVONDALE — site expansion; have purchased one property and plan to purchase three more, all north of the site. This will increase the size of the site by 25 percent, about one-third acre.

HIGHLAND — site expansion; add four-fifths of an acre, will purchase several parcels adjacent to the site.

WEST BROAD — remodeling; remodeled toilets, installed new lighting and drinking fountains in halls, remodeling gymnasium-auditorium and improving the lighting and painting exterior woodwork, at a cost of $36,056.

DANA — addition and remodeling for a total cost of $100,897; a new 40 by 60 foot multi-purpose room with stage, toilets and kitchen, main building being redecorated, painting exterior woodwork, remodeling of the following; old assembly room at north end of ground floor divided into two classrooms, relocated the health clinic closer to the office, creating new library work room next to office, installed some new lighting, replacing damaged stair treads and filling depression in the playground.

WEST HIGH — remodeled [illegible] auditorium seats, roll-away-type outside bleachers for football (removing regular bleachers), extensive repairs to concrete walks and stadium, sump pump to remove dampness in lunchroom and basement.

DANA ELEMENTARY is the scene of one of the current school renovation programs. This new addition and remodeling will cost $100,897.

Hegele Promoted To Major In State Highway Patrol

A Hilltop resident with 28 years service as an Ohio State Highway Patrolman has been promoted to the rank of major.

He is Martin G. Hegele, 54, of 162 Letchworth-av. The newly promoted officer is married to the former Helen Jordan of Bellevue, who have four children, son, Lynn, with the Air Force; daughter, Mrs. Charles Smith of Tucson, Ariz.; daughter, Luetta and son Lee, at home.

Major M. G. Hegele

He is a member, treasurer and Sunday School teacher of the Westgate United Brethren Church, director of adult education and a member of the Pastor-Parish Relations Committee. The major is also a member of the International Association of Chiefs of Police, Committee on Communications, Associated Public-Safety Communication Officers, Inc., National Committee on Teletype, Luther B. Turner Lodge No. 732, Masonic Order; Scottish Rite Valley, and secretary to the Patrol Pension Board.

He was graduated from Springfield High School in 1927. He joined the Patrol in Apr. 15, 1934 and has served at Cambridge, Marietta, Perrysburg, Defiance, Bellevue, Findlay and General Headquarters in Columbus.

At present, Hegele is in charge of staff services, which include Civil Defense, communications, driver's license, school bus inspection, driver education, driver improvement, special services, records, public information, planning and research and auxiliary patrol activities.

West High Lists Scheduling, Immunization Requirements

West High School will open its doors to 1,960 students Wednesday, Sept. 5, including students in grades seven, 10, 11, 12 and one special class.

New students are urged to enroll before Aug. 14 to secure adequate scheduling. There will be no schedule changes during the first two weeks of school.

Changes for those who registered in the spring will be considered and should be made at the office prior to Aug. 14. No shorts are allowed in the school, so students must be dressed properly.

To enter junior or senior high school students must have the following immunizations or be in the process of receiving them in compliance with Ohio's immunization law: smallpox, one successful vaccination; poliomyelitis, three injections.

Diphtheria and tetanus, two injections required in the third through sixth grades only; tetanus, two injections required in the seventh through 12th grades only; booster, at least one year after the basic series has been completed, a diphtheria and tetanus or a tetanus booster (depending on grade level) is required.

Seventh graders assigned to West and all 10th graders coming from Hilltonia Junior High School have been registered for this semester.

Any student or parent who has questions about the coming school year is urged to come to the school or telephone the office any week day between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

BOUQUETS 'n BRICKBATS

Marshal, Aide In Spotlight At Valleyview

By MARCUS ORR

Valleyview's own Marshal Dillin has a new sidekick, but his name's not Chester.

The village council Monday night gave first reading to an ordinance setting up a permanent post of deputy marshal to serve under Frank Dillin. Ralph Marioth, 2338 Valleyview-dr, has been serving in that capacity since his provisional appointment by Mayor Robert Fisher late in June.

Although councilmen first saw the proposed ordinance last April, little was done about it until Valleyview suddenly became the focal point of racial tension. On July 21 members and sympathizers of the Congress on Racial Equality (CORE) began picketing the Hilltop Swim Club, charging that it is not a private club and is "practicing illegal racial discrimination." Four repeats of the picketing have followed, each time drawing crowds of hecklers and some disorder . . . all of which has prompted requests for more police protection. The pickets, themselves, called upon, the mayor and his marshal for such protection several hours in advance of each picketing [illegible].

Last Sunday 12 CORE members carried their signs of protest along the roadway in front of the pool from 4 to 6 p.m.

To date no injunctions to limit the number of pickets have been filed.

Village fathers Monday night shook their heads at the notoriety which the usually-placid community of 730 has suffered in the past few weeks.

"Our town, Valleyview, has gotten worldwide publicity over this thing," said an alarmed Mayor Fisher. He told his council and a small gathering that the tension had even been reported in "Stars and Stripes," a newspaper distributed Army-wide.

The new ordinance for deputy marshal likely will become law in 30 days. With it will come repeal of a 1940 law which authorized four deputies but was vague on conditions of pay and work procedures. Under the new regulations the deputy, appointed by mayor or council, will receive $600 a year and $15 toward uniforms. Not working a day-by-day schedule, he will be subject to call only as needed.

Maurey Voices Complaints

A former Valleyview marshal created a stir in the tiny town hall Monday night. Jack Maurey threw a verbal boot at Marshal Dillin and his way of doing things. He first chided council for buying the marshal two new tires for a car "that I never see him drive; he's always sitting." Maurey followed through with accusations that Dillin ignored some of his own stop signs and had planted shrubbery on village property in a place that created a traffic hazard.

Things calmed down, however, after the village lawmakers and other citizens

NEW PASTOR

REV. DAVID L. FISH has assumed the pulpit of Hillcrest Baptist Church and delivered his first sermon last Sunday. He and his wife and three children have moved into the parsonage, 144 S. Sylvan-av. His sermon topic next Sunday will be "Masaquine on Main Street."

C'MON, FROSTY, WE CAN'T STAND TO WATCH SNOW BAWL

NEXT TIME you complain about the heat, give a moment's thought to poor Frosty. The heat was so much for him that he just melted away—right there in a big, wet spot on S. Burton-av. Frosty, before his fate, was a wintertime snowman, stored in the freezer chest of David Sorg, 34 S. Eureka-av, and brought out last week for a look at the sunshine. He didn't like it. That's David, in the picture at the left, mopping the perspiration off him. But, it was to no avail (see picture at right). Yep, Frosty turned back into good ol' H2O right before the eyes of David (center) and his brother, John (right) and a friend, John Clinton, of 79 S. Eureka-av.

GET FIRE PROMOTIONS

TWO VETERAN Hilltop fire fighters received promotions in ceremonies July 31 in Safety Director Albert G. Giles' office. They are, left, Clyde E. Grashel, 38, of 287 Demorest-rd and Robert E. Lynch, 40, of 104 N. Warren-av. Grashel was promoted from the position of firefighter to fire lieutenant and Lynch from fire captain to battalion fire chief. Grashel entered the department Nov. 16, 1947 and Lynch entered Mar. 22, 1948. Lynch is assigned to No. 5 Chief's District, Unit 2, west of the river, north and south of Broad-st. Grashel is assigned to the airport facility, Unit 1, Station 25. He has two brothers, also Hilltoppers, in the fire department. They are Lt. Frank Grashel, of 704 Oakley-av, of Unit 1, No. 12 fire station, Brinker and Sullivant-avs and firefighter Kurt F. Grashel, of 706 Powhatan-av, who is assigned at W. Broad and N. Mill.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

News Of Troop 137

During the summer months the members of this troop have been working on various proficiency badges and have been scheduling weekly meetings.

They have also taken tours of the Columbus Police Station, City Hall, State Capitol Building, Franklin County Court House and concentrated on cleaning up the health and safety hazards on the West Broad Street School playground as requirements on the Community Safety Badge.

Some of the girls in the troop have completed the Animal Raiser Badge, the Salt Water Life Badge and the Home Gardner Badge.

As a part of the Hospitality Badge the girls visited the china and silver department at Lazarus.

On July 11, everyone in the troop went to the Walnut Valley Boat Club at Hoover Dam where they held a picnic. Assisting with the transportation were Mrs. James Holycross, Mrs. Donald White, Mrs. Austin Hutt and Miss Ruthanne Ralph. Troop leaders are Mrs. William McPherson and Mrs. George Ralph.

MADEMOISELLES VISIT HERE

'America Iz, How You Zay, Neat,'—French Girl Scouts

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

"Ze peepole here are so friendly and, can we say, neat?"

That's 20-year old Jacquelene Leenhardt speaking. She's been a Girl Scout for 11 years and serves as a troop leader back home in her native France.

But she, along with 12 other French Girl Scouts, are currently making discoveries about this land of America that Columbus (that's Christopher) did when he first explored it.

The girls, being hosted by various Girl Scout families in the Ohio Trefoil District, were brought to this country a couple of weeks ago as part of an experiment in national living in cooperation with the Girl Scouts of America. Most of the financing is through the Juliette Low World Friendship fund.

The foreign mademoiselles are part of a select group. There are more than 80,000 members in French Girl Scout programs and naming 13 of them to come to America must've been quite a task.

The girls were selected from all over France, basically, on their ability at making friends, according to the group's spokesman, 23-year old Jacquelene Ponsot.

It's a good thing that the girls didn't make the trip a few months earlier or later . . . they wouldn't have discovered two favorite drinks, iced tea and iced coffee.

"In France," one of the girls said, "we eat two beeg meals. But here, ho-ho, we eat all ze time."

Among this eating is a variety of sandwiches which the foreign femmes never heard of before. They especially like hamburgers which they pronounce hoomburgers.

Most of the girls have just been graduated from high school while a few of them are attending universities in France.

They have a "beeg" sense of humor, too. Mss Ponsot related this story which evidently is the rage on the French joke list:

"It seems that Prime Minister McMillan, Premier Khrushchev and President Kennedy died and were greeted by St. Peter who said he would grant any wish.

"Well, Mr. Kennedy said he would like St. Peter to wipe Russia off ze map and St. Peter obliged. Mr. Khrushchev said he wanted America wiped off ze map and this was done. Then, St. Peter asked Mr. McMillan what wish he wanted and ze prime minister replied: 'I think I'd like a cup of tea.'"

Maybe it loses something in the translation.

The French groups and their American hostess include:

Laurence Cautroh (Hostess Betsy Hartman), Francoise Lebouteiller (Donna Erickson), Monique Tessier (Susan Orr), Anne Forichon (Diane Jones), Marguerite Puts (Susan Hay), Christine Peugeoh and Jacqueline Leenhardt (Kay and Sue McElfrish in Delaware, O.), Christine Dryfus (Kathleen Cocks) Francoise Daube (Patricia Anglin), Elizabeth Hermes (Janet Koogler), Franchette Milka (Terry Long) and Claude Craff (Carol Swarts).

Of course, all of the Girl Scouts in the Ohio Trefoil area are doing their part to introduce the visitors to America. And, from the comments, they're doing a good job.

"We're all planning to come back some day," Miss Ponsot commented. "The only problem was ze language, but we're overcoming that. Most of us, now, can say 'Oh Boy,' 'That's Neat' and 'Swell.'"

The girls will leave for France on Sept. 11 when they'll fly from Port Columbus to Idlewild Field in New York City and then home.

Too Noisy For People, Say Zoners

The Rural Zoning Commission at a public hearing on July 23 rejected one variance bid and continued a zoning change request.

The variance was requested by a Hilltop real estate firm to construct three large apartment buildings on W. Broad-st across from the new Lazarus complex.

Representatives from the Cummins Diesel plant on Phillipi-rd near the proposed apartment location said that traffic in and out of the plant made "too much noise and would not be fair to persons living in the apartments."

A request to change the commercial zoning granted to Glen Jordan on his property at 2500 Clime-rd was filed by Leonard Serafini of 2451 Clime-rd.

Daniel Bolognone, 2363 Clime-rd, had contested the grant in Common Pleas Court and the case was dismissed.

It is now pending in the Appellate Court and will not be tried until the court reconvenes in September.

The zoning body felt that it could not make a decision on the case until the ruling was made by the Court of Appeals.

The parties contesting the commercial zoning fear that Jordan will initiate a commercial operation that would devalue their own property.

The first battle of Bull Run, the Civil War's first important battle, took place July 21, 1861.

MONKEY BUSINESS

Vacation days are just about over and I for one have had my fill. Seven thousand, two hundred miles of driving to California and back and except for sore arms acquired working the one-armed bandits in Las Vegas and Reno, my party griped more about feet than anything. By the time you do Disney Land, the Grand Canyon and Yellowstone National Park with a few side trips to Chinatown and to the Republic Studio lot in Hollywood, well, you have done some walking. Good old HUSH PUPPIES . . . they kept my dogs from barking too much. Anyhow, vacation is over and it's time to think about school shoes. Don't put it off until the last week. Bring your family in early while we have a full stock and time to do a good job. Oh, about the monkey business . . . we're going to have a monkey cage with live monkeys at the store in a couple of weeks. Watch for our "NAME THE MONKEY CONTEST".

Director Makes Five Proposals For Safety

A beef-up in manpower for the Columbus Police Dept. has been urged by Paul T. Beverforden, district director for Ohio of the National Safety Council.

Beverforden, 3378 Broadmoor-av, following an inventory of traffic safety activities in Columbus, urged strengthening of citizens safety organizations, establishment of a co-ordinating committee for traffic responsibilities, increased traffic law enforcement, stronger public traffic safety education and strengthening of the shool safety education program.

The director reported that Columbus was fourth among 11 cities of comparable size in the nation in traffic safety ratings.

Police Ordered To Tighten Area Traffic Rules

Police Chief George Scholer has announced that between the hours of 4 and 8 p.m. there will be increased enforcement on W. Broad-st and Sullivant-av on stop sign and speed ordinances.

He has also branded the Spring-Sandusky Interchange as a high accident intersection. The corner had eight accidents during the period between July 16 through July 31.

Back From Roundup, Scouts Share Carload Of Memories

Betsy Brust

Cold showers, charcoaled breakfasts, and Roundup tents are all memories to the 32 Columbus girls who attended the Girl Scout National Roundup in Button Bay, Vt.

The girls left the campsite Tuesday, July 31 in a downpour of rain and arrived home the following morning.

Betsy

The day that the Girl Scout 50th anniversary commemorative postage stamp was issued, 125,000 stamps were purchased at the Roundup site.

Karen Predmore of 3217 Stephen-dr remarked, "I will always remember Roundup, the arena events, colors of the avenue of flags, and my many new friends from all over the world. Now Roundup is an everlasting memory that I hold and hope to share with others."

On Sept. 24 the Roundduppers will be able to refresh their memories when in the evening the Roundup movie will be shown on a national television network.

"Being part of a huge national and international event with thousands of uniformed campers sharing the same goals, ideals, and purposes made the Roundup a memorable and unforgettable experience to me," said Joan Von Jasinski, 3627 Patzer-av, Grove City. "Without being in Scouting I would not have been privileged to participate in an arena event and greet with the Girl Scout handclasp a Guide from Japan."

By the end of the 10-day encampment girls were swapping personal items with special friends that they had met. Two girls from a patrol that had demonstrated the use of hair switches swapped their fake ponytails for "squaw boots" from Texas.

Bambi Markham, of 777 Pierce-av, reflected, "My attending Roundup has helped me to be able to meet people freely and happily. There were times we worked very hard, both before and after the Roundup. We really didn't mind because we sang and were happy while working. When we arrived and started meeting girls and swapping, we saw that our dreams had come true.

"I hope to return to the next Roundup as a staff member. I hope that many more girls will have the opportunity that I have had. I believe it will help girls in many ways all through their lives."

Roundup delegates and Senior Scouts will camp out at Camp Ken-Jockety on Aug. 10 and 11 for a "Girl-to-Girl Report." The Roundduppers will show others their swaps, pictures and demonstrations. Visitors are welcome on the 11th but they must provide for their own meals.

These and all other delegates are available for talks and visits to troops and other organizations upon request to the Ohio Trefoil Girl Scout Council, 221-3291, or the girls themselves.

Police Auction Is Scheduled

Columbus Police Department is holding a public auction which includes bicycles, guns and other miscellaneous articles held by the department 90 days or more and unclaimed.

This sale will be held in the basement of City Prison at 10 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 11.

There will be approximately 80 bicycles.

The Age of Reason was the name given to a short period during the French Revolution. The Revolutionists outlawed Christianity and formally substituted "reason" as the new deity.

State Fair's Grandstand, Coliseum Tickets On Sale

Advance tickets for grandstand and coliseum attractions at the Ohio State Fair, Aug. 24 - Sept. 2, are now on sale.

The grandstand attractions will include comedian Red Skelton for two-daily performances the first four days of the Fair, Aug. 24-27; the International Auto Thrill Show on Aug. 28-29; the Seven Star Jubilee of the Grand Ole Opry on Aug. 30-31; and over the Labor Day week-end Lorne Greene and Dan Blocker, stars of the television show, "Bonanza," will appear with the Tommy Steiner Rodeo twice a day before grandstand audiences.

Race fans will be able to see the state's top trotters and pacers during the Fair's four-day program, Aug. 27-30. Post time will be 1:30 p.m.

The coliseum attractions include the draft horse show at 7 p.m., Saturday, Aug. 25 and thet regular horse show Aug. 26-30. The Western Horse Show will be in the coliseum over the Labor Day week-end. All horse shows begin at 7 p.m.

Championship wrestling will have a one-night stand in the coliseum at 8 p.m., Friday, Aug. 31.

Advance tickets are sold only on a box and reserved seat basis. Tickets may be purchased at the Central Ticket Office at Marshall's, 46 N. High-st, or at any Richmond Brothers Clothing Store in Columbus.

All mail orders must be accompanied by a self-addressed stamped envelope and requests must designate whether evening or matinee performances are desired.

Case Continued After No Plea Entry Given

A no plea answer was given to an assault and battery charge in Municipal Court Saturday, Aug. 4. The case was continued until Aug. 10.

Morris Hinton, 18, of 2739 Sutton-pl, who was charged by Benjamin B. Sheerer, 1803 King-av, entered the plea.

The alleged incident took place during a Congress of Racial Equality demonstration at the Hilltop Swimming Pool, 2737 Valleyview-dr, July 29.

Sheerer claims that Hinton kicked him and knocked him down during the demonstration.

Sunday Sales Fight Continues

Articles of incorporation have been filed in the Secretary of State's Office by the voters Information Committee which formed Aug. 2 to fight the Lawson Milk Co.'s proposal to amend the Sunday Closing Law.

The VIC announced it will conduct an information program designed to "tell Ohio voters the truth about the proposal."

The Lawson proposal, which backers hope to get on the November ballot as a referendum, would wide the scope of Sunday retail sales.

Petitions are to be filed Wednesday, Aug. 8, to get on the November ballot.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown said D. R. Mackenrath of Hudson, head of a committee of five sponsoring the proposal, notified him petitions bearing more than 500,000 names will be filed by deadline.

Petitions must contain 328,413 valid signatures from at least 44 counties.

Rites For Family Of Five Held In Mt. Gilead

The tragic story of a Grove City family was ended Tuesday in a Mt. Gilead cemetery.

The Ralph Lanker family, 3371 Kropp-rd, Grove City was wiped out in less than half a day, for a yet unknown reason.

Police are presuming that 14-year-old Ray Lanker, eldest of the three Lanker children, shot his family to death then took his own life Saturday night.

The members of the family: father Ralph, 45, and a Corporal in the State Highway Patrol; mother, Virginia, 36; daughter, Bea, 12, who would have been a seventh grader at Georgesville Elementary; son, Thomas, nine, who would have been a fifth-grader, also at the Georgesville school.

Burial was in the Riverview Cemetery, Mt. Gilead.

Cpl. Lanker is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Lanker, sister Mrs. Adolph Walker of Mt. Gilead and brother Kenneth of Phoenix, Ariz.

Mrs. Lanker is survived by her parents Mr. and Mrs. Albert Westerman, brother Robert of Youngstown and sister Mrs. Jean Matterson of Willard, O.

Attend Reserve Program At Port Columbus

Two local Air Force Reservists attended two weeks summer training sessions at Port Columbus. The two members of the 9223d Air Force Reserve Recovery Squadron who were at their newly acquired Port Columbus facility from July 22 through Aug. 5, were:

Airman 2/c James A. Rittgers, 585 Larcomb-av. Airman Rittgers is an air policeman and in civilian life is employed by the Timkin Roller Bearing Company.

Airman 3/c Robert J. Ruiz, 63 Avondale-av. Airman Ruiz, also an air policeman, is employed by the Kaufman Lattimer Laboratory Supply Company.

In addition to the two weeks summer training the unit trains one weekend a month to keep their skills up to date.

The Squadron still has a few openings for qualified personnel with prior service experience. Anyone interested may contact Captain Brown at CA. 1-5861, extension 289 or Captain Booth at 237-9235.

Guard Unit Nears End Of Training

Buckeye guardsmen of the 37th Infantry Division are completing last days of summer field exercises at Camp Grayling, Mich. Thirty regular army evaluators indicate another outstanding army "grade-card" report.

Units are out to better last year's record which gave the 37th one of the highest ratings among guard and reserve divisions in the nation.

Final results will be presented to Maj. Gen. Loren G. Windom, commanding general of the 37th and Adjutant General of Ohio, on Friday, Aug. 11. The evaluators, formerly called inspectors, observed every phase of training conducted for the 8,000 Ohioans on duty.

While all units of the 37th were in combat-type field maneuvers, Lt. Gen. Herbert B. Powell, U.S. Continental Army Commander, was at the camp to observe training. The three-star general represented the top military dignitary to visit the division.

Friday and Saturday some 1650 vehicles will take to the road for the return trip south to 67 Ohio cities. In the trip home, the jeeps and trucks will log a total of 664,950 miles.

All convoys will travel the 250 miles to Toledo where they will refuel and obtain a few hours rest before the final leg of the trip.

The units will travel over three Ohio highways to home stations.

July Gas Tax Distributed To Ohio Towns

The July distribution of gasoline tax money was made last week by State Auditor James A. Rhodes. This sent $3,132,191 to Ohio cities and villages for streets, $1,760,000 to counties and $530,800 to townships.

The July payment of gas tax money makes a total of $30,683,715 that the state has paid to local governments in 1962 from this source.

Nursery School Available For Crippled Tots

Applications from four and five year old crippled children for pre-school education are now being accepted by the Franklin County Society for Crippled Children.

The Society's aim is to provide nursery schooling and kindergarten for those children who might be denied such experience because of their physical limitations.

Classes will start after Labor Day. They will meet five days per week and will be limited to eight children per class on a first come first served basis.

The classes will be held in the Society's new building at 555 S. Monroe-av.

Parents of physically handicapped children should telephone the Society at 253-5523 for an interview.

This service is underwritten by Easter Seal contributions.

Heart Council Sets Camp Week

Franklin County Heart Council of the Central Ohio Heart Association has provided camping facilities for children with heart ailments.

The camp will be held at Community Camp in Vinton County on Aug. 13 through 17.

Application forms may be obtained from the Heart Association 145 N. High-st. There are facilities for 15 children.

A $3.5 Million Verdict

Most intelligent Americans realize the dangers of loose tongues, wagged by those carried away with emotion, and who see everything as black and white — never gray, never the other side.

The greatest damage to be caused today, in loose talk about others, is labeling them as Communists, or pinks. These words immediately stir an emotional reaction in many Americans, and a patriotic one, understandably, because Communists are out to destroy our way of life.

There is, also, no real danger that the United States will go Communist. Though some are easily exercised on the subject, the vast and overwhelming majority of Americans would never turn Communist. Nor are they so dumb that they would be led into the trap unknowingly. We have more faith than that in the American people.

A jury recently awarded a record-breaking 3.5 million dollars to a commentator who had been branded a Communist sympathizer. The verdict included both compensatory and punitive damages. The case has been appealed and the decision could, of course, be reversed. But the point is that a jury thought a man's career had been ruined by these charges.

The oldest political strategy, or personal strategy, in the world, is to brand your opponent with the blackest connnection. Today that is Communism. We should be vigilant and seek out every Communist agent, organizer or cell member through Federal Bureau of Investigation activity and other legal procedure. All citizens should help in this process.

But in the spirit of American tradition and justice, we should not throw the words "pro-Communist" or "Communist sympathizer" around lightly, in seeking to "save" our fellow citizens. Once a man or a woman's reputation has been shattered, it is very difficult to make up the damage, and if the injured party was innocent, then the deed which has been done is one for which the responsibility will likely become a crushing mental burden.

Advice For Idle Teenagers:

Frequently heard is the plaintive cry of some teenagers: "What can we do? Where can we go?"

The answer is: "Go Home!"

Scrub the window screens, weed the garden, paint the woodwork, mow the lawn, wash the car, learn to cook, scrub the floor, repair the sink, build a boat, get a job. Help the clergy, the Red Cross, etc. Visit the sick, assist the poor, study your lessons. And when you are through — and not too tired — read a good book.

Your parents don't owe you entertainment. Your city or village doesn't owe you recreational facilities. The world does not owe you a living.

You owe the world something. You owe it your time and energy and your talents, so that no one will be at war or in poverty, or sick or lonely again.

In plain and simple words, quit being a crybaby.

Get out of your dream world and develop a backbone, not a wishbone, and start acting like a man or a lady.

You're supposed to be mature enough to accept some of the responsibility your parents have carried for years. By now you have no right to expect them to bow to every whim and fancy just because selfish ego instead of common sense dominates your personality, thinking, and requests.

In Heaven's name, teenager, grow up!

(From the Lake City, Minn., Graphic)

SKIRT LENGTHS – THEIR UPS AND DOWNS

Weigh 'Pros and Cons' Before Deciding On A Camping Vacation For The Family

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROB COCHRAN

The campers are out in force. This is the height of the camping season—the time of wanderlust. The old National Trail that carried so many prairie schooners westward, is now carrying campers both east and west as they whiz along Route 40. You see them pulling camping trailers and tent trailers. Some have cartop carriers loaded with canvas and other supplies. In all cases the car springs are sagging as they head for the great outdoors.

Several families from this area have reported that they are camping their way out to the World's Fair and back this summer. Apparently many families are doing this, for there seems to be more campers with eastern license plates on the road this year.

Probably many of these are families that have planned a trip to the beautiful Pacific Northwest for some time, and are using the fair at Seattle as an excuse to go. Others use camping simply as an inexpensive means of travel. This brings up a question that is difficult to answer, and one that is asked of me constantly: "Should a family try camping if it has no particular interest in outdoor living?"

I always give a qualified no answer, but I am never sure if it is correct. I do know that a cold rainy spell is mighty uncomfortable to even the most avid campers. To a non-camper trying to save money by camping, a rainy week or so might spell disaster and ruin the vacation. Washing dishes and scouring pots and pans is an unpleasant job at home, yet campers must do these chores with none of the conveniences of home. The pleasure of having a blue sky for a ceiling, a warbling Carolina wren for a companion and a mountain, forest or lake to rest your eyes on, would probably be lost to a non-camper.

A vacation should be something to enjoy. If you want to leave household duties behind when you take your big trip of the year, then you'd better not go camping.

However, if you like to sit around a campfire at night, if you like picnics three times a day, and if you can take the weather as it comes, good or bad, then nothing could be more enjoyable than a camping vacation. For what you would spend on sleeping accommodations and restaurant meals for two weeks, you can buy a complete camping outfit that will last for years. There is no doubt that camping is an inexpensive way to travel. The trailers, of course, can amount to a sizeable investment, but even this cost may be justified if you take traveling vacations for a number of years.

Hardly anyone takes my advice, and I might as well not give it. They go ahead and buy camping gear anyway, and become enthusiastic campers. Once they have met the friendliness of other campers, watched a bear prowl through camp looking in garbage cans, awakened to a mockingbird on their tentpole, and grilled steaks over glowing oak coals, then a motel-restaurant vacation will seem mighty tame.

If you are fairly sure you want to go camping, by all means go! Join the daily caravan of campers that go through here east and west, north and south. This is the time of wanderlust.

FOOD MARKETS THIS WEEK

Do You Understand Frozen Food Plans?

By ESTELLE B. FRANKS

THIS WEEK LOOK FOR:

Fruits — Cantaloupes, peaches, summer apples, plums, grapes.

Vegetables — Tomatoes, sweet corn, potatoes, carrots, cucumbers, peppers.

Protein Foods — Beef roasts, ground beef, wieners, fryers turkeys, eggs, dairy products.

Frozen food plans are being heavily promoted in the Columbus area at this time.

Mrs. Franks

Many are offered by reputable and dependable companies.

Others are being sold by somewhat questionable firms, and if you have reason to question a firm's selling method it would be worth your while to contact the Columbus Better Business Bureau before purchasing.

Briefly, these food plans are intended to provide family needs for certain food for a specified period of time, usually four to six months. The total package typically includes frozen beef, pork, poultry, vegetables, fruits, juices, and in some cases cured bacon and ham. Payment is made in monthly installments during the period the food is used.

Families who do not have home freezers are often given the "opportunity" to buy one, along with their purchase of frozen food. In fact, some companies appear mainly concerned with selling freezers, while others are primarily in business to sell frozen foods. In some cases the impression is given that the cost of a freezer can be covered by savings obtained on the food.

First, let's look at the "food only" part of food plans, by-passing for now the combination purchase of frozen foods and a freezer. Before deciding to purchase you should:

- find out exactly what the cost would be per week and the number of weeks you would be paying for a specified amount of food.
- find out exactly how much of each food item you would receive. Beef and pork quantities are often presented in terms of carcass weight, instead of trimmed retail cuts. And the cutting loss from carcass to retail cuts is probably greater than you think.
- make sure the foods are the quality and brands you prefer or that meet your needs.
- make sure you could make effective use of all meat cuts and food products included or that any substitutions would be acceptable to you.
- estimate the retail value of the foods offered and compare this with what you would pay through the food plan.
- Know the proportion of your total food spending that normally goes for the items included in the food plan.

You may be told that the amount spent on the food plan would make up most of your food bill. But, don't forget about dairy products cereal and bakery products, fats, eggs, luncheon meats, and both fresh and canned fruits and vegetables. Actually the average family spends about half of its food money on meats, poultry, fruits and vegetables. And much of that spent for fruits and vegetables normally goes for fresh and canned items. A reasonable estimate is that the items obtained in most food plans would account for around 35 percent of the average family food bill.

Since meats are the major item in these plans, the amount and cost of the meats included need special attention. Next week more information and some guidelines on this subject will be given in this column.

Leftovers . . . by John McPeek

Farmer Is Many Things Rolled Into One

Most everyone knows several farmers, has frequent business, social, civic contacts with them, exchanges views with them . . . but most everyone still might be hard pressed to describe a farmer . . . here's one definition we gleaned from an agricultural bulletin:

McPeek

"Farmers are found in fields plowing up, seeding down, rotating from, planting to, fertilizing with, spraying for and harvesting of. Wives help them, little boys follow them, the Agriculture Department confuses them, city relatives visit them, salesmen detain them, meals wait for them, weather can delay them, but it takes Heaven to stop them.

"When your car stalls along the way, a farmer is a considerate, courteous, inexpensive road service. When a farmer's wife suggests he buy a new suit he can quote from memory every expense involved in operating the farm last year plus the added expenses he is certain will crop up this year. Or else he assumes the role of the indignant shopper, impressing upon everyone within earshot of the pounds of pork he must produce in order to pay for a suit at today's prices.

"A farmer is a paradox — he is an overalled executive with his home his office; a scientist using fertilizer attachments; a purchasing agent in an old straw hat; a personnel director with grease under his fingernails; a dietitian with a passion for alfalfa, animos and antibiotics; a production expert faced with a surplus; and a manager battling a price-cost squeeze. He manages more capital than most businessmen in town.

"He likes sunshine, good food, state fairs, dinner at noon, auctions, his neighbors, Saturday night in town, his shirt collar unbuttoned, and above all, a good soaking rain in August.

"He is not much for drouths, ditches, throughways, experts, weeds, the eight-hour day, helping with housework or grasshoppers.

"Nobody else is so far from the telephone or so close to God. Nobody else gets so much satisfaction out of modern plumbing, good weather and homemade ice cream. Nobody else has in his pockets at one time a three-bladed knife, check book, a billfold, a pair of pliers, and a combination memo book and general farm guide.

"Nobody else can remove things from his pockets, and on washday, have overlooked five "steeples," one cotter key, a rusty spike, three grains of corn, the stub end of a lead pencil, a square tap a $4.98 pocket watch and a cupful of chaff in each trouser cuff.

"A farmer is both Faith and Fatalist—he must have faith to continually meet the challenges of his capacities amid an ever present possibility that an act of God (a late spring, an early frost, tornado, flood, drouth) can bring his business to a standstill. You can reduce his acreage but you can't restrain his ambition.

"Might as well put up with him—he is your friend, your competitor, your customer, your source of food, fiber and self-reliant young citizens to help replenish your cities. He is your countryman . . . a denim-dressed business-wise, fast-growing statesman of stature. And when he comes in at noon having spent the energy of his hopes and dreams, he can be recharged anew with the magic words:

"The Market's Up."

Prayer Is The Silent Surrender To God

"To come near to God is to change" is a Christian statement of a great truth. The most positive way at man's disposal to come near to God is through prayer. If our prayers are real, our surface self, our ego, our personal life must decrease and He must increase. We cannot stay as we are and come near to such a love as His. All the meanness, all the demanding factors of deceiving ourselves are put to confusion by such a love as His.

Rev. Daniel

The Gospel record puts a choice before us in many different ways, but in more searchingly than in what we are invited to do about that "pearl of great price" there in Matthew 13: 45 and 46. It does not make much difference as to how we attempt to attach different interpretations to this Gospel parable, there still remains but two choices. We may sell all that we have and buy the pearl in a single transaction, or we may turn away and ignore the whole matter. But if we really engage in prayer, the business of business as it has been called, we really awaken to the love with which we are encompassed and all the alternatives disappear. Prayer is the silent surrender of everything to God.

There must be no closed rooms of personal hates and fears. There must be no closed rooms of stubborn ambitions that have warped lives. But in the chamber of our prayers we become aware of the piercing love of God. There we are brought with an unflinching clarity to see that we have these closed doors and hidden keys. For us to come near to God, the God of revealing love, is to change.

A great confession speaks of prayer as the raising of our desires to God to see if they are agreeable to Him. In a vigil of prayer there frequently comes what many would call a "stop in the mind" about specific things which, until then, had been taken for granted. An honest little girl who prayed each night was asked if God had given her an answer to what she had asked Him, and her instant reply was, "Yes. He said 'No'."

There is nothing that God cannot heal, and His forgiveness is given before we even approach Him. Forgiveness is a condition in which the sin of the past is not altered, nor is its inevitable consequences changed. But rather in forgiveness a fresh act is added to those of the past which restores the broken relationships and opens the way for Him, who forgives, to meet and communicate deeply with each other in the present and in the future.

There is a condition for receiving God's gift of forgiveness. Man must be willing to accept it. God will not force us to accept anything. But as we come near to God we change. Prayer is not a reverence for something that ought to be respected, but a first-hand feeling of being moved to the core, of being made to feel absurd and yet drawn up to the pinnacle of one's being simply by the fact of His Presence. Prayer is a time for God alone.

Camera Bug Spends Day At Bean Dinner

"BEANS ARE GONE, but buckets float on" may be the thought of Westgate Park caretaker this week as he cleans out Harder Lake after a would-be sailor set forth his fleet.

ATMOSPHERE OF AWE prevails as tense crowd awaits judges' decision as to who will be Bean Dinner Queen. Crowds surrounded the bandstand nightly to watch talent shows, exhibitions, contests and prize drawings. (Photos By Harley Groom)

THE WINNAHS! These lovely ladies were picked from a field of 16 to reign at the 1962 Bean Dinner. Left to right they are Judy Dale, Queen Julie Andersen and Sandy Elliott.

LITTLE LOST LASS was this girl who said her name was Linda Lou Johnson. C. H. "Doc" Campbell is shown searching through the four pages of Johnsons in the phone directory.

PRETTIEST OF ALL the more than 100 pony tail entrants in Bean Dinner contest were these little lovelies in their respective classes: bottom to top, Kathy Jo Wing, 8; Patty Jewett, 7, and Carol Beece, 13.

BEVY OF BIKES shown lined up for Wednesday's bike parade included everything from the patriotic theme to supersonic space craft. Winners are listed in the story below.

Three Days Of Beans Over; Winners Of Events Listed

By PATTY HARTLEY

There are still a few burps coming up, a few aching feet, a few balloons that haven't been burst, and a lot of pleasant memories, but for the most part the Hilltop Bean Dinner is over for another year.

C. H. Campbell, executive secretary of the Hilltop Business Association, said that crowds were generally less than last year, even though weather was warm and dry. He added that financial results of the event would not be available for several weeks yet.

One of the more popular attractions was the new hole-in-one contest. The Hilltop can't boast any Jackie Nicklauses but Richard Rigby, 323 S. Powell, was declared winner for coming the closest, his drive ending 15¼ inches from the cup.

One of the displays that drew the largest crowds was the YWCA exhibit. They had a contest for guessing the number of beans in a jar. Miss Gay Linson, 3080 Sullivant-av, won a set of steak knives for guessing the exact amount—1,111.

A new contest at this year's bean feast centered around the latest dance craze, the twist. Winners in the 10 and under class were Tom Hauston, 10, 65 S. Wheatland, first; Monica Knipfer, 10, 3107 Eakin-rd, second, and Cynthia Cable, six, 134 S. Powell, third.

The 11 to 14 category winners were Lana Scott, 11, 1990 Westfield-dr, N., first; Eugene Norris, 13, 679 Dexter, second, and Kay Coulson, 13, 2387 Midland-av, third.

Wednesday's vehicle parade drew a crowd of enthusiastic cyclists with the following winners: five and under class—Bill Tingley, 103 S. Algonquin and Sally Grandstaff, 650 S. Westgate.

Six through nine — Brenda Ricketts, 182 S. Sylvan and Linda Grandstaff, 650 S. Westgate. Ten through 14 — Don Vollmuth, 442 S. Chase and Penny Foote, 238 N. Ter-

Kids' Games

Also on the agenda Wednesday afternoon were games galore for the kids. A list of winners follows: shoe scramble, age seven and eight — John Schaeffer, 996 S. Harris and Janice Courtright, 391 S. Terrace; paper plate sail, age four to eight—Patrick Peer, Buckeye Lake and Janice Courtright, 391 S. Terrace.

Sack race, age nine and 10 —Bruin Douglas, 674 Dexter and Loretta Young, 618 Athens; wheelbarrow race, boys, partners, age nine and 10—Alan Norris, 679 Dexter and Irvin Douglas, 674 Dexter; back-to-back race, girls, partners, age nine and 10 — Loretta and Loretha Young, 618 Athens.

Sack race, boys, age 11 and 12 — Marty Barnes, 673 Athens; balloon breaking, girls, age 11 and 12 — Peggy Herbert, 1490 Little-av; sack race, girls, age 11 and 12 — Peggy Jones, 388 S. Hague; shoe kick for distance, girls, age 13 and 14 — Betty Toney, 698 Dexter.

Balloon toss, boys, partners, age 13 and 14 — Eugene Norrin, 679 Dexter and Morris Hines, 598 Athens; potato and spoon race, age seven and eight — Anthony Dawinks, 599 Dexter and Susan Spencer, 423 S. Ogden; sack race, age nine and 10 — Thomas Tony, 698 Dexter and Barbara Scribner, 3354 Eakin-rd.

Cracker eating contest, age seven and eight — Tommy Herbert, 1490 Little-av, and tie between Toni Prillerman, 575 Dexter and Janice Courtright, 391 S. Terrace; table tennis ball blowing contest, boys, age nine and 10 — Jimmy Slatzer, 847 Derrer-rd; carrying balls on spoon, girls, age nine and 10 — Linda Brentley, 3024 Olive.

Paper plate sailing, girls, age 11 and 12—Olah Sobczad, 3114 W. Mound-st; blowing table tennis balls, boys, age 11 and 12 — John Hawkins, 227 Southampton; blow balloons until they break, girls, age 11 and 12 —Doris Gewell, 720 Demorest-rd.

Balloon blowing, girls, age 13 and 14—Donna Jones, 388 S. Hague-av and Terry Ellison, 603 Dexter; paper plate sail, boys, age 13 and 14 — Bobby Jones, 362 S. Ogden-av and Clayton Hammerly, RR 3, Tiffin.

Prize Winners

Winners of merchandise prizes that were presented each time the cannon boomed over Westgate Park were the following: Nelson Greene, Dennis Bender, Pam Foote, Dan Walker, Mrs. James Call, Galvy E. Gordon, Robert E. Crites, Sharon Hill, Angelo Petitti.

Camp Fire Girls

The Merry Blue Birds took a hike to Westgate Park in June where they played games and had a sack lunch picnic.

Leaf spatter printing and a cook-out were held at the home of their leader, Mrs. Don McVay.

In July, Mrs. Harry Search and Mrs. Fred Schaaf went with the girls to Darby Creek Metropolitan Park for a hike and a picnic. The girls also toured a jet liner at Port Columbus. Mrs. John Morgan, and the Search and Schaaf families accompanied the girls to the airport.

Mrs. John Brown invited the girls to her home for croquet, a treasure hunt and other games. A luncheon followed. For the last week they colored eggs, played badminton and other games.

Girls participating this summer were Joellen Brown, Michele Gibson, Donna McVay, Christy Morgan, Louise Proctor, Deborah Saxton, Jenny Search and Marcelle Taggart.

Ten hours of service to the Cancer Society on Mound-st, was given in July by each of three Horizon Club girls: Nancy McLinn, whose advisor is Mrs. Mae Johannes; and Pamela Jones and Anita Fine whose advisor is Mrs. Jerri Fine.

Vickie Hastings, Alice Marie Ehman and Roberta Ackerman have completed the Junior Red Cross life saving course at the Hilltop Swimming Club.

These Hilltop girls attended Camp Wyandot in the Shawnee Unit during the fifth period: Janice Yvonne Curtis and Linda Morrison.

Campers at Camp Wyandot during Period 6 were: Marcia Armstrong, Kathryn Bell, Vickie Lou Boggs, Christine Butler, Cathie Ealy, Alice Ehman, Stephanie Emory, Susan Fleming, Alice Gillogly, Marsha Kay Gladden, Paula Gillogly, Robin Kilbourne, Nancy Northrup, Cynthia Perry, Deborah Randall, Judith Rieser, Karen Roberts, Deborah Sherlock, Pamela Sherlock, Linda Spellman, Louise Spires, Krissie Stauch, Diana Steen, Marcelle Taggart, Tammy Taggart, Elizabeth Talkington, Melanie Thomen, Mary Trulove, and Donna Tufts.

Mrs. H. M. Cumming's group went to the airport on July 16 to welcome Brenda Bearchum, Miss Indian America. They were also taken for a tour of a jet airliner. Marshal Bryant, Navita Cummings, Rosalind Cummings, Debra Davidson, Darlene Dennis, Linda Hope, Linda Johnson, Dorothy Lyles, Michele Maya, Janelle Moore, Tanya Potts and Kathleen Starks recently flew up from Blue Bird to Camp Fire Girls. Their co-guardian is Mrs. Lindsay Johnson, and they are 5th grade girls from Highland School.

Miss Denney, Mr. Moore Will Be Married Aug. 25

MISS DIANE LEE DENNEY

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Denney, 601 E. Moler-st, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Diane Lee, to Mr. Lowell Thomas Moore, son of Mr. Bascom Moore of Ashland, Ky., and Mrs. Lorenzo Martin, 2840 Dibblee-av.

The bride-elect is a graduate of South High School and Columbus Business University. She is employed as a reservation agent for Trans-World Airlines.

Mr. Moore was graduated from South High School and Ohio State University, where he was a member of Sigma Theta Epsilon Fraternity. He will teach this fall at West Mound Street School.

The open church wedding will take place at 7:30 p.m. on Aug. 25 in South Methodist Church.

Ceramics Anonymous Will Meet Friday

Newly formed ceramics club, Ceramics Anonymous, will meet Aug. 10 at the home of Agnes Kerrigan, 231 S. Virginia Lee-rd, at 7:30 p.m. Anyone interested in the art of ceramics is invited to attend.

Plans are being formulated to hold an exhibit in November at the City National Bank, 3100 W. Broad-st. There will be further information later.

Anyone needing transportation may call Gladys Cain, BR. 4-6794, or Blanche Grant, TR. 8-5818.

Arch Of Greenery And Flowers Adorns Altar For Trout-Fleming Wedding

Miss Janice Louise Trout became the bride of Mr. Ross Arlen Fleming at 2:30 p.m. on July 1 at Hilltop Christian Church. Rev. George Alexander performed the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Trout, 795 Chestershire-rd. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe L. Fleming of Lyons, O.

The bridal gown of silk organza was fashioned with a scoop neckline, lace appliqued basque bodice bordered with seed pearl trim, and petite sleeves. Garlands of lace highlighted the floor-length skirt which fell into a chapel train of lace panels and motifs.

The bride's fingertip veil of illusion was held in place by a matching organza and lace queen's crown with pearl trim. Her only jewelry was a gold and diamond wedding bell pendant, gift of the bridegroom.

Her flowers were a French style nosegay of pink sweetheart roses with polished camelia foliage.

Maid of honor was Grace Ann Hayman, cousin of the bride, and bridesmaids were Susan Guthrie, cousin of the bride, and Rosalee Fleming, sister of the bridegroom.

The honor attendant wore a pale blue silk chiffon dress and carried a sheath of white asters with accents of blue satin ribbon.

The other attendants wore dresses of lace over taffeta, one in pale yellow and the other in pale pink. They carried sheaths of white asters accented with satin ribbon matching their dresses. All the attendants wore white bands of bows with circular veils.

Flower girl was Rindy Rowland, who wore a pink chiffon dress and carried a white lace basket of pink and white petals.

Ring bearer was Kevin Cooper, cousin of the bride.

Delbert Neill of Lyons was best man for Mr. Fleming. Ushers were Mr. Tim Trout, brother of the bride, Mr. Jim Wyant of Lyons, and Mr. Rick Thomas of Columbus.

Lewis Trout, uncle of the bride was organist, and vocalists were Mrs. Robert Brink and Mrs. Ralph Palmer, cousins of the bride.

MR. AND MRS. ROSS ARLEN FLEMING

A reception in the fellowship hall of the church followed the ceremony. Hostesses were Miss Jonna Lee Cox of Coshocton and Miss Molly Tredway of Lyons.

The new Mrs. Fleming is a graduate of Coshocton High School and is a senior in the Conservatory of Music at Capital University.

Mr. Fleming graduated from Lyons High School and Albion College, and received his Master's degree from Syracuse University. He is a social studies instructor in Gahanna-Lincoln High School.

Following a wedding trip to Syracuse, N.Y., the couple will reside at 109 Shepard-st, Apt. D, Gahanna.

Guests will be Lucille Shonting, Worthy High Priestess; Fred Wassmuth, Watchman of the Shepherds, and the husbands.

Hostesses are Lenora Frey, president; Marguerite Thompson, chaplain; Ellen Hegele, Margaret Hopper and Ruth Kreuz.

HILLTOPPERS ACT AT POG

Two Hilltop teenagers have been active in summer stock this summer at Playhouse-On-The-Green.

Allen Schilling, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Schilling, 1933 Vaughn-st, is playing the part of the shoeshine boy in the current production, "Born Yesterday." He is a student at Hilltonia Junior High School.

Karen Watson, 16, daughter of Mrs. Alice Watson, 254 S. Richardson, has been doing apprentice work at the POG all summer. Karen attends West High School.

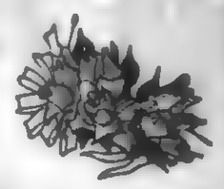
HILLTOP COUPLE MARRIED

Miss Judith Ellen Henry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Edward Henry, 206 N. Burgess-av, became the bride of Mr. Joseph Francis Ryan, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Francis Ryan, 346 Guernsey-av.

Fr. Theodore Spires of St. Agnes Church officiated at the 7 p.m. ceremony on July 27.

The bride wore a ballerina length gown of white silk organza over taffeta and chantilly lace. The lace basque bodice was designed with a bateau neckline and long sleeves.

A circlet of white velvet and small velvet bows held her veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations with satin ribbons.



Attendants for the couple were Mrs. Delores Pender and Mr. Michael Ryan, sister and brother of the bridegroom.

A reception at the home of the bride followed the ceremony.

Following a wedding trip the couple will reside at the Richenbacher Terrace Apartments.

CHURCH PICNIC

Adult Bible class of Hope Memorial Presbyterian Church will hold a potluck picnic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Lewis, Sr., 4300 Dublin-rd, at 6:30 p.m. on Aug. 10. Dessert and beverage will be served by the committee. In case of bad weather the group will meet at the church.

Hartley Reporters Ring A Big Sour Note In State House With Liberty Bell Probe

IDAHO'S LIBERTY BELL DISPLAY
An honored spot in State Capital

By JACK L. ALLEN
ED CHURCHILL

Ohio and its governors have been caught with their patriotic slips showing.

For the last 14 years Ohio has been the unproud owner of an exact (minus the famous crack) replica of the Liberty Bell.

Given to every one of the, then 48, states, the bell was part of the Victory Bond Drive after World War II and was intended for display to breed public spirit.

Since that time however, the bell has been in inglorious storage on the Ohio State Exposition (Fair) Grounds, first under a railroad tressle and presently in the poultry exhibit building.

The manner in which it has been displayed is hardly becoming such a symbolic memorial of our country's history.

The elements have taken their toll while junk and careless spray paint guns have added to its defacing.

Other states, especially in the south and west, have proudly enshrined the otherwise "white elephants" so that school children and the general public can see at least a replica of something that is so much a part of the American heritage.

Officials at the fairgrounds indicated that numerous people have inquired about the bell's unstately status. Exposition manager Rowland Bishop said that he is only storing the bell for the governor's office and annually reminds the governor of its whereabouts.

The governor's office has little to say. Governor Michael V. DiSalle, unavailable for several weeks, has made no comment. One of his aides, David Purkey, who stated that he hadn't seen the governor for a week, conceded that it probably would be all right to display the bell on the fairgrounds.

State Auditor James A. Rhodes got wind of the situation and told Hartley Newspaper reporters he would give the relic to the Ohio Historical Society for proper care, display and availability.

As verified by Hartley Newspaper photographs, Ohio's copy of the bell rests in a trash pile, while the state of Idaho, for one example, displays its bell on the front walk of the new state capitol building in Boise, complete with clapper—and pride.

Youth Livestock Sale To Be Held Thursday Night

The Fair's Junior Livestock Sale will be held Aug. 16 at 6:30 p.m. at the fair grounds.

4-H and FFA members will sell 70 beef steers, 100 market lambs and 60 market barrow hogs.

Packers, locker plant operators, grocers, and individuals are invited to participate in the sale.

Processing and trucking arrangements can be made for the individual purchaser if desired.

The sale is non-profit, and all proceeds go to the 4-H and FFA members.

Ohio Swine Day Program Slated

Plans are complete for the annual Ohio Swine Day to be held Friday, Aug. 17, at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station near Wooster. The program will be held at the Robison Swine Research Center, located three miles east of the Station on County Road 44. Registration and tours start at 10:30 a.m.

WATCHING AND DIRECTING work for the last time as fair directors are Bob Reece (left) and Charley High, retiring members of the Franklin County Fair Board.

Long Time Fair Board Members Will Retire

Bob Reece and Charley High, representing a combined total of 73 years service on the Franklin County Fair Board, will retire after this year's 49th annual fair.

Reece, who lives at 50 W. Main-st in Hilliard is presently chairman of the Speed Committee (harness racing) has been either a director or member of the board for 38 years.

High, who lives at 1923 Alton-Darby-rd, has been one of the livestock show directors, has worked with sheep exhibits all of his 35-year fair career.

Both men stated that they regretted retiring, but felt they should step down to give someone else a chance.

Junior Fair Board Members Are Named

The group in charge of policy making for the Junior Fair at the Franklin County Fair is the Junior Fair Board consisting of local 4-H and Future Farmer of America members.

Heading this year's Junior Fair Board is Dan Foor, president, Groveport; Dennis Woodruff, vice-president, Hilliard; David Parker, secretary, Galloway, and Dale King, treasurer, Hilliard.

Nearly all men die of their remedies, and not of their illnesses.—Moliere

King and Queen To Be Selected At County Fair

A king and queen to reign over the remaining portion of the Franklin County Fair will be announced on Tuesday, Aug. 14.

Any girl who is a 4-H member or who has been an FFA chapter queen in the county is eligible. Boys who are members of any Franklin County FFA chapter or 4-H club are eligible for king.

Duties of the honored pair will be to act as official representatives of the fair and rule over all activities.

The crowning will take place around 10 p.m. on Tuesday night during the fair. Past king and queen of 1961, Dennis Woodruff, 2363 Alton-Darby-rd and Marilyn Lutzhager, 7033 Sunbury-rd, Westerville, will crown the winners.

The West Franklin Kiwanis Club and its auxiliary, Weskiwanis, will provide a trophy for the king and queen.

Bicycle Checks Announced For 5 Playgrounds

Five West Side city playgrounds will receive a bicycle safety and skill clinic check within the next two weeks. The program is sponsored by the Safety Department of the Columbus Police Department in cooperation with the Columbus Recreation Department.

Time of the clinic will be 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. at the following locations: Aug. 17, Binns School, 1080 Binns-blvd; Aug. 21, Eakin School, 3773 Eakin-rd; Aug. 22, Sunshine Recreation Center, 667 Sullivant-av; Aug. 23, Hauntz, Columbian and Springmont-avs; Aug. 24, Westgate, S. Westgate-av.

District Officers Of Lions Meet In Millersport

Monday evening, July 30, the Millersport Lions were hosts to the Ohio District 13-B cabinet officers. A steak dinner was served at the Millersport Fire House.

District Governor Robert Bush of New Holland presided during the meeting during which plans for District Lions activities in the coming year were discussed.

Officers present were: District Governor Robert Bush, New Holland; Deputy Governor Kirby Wheeler, Columbus; Cabinet Secretary Harold Wright, New Holland; Ohio Lions State Secretary Carl Yingling, Columbus; District Public Relations Chairman Cecil Alexander, Millersport, and Co-chairman Rolland Nauman, Lancaster, and Immediate Past Cabinet Secretary William Waller, Newark.

Zone chairmen attending were: Fred Boyer, New Concord; William Leibensperger, Columbus; Don Welshon, Pataskala; Raye F. Richter, Pickerington; Don Seyerle, Philo; Wilbur Franklin, Westerville; Roger Engle, Lancaster, and John Jacobs, Thornville.

Governor Bush announced that a meeting of the Ohio Lions Council of Governors would be held Aug. 11 at the Southern Hotel in Columbus.

Fourteen states are traversed by U. S. Highway 40.

Three Nights Of Racing Slated At County Fair

Three nights of harness racing will be featured at the Franklin County Fair which will open Monday, Aug. 13 and run through Friday, Aug. 17.

Racing will be held on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of that week starting at 8 p.m.

Stall and first bedding will be provided for horses entering the contests. Entries close at 10 a.m. preceding the day of the race. Positions will be drawn before each class race for each heat.

The United States Trotting Association rules will govern the events.

Those who need added information can call the race secretary's office at TR. 6-7025.

Television, Radio Stars To Appear

The Fair Board has gone to great lengths to select a variety of entertainment for all age groups.

Gene Fullen of WTVN will provide a dance and floor show at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday evening.

Cinderella, of WTVN, will appear at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday followed by Flippo the Clown, of WBNS, at 7:30. Strictly for the kids.

At 9:30 p.m. Wednesday, Mom and Dad can join Clay Eger, of WLW-C, and his country jamboree in a good old fashioned square dance.

Thursday evening, at 7:30 p.m. Dean Lewis, of WBNS, will M.C. a sock hop.

All this entertainment is free for you to enjoy while visiting the Fair. So plan to attend.

Bake Sale Planned

A bake sale, sponsored by the Athletic Booster Association of Pleasant View High School, is being planned for 9 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 11, at the Harrisburg Homecoming. The money will go into a fund to build bleachers on the athletic field.

Wise men say nothing in dangerous times.—John Selden

Will Elect Ag Board At County Fair

Members of the Franklin County Agricultural Society can declare their candidacy for membership on the board of directors by filling with the secretary of the society.

The election will be held at the secretary's office on the fairgrounds from 4 to 8 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 17.

Candidates must turn in a petition to the secretary signed by ten or more society members who live in Franklin County at least seven days before the election.

MAKE APPLE BUTTER AT CAMPOREE

APPLEBUTTER MAKING by first-prize winning Troop 186 of St. John Lutheran Church drew many spectators at the recent Old Trail Boy Scout Camporee along Route 40. Mike Schaaf, 280 S. Southampton-rd, prepares the fruit with an antique apple-peeler. At right, John Cannon, 606 Scriver-dr, stirs a bubbling pot of savory applebutter.

Nita Hutch's Roving Mike Meets Stars and Local Lunchers

LUNCH TIME is star time for Nita Hutch, whose week-day radio luncheon program on WVKO (1580) often catches the Kenley stars relaxing at the Olentangy Inn poolside. Pictured with Nita is Denise McLaglen, member of the Kenley "Gypsy" group.

In neat Nita's never-never land of radio, ordinary 9 to 5 business men — and women — are turned into radio personalities, and I was no exception.

My visit to Olentangy Inn to interview the lady who brightens the 1 to 1:30 lunch hour with her week-day broadcast ended up with me on the "being-interviewed" end.

I learned first hand how Nita's knack for casual conversation gets people to relax even when faced with a mike.

"The idea of the show," confided its MC when it was my turn to ask the questions, "is to give a voice to Columbus' local clubwomen who comprise the membership of more than 2600 women's organizations." The lunching ladies have a chance to promote anything from coffee clatches to charity balls and, if they choose to come on Thursdays, they are treated to a fashion show a la Hutch.

The summer months have given a star-studded turn to the show, however, since Olentangy Inn has become the stopping place for the visiting Kenley cast and other Columbus entertainers. Nita's roving mike moves from dining room to pool side where she informally chats with such celebrities such as Billy Maxted and Denise McLaglen (pictured above).

"I always 'forward' my guests", stated Nita, "especially the men who are more mike shy than the women."

Nita, who in private life is Mrs. Raymond Bethel, has been hostessing a noon day program for the last eight years; prior to the [illegible] she was at Columbus' Sky Room. The reasons for her brief leaves of absence are her two children, age eight and four —with another one due in six weeks. "I worked up until the last day when Blythe was born", stated Nita. Nita —casual both on and off the air.

'Who Was That Lady?' Is Denison Theater Feature

The entire Denison Summer Theater company will be featured in the mad-cap comedy "Who Was That Lady I Saw You With?" Tuesday, Aug. 7, through Saturday, Aug. 11, at 8:30 p.m. in the tent on the lower campus in Granville.

Director Ken Roberts has the cast in rehearsal, headed by Helen Brown, Jon Reynolds, and Dave Siever. Set Designer is Richard G. Smith, in charge of the 14 complicated sets.

The hilarious plot depicts what happens to a college professor of chemistry who poses as an FBI agent in order to explain to his wife why he was seen being kissed by one of his students.

"Who Was That Lady I Saw You With?" is the eighth of ten productions in the Denison tent's sixteenth season.

BACKSTAGE WITH "SATCHMO"

Star Takes Time For Fans After Hot Trumpet Session

They say the direct approach is the best one. It is. I asked for an interview with "Satchmo," the response — evasive. Ask "Satchmo" as he leaves the Maramor stage; the response — a warm smile, hand-shake and the famous gravel voice says, "Come on up."

Follow the "big" little man through the Maramor kitchen. He stops to sign an autograph for a school boy: "Good luck. You've got it all ahead of you," he writes. Continue up the back steps to the second floor dressing room, an hour to change, relax, chat before the next dazzling show.

Out comes the trumpet king's trademark. "Sure do use a lot of these," piles of white handkerchiefs were on the table.

"Hot business?" The "Satchmo" smile. All in day's work.

Time to loosen the tie, use some mitre, "sweet spirits" to cool the lips after a session of hot trumpet.

"How does it feel to be the U.S. ambassador of good will?"

The "Satchmo" laughed, "It just happened. Sure didn't plan on it. Just came out of what I like to do."

"Notice any difference in various nationalities reaction to jazz?" We asked.

Without a moment's hesitation he remarked, "jazz is the universal language. Everyone loves it. You don't have to talk. It does."

"Where to next?"

"Anywhere they want me to go. I'm ready. I'll love it."

A knock on the door. More fans wanting a look at the man who puts fire into the trumpet.

More handshakes, more smiles before the last set of the evening. And the show?

"Well . . . it's "Satchmo."

Louis "Satchmo" Armstrong will appear at the Maramor nightly through Saturday, Aug. 11.

Slate Cruise In Caribbean For October

An all-Ohio party for a cruise of the Caribbean Oct. 25 to Nov. 6, is being arranged by the Columbus Automobile Club, in cooperation with other AAA clubs of the week.

The first such Caribbean venture in which the Columbus club has participated, the 10-day trip will be on the S. S. Statendam of the Holland - American Line. Sailing will be from New York Friday night, Oct. 26 but Columbus members of the party will entrain here the preceding night.

The itinerary includes a day and a half ashore at St. Thomas, Virgin Islands; another day and a half at San Juan, Puerto Rico; a full-day in and around Port-au-Prince, Haiti; and a full day of escorted sightseeing in New York with luncheon at the United Nations. Minimum rate for the "package," including rail fare from Columbus to New York and return is $435.

Reservations are being accepted by the Columbus Automobile Club's international travel department in the Southern Hotel. A brochure giving full information on the tour also is available there.

In a study of 48 million births it was found that twins occur once in 93 confinements, triplets once in 9,600 and quadruplets once in 657,000 births. Multiple births occur to women usually between the ages of 20 and the late 30s.

'Kiss Me Kate' Is Colorful Ending for Stadium Season

There are still a few more nights left in which to treat yourself to one of the gayest musical productions of the summer theater season — Stadium Theater's "Kiss Me Kate."

Following close on the heels of their moving rendition of the drama "All The Way Home" the little theater in the round proves their talents can be well applied to musical comedy.

BEVERLY

The Cole Porter hit is a difficult one to do—with intricate choreographic demands, its score necessitating a cast that can put over comic as well as romantic numbers, and its requirement of two talented leads to play the wrangling theatrical couple. The Stadium production gives no disappointments in any area.

The story of "Kate" concerns a couple of Shakespearean actors who, after their divorce, discover they are playing opposite each other in "Taming of the Shrew." The situation gives rise to many humorous incidents as the couple spar back and forth in both dialogue and song.

The wife who needs taming is skillfully played by Nancy Walz who is as pleasing to watch as to listen to. Ted Pritchard cuts a dashing figure as the egotistical spouse. His talents of singing, dancing and acting are well displayed in the part, especially in the number "Were Thine That Special Face." Another memorable moment in the show is Lorrie Doctor's "Always True To You" and Gene Gerrard and Skip Balthaser's "Brush Up Your Shakespeare" show off the boys' comic talent.

The choreography is fresh and colorful with credits due to Mary Lou Casanta. The musical accompaniment, though weak in parts, will probably pick up by the end of the weekk.

All in all, the production is a happy wedding of the Shakespeare book, Cole Porter's lyrics and music, and a well-directed group of talented kids who do justice to both. We rarely say don't miss it; but we say it with conviction for "Kate."

Summer Theaters' Playbitts

KENLEY PLAYERS: "The Most Happy Fella" starring Jane Powell, nightly at 8:30 through Aug. 12. Opening Aug. 14, Gardner McKay in "Picnic."

STADIUM THEATER: "Kiss Me Kate" nightly at 8:30 through Aug. 12. Last production of the season.

DENISON SUMMER THEATER: "Who Was That Lady I Saw You With," nightly at 8:20 through Aug. 11. Opening Aug. 14, "The Fantasticks."

PLAYHOUSE-ON-THE-GREEN: "Born Yesterday" nightly at 8:30 through Aug. 12. Opening Aug. 13, "Yes My Darling Daughter."

Weekend Highlights

This week-end offers a wide range in supper club entertainment. Billy Maxted and Manhattan Jazz Band are the feature attraction at the Grandview Inn, setting the pace from subtle blues to Dixieland . . . Concert artist, composer, and arranger on the piano and electric organ are all combined in the person of Marjorie Meinert, now entertaining with her versatile talents at the Jai Lai . . . The Vagups are giving their audiences something to laugh about at Olentangy Inn's French Sidewalk Cafe, with music, comedy, and gags . . . Jimmy Featherstone's orchestra provides the music for dancing at the Desert Inn's Aztec Room . . . Bill "Satchmo" Armstrong is the current attraction at The Maramor.

'Register To Vote' Is Plea Of Secretary Ted Brown

Citizens who wish to vote in the November general election are asked by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown to register in their respective precincts.

He also urged those who are registered and have moved to new addresses to notify their Board of Elections.

Those who have changed their residences may use a form which will be furnished by Boards of Elections upon request for correcting the registration record by mail.

Under present statues, registration is permanent and need not be renewed unless the voter has not voted at least once in the past two calendar years, the registrant has moved, or the registrant has changed his or her name.

Non-voters will receive a notice and form for re-registering by mail within 30 days after the notice is received.

Ohio State Fair Workers Asked For Application

Job applications for work at the Ohio State Fair will be handled by the Ohio State Employment Service beginning Monday, Aug. 13, according to Ralph E. Gabele, local OSES manager.

The employment service will have an office on the fairgrounds adjacent to the administration building, and will be open every day, including Sundays, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., through Sept. 3.

Workers who will need food handlers permits are reminded that Aug. 10 is the deadline for securing permits from the health and safety center, 181 Washington-blvd.

Cuban Refugees Relate Of Escape To Freedom

Mr. and Mrs. Saturnino Gonzalez and their family, Cuban Methodists, who recently escaped from the terrors of the Communists, will be guest speakers at a program at Brookshire Methodist Church, 1087 S. Harris-av, on Sunday, Aug. 12 at 7 p.m.

They will answer questions on their life in Cuba, why they chose to leave, and what is going on in the Communist-controlled country. Marian Acosta, sister of Mrs. Gonzalez, will interpret.

In Cuba the family was wealthy and cultured. When they left they sacrificed everything. They lived with a Methodist minister in Florida for four months, but because of the over-abundance of Cubans there they traveled north. They are living temporarily with Dr. Lance Webb, minister of North Broadway Methodist Church, and Mr. Gonzalez has been employed as church sexton there.

The public is invited to hear this program being sponsored by the commission on missions.

Grid Boys Commissioner Is Selected

Charles Martin

A veteran Columbus sports official, Charles (Charlie) Martin, has been elected Commissioner of the Ohio Boys' Football Foundation League by coaches and officers at last month's meeting.

For 30 years Martin has been active in local sports as a player, coach and official. He is past president of the Central Ohio Officials' Association and now serves as secretary.

The Martin family resides at 2657 Vernadette-rd. His wife, Pauline, and children, Linda and Chuck, are also active in sports.

The new commissioner will head a league composed of 12 (110 pound) teams and eight Pee Wee teams now in its third season of operation.

In addition to electing officers, the league completed scheduling all its regular games plus the big preview clash at Franklin Heights Sept. 15. All 20 teams will participate in this event, and queens will be featured.

Other officers elected were President Bob Bateman, Vice-President Jack Porter, Secretary Jim Snider and Treasurer Paul Johnson.

Leisure Time Club Plans Aug. 10 Fun

Leisure Time Club will hold its regular monthly meeting Friday, Aug. 10, at Whetstone Recreation Center, 3923 N. High-st, from 8 to 11 p.m.

There will be music for round and square dancing and refreshments will be served. All single men and women over 30 years old are invited.

SANDWICH MONTH

In honor of the sandwich —that popular food enjoyed 100 million strong every day in America — August has been proclaimed National Sandwich Month. And no wonder — for nothing beats the sandwich for economy, nutritional contribution and downright good eating.

Starting with breakfast, sandwiches take flavor honors right through the day—from the simplest snack to the most elaborate party. Sandwich meals cut hot weather kitchen time to a cool minimum, too.

Santa Maria, K of C Lists New Officers

New officers of Santa Maria Council 2898, Knights of Columbus, are announced as follows:

Tony Corrigan, grand knight; Fr. Carl Clagett, chaplain; Bob Patton, chancellor; Jack Wihl, warden; B. Luckhaupt, financial secretary; J. Schmitt, recording secretary; Tom Garrity, treasurer; John Metzger, advocate; Mike Reis, inside guard; F. Snyder, outside guard; Joe Gregory, lecturer.

Lou George, Catholic activity; Jack Sleeper, council activity; Jerry Evans, fraternal activity; Mike Reis, chief counsellor (Squires), Joseph Reis, membership; Donald Howard, publicity; James Murphy, youth activity, and Thomas O'Brien and Francis Shirk, state youth campaign co-chairmen.

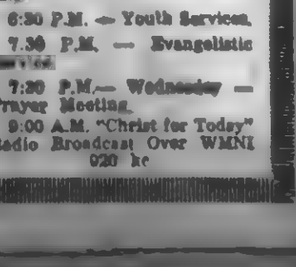
August meetings will be held on the 14th and 28th. Membership awards will be presented at these meetings. Recipients in July were Paul Weisenbach and Joseph Sorg.

Graham, Roberts Films Shown This Weekend

Two full-length feature films will be shown this weekend at the Free Christian Drive-In Theatre, located just south of 1900 W. Mound-st. Show time both nights is 8:15.

"Venture Into Faith," by Oral Roberts, will be shown Saturday, Aug. 11. The full color Billy Graham film "Oiltown USA" will be Sunday's fare. Jimmy Rea, director of the drive-in said these films will give people a chance to compare these two popular evangelists.

A free bottle of pop will be given to all children under 15, and a large Sallman painting of Christ will be given the group with the largest number present at Saturday's showing.



Mrs. Jones Is Prexy Of Gourmet Society

Mrs. Kenneth A. Jones, 145 E. North Broadway, is newly elected president of the Gourmet Society of the Central Ohio Restaurant Association.

Other officers are Mrs. Donald Paoletti, vice-president; Mrs. Robert Madaffer, secretary; Mrs. M. B. Crispin, treasurer; Mrs. Robert M. Maher, publicity, and Mrs. Jerry Geroux, chairman of special culinary projects.

A Life Saver

Parents would not dream of permitting their children to venture out on the waters without some protection. Yet, only too many of these same parents do not prepare their children for the dangers of everyday life. The Bible says: "Wherefore take unto you the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand." Begin now, to safeguard your children by taking them to church.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

It was a field day for Joe King Friday night at Columbus Motor Speedway as he took all of the three events that he entered including the 25 lap feature event.

Larry Hensel came a close second. He won the third heat and the 10 lap consolation race. Wally McDonald was the winner of the second semi.

Dayton's Al Smith, took the Mid-Season championship 50-lap super-modified feature, Sunday night, at the Columbus Motor Speedway, to notch not only his seventh feature of the season, but also his third championship of the year.

Smith was trailed by Ralph O'Day, Don Townsend and Red Bales, in a field of 22 starters.

This week, the flying-stocks will run a seven-event program on Friday and the super-modifieds will take over on Sunday night. This coming Saturday, August 11, there will be a 100-car Destruction Derby, in which the cars will crash and bang into one another, until only one car is left running.

The destruction, or demolition derby, will have three heats and a main event, with all cars able to run, competing in the main go.

Friday and Sunday, the races will start at 8 p.m. Saturday's demolishing affair will also get smashing at 8:00.

Friday night, the jackpot in the speedway's game of "Total," will have $300 for any fans who can pick the first five finishers, in order, in the feature race.

Football At State Fair? 'Sure, Why Not,'—Bishop

For those of you planning to attend the Ohio State Fair, a few pointers are in order:

1. Fill the flask, and
2. Bring your pom-poms.

Why? You're going to see football, that's why.

Carr

The little guys are getting the big chance from two fellows named Rowland Bishop and Jeff Kierns, Bishop is general manager of the Ohio Exposition Commission and Kierns is Youth Fair head.

They've teamed up to bring Ohioans a couple of youthful football teams and that's almost an unbeatable combination for the expected teeming crowds.

This new phase of activity included in the 1962 State Fair will spotlight the Ohio Bearcat Football Association. Two teams, the West Side Pirates and the Maryland Athletic Club, have been chosen to square off at 4:30 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 24.

They'll play on the infield in front of the Ohio Expositions Center grandstand.

First-Ever Effort . . .

"We believe the Ohio State Fair is the first in the country to present such a youth football exhibition," said Bishop. And, it was a proud boast.

Rand

The West Side Pirates are coached by Glen Carr. The Maryland team, headed by talented Bob Rand, is the association's defending champs.

Best part of all is that there'll be no admission to the exhibition.

The Bearcat League, comprised of youngsters from the Columbus area in the 110-120 weight class, was first organized in 1958 for the purpose of giving little guys an opportunity to compete in an organized and well-supervised physical fitness program.

Hup Two, Three, Four . . .

The Bearcat boys participating will get a real workout a week or two before the game.

A Marine Corps non-com, from the Naval and Marine Corps Training Center on Sandusky-st, will put the teams through a vigorous calisthenics effort Saturday morning, Aug. 11 at 11 a.m.

This part of the Bearcat's physical fitness program.

Just for the record, there are 250 youngsters participating in the eight-team Bearcat League.

K of C Golf Results . . .

The Knights of Columbus District Golf Tournament, held Saturday, July 28 at the Granville Golf Course, produced the following results:

Team-wise, Santa Maria Council 2898 won the runner-up trophy. The following members of Santa Maria Council won the individual events:

Dr. Fred Balthaser was medalist and winner of the Class AA after firing a 73.

John Ryan, 803 Stephen-dr, W., won the Class BB with an 83. Robert Dawson, Grove City, placed second in the Class B group with an 83.

Later, a banquet was held for all golfers at the Granville Inn where trophies were distributed to the winners.

STARTING MONDAY, AUG. 13

Several Special Feature Nights On Jets Next-To-Last Homestand

Several special nights will feature the Columbus Jets' next-to-last homestand starting Monday, Aug. 13.

The Jets play second place Toronto a four-game series Aug. 13, 14, 15, 16. Aug. 13 is Family Night and ladies will be able to sit anywhere but the box seats for only fifty cents and the men for one dollar. Children under 12 will be admitted free if accompanied by an adult. Jet badges and book tickets will be good on Family Night.

Youngsters playing ball in junior jet leagues under the supervision of the Recreation Department will be guests of the Jets on Aug. 13 and 14.

Aug. 15 is Western Electric Night. Buffalo will be at Jet Stadium for a four game series, Aug. 17, 18, 19, with a doubleheader on Aug. 19 Capitol Manufacturing Co. Day.

The Buckeye Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, some 50 strong, will sing several songs between the doubleheader on Aug. 19.

Friday, Aug. 17, is Fan Appreciation Night and all seats except the boxes sell for only one dollar. The first 5,000 fans will be given a team picture of the 1962 Columbus Jets.

Richmond will close out the homestand during a four game series on Aug. 20, 21, 22, 23.

One of the season's largest crowds is expected for Union Labor and Label Rally Night on Aug. 21. Organized Labor of the Columbus - Franklin County AFL-CIO are sponsoring this night at Jet Stadium. Many union displays will be at Jet Stadium starting Monday, Aug. 13.

There will be many valuable prizes given away on Union Labor and Label Night and a gigantic fireworks display will follow the game. Tickets for all these games are on sale now at the stadium ticket office. Reservations may be made now by calling 224-1175.

West Mound Rams Slate First Meet

The West Mound Rams football team, 90 to 110 pound class will hold an organizational meeting on Saturday, Aug. 11, 1 p.m. at Hilltonia Park. Boys between nine and 14 who are interested should attend.

Education is largely a matter of choosing one's company, and listening. — Langdon

Boys' Club Teams In Title Match

The Westside Boy's Club Babe Ruth intermediate Knothole Team won two titles this past week and upped its season record to 23-5.

On Monday they downed the Whitehall Merchants 11-2 behind Dan Thatcher's three hit pitching .On Tuesday they were beaten 1-0 by the Sinclair Dino's in a battle of 1-hitters.

On Wednesday they clinched the championship of the City Recreation East Intermediate Knothole League as Pete Eyer hurled a three-hit, 1-0 victory over the Peers Club. Jack Husch's looping single to left field scored John Postle from third with the game's only run.

On Saturday they won the American Division of the Central Ohio Babe Ruth League as they beat a weakened Bishop Ready team 20-7. John Morlan, Pete Eyer, and Thatcher unloaded home-runs while Jerry Francis chipped in with three hits. Eyer and Morlan split the pitching chores, with Morlan gaining the win.

The Pony League, Junior Knothole Team is now engaged in a best two-out-of-three playoff series with the Jr. Warhawks for the City Jr. Knothole Championship.

The Warhawks won the first game 7-3. The second game will be played Wednesday at Sunshine Park .

New Health Rule Concerns Show Horses In Fair

Fair Board President Ray Dellinger, calls to the attention of horse and pony exhibitors the following new regulation:

"These animals may be exhibited if accompanied by a certificate certifying that they have been given a careful clinical inspection and have been found free from symptoms of or exposure to any dangerously contagious or infectious disease."

Hilltop Van and Storage asks:

What is the best way to protect your household goods when you move?
Everyone who has ever moved or is about to move has experienced misgivings about having their prized possessions handled by [redacted]. As experienced, professional moving men, we understand and sympathize with your feelings. Furthermore, we handle your furniture as if it were our own. Our North American Van Lines training has helped us become experts in packing and loading household goods. But we can't foresee floods, tornadoes and other hazards which may cause damage to furniture during a move. For this reason, we offer a "Full Value Protection" plan that assures you of complete coverage on any goods that are damaged or lost. To learn more about "FVP," and other moving services we offer you, call us.

Smoking Shoppers Make Local Fire Chiefs See Red

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

Area fire authorities know that summer time breeds casual and care free living habits and, frankly, they're worried.

They have reason to be if statistics mean anything.

They know that cigarettes are the major cause of fires across the country and so they're starting a crackdown on smoking in stores in the greater Columbus area.

Actually, there's an obscure ordinance on the books right now that prohibits smoking while shopping in any kind of store. In Columbus, the maximum penalty is a $50 fine and three days in jail.

Columbus Fire Prevention Bureau officials say they occasionally have district inspectors "make the rounds" in efforts to spot smoking shoppers.

Biggest concern in the area comes from Whitehall's Fire Chief Arthur Reddy who has assigned a man to make periodic checks of the shopping centers to spot violators.

Of course, the department representative is usually courteous in his efforts to curb this sort of thing and doesn't slap the maximum penalty on offenders.

"Most people are aware that smoking is a violation in stores and, when they see the uniform, usually douse the cigarette or cigar before we have a chance to say anything," Reddy said.

"But," he added, "being aware of it and keeping in line with it are two different things and this law has become one of the most often violated ones."

Section 24.21 of the Ohio Fire Prevention Code reads, in part, that "Smoking shall mean and include the carrying of lighted pipes, cigars, cigarettes or tobacco in any form."

Columbus Police Chief Walter Strickfaden and other local fire heads are the ones, according to the code, who determine where smoking shall be allowed and where it's not allowed.

"We're deeply concerned about smoking in department stores," said Reddy, "because of the cashmere and wool fabrics which are particularly susceptible to sparks. The new synthetics will burn if they're just around heat."

The biggest danger in smoking in stores is that a cigarette fire takes a while to get started. In most instances, a store fire won't break out until the doors have been closed for the night. This way, there's no one around to turn in an alarm until it's too late.

Designated areas are provided for employes and they are required—and most often do—confine their huffing and puffing to these locations.

Local chiefs have issued pleas that if "No Smoking" signs aren't posted in your particular place of work, give the department a call and they'll be glad to oblige.

You might save someone $50 or, at best, a red face.

HERE, MRS. MOREOW demonstrates how shoppers carry cigarettes with them while looking over highly inflammable merchandise. According to Whitehall's Fire Chief Arthur Reddy, most department store fires originate in dry goods departments such as this.

WESTGATE'S NET GAIN

TENNIS ENTHUSIAST Bill Gardelle, 3257 Whitehead-rd, is shown tying his shoe before engaging in a game of tennis on the clay courts at Westgate Park. Chances are he'll have to put some more sponge rubber in his sneakers, however, when the courts are hardened with a new, blacktop surface. Columbus city council approved spending to hard-surface six courts at Westgate Park recently after previous attempts to get approval were killed. You can still play in the clay for a while, though, since council passed the legislation on a 30-day ordinance.

Wintle Rated Top Marksman

Sgt. John T. Wintle, 32, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas N. Wintle, 52 Westgate-av, recently achieved recognition as a top Army marksman by qualifying for the expert marksmanship badge during range firing with the M-1 rifle in Germany.

A truck master in the 84th Artillery's Headquarters Battery in Gonsenheim, Germany, Sergeant Wintle entered the Army in 1954 and stationed at Fort Gordon, Go., before arriving overseas on this tour of duty last March. He is a 1948 graduate of West High School.

Dozer Attends Savings & Loan League Academy

Charles A. Dozer, vice-president of Jefferson Savings Association is attending the ninth annual session of the Ohio Savings and Loan League Academy at Granville which ends Aug. 10.

Dozer will receive a degree when he completes the course. The academy is sponsored by the Ohio League and New York University.

The three-year program is offered to promote better understanding of modern economic, social and political forces affecting savings and loan operations.

Eight professors teach courses in finance and economics. Each student is chosen for the three-year course by the executives of his respective association.

Goodwill Is Commended For Program

Columbus Goodwill Industries has received accreditation from Goodwill Industries of America, Inc., for having an approved program of workshop services and operations for handicapped people.

A certificate of accreditation was presented last week of America to Rev. George by P. J. Trevethan, executive head of Goodwill Industries Morey Evans, executive director of Columbus organization.

Accreditation was based on the rating of nearly 125 features, ranging from chapter and organization structure through accounting practices, workshop operations, services to the handicapped, and collections of materials.

Columbus Capitols Set For First Season; Open Aug. 18 At Lancaster

The Columbus Capitols, a remodeled version of last season's United Football League Colts, begin their 1962 season with an exhibition game against the Chicago Bulls at 8 p.m. Aug. 18 at Lancaster.

"We're weak at spots, but if some of our boys come through we could take the championship," said Coach Gene Fekete in summing up the first week of practice. The Caps work out nightly at 6:30 at the Ohio State Fairgrounds and the practices are open to the public.

Some familiar names from past Colt teams — fullback Larry Buckles and end Tom Vernon, among others — are back for another season with the recently reorganized semi-pro team.

Also prominent in practice are some ex-Ohio State players of recent vintage, such as Ron Houck, Ken Johnson, Ed Ulmer, Gary Hansley and Dave Tingley who had the dubious honor of collecting the practice season's first injury, a leg muscle pull, which is not considered serious.

Larry Cline, former Otterbein ace, continues as the No. 1 quarterback.

Official name of the Caps is Columbus Football Association, Inc. Officers are President Robert Morton, Vice-President Jack Ziegler, Secretary Charles Kaps, Treasurer Max Ray and General Manager A. C. Pickens.

Picked for the board of directors were Bo Griffin, A. D. Forkin, Herb Wolff, David Schas, James Dougherty, C. W. Ayers, Virgil Snowball and Robert McCann.

Left Turn Light To Be Installed

A left turn signal at Pasadena-av and Rt. 40 for traffic coming into New Rome from the west will be installed by the village within the next three weeks.

The village council at its Monday night meeting approved the light in the hope that it would eliminate congestion and traffic hazards.

Routine business rounded out the meeting and council approved the monthly bills and ordered payment.

CAMP CHASE MISSES STATE TITLE

THIS IS the Camp Chase team that missed winning the state title by two points. They were beaten last Thursday by Cincinnati Sycamore, 5-3, during the playoffs at Athens. Pictured are, back row, from left, Don Peling, c; Don Henne, p; Dave Roberts, p; Mike Gregg, of; Dick Hill, c; Scott Anderson, p; Red McVay, m. Front row, Gary Clark, of; Sparky Parrett, 2b; Steve Wilson, ss; Jon Warden, p; Jim Workman, 3b; Woody Hahne, of, and Ed Lewis, coach. Not pictured is Bill Gray, 1b. The team won the district championship after winning 20 games in 25 starts. The squad is co-sponsored by Camp Chase American Legion and the Hilltop Kiwanis Club. At the Aug. 16 Kiwanis meeting, Manager McVay, Coach Lewis and Hilltop Kiwanis Babe Ruth Coach Jim Walsh will review the sparkling season at the regular club get-together.

FT. HAYES MEN IN MICHIGAN

Local Firm Sponsors Contest

The Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company is in its sixth week of "Million Dollar Lucky License Sweepstakes."

During the sweepstakes, weekly lists of the "lucky license numbers" will be posted at Elder and Epler, Inc., 1020 W. Mound-st.

"There's nothing to write or fill in," said K. M. "Slim" Elder, president. "The only qualification to win a Paris vacation or one of the many other prizes is to own a registered car."

Nearly 20,000 "lucky license numbers" will be selected every week during the sweepstakes.

present said both men had done much for the betterment of Valleyview.

Mayor Fisher returned Maurey's fire with a reminder that Dillin is using his own car for the job and is buying his own gas and oil. "It's really a bad situation," the mayor continued, "one we've got to solve. I hope that some day soon Valleyview can afford its own police cruiser and city building and garage to house us all. Look at Darbydale . . . hardly larger than we, yet they have seven policemen. They seem to be earning their keep."

The mayor and his councilmen were unanimous in praising Dillin's work, especially during the recent pool incidents. Mayor Fisher took no action on the Maurey complaints.

"If we hear similar things from more people, then we'll do some investigating," the mayor said. "More people should air their problems in council, he added, "and not trust to heresay."

Council this week also:

- Transferred $1,500 from the general fund to street maintenance.
- Ordered a committee investigation of a case where a manhole was covered by truckers during landfill operations for three property owners. The manhole serves an important junction with Columbus sewer lines.
- Accepted $521.86 in amusement tax proceeds from the Hilltop Swim Club and $50 from the mayor's court.
- Learned that there is a possibility of a lowering of fire protection contract rates with Franklin Township because of a low incidence of emergency runs to the village.
- Set Tuesday, Sept. 4 for the next council session.

WE RETIRED TO PORT CHARLOTTE FLORIDA
On $215 A Month

"We love it!" This was the sentiment expressed by one couple about Port Charlotte, Florida. And if you were to go there yourself you'd get pretty much the same answer from just about everyone there. The couple we questioned is living in a 2-bedroom home on an income of only $215 a month. In addition, because everything they want is right in Port Charlotte, they manage to save $10 a month. You, too, can retire to Port Charlotte on a modest income and enjoy vacation-time living the year round. Let us show you slide films, color photos. AD 58191 (E-1)

City-Wide Playground Tourneys Slated

Pageants To Be Held At Two Area Parks

With little more than two weeks of supervised play remaining at 78 playgrounds, the Recreation Department is in a flurry of activity this week.

City-wide finals in several sports tournaments are scheduled as follows: horseshoes — Sunshine Playground, Thursday, Aug. 9, at 1:30 p.m.; four-square and tetherball, Windson Terrace, Friday, Aug. 10; softball, at numerous sites, Monday, Aug. 13, Tuesday, Aug. 14 and finals on Thursday, Aug. 16.

Volleyball and tennis tourneys are in progress.

Every playground is now deep in preparations for the Annual Playground Pageants, to be held at Schiller Playgrounds, Tuesday, Aug. 21 at 7:30 p.m. and at Whetstone, Wednesday, Aug. 22 at 7:30 p.m. Songs, dances and acting will center on the Columbus Sesqui-centennial and the city's development.

Following are reports from local playgrounds this week:

at Highland . . .

Highland won first place in the playground division of the Junior Olympic track meet and second place in the over all standing, bowing only to OJC. Walter E. [illegible] is Highland's volunteer track coach. Mr. and Mrs. Claytor, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Bowman and many others helped transport the team to OSU stadium.

First, second and third place winners are as follows:

Fist place—Ronnie Elland, low hurdles, 14-15; Larry Groves, hop-step-jump, 16-17; Jerry Clayton, high hurdles, 16-17; John Bailey, Chuck Smith, Elbert Kennedy, Chester Elland, 440 relay, 16-17; Elbert Kennedy, 440 run, 16-17.

Second place —Dick Moore, high hurdles, 14-15; Lemiel Thombs, 220 dash, 14-15; Chester Elland, Elbert Kennedy, Dan Gamble, Larry Groves, 880 relay, 16-17; Dick Moore, Lawrence Stewart, John Coleman, Steve Cheeks, Lemiel Thombs, 440 relay, 14-15.

Third place winners were Carolyn Jones, softball throw, 11 and under; Ronnie Elland, Wayne Mixon, John Coleman, Lemuel Thombs, 440 relay, 14-15; Jerry Claytor, low hurdles, 16-17; Chuck Smith, 100-yard dash, 16-17.

Mary Bates, age 13, was invited to join the Ohio Track Club.

Highland has four teams that will get underway in the volley ball tournaments this week.

At Sunshine

Crafts

The boys and girls wove baskets last week along with preliminary work in puppetry. Work on puppets will continue and those interested can contact Beth Goodman.

Special Events

Boys and girls between the ages of 11 and 16 should contact Beth Goodman immediately if they wish to participate in the pageants. Workers on costumes and scenery as well as actors are needed.

Mrs. Vincent and Mrs. Gilkey are to be commended with many others who helped with the lantern parade.

Junior Set

The Yankees came out on top, 8-5, and now second place with a 9-3 record. Mike Scott collected two four-baggers in games this week. Pitching honors go to Phil Amerman and Terry Yeager of the Yankees.

American League Standings

Team	W	L
White Sox	10	2
Yankees	9	3
Red Sox	5	7
Tigers	4	7
Indians	4	8
Orioles	1	11
National
Dodgers	10	1
Giants	9	3
Pirates	7	5
Cardinals	4	7
Reds	4	6

at Binns . . .

The girls' intermediate volleyball team lost to Brevort Playground and Bob Knies was defeated in horseshoes by Kingswood.

Binns will so a song and dance act, "Skip to My Lou," at the annual pageant. The boys' team will play Burroughs this week. If they win they will tie for first place in League 4.

Glenn Sanders and Pete Riner competed in the Junior Olympics last Saturday.

The Columbus Police Department will sponsor a "Bike Safety Program" at Binns on Aug. 17, from 12:30 to 2:30.

At Holton

Holton won two ribbons in the lantern parade, a first for most grotesque and a third for the most original. Mike Close, Mr. and Mrs. Renner, Mr. Murphy and Mr. and Mrs. Hankle provided transportation for the event.

The junior girls softball teams lost to Hauntz last week. The senior girls softball team ended up in second place in their league.

Tennis tournaments are being played this week. The following girls and boys represent Holton: Sharon Sue and Diane McCann, Patty, Sandy and Steve Bertram, Ron McDaniels, Jack Reau, Ilnais Spires, Bob Grogan and Norman Parrish. Results will be announced next week.

A successful teen-age dance was held Friday evening. Thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Ed Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Mueller for their help.

The pageant rehearsal will be Aug. 16. Anyone interested can contact one of the playground leaders.

at Hauntz . . .

The Hauntz Giants won the Junior Jet crown. They were led by Mike Stumpf, Steve Evans, Al Hoffman and Butch Clark, coach. Charles Ventola, homerun champ, closed out the season with three home runs in a row. The Braves' Ronnie Wheeler hit 5 for 7. The Giants will play the following in the all-star game this week: Charles Ventola, Ken Jones, Mike Reed, Charles Maynard, Jeff Rice, Ronnie Wheeler, Dave Adams, Bill Rees, Jim Wheeler, Len Hennick, Roger Lennscott, Ken Weremeyer, Bill Ilis and Mike Sprouse.

The intermediate girls and the junior girls softball teams won their league championships. The intermediates beat Sunshine, 14-12, with Jean Kearney winning her fifth straight victory. Pam Courter led Hauntz with five hits. The junior girls, led by Pam Muir's pitching, beat Holton, 17-11. Donna Shank had three hits. The junior boys will play Sullivant Gardens this week for the West Side sectional title. The junior girls will play the Westgate Devils this week for the West Side sectional title. The senior boys will play two games this week, Wednesday at John Buroughs and Friday at Westgate.

Mike Stumpf won third place in the softball throw for boys 11 and under in the city meet. Richard Fink took sixth place in the 440 yard dash.

Children have been making baskets and hats from reeds. A craft specialist visited the park to demonstrate more forms of basketry. The evenings this week, from 6 to 8, will be spent in this craft. The afternoon periods on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday will feature shell crafts, such as earrings and pins.

at Georgian Hts.

The Intermediate Boys' softball team beat the Westgate Blues 22-7. Brammer was the winning pitcher. Carr, Clark, Miller, Baker, Sprague and Taylor all had hits for the winners while King, Baker and Carr played well defensively.

Team II of Girls' Junior Softball League lost to West Mound 17-4. Francine Lumaye hit a home run with the bases loaded.

Those who have completed the physical fitness tests are Woody Madden, Ron Denbow, Tom Wooten, Steve Fala, Mike Irskens, Ray Doddroe, Margie and Donna Gunning, Joen Davis, Linda Schmehl, Carol and Doris Hamilton, Caroline Drizigacker, Janet and JoAnn Mattingly.

Marie Schmel and Karen Hatfield advanced in the four-square tournament by winning in a forfeit over Highland.

The Junior Boys lost to Hauntz 13-0. Raike, Gelch, Gunning, Denbow and J. Corbin each had a hit for the losers. R. Byrum, B. Corbin, T. Wooten and Schneider played well defensively.

The Intermediates lost to Hauntz 12-11. Sprague, Miller, Carr, Clark, Taylor and Fala had hits for the losers.

The volleyball team defeated Eakin Friday. D. Fala, L. Fala, Clark, Miller were most active in the win. They now advance a step farther in the tournament and will play Westgate.

This evening a Doll Parade will be held for all the girls and their favorite dolls. Ribbons will be awarded to outstanding entries.

at Burroughs . . .

Playground hours are now Monday through Fridays from noon until 8 p.m.

Three boys from Burroughs carried the Olympic Torch for the Junior Olympics held at OSU stadium last Saturday. The boys are Dickie Scott, Paul Anderson, and Mike Schoener.

In arts and crafts the next emphasis will be placed on stick crafts, puppetry, drawing and painting, making potholders and preparation for the annual recreation department pageant.

Special events still to be held are a hobo hike, bicycle rodeo, checker tournaments, family night, Junior Jet All-Star games, and others. Dates and times of these events will be posted on the playground bulletin board.

Nancy Kuner and Carol Ward are in the city tetherball playoffs and Carol Ward in the semi-finals of intermediate girls' horseshoes. The Burroughs Intermediate Girls defeated Kingswood in volleyball last week. The Intermediate Boys will host Highland this week.

Burroughs Intermediate and Senior softball teams are still undefeated. The Intermediates will face a rugged Binns team which has lost only one game. If Burroughs loses this contest, these two teams would have a rematch to decide the league championship. The senior boys will play unbeaten Hauntz. This game will decide the Senior League champ. The Hauntz game is to be played today at Burroughs.

The Junior Boys' Colts (13-3) lost their third game in a row. This last defeat came from Glenwood 10-5. The Girls' Intermediate team finished league play last week by downing the Westgate Jesters 19-6.

In Fathers' slo-pitch softball, Eddy's Bombers defeated the Miller Sluggers last Friday 13-0. The Sluggers narrowed a 11-5 deficit to 11-10, only to have the B ombers tally two runs in the last inning. These two teams will play Friday at Burroughs. Mallo paced the winners with four for five while Dick Scott hit triples. Johnson and Ratcliff homered.

at Glenwood . . .

Volleyball is being played every day. All who are interested in playing (including parents are urged to do so.

Physical fitness tests were given to many children this week. All that pass will receive a certificate from the Amateur Athletic Union. This test is still being given every afternoon.

This week's art and crafts will include some work with papier mache, and the completion of baskets started last week. Work will begin this week on the playground's pageant skit. Any mothers able to make costumes may contact Hazel Brovont at Glenwood.

Ernie Thornton and his Giants are Junior Jet league leaders. Ernie also leads the league with six home runs.

Standings (W-L) — Giants, 6-2; Chiefs, 4-4; Braves, 3-5; Jets, 2-6.

Glenwood had six children who helped run the torch from City Hall to OSU Stadium to start the Olympic games. The boys were Ronald Kenley, Joseph Soto, Frank Soto, Phil Evans, Ernest Thornton and Darrel Angel.

In League II Junior Boys' Softball, Glenwood beat the Burroughs Colts 10-5.

Frank Caron from Westkate is taking Mike Coleman's position at Glenwood. Coleman is in reserve maneuvers in Michigan.

At Chicago . . .

Eleven Chicago Indians returned from Indian Village Day Camp last week. They were Bobby Shallengberg, Bobby Neer, Dawne Meadows, Jimmy Taylor, Carl and Phillip Immel, Brenda and Nelson Siders, Patty and Sharon Myers, and Janet Jordon. While at camp the group made Indian crafts, hiked and went swimming.

The Chicago intermediate softball team will meet Sullivant Gardens in a playoff game this week. The volleyball tournament has started with a Chicago Boys Intermediate victory over Glenwood.

The pageant will occur in three weeks. Practice has already begun.

At West Mound

In Junior Jet League games this week at West Mound the Colts defeated the Marlins 13-4 and the Bucks bested the Colts 17-2. The current standings in the league are: Bucks won seven, lost one, Colts won seven, lost two; Braves three and four; Yanks won three and lost five and Marlin have won none and lost eight.

The Junior girls softball team finished with a 2-3 season last Monday by defeating Georgian Heights, 16-4. Senior boys lost to Westgate, 11-10, and the intermediate boys beat Highland, 13-10.

West Mound's intermediate boys volleyball team won its first game in the elimination tournaments by forfeit from Hauntz. Dick Skinner was eliminated in the quarter finals of senior boys tetherball by Kingswood.

In crafts this week children made baskets of all shapes and sizes. The next project will be egg-shell mosaic. Each youngster is asked to bring as many egg shells for this as possible.

West Mound will be working with Hauntz Playground in preparing for the annual pageant to be presented at Schiller. All those who plan to be in the pageant should contact the leaders this week.

at Eakin . . .

In Junior Jet action the Marlins beat the Braves 9-5 and the Giants 16-2. The Braves edged the Yanks 10-9 while the Reds beat the Yanks 15-11. The Tigers beat the Giants 9-7 and the Reds outplayed the Tigers 28-12.

STANDINGS

First place, Marlins, 7-1; second place, Braves, 4-2; third place, Tigers, 3-3; fourth place, Reds, 3-4; fifth place, Giants, 2-3; sixth place, Yanks, 1-6.

Eakin's Intermediate Boys' Softball Team lost to Binns 20-6 in spite of Butch Campbell's three run homer. Stankiewicz, Thompson, Campbell, Bandey, Strickland, and Martin had hits for Eakin. The Intermediate Girls Softball Team lost to Westgate on Friday.

In the first round of the city volleyball tournament Eakin's Intermediate Boys lost to Georgian Heights 2-0.

Eakin was represented at the Junior Olympics Track and Field Meet. Patty Thompson ran in the midget girls' division and Aaron Rockhold in the midget boys' division. In the Junior Boys' division Steve Thompson, Tony Stankiewicz, and Jim Strickland ran for Eakin.

At Sullivant

The Sullivant Gardens junior boy's softball team moved to within one game of the league championship with a victory over Chicago to remain undefeated.

The intermediate boys remained in first place in their league by defeating Sunshine 9-15.

The intermediate girl's team defeated Sunshine in soft-ball 12-4. Geraldine Watson and Virginia Hicks were the hitting stars with three hits each. Dolores Steele and Geraldine Watson hit home runs.

The women's adult soft-ball team beat Engineer Maintenance Center 21-9. Alice Moore paced Sullivant Gardens with two home runs, a triple and a single. The EMC is leading the Thursday women's slow pitch league.

Mike Mattox and Darrel Watson moved into the semi-finals of the four-square tournament.

Thirty-five Sullivant Gardens children went to the Junior Olympic Track and Field Meet at OSU Saturday, Aug. 4. Chick Henderson went up to the finals in the 50 yard dash for the girls under eleven age group.

Four of our girls in the same age group placed second in a 200 yard relay team finals.

Highland Is Playground Track Victor

Highland teams and individuals helped sweep the playground division during the Columbus Recreation Department's annual Junior Olympic Track and Field Meet Saturday afternoon at Ohio State University Stadium.

The Ohio Track Club won the open division.

Highland totaled an impressive 103½ points in its win from a record field of 2,044 boys and girls participating in the meet which was held for youngsters 17 and under.

Three From Hilltop Attend Summer Camp

Hilltop Air Force Reservists attending two weeks summer training sessions at Port Columbus air port from July 22 through Aug. 3 were:

A1/C Marvin A. Pate, Jr., 2718 S. Oakley-av. Airman Pate is a squadron supply specialist and in civilian life is employed by Westinghouse Electric Corporation.

A/1 Carl R. Dennis, 110 Whitethorne-av. Airman Dennis is a unit weather observer and is an employe of Williams Trucking Co.

A2/C Howard E. Fosnaugh, 1040 Georgesville-rd. Fosnaugh is a squadron roads and grounds supervisor in the Civil Engineering Section.

During the two week period personnel will be training in their specific jobs as well as participating with aircraft in practice exercises.

The group, all members of the 9223d Air Force Reserve Recovery Squadron were training in decontamination of aircraft and its crew, refueling, maintenance, fire-fighting and communications for aircraft and medical aid for the crew.

In addition to the two week summer training the unit meets one weekend a month to keep their skills up to date.

The squadron still has a few openings for qualified personnel with prior service experience. Anyone interested may contact Capt. Brown at CA. 1-5861, extension 289 or Capt. Booth at 237-9235.

Experienced Lazarus People In Key Posts At West Store

Six men, experienced in Lazarus merchandising, fill the key executive positions at the new soon-to-open Lazarus West.

John M. Sesler, appointed general manager of Lazarus West, said Tuesday, "The six men appointed to handle Lazarus West exemplify the store's policy of promoting from within the organization, and the way the store prepares people for broad responsibility."

Taking the six men out of the downtown store, he mentioned, created 27 additional executive promotions. "The store takes every opportunity to move people up, and give them varied experience," he said. "In my own case, in 13 years at Lazarus, I have had supervisory responsibility in both Fashion Departments and Home Departments, and both Main Store and Basement."

Sesler, 2914 Mountview-rd, is a World War II veteran, and was graduated from the Ohio State University College of Commerce. He will report directly to Charles Lazarus, president, The F. and R. Lazarus and Co.

Thomas Raymond, appointed assistant manager of Lazarus West, is a 14-year company veteran, and will be responsible mainly for customer service operation in the new store. He has had sales and service experience at Lazarus. Before transferring to Lazarus West, he was selling service supervisor. He is married, has three sons, and lives in Powell, O.

Group sales managers appointed to Lazarus West are James Jackson, John Waldner, Arthur Kaplan and Mark Lavine.

Jackson, 1305 First-av, is a nine-year Lazarus associate and was assistant department manager of Toyland before appointment to Lazarus West as sales manager of home goods.

Waldner, 19 Medfield-wy, new sales manager of children's wear and smallwears, is a 1958 Ohio State graduate, and was assistant department manager of Boys' Wear prior to the appointment.

Kaplan, 1247 Pierce-st, sales manager of Men's Wear, has been assistant department manager of men's clothing at Lazarus, was a marketing major at Ohio State University, and is a Pittsburg native.

Lavine, 2899 Ruhl-av, Lazarus West sales manager of Ladies Apparel and Accessories, has been assistant department manager of a sportswear department at the downtown store, was a Miami University graduate and a Navy veteran.

70-Bed Hospital Started On West Broad St.

Construction On 11-Acre Site To Be Done In Year

Employes of Doctors Hospital, 1087 Dennison-av, broke ground Wednesday for a new $1,800,000 hospital addition to be located in Lincoln Village just north of W. Broad-st.

Ceremonies at 3:30 p.m. initiated construction on the new 70-bed hospital unit. According to William S. Konold, administrator, the hospital will be known as Doctors Hospital-Lincoln Village and will be located on an 11-acre tract of land west of Sturbridge-rd and south of Beacon Hills-rd.

The public saw a new twist in ground-breaking ceremonies. Hospital nurses and technicians, chosen for the occasion by their fellow employes, assisted in turning the first shovels of dirt. During the ceremony they put down their regular medical tools-of-trade and picked up shovels to assist Garwick and Ross, general contractors, in getting the building underway.

Other contractors include the Limbach Company, mechanical; and Electric Power and Equipment Company, electrical. Daniel A. Carmichael, Jr., is the architect assisted by Robert E. Hattis of Chicago with the mechanical engineering phases.

Construction will start at once on the new building which will be composed of a one-story medical services wing and a three-floor (plus basement) service and patient wing. A third building will contain heating, air-conditioning and maintenance facilities. The hospital's unique design will permit easy future expansion.

TRUCK, AUTO, BLEACH AND GLASS IN ACCIDENT MELEE

GALLONS AND GALLONS of bleach were buried onto the lawn and doused the driver, when his delivery van struck an auto driven by Patrolman Paul Sliders and overturned into the yard of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Warren, 3042 Eakin-rd, Monday, 4 p.m. Truck driver, Donald E. Cottington, 248 Williams-rd, was cited for failing to yield to a stop sign at the corner of Eakin and Salisbury.

The car driven by Sliders, off duty at the time, was upon onto the lawn where it felled a small maple tree. Sliders, of 741 Maurine-dr, was taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital by emergency squadmen, treated for abrasions and bruises and released. Cottington, soaked with bleach, was hosed by firemen on the scene and then treated for skin irritation.

Hand Them A Helping Glove . . .

Got an extra ball glove or two lying idle around the house?

They can be put to good use at Franklin Village — the county home for children. The appeal was issued this week by Ex-Mayor Jack Sensenbrenner on behalf of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club. The Kiwanians have been conducting regular play sessions among the youth of the village.

Glove donations may be left at Sensenbrenner's home, 335 Guernsey-av.

Last Rites Held Monday For Gift N. Harper, 70

Gift N. Harper, 70, of 97 E. Main-st, West Jefferson, died in his sleep Aug. 3 several hours after admission to Riverside Hospital.

Dr. Floyd Faust, a longtime friend, officiated at the funeral at 1 p.m. Monday in Schoedinger's Hilltop chapel. Burial was in Sunset Cemetery.

Until Aug. 7 Mr. Harper had been active as advertising representative for the Hartley Newspapers in western Franklin and Madison counties. He joined the Hartley staff seven years ago and worked chiefly on the West Rural-Urban [illegible] wife, Frances, has been West Jefferson news correspondent for the paper.

Mr. Harper was born and raised in Kansas City, Mo., and went to Chicago as a young man entering business. For most of his life he was a merchandise salesman and owned six Sterling variety stores. He moved to the Hilltop in 1928, last living at 451 Guernsey-av. He established a Sterling store in 1941 in West Jefferson and moved to the village in 1947.

While a Westgate resident, Mr. Harper was president of the West High School PTA, increasing its membership from 150 to more than 1000. He also served as advisor to the senior high group at old Hoge Memorial Church, and as president of the married couples' class there. Previously affiliated with the Christian Church (Disciples), Mr. Harper first met Dr. Faust while associated in that church's social work.

In addition to membership at Hoge Memorial Church, he also was a West Jefferson Kiwanian. A boyhood friend of Casey Stengel, he had an unflagging interest in sports. While a Hilltopper he served the Boy Scouting movement in his neighborhood.

Gift N. Harper

Mr. and Mrs. Harper were the parents of two sons, Ralph S. of 316 Sturbridge-rd in Lincoln Village, and Hobie, now of Phoenix, Ariz. There are three grandchildren, Mike, Jan, and Cathy, of Phoenix. A cousin, Brig. Gen. Neal Harper, lives in Upper Arlington.

Memo To A Bike Thief . . .

A boy's bike means the world to him. And if he's a newspaper carrier it's something else . . . it's his business machine.

Hartley newscarrier Morgan Marah, 1899 W. Mound-st, reported that his bike was stolen at 3 p.m. Monday at Central Point. It's blue with ivory trim and carried license No. 27.

In his two years of dependable and ambitious carrying, Morgan has built up a sizeable route south of Mound-st from Townsend-st to Highland-av. Today he's walking. He'd like to have that bike back.

Mr. Thief, if you have a change of heart, call Morgan at BR. 4-6011.

Madison County Fair

The Madison County Fair at London, O., will start Sunday, Aug. 19.

The Fair will run for five days, from Sunday through Thursday, and will accent the agricultural aspects of the county.

Welcome, Neighbor!

The big air curtain door of the fine new Lazarus West store is open today.

We join the community in a salute to our new neighbors.

We know they are going to be good neighbors.

Columbus has been fortunate in having one of the finest and largest department stores in the world, operated by merchandisers who are tops in their field—Lazarus.

Now, their first step into suburban operations has been taken with the opening of this fine new store representing an investment of over two million dollars before it was stocked.

This community has been honored to be chosen for the first of their suburban stores.

In an address this past week at a special press meeting, Mr. Robert Lazarus pointed out eight reasons why he has great confidence in the great Columbus community. Such faith in the future is shown today as the associates of Lazarus West say, "Welcome."

And a wonderful community of home owners responds with pride, "Welcome to you, neighbor."

Another Friend Passes

Another good friend and business associate has been lost in the passing of Gift Harper.

For many years I had known him. For several years he had been one of our advertising staff members serving business people in western Franklin County and Madison County.

One of the greatest pleasures to come my way in business has been to be associated with men of their word and men of integrity. I had such pleasure in those years with Mr. Harper.

He was a young man in spirit and until the day of his death he did not know defeat. It was sad news to learn of his passing.

But . . . "How unsearchable are His judgments . . ."

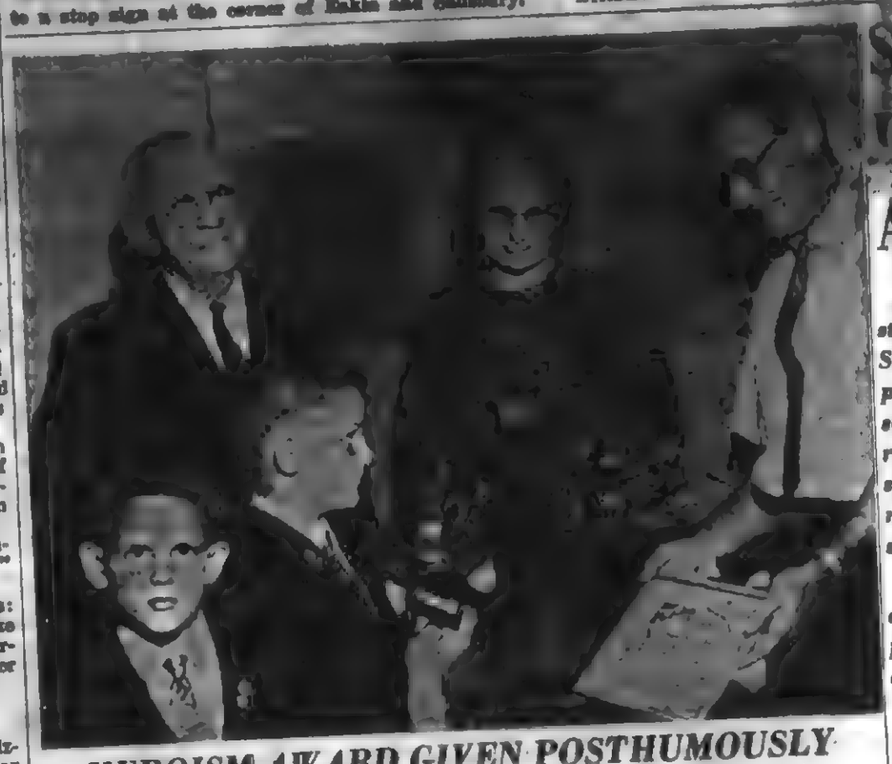
Come To The Fair

Sunday afternoon I realized that it is that time of year again . . . time for the annual Franklin County Fair.

How could I fail to know as I drove a Jeep down Trabue-rd, and Rome-Hilliard-rd with a trailer behind it and carrying a purebred Shorthorn bull, the fourth year of a project of our son, who is determined he will be a farmer when he grows up.



Other dads and lads as well as moms and daughters were arriving all afternoon with everything from rabbits to buck sheep and cows and bulls.

All of which goes into a part of the great American way of life and makes for a good county fair.

If you haven't been to the fair yet, take time this evening or tomorrow and see the rural side of our county on display. It is a show well worth the small amount it costs to see.

HEROISM AWARD GIVEN POSTHUMOUSLY

COMMEMORATING a man who died June 24 while bravely trying to rescue a woman from a burning auto on W. Mound-st, the members of Local 67, International Association of Firefighters, presented their first Heroism Award Aug. 3, to the family of the late William Cline, 532 S. Wayne-av. The award was instituted two years ago. Mrs. Cline is seen receiving the award from Jerry O'Neal, president of Local 67, in the presence of Fire Chief Walter G. Strickfaden (left, rear) and her two sons, Charles, seven, and William, nine. Friends and relatives also donated more than $1,500 in "flower funds" to the family and painted their house in one day. The Carnegie Hero Fund Commission of Pittsburgh has learned of the Cline rescue attempt and has asked Fire Lt. Frank Graehel for more information. A Carnegie representative is expected to review the case at the same time he is in the city to investigate another, that of Leonard Logan who died while trying to save a West Side youth from drowning in the Scioto, May 4.

Scheduling In Progress At Central

All new and former students of Central High School are urged to report to the office at the school if they desire to register or change their schedules. Schedules will not be changed after school begins.

The office is open daily from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. for the convenience of students and parents.

The following new teachers have been hired at Central: Miss Agnes Factor, business education; Roger Chaney, welding; Mrs. Carol Evans, vocal music; Mrs. Sarah Kriska, dramatics and English; Robert Entsminger, science; John Mercer, physics and chemistry, and Arthur Leaf, mathematics.

Kiwanians Hold Picnic For State Hospital Patients

A dozen members of the West Side Kiwanis Club conducted a picnic for about 200 male patients at the State Hospital, Aug. 15.

Each year the local service club arranges the outings for patients who are rarely permitted outdoor privileges. This year's event was a wiener roast at the Kiwanis-built shelterhouse at the base of W. Broad-st hill.

GOLDEN WEDDING PARTIES PLANNED

Hartley Newspapers' Golden Wedding Club annual receptions are once again being planned to honor couples married more than 50 years.

Those living in the circulation areas of West Rural-Urban News, The Hilltop Record, West Side News, South-East Rural-Urban News and Reynoldsburg Record are invited.

Two receptions will be held—one in the southeastern section and one in the western Columbus area.

Dates, times and places, with coupons for registration, will appear in next week's issue.

Teens, Tots Think This Year's Fair Is Truly Terrific!

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

One of the best indications that it's Franklin County Fair time is to check on the tummy remedy supply at local drug stores and this year is no exception.

The fair managers said this week they have a hard time believing how much cotton candy, candy apples, popcorn, ice cream and soda pop is being consumed—mostly by the youngsters.

And, this year, it's really a fair for the little folks.

Carl Crandall, fair secretary, commented this week that there seems to be more children traveling the grounds this year than ever before.

But that's considerable when you figure all the many attractions that have been designed into this "bigger-and-better" edition of the county-wide wing-ding.

The midway is a masterpiece. Besides the foodstuffs, the rides and sights will dazzle anyone. Crandall reported that the midway was especially designed with the youngsters in mind. Everything from ponies to ferris wheels line the fun area and wide-eyes are the order of the day.

This year's fair — which ends Friday — is unique in many ways.

For instance, this is the first time that a 4-H goat club has been on the grounds. Also, the first year for a draft horse 4-H Club.

Besides this, a Galloway Girl Scout troop is setting a

Twenty-seven Grottos from four states will compete for display honors at Central High School's Athletic Field on Saturday, Aug. 18, at 10 a.m.

The units are in Columbus for their 38th Annual Convention. A parade will be held on Broad st Saturday, starting at 3 p.m.

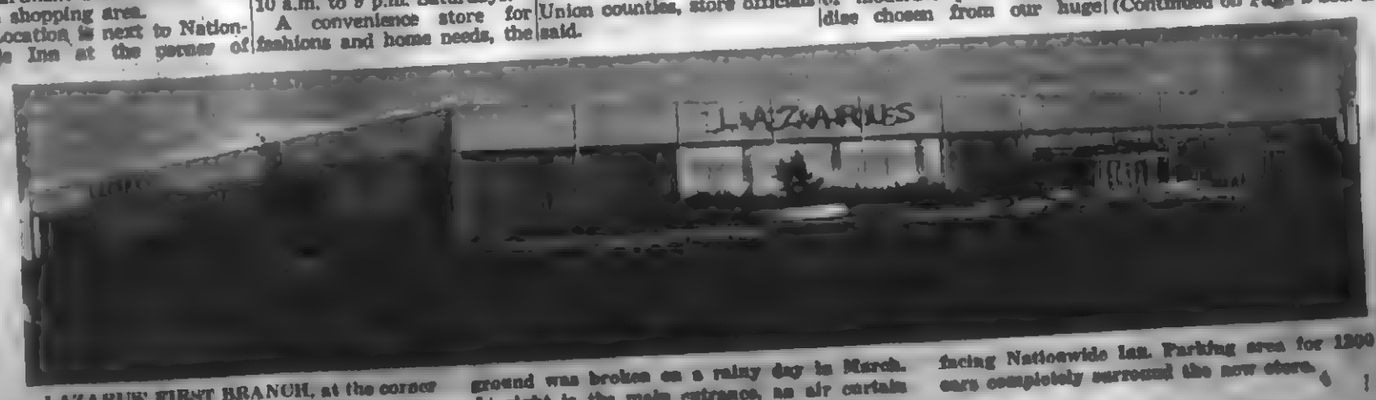
NEAR LINCOLN VILLAGE

Lazarus Opening First Suburban Store Thursday

The 111-year-old Lazarus store, a downtown institution these many years, opens its first branch Thursday, at 11 a.m. It is described as Central Ohio's largest full-service department store in a suburban shopping area.

Location is next to Nationwide Inn at the corner of Georgesville-rd and W. Broad-st. at the edge of Lincoln Village. The name — Lazarus West.

Lazarus West regular store hours are 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday, and 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Saturdays.



A convenience store for fashions and home needs, the spacious two-acre Lazarus West is designed for the shopping convenience of customers who live on the Hilltop, in Hilliard, Lincoln Village, Grove City, West Jefferson and in the nearby communities of Franklin, Madison and Union counties, store officials said.

"We shall provide the kind of merchandise we believe our West area customers look for on a day-to-day basis," Board Chairman Robert Lazarus said. He added:

"This kind of store calls for exceptionally careful selection of moderate price merchandise chosen from our huge downtown assortment. Sensitive awareness of the styles and types of goods our customers want most of the time is required."

West merchandise includes apparel, accessories and shoes for men, women and children, gas and electric appliances,

LAZARUS' FIRST BRANCH, at the corner of W. Broad-st and Georgesville-rd, opens Thursday at 11 a.m., just five months after the ground was broken on a rainy day in March. At right is the main entrance, an air curtain door, facing Broad-st. At left is east entrance facing Nationwide Inn. Parking area for 1200 cars completely surround the new store.

Child Support Dropping

The Franklin County Child Welfare Board is trying to meet the crisis of more cases with less personnel.

The CWB has terminated 196 children's cases within the last month. According to an official at the board, 300 more cases must be closed before Oct. 1 for the board to live within its budget.

Within the past two months, 119 children have been referred to the board by the Juvenile Court.

By October, 1962, the social service staff of CWB will number 27 as compared to 62 in 1961.

As of December, 1961, the CWB was caring for twice as many children as were under the care of both public and private agencies in Franklin County 10 years ago.

Private agencies have not been able to adapt their services to the needs of an exploding population, and now and more difficult problems have had to be relegated to the CWB, according to Director Don Dodsworth.

4-H State Meet Here Next Month

Ohio's biggest 4-H event of the year, state Club Congress, will draw nearly 800 members and advisors to the Ohio State University campus September 8-12.

Most of the sessions will be in the Ohio Union. On opening day, Saturday, September 8, Drs. Robert McCormack and Everett Rogers of the Ohio Agriculture Extension Service will direct discussions on learning for living in 4-H leadership.

The program will include talks on government and citizenship, plus the traditional mock legislative session at the state capitol. The delegates will vote on a bill to amend the Ohio motor vehicle laws to require a minimum age of 18 years for obtaining a driver's license, unless an applicant has completed successfully an approved driver education course.

Mrs. Polly Hanst, Maryland homemaker and widely-known speaker, will address the congress and will also include career exploratory visits to various campus departments. Banquet speaker will be D.T. Hayward, president of the Ohio Tractor and Implement Company.

Ohio Boys Band In 33rd Year

310 high school boys will combine their musical talents to play in the All-Ohio Boys' Band at the Ohio State Fair, Aug. 24 - Sept. 3.

Performances by the Ohio Boys' Band are something to which regular fairgoers look forward. The band is under the direction of Dr. Louis Pete of Ashland, who is beginning his 33rd year of conducting Ohio's best high school musicians.

The band members will arrive in Columbus Aug. 19 for four days of practice before the Fair's opening. While in Columbus, the musicians will stay at the Youth Center at the Expositions Center and will present two free concerts a day at the Fair. They will also perform at the nightly grandstand shows.

Boys in the band were selected on the basis of their ability by music teachers throughout the state.

JOHN D. PICKETT

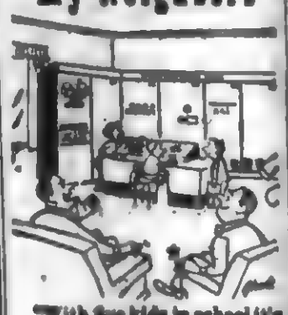
Pickett Will Speak To 'Scientists'

How health and individual usefulness can be restored through spiritual means, as illustrated in the Bible, will be the subject of a free public lecture on Christian Science to be given in Columbus Sunday, Aug. 19, by John D Pickett of Chicago.

Pickett will speak in the church edifice, 457 E. Broad-st, at 3 p.m. under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist. His subject will be "Christian Science: The Unfailing Power of God Made Practical."

A native of Ohio, and educated in Georgia and North Dakota, Pickett was formerly the president of his own investment banking firm. He liquidated his business in 1942 to enter the full time practice of Christian Science.

Pickett has been an active field service member for Christian Science and has traveled throughout North and South America.



The public is invited.

Dublin Investigates Fire

A $15,000 fire which destroyed a barn and shed on the Raymond E. Mason farm, 7500 N. Olentangy River-rd, early Friday, Aug. 10, was investigated by Dublin firemen.

The fire was visible in Plain City, nine miles away, according to one of the firemen.

37th Division Puts In Two Good Weeks

Ohio's 37th Infantry Division returned home over the weekend with the highest reported record ever obtained by a reserve or national guard division during two-weeks of annual summer field training.

Although the final "official" rating has not yet been received from Second Army Headquarters, regular army evaluators chalked up the most impressive total for the 37th yet received by any unit.

Using the army grade-card system, the 37th received 4873 superiors (highest possible) out of the total of 6818 inspections. There were 1846 excellents; 96 satisfactory ratings and only 3 unsatisfactories. Each company-size unit was rated at least 80 times by some 30 evaluators . . . at least 5 or 6 inspections per day.

The Ohioans arrived back at home stations Saturday and this week will get their equipment cleaned and properly stored after the rigorous training exercises. The Ohio Guard units continue their weekly drills throughout the year in sharpening the tactics needed in hot and cold wars.

Westerns Come To Horse Show

Eight judges and eight officials have been named for the Ohio Expositions Commission Horse Show.

Rated a top show year after year, the addition of several classes and events add more widespread appeal and prestige to the biggest horse show in the Fair's 107-year history.

A Western Horse Show will be held at the Fair for the first time, Sept. 1-3, over the Labor Day weekend, and will be preceded by performances and judging in other classes during the first week, Aug. 24-30.

Horse shows will be held nightly during the Fair at 7 p.m. in the Coliseum, except Friday, Aug. 31.

Merry Pioneers Scheduled For Surprise Sing

The Merry Pioneers will give a surprise concert at the Columbus Park of Roses, 4015 N. High-st, at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 19.

The group consists of 15 singers. It is the only male chorus of the Eastern Star in Ohio. They are members of University Chapter.

The Columbus Park of Roses series will come to a close Aug. 25, according to J. R. Lawmill, superintendent of parks, with the Barber Shop Chorus giving an hour-long concert.

The public is invited to both events.

Play Held Over

Due to the success of Playhouse-on-the-Green's production of "Born Yesterday," the theater will hold the show over for a second week, beginning Monday, Aug. 13.

The performance of "Yes, My Darling Daughter," scheduled to open on that date has been cancelled.

"Born Yesterday" stars Lois Kibee, Art Kassul, and Peter Harris.

Lincoln Village Area Housing, Business In Midst Of Boom

Opening of the new Lazarus store on Broad-st this week will mark another milestone in the fast-moving development of the Lincoln Village area.

The far west side community, being developed by the Nationwide Development Company, has experienced a tremendous surge of activity in 1962.

Edward F. Wagner, NDC vice president - general manager today reviewed the events that have taken place this year.

Edward L. Wagner

Wagner said, "In 1962 model houses were opened on the last remaining residential area on the north side of Broad-st in Lincoln Village and the remaining residential lots south of the highway were sold. Many new apartment units have been built and the village population has passed the 5,000 figure.

"Doctors Hospital selected an 11-acre site at the corner of Sturbridge-rd and Broad-st, (West of Lincoln Lodge) as the location for a modern branch facility. Ground was broken Wednesday for this institution. A medical office building is planned on a tract of land lying north of the Doctors Hospital site between the Columbia Heights Methodist Church and the community swimmng pool.

"While the construction of Lazarus' first suburban store in Lincoln Village is probably the most widely heralded commercial development to take place in the community this year, there have been many other significant developments.

"The Big Bear food chain is building a giant supermarket at the corner of N. Murray Hill-rd and W. Broad-st. This 28,000 square-foot store will open in September.

"Work is under way on the Huntington National Bank's Westview office. It is located on a two-acre site, fronting on Georgesville-rd, south of Nationwide Inn. Two other financial institutions are planned for Lincoln Village.

"The Burger Boy Foodorama drive-in restaurant has been in operation most of the year, and across Broad-st from Nationwide Inn the largest bowling facility in Central Ohio will soon be opened. Lincoln Village Lanes will have 50 lanes and many other sports center features.

Wagner indicated that there are a number of other major developments presently in the negotiation stage which will soon be announced for the area.

Biggest-Ever Field In Junior Olympics

Five national records were broken and one tied in the Columbus Recreation Department's annual Junior Olympics Track and Field Meet at OSU Stadium Saturday, with a record-breaking entry of 2,044 boys and girls taking part.

Sandy Fears, of the Ohio Track Club, tied her national record of 8.5 in the 75-yard dash and set a new national record of 5.9 in the 50-yard dash in the girls' 12 and 13 age division. (The existing national record is 6.0, set by Sandy last year.)

In the girls' 14 and 15 age division, Wanda Fuller broke the national record (8.7) with her 8.5 in the 75-yard dash.

Chris Miller, also with the Ohio Track Club, broke the same record with her 8.65 in the 75-yard dash.

Estelle Baskerville, Ohio Track Club, jumped 9 feet, 1¾ inch in the standing broad jump to break the national record of 8 feet, nine inches.

Laura Voss, Karen Williams, Wanda Fuller and Betty Toney of the Ohio Track Club ran the 220-yard relay in 25.0 to break the national record of 25.4.

Thirty-three local records were broken in this meet for boys and girls 17 and under.

The Ohio Track Club placed 192¼ points to win the Columbus Recreation Department's Playground Division.

Museum Of Racing Part Of '62 Fair

A harness racing museum will be sponsored by the United States Trotting Association at the Ohio State Fair, August 24 - September 3.

Housed in a 60'x40' tent, the display, which will be open to the public free of charge, will present both historical and modern trends in a sport and industry valued at more than $75,000,000 in Ohio alone.

It is estimated that more than 65,000 persons visited racing exhibit since its debut at the 1960 State Fair.

While the four-day harness racing meet at the State Fair is scheduled for August 27-30, the 1962 museum, located adjacent to the back stretch of the racing oval, will be open to the public throughout the entire fair schedule.

Granddad Proves His Point: Go Light On The Talkin', Heavy On The Fishin'

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROB COCHRAN

Chris Larson, 95, of St. Edward, Neb., is as enthusiastic a fisherman as you will find. I know, for I followed along the other day when he took his five-year-old great-grandson Scott McPherson to a farm pond to teach him a thing or two in the ancient art of angling. Mr. Larson is visiting in these parts with Mr. and Mrs. Gene McPherson, Darbycrest.

I've talked to a few self-styled "oldtimer" fishing experts, who can ramble on and on about the good old days. It was refreshing to sit along the bank with Mr. Larson, for the most exciting fishing jaunt with him is the one he is on. He was the first over the fence, and before I could ready my camera I heard the plop of his baited hook and bobber hitting the water. The first lesson Scott learned was to start fishing, and be quick about it!

Chris Larson is reticent about relating fishing experiences of 70 to 80 years ago. You get the impression that he would rather fish the newer reservoirs than a sluggish Nebraska stream. His best catches have been recent ones when stringers have been filled with crappies, white bass and perch. Sometimes he goes to smaller lakes and ponds for bluegills, but likes crappie fishing best.

Hunted Prairie Chickens

His eyes do take on a far away look when you mention hunting, a sport that he had to give up some years ago. The prairie chicken shooting of a couple of generations ago truly must have been beyond present day imagination. The mention of pheasants or quail has little effect—"Chickens were the best," he affirms. Prairie chickens reached a low point some time ago, and the population is now slowly rebuilding.

Our conversation was clearly about to end. Scott, with a hand from Dad, had caught a couple of bluegills, and Chris Larson was finding it bothersome to concentrate on fishing and talk too. As he brought in his still-baited hook, I wandered away at the tactful hint. He decided his hook was too big. Although its an old angler's maxim—the bigger the hook the bigger the fish—he tied on a smaller one.

Soon he was catching bluegills. The action was fast—bouncing bobbers and flopping fish on the grassy bank. But it soon became apparent that Chris Larson was catching larger bluegills than Scott McPherson. Was it because of his delicate touch? Perhaps it was the way he baited the worm? I was waiting for a word of advice. Maybe he would tell Scott to spit on the bait before he tossed it in.

But after more fishing and more bluegills big and small, not one further word of advice was forthcoming. Scott McPherson will have to go fishing with his great-grandfather more than once to learn all the secrets stored up in 95 years of outdoor adventure.

Don't Abandon The Jets Now!

Just in case you're among the many baseball fans who have been staying clear of Jet Stadium recently just because you know they can't win the pennant this year, read this:

The Jets won the pennant last year and, taking nothing away from some fine playing during 1961, that was quite an accomplishment. But, it's not really the epitome of honors and Jet Skipper Larry Shepard would be the first one to agree.

You see, the Jets won the pennant last year but they were beaten in the play-offs. This year, however, the Jets can not mathematically or any other way win the International League pennant but they CAN win the play-offs and represent the International League in the Junior World Series.

This carries with it as much prestige as the loop flag and Shepard has said many times that it means just as much to him.

This isn't the time to close the door on the Jets. Boosting them to a Junior World Series victory could be a tremendous thing but you can't do it by staying home.

The Jets, due to an inexperienced squad, got off to a bad start this year and never fully recovered. The 12-game win surge revived spirits but now, while riding on a temporary slump, the moral support is urgently needed.

The Jets have a chance to bring the series crown to this city and that takes more than just good ball playing. It takes a town that will cheer, a town that will patronize the stadium and the Jets with support that can't come from a coach's pep talk.

It's no secret that attendance at the ball orchard is behind 35,000 from last year.

If you were a ball player on a team in a town with support like that, how would you feel?

The Jets can win that series crown with your help.

Show the Columbus Jets—your Columbus Jets—how you feel and take the family to a game or two this week.

You'll get your money's worth.

FROZEN CHICKS

More than 44 million pounds of fresh frozen young chickens will be purchased by the Department of Agriculture this year. The chickens will be distributed to schools participating in the national school lunch program.

STUDY SUPERVISOR

Some Dayton high school teachers will be able to do more teaching and less policing this fall as the result of a recent board of education action. The board approved the hiring of a study hall supervisor to replace teachers normally assigned to keep order during study periods.

Leftovers . . . by John McPeek

Those Polynesians Had An Idea There

Like many, I am fascinated by the mores and morals of primitive societies.

McPeek

For the most part, the customs and beliefs of many ancient cultures sprung from weird superstitions and adherences to strange pagan gods. Such practices when related today in light company fetch amused, tolerant chuckles, the type a child at play might evoke from a parent.

But chuckles or not, some of our early male primates showed a lot more savvy than many of we modern dunderheads — especially when it came to relations with women.

Take for instance the early Polynesians who migrated by canoe to establish a new society on Hawaii a thousand or so years ago. One of the first things this small group of pilgrims did after beaching their giant canoe was to draw up a list of taboos, not the least important of which was a special set to keep women in their place. At least this is true if we are to accept James Michener's research as related in his momumental novel, "Hawaii."

These taboos decreed that women, "who were intaking and weak should be prevented from defiling men who were outgoing and strong." They were not permitted to eat with men, nor even see men eating, on pain of death. They also were prohibited from laughing at improper moments. There was a string more of similar taboos, but it is not necessary to list them. You get the idea.

Now I'm the first to admit that this may have been carrying things a bit far, but the motivation and principles seem sound, even today.

And apparently I'm not alone in this belief. Strangely enough, I'm supported by a good looking lady psychiatrist named Dr. Marie N. Robison, kind of a modern day witch doctor, so to speak.

According to this illustrious head-shrinker, she thinks it's about time women were told the truth — they are different from man, the superior of the species. So help me, that's what the Associated Press reports her as saying.

"A woman's historical role is in the home," said Doctor Marie from her Gotham sanctuary. "Her job is keeping the tone of that home happy and loving. This is what women were uniquely designed for."

Let me be the first to cheer for the good doctor. And by the way, when she isn't slaving away over a hot therapeutic couch, she can be found at home doting on her spouse and teenage son.

With encouragement like her's, I think I'll devise a modern day code of taboos for women. I'll not print it now. No, before doing that I'll wait for opportune moments and try to establish the taboos in my own home . . . one at a time.

Who knows, if I'm successful I could achieve immortality as the leader of a great new revolutionary movement on the domestic front. I may even be deified as the emancipator of the Twentieth Century's thumb-groveled man.

It's odd that these heroic tendencies should suddenly reveal themselves after 36 years of accepting myself as a coward. Perhaps all that time I've never really been afraid of women—just ignorant.

'To Be Seized By A Cause . .' Cry Of Our Age

A student writing in a college newspaper recently said, "What I would like most is to be seized by a cause. . . . To be grasped unshakably by something right, something bigger than myself, something to stand defiant and victorious before the querulous cynicism of my time. There is nothing to which I can give myself completely without hesitancy, without regret and a sense of life-throw-awayness. Perhaps what I want more than anything else, is something to demand of me utterly, and in the voraciousness of its demand, give a reason for the unhappiness, the boredom, the incompleteness, the isolation, that seems to be man's lot."

Rev. Plummer

What a tragedy it is that a young man living in one of the most explosive and changing times in human history, should find his life boring — incomplete — isolated — and unhappy. Yet there is little doubt but that this young man reflects the tenor of the times in which he lives, for as one looks about, he sees constantly the things that matter least.

The human body may find pleasure in the treasures of earth — fine clothes, shiny new automobiles, sumptuously decorated homes, boats, fishing gear, golf clubs, and the latest barbecue equipment and lawn furniture. But we are more than body. We are spirit, and our spirit keeps crying out as the rich young man who came to Christ cried out: "I have sought satisfaction in the things that feed the body, and I am not satisfied. Lord, what must I do to feed the hunger of my soul."

This is the cry of our decade, although unfortunately we do not recognize it. We seek a cause. Something bigger than ourselves — something to stand defiant and victorious before the querulous cynicism of our time. Something which will bring peace, ease racial tensions, and give us some respite from the early confusion and competition that rubs our nerves raw and sets our teeth on edge. What we really seek is to know the will of God and the way of Jesus Christ, yet we are fearful of admitting this because we are never quite ready to meet the test of His will and way, which demands us utterly and in voraciousness of its demand, calls us "to take up the cross and follow".

Perhaps you are one who feels a close kinship with this college student who wants above all to be seized by a cause that transcends the dust of your flesh and the transiency of time. Perhaps you have been seeking to feed your soul's hunger with that which can only feed the body. Perhaps it has been years since you have said a prayer, sung a hymn, or worshiped God in one of the sanctuaries of the fellowship of Christ set aside for worship. Perhaps you are tired of contributing to the vexing problems of life, and would like to become a part of the solution. If so, there is something right — something bigger than yourself — something to help you to stand defiant and victorious before this cynicism of our time. It is the Cause of God in Jesus Christ. According to the writer of Revelation, it is the lot of God to stand at the door of our heart, patiently knocking, patiently waiting, to gain admission into our lives, that He in us, and we in Him, might live in fullness of life.

The need of our college student friend and our need is to have a personal encounter with Christ, and then in faith, to join the fellowship of His Church, that in losing our life in His service, we might find it in the Cause for which He came to save the world.

FOOD MARKETS THIS WEEK

More On Frozen Food Plans Study Items

By ESTELLE B. FRANKS

THIS WEEK LOOK FOR:

Fruits — Peaches, cantaloupes, grapes, blueberries, summer apples

Vegetables — Tomatoes, sweet corn, green beans, eggplant, peppers

Protein Foods — Beef roasts, fryers, turkeys, wieners, hams, Grade A eggs, dairy products.

Last week some of the general factors to consider in evaluating frozen food plans were discussed in this column. Meats normally make up the bulk of the food included in such a plan and account for most of the cost. They are also a part of the food plan around which misunderstandings may develop between buyer and seller. For these reasons, it is important to study this phase of a food plan carefully before purchasing.

Mrs. Franks

Quantity sales of fresh beef and pork, by frozen food lockers or other distributors, are typically made on the basis of the carcass weight rather than the weight of the retail cuts you'll receive. This but is one that should be well is an accepted selling practice, understood by buyers. For example, let's assume an advertisement reads, "300 pounds of beef, USDA Choice." Unless specified otherwise, chances are this means 300 pounds of carcass beef — not 300 pounds of usable meat.

Cutting tests conducted by the Department of Animal Science at OSU show that the cutting loss on beef ranges from 20 to 25 percent of the carcass weight. Thus, from 300 pounds of carcass beef you could expect from 60 to 75 pounds of bone, trimming and cutting loss — leaving from 225 to 240 pounds of retail cuts. This loss is probably much greater than the average buyer expects and it varies considerably between different carcasses of the same weight and — how much of the fat the buyer wants trimmed from the meat.

Which cuts and how much of each cut will be received in a frozen food plan is still a question. Usually, the assortment is listed in the advertisement or sales material. But, how many pounds will be T-bone steaks, chuck roast or ground beef? This may be difficult for the seller to answer exactly. Individual beef and pork carcasses vary depending upon the degree of finish or fatness and other animal characteristics.

As a result, it usually isn't possible to find out the exact amount of each cut available in a food plan. But you can get some close estimates. Charts giving the yield of retail cuts of beef and pork carcasses, prepared at The Ohio State University, are considered to be representative. They are available, without cost, at your County Extension Office, Rm. 317, Old Post Office, Columbus 15, Phone 221-6411, Extension 454.

Work Of Valleyview Officials Praised

As an observer in a position to see what happens during the CORE picket demonstrations at the Hilltop Swimming Club, my family and I wish to thank Mayor Fisher, Marshal Dillin and Deputy Marioth for their competent handling of the situation.

Carload after carload of CORE members have invaded our quiet little village imposing upon our small police force, which numbers exactly two, many demands and accusations. It has been explained to CORE that Valleyview does not have the same facilities as the City of Columbus. Civic leaders have requested the CORE invaders to limit the pickets to three or four; however CORE refuses to cooperate and repeatedly they have strained our small community services to the limit.

I commend the mayor, the council and others who have the responsibility of dealing with this provocative picketing. However, I think Valleyview residents owe a special thanks to Marshal Dillin for all the personal time he has used and for the fair way he has handled this difficult and demanding situation.

A Grateful Valleyview Resident

Deplores Condition Of Eastern Rail Crossing

I think it is about time that something is written in your paper to get the people in the vicinity of Beechwood and Livingston-avs and the surrounding streets back of the motion to get the railroad tracks between Courtright-rd and Beechwood-rd on Livingston-av repaired. It is a disgrace, that we are putting up with the dust of the loose flying stones that have been placed around these tracks.

We have put up with the filth and dust for two years now in the making of a new Livingston-av, but what good has it done, when we still have to put up with the condition of these tracks? Certainly they can be repaired better than they are. We tear our tires to pieces using that crossing and the resulting dust fills the air and our homes every-time a car goes over.

Let's give someone a boot to see that things are done right ,and not left haphazard as they are now.

MULTIPLE SCLEROSIS KEYS BRING JOY TO HILLTOP WHEELCHAIR PATIENT

RAMP TO OUTSIDE WORLD is Bob Baer's interpretation of this structure which was built for him by the Multiple Sclerosis Keys. Shown in the background watching Bob manipulate his wheelchair down the ramp are Earl E. Andrus, 447 Fallis, chairman of Franklin County MS Chapter; Mrs. Baer; Gerry Sutton, 88 S. Harding-rd, project chairman for Keys; Calla Klein, 6986 Havens Corners-rd, Blacklick, case worker for MS; Frances Stevens, 1226 Medford-rd, patient service chairman, and Charles Hensley, 951 Sheridan-av, director at MS.

Bob Baer's life as a shut-in was transformed last [redacted]

Baer, who resides at 123 N. Ogden-av, is a multiple sclerosis wheel-chair patient who can now enjoy the sunshine, fresh air and outdoor surroundings of his home, all because of a newly constructed ramp which enables him to go in and out of his house without aid for the first time in years.

The ramp, Baer's transport to the outdoor world, was built for him by the Multiple Sclerosis Keys, which is the women's division of the Franklin County Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society.

Before the ramp was built, it required the help of two people to maneuver Baer and the heavy wheel chair up or down the stairs. Now, Baer can propell his wheel chair in and out of the house by himself and is enjoying every minute of being outdoors and his new-found mobility.

He says, "It is so good to know we can now go whenever we want to take a drive or go to church."

Aid to patients like Bob Baer is one of the many activities of the Multiple Sclerosis Keys. Money raised by Key Projects is used for the benefit of the patients. Mrs. James Tressler is president.

Miss Morris Wears Gown Of Lace For Marriage To Mr. Weatherall

White gladioli and majestic daisies with branch candelabra and palms enhanced the altar of Avondale Evangelical United Brethren Church for the July 15 wedding of Miss Saundra Sue Morris and Mr. Robert Joseph Weatherall.

Rev. Carl L. Wilson officiated at the 2:30 p.m. ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Morris, 708 S. Wayne-av. Her husband is the son of Mrs. Anna Greene of Delaware and the late Mr. Joseph J. Weatherall.

The bride wore a gown of chantilly lace designed on simple classic lines. Irridescents and pearls trimmed the low scooped neckline. Sleeves were brief and ribbon bows were scattered throughout the front of the bouffant skirt, the scalloped edge of the lace forming the hemline.

The train was chapel length. Her lace gloves were brief and the single strand of pearls she wore was a gift from the bridegroom. A crown of strung pearls and cystals held the waist length veil of imported silk illusion.

She carried a white Bible covered with Stephanotis, tiny pearl hearts on sheer net and lillies of the valley. A single purple-lipped white orchid was centered in the arrangement.

Mrs. Donald L. Ball of St. Paul, Minn., was matron of honor and Miss Patti Kronk was bridesmaid. Mrs. Ball was dressed in blue and Miss Kronk in pink.

Their identical dresses were sheer daytime length with motifs of embroidered flowers over taffeta. They featured scooped necklines, brief sleeves and bouffant skirts which were accented at the waists by tiny velvet bows.

Their hats were matching double bows with circle veils and they carried carnations trimmed with wire velvet hearts to match their dresses.

Mr. Max Ross of Delaware was best man. Ushers were Mr. Larry Weatherall, brother of the bridegroom, Mr. Ernest Morris, brother of the bride, and Mr. Joseph Stierhoff.

A reception was held in the church [illegible].

The new Mrs. Weatherall was graduated from West High School and is employed by General Motors Acceptance Corp.

Mr. Weatherall is a graduate of Willis High School, Delaware, and is manager of a branch store of the NAPA.

After a wedding trip to Washington, D.C., the couple is at home at 3011 Stadium-dr.

DOUBLE-RING CEREMONY UNITES COUPLE IN TEXAS

MRS. RICHARD RAY STELZ

Miss Judith Marie Clay and Mr. Richard Ray Stelz were married in a double-ring ceremony on July 21 at Sheppard Air Force Base Chapel Three, Wichita Falls, Tex. Chaplain Leslie Huebner performed the 3:30 p.m. ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Marie E. Clay, 714 S. Eureka-av, and the late Mr. Ronald H. Clay. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond S. Stelz of 465 S. Harris-av.

The new Mrs. Stelz wore for her wedding a cocktail length gown of white floral lace over taffeta with a fitted bodice and full skirt. Her white circular veil was held by a halo of white organza petals.

She carried a white Bible topped with a tear-drop bouquet of white feathered carnations and an orchid.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Eugene Marx of Austin, Tex., sister of the bride. Miss Phyllis Craig of Philadelphia, Pa., was attendant.

Mr. Herbert Winterberg of Philadelphia, Pa., served as best man, and guests were seated by Mr. Eugene Marx of Austin, Tex.

The bride is a graduate of West High School and is associated with the Huntington National Bank.

Her husband is also a graduate of West High School and attended Ohio State University. He is now serving in the US Air Force, Sheppard AFB, Tex.

July 29 Double-Ring Rites Unite Margaret Jenny And James George

Bethlehem Lutheran Church was the setting for the Sunday, July 29 wedding uniting Miss Margaret Ellen Jenny and Mr. James P. George. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Frederick E. Klopfer at 3:30 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Jenny, 155 S. Roys-av. Mr. George's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Richard George of Wauseon, O.

The bride wore a gown of silk organza over taffeta designed with a basque appliqued with Swiss-embroidered flower motifs. The full skirt which flowed into a circular chapel train was highlighted with matching Swiss-embroidered motifs.

A tiny crown of seed pearls held her veil of illusion. She carried a cascade of white roses, stephanotis and ivy, centered with a lift-out corsage of white roses.

Miss Joan Jenny served as maid of honor for her sister, and bridesmaids were Miss Marcia Holzapfel, Miss Joanne George of Wauseon, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Madaline Mitchell of Youngstown.

They wore aqua dresses of silk organza over taffeta with boat necklines and bell-shaped skirts. On their heads a cluster of roses fashioned from matching organza held circular veils of aqua illusion. Each attendant carried a bouquet of white daisy mums centered with yellow.

Mr. Thad Carr of Grand Rapids served as best man. Ushers were Mr. Sheldon Hall, Mr. Thomas Geahwin, both of Grand Rapids, and Mr. Tom George of Wauseon, brother of the bridegroom.

Tom and Jack Jenny, brothers of the bride, served as junior ushers. A reception at the church followed the ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of West High School and Bowling Green State University where she became a member of Alpha Xi Delta Sorority and Tau Beta Sigma Honorary.

Mr. George, also a graduate of Bowling Green State University and a member of Phi Kappa Tau Fraternity and Kappa Psi Honorary, is presently the supervisor of music and band director for the public schools of Grand Rapids, O.

Following a wedding trip to Yellowstone National Park, the couple will reside in Grand Rapids, O.

MRS. JAMES P. GEORGE

Whirlwind Of Pre-Bridal Parties Given For Couple

Miss Sharon Lynn Dent and Mr. Paul Wesley Pennell have been honored by their friends at several parties prior to their marriage, Saturday, Aug. 18, at 7:30 p.m. at Trinity Episcopal Church.

Miss Dent is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Dent, 201 N. Chase-av. Mr. Pennell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Pennell, 659 Racine-av.

Initiating the pre-bridal parties was a kitchen shower given by Miss Marcia Hoare, 207 Powhatan-av, on Tuesday, July 10. Among the guests were high school friends of the bride.

The following Thursday evening, Mrs. Robert Michaelis entertained members and friends of the bride's family at a miscellaneous shower at her home, 182 Guernsey-av.

Members of the office staff at Scioto Country Club were guests at a luncheon and shower hosted by Miss Betty Stansbury on Monday, July 16. The luncheon was given at Miss Stansbury's home, 2623 Welsford-rd.

Mrs. Floyd Badgley's home, 866 Stephen-dr W., was the [illegible] of the next shower. Miss Sandy Badgley and Miss Bev Wright gave the miscellaneous shower which was attended by sorority sisters of the bride-to-be. They are all members of Alpha Chi Omega's chapter at Ohio State.

Mr. James Claffey and Miss Joy Huffman were host and hostess at a couples' grocery shower honoring the future Mr. and Mrs. Pennell on Saturday evening, July 28.

Other sorority sisters gathered at the home of Miss Carole Karshner, 1671 Wilson-rd, to honor [illegible] Dent at a linen [illegible] shower was given by Miss Karshner and Miss Betty Stansbury on Wednesday, Aug. 1.

Mrs. Robert L. Martindale, sister of the bride-elect, hosted the traditional spinster luncheon for the attendants and hostesses on Saturday, Aug. 11, at Monaco Restaurant. On Tuesday, Aug. 14, Miss Dent entertained her bridesmaids at a luncheon at the Scioto Country Club.

The rehearsal dinner, hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Pennell, will conclude the pre-wedding festivities. It will be held on Friday, Aug. 17, at the Woodhaven Restaurant.

GUESTS FOR A DAY in Welch, W. Va., were members of the Charles Parsley family, shown here on their return home with some of their souvenirs from the unexpected haven.

Hilltop Family Honored By West Virginia Town

The little town of Welch, W. Va., has the custom of one day a week during the month of July to pick a family of tourists passing through and make them "Guests For A Day."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parsley, 497 S. Ogden-av, and eight-year-old daughter Marlene, were returning home from a tour of the Southern states last month when they were stopped by the Highway Patrol outside of Welch and informed by the chamber of commerce that they were to be honored.

They toured the town, attended the Rotary luncheon, were interviewed on the radio and had their picture and story in the local newspaper. Mr. Parsley was taken to the place at Downs Creek where he attended school when he was 10 years old.

Welch is the site of the world's largest coal cleaning company and during the war the first food stamps were distributed in Welch Co.

The Parsleys said they "saw few kids on the street" and were impressed by the McDowell County Vocational School.

Columbus UN Group Plans Exhibit At Ohio State Fair

The Columbus Chapter of the American Association for the United Nations is going to the Ohio State Fair, and two Bexley residents will be helping with arrangements.

The chapter will have an exhibit in the Buckeye Building, manned by AAUN members, and short films will be shown on six evenings at the Arts and Crafts building.

At the UN booth, fair visitors may buy UNICEF Christmas cards, "Hi, Neighbor" books and records, UN literature, and flag charts and sets; line up speakers from the UN speakers' bureau; join the Columbus Chapter of the AAUN, and get questions answered about UN activities.

Fairgoers may rest and watch any or all of the six films, ranging from 9 to 30 minutes long, at 6:30 p.m. on Aug. 24, 25, 28, 29, 30 and 31. Total showing takes 1½ hours.

Bexley women helping with this part of the fair program are Mrs. Jack Resler, 226 S. Columbia, and Mrs. Edward Hamblin, 44 S. Ardmore-rd.

Dr. Herman Trubov and Mrs. John Haldi of Arlington are setting up the exhibit, and Mrs. Emerson Woolam of Arlington is in charge of personnel. Others on the committee are Mrs. Alma Jagsch, Mrs. Harry Polster, Mrs. Paul Machovina, Mrs. Orville Jones, C. C. Bair, Ree Burgeon and Mrs. Harold Harding.

Huffman Barn Hit By Fire

Firefighters from Franklin and Jackson townships were unable to save a barn at the George W. Huffman home, 1350 Dyer-rd. The blaze destroyed the structure early Monday.

According to firemen, the cause of the fire was unknown. They said no animals were in the building, but some milking equipment inside was heavily damaged. They did not estimate the loss.

GO-CART WINNERS PROVIDE 'HOT' COMPETITION

West Jeff Ox Roast Queen Contest Open

Application blanks for the West Jefferson annual Ox Roast's queen contest may be obtained at Morris Beauty Haven. Deadline for registration is Wednesday, Aug. 29. For more information, call Mrs. Catherine Long at TR. 9-9359.

The annual event is slated for Sept. 1, 2 and 3. The queen will be elected Sunday night. Ox sandwiches will be distributed on Labor Day.

Flippo the Clown, Clay Eger and Stan Robinson have all agreed to stints on the on the playground where the celebration will be conducted.

Purpose of the roast, sponsored by the town's Community and Business Men's Club, is to pay for the summer activities of the village youngsters.

Included in the expenses of the club are salaries of recreation leaders, sponsoring of a craft program, underwriting softball league expenses, financing of swimming excursions to London and the maintenance of playgrounds.

Don Heston, chairman of publicity for this year's Ox Roast, said: "We still are a few hundred dollars away from being able to carry the full load for the summer program, but we are hoping that we'll make enough this year to go all the way."

About the only bill not paid by the association is the light bill for the softball field which the village fathers agreed to pick up this year.

Will Test Air Conditioning On CTC Buses

City officials have begun a survey of the E. Broad-st bus line to determine whether the air conditioning of buses has sufficient public acceptance to warrant its extenson.

C. Howard Johnson, city public utilities director, and William Shropshire, chief utility inspector, are making the check which will probably require the rest of this month to complete.

The two men are checking riders on the eight air-conditioned buses on the E. Broad-st line to find out how the public likes air conditioning, whether or not is a noteworthy improvement in bus service, and whether it has induced them to patronize the buses more often.

Patronage figures will also be checked to determine if an actual increase in passengers has been shown since installation of the units.

The Columbus Transit Company has six new buses on order and Johnson has until Sept. 1 to notify the bus company whether he wants air conditioning equipment installed. Cost of the $4,800 units are added to the company's rate base and eventually could be reflected in price of bus fares, Johnson said.

He also urged riders not personally contacted to write him letters stating their opinions on the proposal.

Painting Grandma Real Inspiration To Young Artists

NEW STUDENTS like this one to the Sara Carr art studio get special attention from the owner, Mrs. Carr. The youthful looking grandmother ("There's so much evidence, I can't deny it," she said) maintains that she helps develop the techniques of the individual —she doesn't try to change their methods to conform with her teaching.

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

Sara Carr has found her place in the sun under the roof of her self-termed "own little world" in the heart of downtown Columbus.

Mrs. Carr, whose fresh, clear looks belie the fact that she has six grandchildren, is operating an art studio at 209 S. High-st and she couldn't be happier.

"It's the realization of a dream," she said. "I've always been interested in art—and helping young artists —and now I can do that and I never want to do anything else."

Mrs. Carr's studio is a modest one. The entrance is up a flight of rickety wooden steps, but as one of her customers remarked, "It takes a Philadelphia lawyer to find the way up here but once you find it you'll never forget it."

The studio is unique. It was fashioned by the art instructor and has an atmosphere unlike most such places. It's individualistic and, to Mrs. Carr, it's home.

"The children can't even get me to babysit," she remarked. "This is my life . . . I've found it and I'm going to keep it."

Mrs. Carr came to Columbus originally to attend the Columbus Art School and never left. After she was married, she turned a corner of her attic into an art studio and took in a few students. Eventually, she had to take over the whole attic and, soon, even that wasn't large enough.

"I took time out from my painting," Mrs. Carr said, "to raise a family. I got away from art then but nothing will ever get me away from it again."

Actually, Mrs. Carr is a hard woman to describe. Perhaps, one of her young students put it best when she said, "She's fascinating. I've never seen anyone like her . . . the way she works so hard and all."

"Dedicated" is another good word in describing her. Whether or not her studio is a financial success doesn't seem to bother her. "Just so I make enough to cover expenses," she said wistfully, "that's all that's necessary."

During non-class time the studio is put to good use, too. Mrs. Carr dedicates the two large rooms to various civic and social groups to hold functions there.

The DeMolay, for instance, holds parties there and there have been numerous wedding receptions and other gatherings—all free of charge by the friendly, fiery-red-haired [illegible].

What about her teaching techniques? That's simple. "Just the basic principles—that's all I teach," she said. "I never try to destroy natural ability by making a student do things my way. The greatest thing in the world is a student who can express himself in his own way and I'd never change that."

Her methods have proved extremely successful to date. Besides turning out a large list of really good artists, Mrs. Carr, herself, has built up a reputation in the Central Ohio area as one of its finest women artists.

She prefers painting portraits because it gives her a chance to "capture the many moods and characteristics of the human face that a camera cannot capture."

Second among her favorite types of paintings is landscape in and around "my beautiful Ohio." She just returned last weekend from an "art search" trip near Chillicothe where she painted a landscape with a stream flowing through, which has become one of her favorites.

"I sat right down in the creek bed to paint it," she smiled. "There are so many beautiful places to paint in Ohio. I wish there was more time."

What kind of a future is Mrs. Carr seeking?

The usual fame and fortune have been ruled out. "I just want to paint," she commented, "that's all."

William Nelson Finishes Army Staff Course

Army Reserve Major William S. Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Nelson, of 219 N. Powell-av, has recently completed the two-week associate command and general staff course at the Command and General Staff College, Fort Leavenworth, Kan.

Phased over a five-year period, the course parallels the resident course at the college.

He is a 1937 graduate of West High School and attended Ohio State University.

Major Nelson and his wife, Ardath, live at 3044 Fremont-st. He is employed by Monumental Life Insurance.

Two Volunteer As UCC Drivers

Whorley Hogg, 170 N. Cypress and Mrs. Mary Clelland, 620 S. Oakley are new volunteer drivers transporting blind children for the Columbus Association for the Blind to Children's Hospital, and sick adults to University Hospital.

They became volunteer drivers by contacting the Volunteer Service Bureau of United Community Council, a United Appeal service.

Huntington To Open Cleveland-av Branch

The new Cleveland Avenue Office of The Huntington National Bank of Columbus will hold open house Thursday, Aug. 16, from 3 to 9 p.m. It is located at Cleveland-av and Innis-rd in the new Amos Shopping Center.

On the morning of Aug. 17, the new office will open for business with Spencer E. Bowen, assistant vice president, in charge, assisted by Jack E. Prather and Clarence G. Dixon, Jr.

Convenience features of the new Cleveland Avenue Office are two drive-in banking windows, both night depository and savings deposit chutes, and ample parking facilities. All banking and trust services, including savings and checking accounts, exclusive Address-a-checks, installment and business loans, safe deposit and trust department estate analysis will be provided.

Centralized electronic bookkeeping also permits Cleveland Avenue customers to do their banking at any of The Huntington offices in other parts of the city.

The new branch makes Huntington banking and trust service available to residents and businesses of Linden and northern Columbus. tI is one more step in a program planned to place Huntington National banking services where they can best serve the people of the surorunding area.

Next immediate step in expansion will be its Westview Office, on eGorgesville-rd. Work has already begun on this site, and it will be completed next year.

Ralph D. Link Given Award In Germany

Army Sergeant Major Ralph D. Link, 40, son of Mrs. Elizabeth J. Link, 926 S. Hague-av, recently received a safe driver award for driving two years without an accident or traffic violation, while assigned to the 85th Ordnance Battalion in Germany.

Sergeant major of the battalion's Headquarters Detachment in Hanau, Link entered the Army in 1943 and arrived overseas on this tour of duty in Nov. 1958.

Link, whose wife, Rosemary, is with him in Germany, is a graduate of West High School in Columbus.

Kiwanis Is Central Ohio Ruth Champs

Columbus Boys Club, winner of the Babe Ruth American League and Hilltop Kiwanis, winner of the Babe Ruth National League, played for the Central Ohio Championship at Jet Stadium Saturday morning. The latter won 2-0.

Star for Hilltop was Randy Sickmeier as his two out single in the fourth inning with runs on second and third provided the winning runs.

Fine pitching was seen by both teams.

The Kiwanis team this season, won eight league games straight and lost only to Northern Kiwanis, their last game.

The team is coached by Jim Walsh, former West player now a Otterbein athlete, who credits this impressive record to a fine team spirit and good will to win.

Ray McVay is team manager.

AUBLEGRAPH

BY JOHN AUBLE, JR.
Hartley Sports Editor

CHECKING OVER the Capitols' roster are the new team's general manager, A. C. (Pick) Pickens (left) and Coach Gene Fekete. These are the men who are heading up the former Columbus Colts and, from the looks of that roster they're holding in their hands, local grid fans should be ready for some bright nights at Jet Stadium.

Fans Can Expect Football With Capitols 'F' Now . . .

Columbus' heretofore shaky semi-pro football fortunes look this year like they just might stiffen up considerably due to this one concrete fact: There's money in the cement this time.

Going under the new and, seemingly, natural banner of the "Columbus Capitols," the organization chiefs opened the public relation gates last Thursday evening with a press party at the Fort Hayes Hotel.

The fact sheets distributed are indicative that the Caps are well on the way to bringing this city out of the play-for-pay doldrums and into a well-knit, well-organized, well-marked and well-financed contribution to the sports whirl here.

Besides the money aspect (they've got $22,000 paid in and total stockholders, at last count, was 101) the next most impressive factor about the Caps' contingent is the duty roster.

The team has 32 players signed to date, which should amply assure top-notch semi-pro action in this city and promise good representation in the tough United Football League.

Since the Capitols are successors to the former two-year Columbus Colts, most of the Colt players are back in the lineup—players who proved their "stuff" not only under the Colt helmet but on collegiate gridirons across the country.

Heavy On Personnel . . .

Leading the list is 200-pound former Ohio State star Frank Kremblas, who'll be handling quarterbacking duties.

Other standouts include Larry Kline, Chuck Comer, Geno Sessi, Jay Ansel, Tom Vernon, Al Crawford, Don Young, Don Polly, James Nemec, Bill Cummins, Ken Plager, James Nadzak, Bill Voss, Aaron Smith, Chuck Brockmeyer and Gary Lamotta.

All of these powerhouses staffed the Columbus Colts squad last year. Picked up from the now-defunct Ohio Colts team are Larry Buckles, Mike Coleman and Al Crockett.

Besides this, the Capitols have signed seven recent Ohio State players, including Ed Ulmer, Ron Houck, Dave Tingley, Kenny Johnson, J. Watkins, Gary Gabriel and Gary Hensley.

Capitol Coach Gene Fekete (also a returnee from the Columbus Colts) announced that the Capitols are now talking to some recent cuts from the Cleveland Browns team but there's nothing official on this yet.

Supporting Little Guys, Too . . .

Like the Columbus Jets with their successful baseball Youth Foundation, the Capitols are listing little league football as their "number one project for 1962."

They plan to stage little guy games before games and between halves in their Jet Stadium home.

Besides this, the kids will be put to work selling programs at all games and selling advance and regular tickets for all home stands. The Little League Committee of the Capitols is working on special uniforms for the youngsters which will gain them free admission to all the home games.

Capitol coaches and players will hold clinics during the season and will help the future football leaders in other ways.

The Capitals plan to sell those tickets on a $15-a-season-pass basis, which includes six games. Single game admissions will be $3, $2 and $1 and the Capitols open their home play Sept. 15 with the Louisville Raiders. First league game of the season will be at Chicago on Sept. 8.

"The outlook's bright," said Fekete, who piloted the Colts last year to the division title in the UFL, losing only three meetings. "We've got terrific personnel and fans can expect to see more aggressive football this season at Jet Stadium."

BOWLING, SOFTBALL

Columbus DeMolay Wins State Titles

Firsts came in twos for the Columbus Chapter, DeMolay.

The group won the state titles in both bowling and softball during the 37th DeMolay conclave in Cleveland, O., on Aug. 11.

In the bowling win bid, the team of Tom Morrison, Bob Elliott, Bill Kuhn, Dave Wolfe and Bill McLaughlin totaled 2620 pins.

McLaughlin also had the state high game of 242 and state high series of 624. His series was followed by Kuhn's 593, Elliott's 505, Wolfe's 500 and Morrison's 398.

The softball victory was the result of a 1-0 squeeze past Cleveland Heights for the state crown.

The game was a defensive battle and neither team could get a hitting streak started. The game went scoreless until the bottom of the seventh when the Columbus chapter scored the one run needed for the win.

It happened like this: In the bottom of the seventh, Kuhn singled and moved to third on an error made on Wolfe's infield hit. Howard Hicks followed with a line out to the shortstop.

With Kuhn on third and Wolfe on first, Morrison came through for the big RBI by hitting a sacrifice fly to left field allowing Kuhn to score.

Earlier this season, Columbus won its fourth straight DeMolay league title, going undefeated as in the past four years. This first place finish allowed the squad to travel to Cincinnati for the Southern Ohio championship game against Western Hills on July 29.

In Cincy, Columbus played under slo-pitch rules and topped Western Hills, 12-3, making them eligible for the championship playoff in Cleveland.

Members of the winning team include Bob Lynch, Al Daft, Bob Elliott, Bill McLaughlin, Tom Morrison, Dan Taylor and Rick Finke as infielders. The outfield was made up of these players: Howard Hicks, Dave Wolfe, Carl Ruzicka, Jim Burden, Mike Porter and Bun Miles.

Pitchers and catchers were Tim Weisert, Bill Kuhn, Dick Alder, Dan Alder and Joe Anderson. Directing the team this year were Coach Ed McCleary, Assistant Coach Dave Ewing and Advisor Carl Coffenberger.

Playground Pageant Will End Special Summer Activity

The 78 city-operated playgrounds will participate in the Annual Playground Pageant, Tuesday and Wednesday, Aug. 21 and 22, which will end the city-wide summer special events program for 1962.

On Aug. 21 the pageant will be held at Schiller Playground, starting at 7:30 p.m., and the Aug. 22 production will be staged at Whetstone Playground. Playground representatives from the West, South, and Southeast sections of the city will assemble at Schiller (Deshler-av and Jaeger-st) and those in the North and Northeast section will conduct their pageant at Whetstone.

Finals in the city-wide softball tournament will be held Aug 16, the location depending on the results of the quarter and semi-finals.

All players in the Recreation Department's Junior Jet Baseball Program will be guests of the Columbus Jets baseball team, Aug. 13 and 14. The winning team of each league will be announced at the games and will be asked to stand and be publicly recognized.

Volleyball and tennis tournament finals will also be conducted from Aug. 13 through Aug. 17.

Following are reports submitted from the playgrounds this week:

At Glenwood . . .

Some thing special! ! ! ! Family Game Night at Glenwood, Friday, Aug. 17. All are welcome. Come out and join the fun. Games for all. The more the merrier!

The past week at Glenwood has been active and stimulating. Work was begun on the final and most elaborate production of the summer season, the pageant. This will be held Aug. 21 at 7:30 p.m. at Schiller Park. Anyone who would like to attend is cordially welcomed. Glenwood Playground is joining forces with Sunshine Playground to produce a skit depicting the moving of the capital of Ohio from Chillicothe to Zanesville and then to Columbus. Much of this week's art and crafts activity and time will be devoted to practicing for the pageant and making costumes.

Arts and crafts will include some activities in paper craft and the completion of the basket work.

One of the highlights of the summer has been the wading pool, which is open to all children between the ages of four and 12.

The Glenwood Giants lived up to their name this season by winning the Junior Jet League last week. The Giants record was an impressive seven wins and two losses. Members of the Giants are: Ernest Thornton, captain; Ronald Bostic, Paul Pullins, Lonnie White, Donny Tucker, Dannie Tucker, Darrel Angel, Cato Pattmon, Rod Pattmon and Jerry Young. Sam Pattmon is the manager.

The Giants will play an all-star game against other league members Friday. Members of the all-stars are: Phil Evans, Gary Waters, Robert Shaw, Richard Watrus, Ronald Kenley, Joseph Soto, Larry Pruitt, Kenny Waters Nile Watrus and Melven Stewart. The coaches are Eddie Davidson and Mike Garnes.

At Sunshine

Children, parents and friends will have an opportunity to learn the ways to properly care for their pets Thursday, Aug. 16, when Dr. Miller, of the Columbus Academy of Veterinary Medicine, will give a talk and demonstrate the care of animals. He also will answer questions from the audience. Children should not bring their pets.

Wednesday, Aug. 22, the Safety Division of the Columbus Police Department will hold a bicycle safety check and skill clinic in cooperation with the Columbus Recreation Department from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. Kids should bring their bikes whether they have licenses or not.

Physical fitness tests are becoming a favorite activity at Sunshine. More than 60 children have completed the requirements of the test. Here are some of those who have shown that they are in good physical condition: Lacy Jude, Roberta O'Conner, Linda Paul, Brenda Paul, Raymond Schopp, Gary Schopp, Charlie Anderson, Jim Taylor, Sindy Anderson, Tom Vincent, Chuck Shafer, Terry Merritt, Carletta Allen, Dennis Merritt, George Fawbush, James Bodie, Marilee Grooms, Anthony Harrell, Walter Harrell, Timothy Cothern, Jim Ryan, William Ryan, Ronnie Hughes, Dick Shott and Michael Odum.

Game of the week honors go to the White Sox, coached by Morris Stacy; and the Tigers, coached by Lucky Rawlins.

Both teams fought down to the wire in the tightest contest of the season. The Tigers collected one run on two hits while the White Sox managed two runs on three hits.

August 23 is the big day. Families are invited to bring their picnic dinner to the Sunshine picnic. There will be fun for all starting at 6:30 p.m.

at Georgian Hts.

In intermediate softball, Georgian Heights lost a close one to Eakin, 14-15, in the last inning.

Karen Hatfield and Marie Schmehl lost in the semi-finals of the city four-square tournament at Fair Avenue.

The playground picnic was held Friday evening, highlighted by a softball game between the junior boys and girls. The boys won, 7-0.

Thirty girls and their dolls turned out Wednesday evening for the doll show. The winners in the following categories [illegible]

at Highland . . .

The Highlanders enjoyed a refreshment hour Friday, Aug. 10. This event was held in recognition of our tremendous track team, Amateur Athletic Union Junior Olympic participation certificates were passed out to all of the track participants. The event was well attended and thoroughly enjoyed. The refreshments were donated by the advisory council. Members helping to make this affair a success were Mrs. Dorcus Claytor, Mrs. Ovorn Miller, Mrs. Sherman Morrison and Walter Richardson.

All the volleyball teams played in the city-wide tournament and were defeated. The intermediate boys softball team lost their last game of the season.

Highland is getting ready for its last special event, the annual pageant. Most of the arts and crafts will be centered around the pageant.

Physical fitness tests are still being given on the playground.

BICYCLE CHECK will be sponsored by the Hilltop Kiwanis agriculture and conservation committee and the safety department of the City Police in co-operation with the Columbus Recreation Department from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. at the following locations: Aug. 21, Glenwood Recreation Center; Aug. 23, Haantz Recreation Center; Aug. 24, Westgate Park. Youngsters can win a ribbon, certificate, ID card, and a manual on "Bike Riders." Shown are Bruce Tanner, Kiwanis Committee head, who is displaying the manual to Bill Dawson of 208 S. Sylvan-av (on bicycle) and Steve Thompson of 149 Algonquin-av.

at Binns . . .

Boys and girls at Binns are busy getting ready for the pageant. They will do a song and dance act to "Skip To My Lou." The pageant will be held at Schiller Park next Tuesday night beginning at 7:30.

The boys intermediate softball team was defeated by Burroughs last week, 10-9. They are now tied for second place in League Four.

The boys intermediate volleyball team was also defeated by Burroughs.

Lynn Hastings, Peggy Knies and Cindy Marole recently completed the Junior AAU physical fitness test successfully.

At Holton . . .

Rose Spires won the city championship in tennis singles in the junior girls division. Steve Bertram was runner-up in the junior boys division.

Winners in other divisions and doubles were announced last week. Tom Close came in third in senior boys.

Thanks to Bob Grogan, Mr. Bertram and Mrs. Close for their help with transportation.

The senior girls volleyball team has won games against Highland and Goodale and have two more rounds to go.

Playgrounders are making props and preparing for their part in the city-wide pageant to be held at 7:30 p.m. Aug. 21 at Schiller Park.

Craft classes have worked with paper mache, wood sticks, crafts, gimp braiding, painting and jewelry making.

At Burroughs . . .

With the Recreation Department's annual pageant less than a week away, Tuesday, Aug. 21 at Schiller Park, Burroughs participants are hurrying to put the finishing touch on their skit which will depict, by dances, three important eras in American life. A preview will be held Monday evening at Burroughs for those parents and youngsters interested. Check bulletin board for time.

Burroughs arts and crafts program will feature work with gimp, potholders and craft sticks this week. Puppet-making will be on the agenda for the final week's program. Arts and crafts are held Monday, Wednesday and Friday, from 2 until 4 p.m.

In city-wide sports competition, Carol Ward, of Burroughs finished her tetherball competition by losing in the city finals. Carol, however, finished as number two in the city for intermediate girls in this event. In volleyball, both the girls and boys intermediate teams are undefeated.

Burroughs softballers, especially the boys intermediate and boys senior teams, had exceptionally fine seasons. The senior boys won the West championship by edging Hauntz last week, 4-3, while the intermediate boys overcame Binns, 10-9, in extra innings in a regularly scheduled season game then went on to [illegible] Chicago Avenue, 21-8, in a playoff for the West championship.

Both the seniors and intermediates will represent the Hilltop in their bids for the city championship. This marks the third time in a row for the intermediates who won the city crown in 1960 and were runners-up last year. The senior team has made it in their initial year of play.

In Fathers' Slo-Pitch softball, Miller's Sluggers rebounded from last week's defeat to down Eddy's Bombers in a 21 to 5 rout to extend their record to five wins against a single defeat. These two teams will play again this Friday at Burroughs. Game time will be 6 p.m.

Special playground events scheduled for the final two weeks of the summer season will include a hobo hike, bicycle rodeo, two Junior Jet all-star games and a family play-day and cook-out with many interesting activities, which will be highlighted by a mothers'-fathers' softball game. Please check bulletin boards for dates and times.

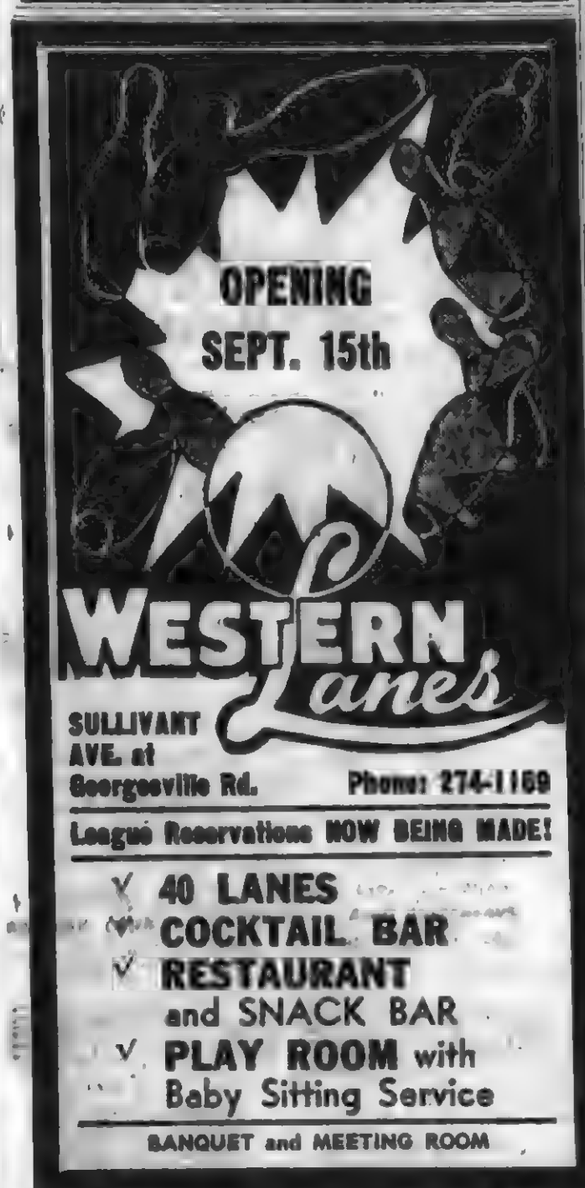
Phyllis Cummings won the city championship in Junior Girls' Horseshoes.

The Westgate Intermediate Boys' Volleyball team won over Georgian Heights last Wednesday for their first win of the season. This advances them to the second round of the city tournament.

The Senior Boys' Softball team won over Hauntz, 13 to 9. The winning pitcher was Ernest Cummings. Cummings, Bob Nash, and Bob Barnhart made four hits each during this game.

Kathy Ryan was a runner-up in the Junior Tennis Tournament last week. The Adult Tennis Tournament will begin this week-end at Westgate. Be sure to get an entry blank at the courts for this event.



The Westgate Devils won the West Sectional Championship last week in the

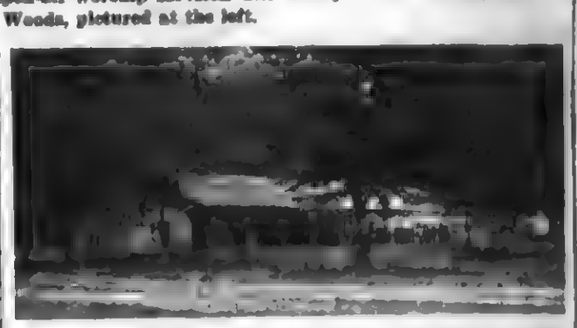
Lancaster Camp Ground Marks 90th Anniversary

For 90 years people from all over Central Ohio have flocked to Lancaster Methodist Camp Grounds, one mile west of Lancaster, for spiritual renewal coupled with fresh-air exercise and Christian fellowship.

A cavalcade of big names in religion, politics, government and the entertainment world has paraded across the campground platform and each drew thousands of spectators.



This year the program began June 24 and will run through Labor Day, Sept. 3. Many local ministers have been guest speakers and the entertainment has ranged from a mass choir festival to Curt and Charlotte Davis playing and singing gospel tunes.

GIANT CROWD of worshipers attend services in the main auditorium at the campground. The edifice is also used for entertainment, speakers, musical productions and movies, with a seating capacity of 5000.

CHAPEL-IN-THE-WOODS AT Lancaster Camp Ground is a beautiful setting for meditation or open-air worship services. The money for its erection was donated by Mrs. Joanna Woods, pictured at the left.

NEWEST ADDITION at the campground is the youth center, situated in an ample picnic area. There are facilities for tennis, croquet, deck tennis, badminton, and swimming.

Saturday, Aug. 11, Doraine and Ellis, a vocal duo, will present a costumed cavalcade of Broadway's greatest musical hits. This will take place in the main auditorium at 8 p.m.

The pictures for this article have been furnished by Myron T. Seifert, president of the campground, and Carl W. Speckman, Jr., program chairman.

der the trees. Several sites were first tried but had to be abandoned because of floods and then a dispute over a lease.

The executive committee for the first campground was made up of Rev. William C. Holliday, Rev. H. B. Westervelt and Rev. James M. Rife. The grounds were platted by the latter two.

Building of an auditorium began in 1879 and after the issuance of bonds the association was able to purchase the 47-acre tract of land which is the present site. The old Woodside Hotel was erected in 1884 and the Hocking Valley Railroad placed a station there.

THE TWO SAMS

In 1886 and 1887 the two great evangelists, Sam Jones and Sam Small, made their first appearances and returned many times.

The name of the camp meeting was changed in 1893 to the Lancaster Camp Meeting of the Methodist Episcopal Church. The new auditorium, noted for its architecture and absence of supporting structural arches or columns, was built in 1895.

Mrs. Mary Woodbridge came in the 80's to start the WCTU group.

EXPANSION

Rev. J. W. Mougey, who became superintendent of programs in 1895, started the chautauqua reading courses. His daughter, Mrs. Ruth Morrell, in later years made the grounds famous for pageants under her direction.

The home and foreign mission schools were developed under the leadership of Mrs. Creighton, later by Mrs. O. N. Townsend and Mrs. E. J. Wittmer. Camp Wesleyan was organized for girls. In 1921 Rev. H. H. Wilbur presided for the first Epworth League Institute for young people.

Among the more famous persons who have packed the auditorium at the campground have been Billy Sunday and Homer Rodeheaver (both drew over 9000), President McKinley, Sen. Bricker, Sen. Lausche, Gov. DiSalle, Gen. William T. Sherman, President Teddy Roosevelt, Dr. Ralph Sockman, Admiral Hobson, Paul Harvey, William Jennings Byron and a host of others.

TODAY

In 1922 the association celebrated its Semi-Centennial and this year marks the 90th milestone.

Today the grounds boast approximately 350 cottages, a modern hotel, cafeteria, grocery store, bookstore, post office, tabernacle, temple, kindergarten, swimming and wading pools.

Pet Pampering Powwow Set At Sunshine Park

The Columbus Academy of Veterinary Medicine will speak and demonstrate the care of pets at Sunshine Recreation Center at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 16.

Dr. William Miller, of 3033 Sullivant-av, will speak on animal health and will conduct a question and answer session. He will also demonstrate first aid for animals.

It is one of a series of such meetings being held by the academy throughout Columbus.

Admission is free, and the program is open to children and adults, but not pets.

READY FOR New CARGO
This ship has been emptied of its cargo, and now stands ready to take on fuel and more cargo for further service. If this ship were to remain empty, it would be of no value and would be failing in the one thing that it was built for.
Man was created to be a companion to God, and when he does not join in worship with God, he is failing in the reason for his creation.
Make your life mean something for God...
★ ATTEND CHURCH SUNDAY ★
EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH ... THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE
The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Junior Girls' Softball leagues. They won over Haunts with a score of 36 to 0.

At W. Mound . . .

With the Junior Jet League rapidly drawing to a close at West Mound, the battle for first place between the Bucks and the Colts continues. During the past week the Colts beat the Yanks by forfeit, the Marlins, 13-4, and the Braves, 7-0. The Bucks defeated the Colts 17-2. The current standings show the Bucks in first place with an 8-1 record. The Colts are in second, having won nine and lost only two. The Braves have won three and lost six; the Bucks are three and seven and the Marlins one none and nine.

The only softball action this week resulted in a victory for the Intermediate Boys, 7-0, over Sullivant Gardens. The Junior Boys also beat Glenwood in a practice game.

Crafts during the week featured the creation of "Toby" mugs from tin cans and papier mache. Shell crafts will fill in the gaps between work on the pageant this week. West Mound is joining Haunts Playground in presenting "Kid" for the musical comedy "Bye Bye Birdie." The pageant will be held Aug. 21, and as many as possible are urged to attend the show.

at Eakin . . .

The official season for Junior Jet Baseball is over for the Eakin-Georgian Heights League. A few make-up games have to be played but they will not affect the standings.

Tigers	3	5
Reds	4	5
Yanks	4	6
Braves	5	3
Giants	2	7

Yesterday was Junior Jet Night at Jet Stadium. The boys who played Junior Jet Baseball this year were admitted free, and the league winners were announced.

Thursday a doll parade was held at Eakin. Girls brought dolls of all types to be judged. Every doll received at least one ribbon.

A dance was held last Friday at Eakin. The dance was planned by Patty Thompson, Patty Oglesbee, Rita Kozacorsay and others. About 40 people attended and refreshments, purchased by the girls, were served. Mary McCleaf and Jack Nachman were chaperones.

In the last intermediate boys' softball game of the season, Eakin defeated Georgian Heights 13-12. Nearly everyone hit for Eakin.

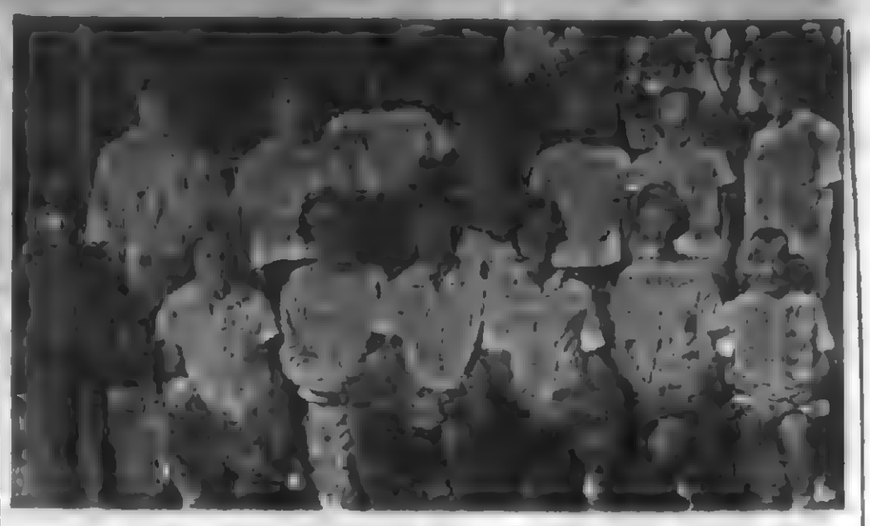
At Chicago . . .

Chicago Intermediate boys were the top team in their softball league this summer, but were defeated by John Burroughs in a game for the West Sectional Championship. The following team members won a season record of seven wins and one lose: Dwaine Hatfield, Dennis Garver, Dick Wise, Danny Malcolm, Ned Martin, Darryl Moore, Danny Herdman, Walter Wise, Bernie Haines, Dale Tripp, Donald Bonderant, Ralph Morgan, and Gary McGlaughlin.

Ralph Morgan and Gary McGlaughlin tied for the most valuable player award and shared the D. E. Garver good HTR-SSL Bearcats 1-18 P H sportsmanship trophy.

Winchester Curfew Set By Council

Canal Winchester's Council has put a silencer on rabble rousers who have persisted in disturbing the peace and quiet of the village.



Council at its last session adopted an ordinance setting a curfew for those under the age of 21. Curfew hours will run from 10:30 p.m. to 5:30 a.m.

A local downtown afternoon daily newspaper incorrectly reported that anyone, married or not, would be arrested for a curfew violation. However, Mayor Dale Miller said Monday that the ordinance applies to those under 21 who are disturbing the peace, causing confusion or loitering.

Maximum fine is $50 with a minimum of $10.

Village officials reported that most of the violators of the peace were outsiders. Enforcing the new curfew will be Village Marshal Gug Bigum.

Bees make honey from nectar (sweet water), which they gather from flowers and take back to the hive. They fan the nectar with their wings to evaporate much of the water. After the nectar is processed into honey, the bees seal it into wax combs. Honey is about 77 per cent sugar and 18 per cent water. It contains only traces of vitamins and minerals.

WIN WEST SOFTBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

FAIR KING AND QUEEN

KING AND QUEEN of the 1962 Franklin County Fair are [illegible] King of Hilliard and Barbara Wildermuth of Canal Winchester. Far left and far right, congratulating the winners are Mr. and Mrs. John Hoffman. Mr. Hoffman is chairman of the Agriculture and Conservation Committee of West Franklin Kiwanis, trophy sponsors, and Mrs. Hoffman is a member of Weskiwanis women's group. The King and Queen will make appearances at events throughout the duration of the fair.

Fair—

precedent as the first such outfit ever on the fairgrounds. A professional ceramic class is another first—replacing the amateur ceramic instructors of past years.

According to Crandall, the fair is overflowing with exhibit space. "We used up more space for exhibits than we thought we had available," he smiled.

Perhaps "modern" is the key word in describing this year's fair. The fair board pledged itself earlier to design a fair with an urban atmosphere and that's just what they did — and, in grand style.

The ol' time county faire may have been fun but, as reports from fairgoers will testify, they couldn't compare with the up-to-date facilities packed into the fair this year.

The exhibits? Well, they're bigger and better, too. Besides this, there seems to be a wider representation of exhibitors which all adds up to one thing —more to see and more entertainment.

The exhibit areas opened Tuesday and, thus far, have proven to be just as popular as the bright midway. Grandma with her apple butter and junior with his electronic model of a space capsule have found a place on the Hilliard area fairgrounds.

And, there's still plenty of action left just in case you've missed it so far. For instance:

THURSDAY
(Commissioners' Day)

Judging Holstein and Brown Swiss cattle, 8:30 a.m.; judging open class sheep, 8:30 a.m.; 4-H tractor rodeo, 9 a.m.; 4-H health interviews, 9 a.m.; judging ponies, 10 a.m.; oral judging of flower show, 1 p.m.; agriculture demonstration, 1 p.m.; junior fair livestock auction, 6:30 p.m.; judging of South Central District Guernsey cattle show, 7 p.m.; sock hop with Dean Lewis, 7:30 p.m. and night harness racing, 8 p.m.

FRIDAY
(Youth Day)

Herdsman special award (beef and dairy), 10 a.m.; junior livestock parade, 10:45 a.m.; junior fair frolics, 11:30 a.m.; farm machinery parade, 11:30 a.m.; sale of society membership tickets close at noon; float parade, noon; youth organization parade, 12:30 p.m.; Franklin County combined high school bands concert, 2:30 p.m.; annual election of directors of agricultural society (secretary's office, 4 p.m. to 8 p.m.) exhibits released, 4:30 p.m.; night harness racing, 8 p.m.

With all this and what has past, you don't need a magic mirror to ask the question, "Which is the fairest fair of them all?"

AN EFFECTIVE DISPLAY in the new commercial building on the Franklin County Fairgrounds in Hilliard is this cancer warning to smokers. The glass vial contains the reported amount of coal tar absorbed into the lungs from a pack of cigarettes. The wheelbarrow contains 7,300 cigarette butts a pack-a-day smoker accumulates in one year.

Most cisterns are too small to meet the water requirements of a modern home, say OSU Extension agricultural engineers.

The first essential to a good garden is a good soil, loamy in texture, well drained, and free from shade, say OSU Extension horticulturists.

Many weep for the sin, while they laugh over the pleasure. —De Valois

Scioto Basin Project Funds Clear House

The House Appropriations Committee in Washington gave the Scioto Basin flood control program an unexpected green light by approving outlays totaling $750,000, of which $250,000 will go towards the Big Darby reservoir in Franklin and Madison County.

The Big Darby reservoir will be located behind a dam 29 miles from the mouth of the river, and will control runoff from a 448-square-mile drainage area.

Total cost of the entire Scioto Basin project which will have a 123,600 acre-feet of storage capacity was estimated at $25 million.

If communism is a problem for the United Nations, so is the United Nations a problem for communism. The United Nations is a community of tolerance and a community of tolerance is a terrible frustration to the totalitarian mind . . . Adlai Stevenson.

Back-To-School Date Scheduled

Superintendent of the South-Western City School District, Paul C. Hayes, has announced the teaching staff for the district would total 455, compared with 420 last year. Enrollment is expected to hit 11,000. It was 10,200 last year.

Opening date this year for the school is Sept. 5. Half-day of classes will start for pupils below the ninth grade. Those in the ninth grade or higher must start the school year with a full day of classes.

Central Ohio Tennis TourneyPlansDated

The Annual Central Ohio Tennis Tournament conducted by the Columbus Recreation Department will be held on Aug. 18 and 19.

Competition will be offered for men and women in both singles and doubles.

Entry blanks are available at the Recreation Department Office, Room 124, City Hall, at Franklin, Westgate and Beatty Tennis Courts and at Whetstone, Linden, Thompson and Sunshine Recreation Centers.

All entries must be submitted to the Columbus Recreation Department, Room 124, City Hall by 6 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 17. Play for most matches will begin at 10 a.m. on Saturday, Aug. 18.

Beacat League Game Scheduled

The West Side Pirates are playing an exhibition game with UAW this coming Sunday, Aug. 19, 1:30 p.m., at the Starling Junior High field.

Both teams are members of the Ohio Bearcat Football Association. The Pirates are coached by Glen Carr and UAW is helmed by Harry Maple.

Lockbourne Building Fund OK'd

A $614,000 grant has been approved by the House Appropriations Committee for construction projects at Lockbourne Air Force Base. The grant was part of a $21.5 million allotment passed late last week to finance construction projects for Ohio military installations.

Major projects at the local base will be two airport ready shelters for the 87th Fighter Interceptor Squadron (Air Defense Command); aircraft maintenance lights and 12 80-foot towers for outside maintenance work to be used by the 801st Air Division (Strategic Air Command).

Included in construction will be a parachute shop and blast deflectors. The deflector, consisting of a five-foot high, solid steel fence, is to prevent jet blasts from causing damage.

Refrigerate sweet corn, leafy vegetables, and fully ripe fruits such as apples, peaches, and melons, to preserve their quality until ready to use.

SELF-MADE ARTIST

Child's Picture Drawn On Wall Leads To Minister's Art Hobby

By TED BEARDSHEAR

Art is sometimes so frustrating that it has made men forget their religion, but one exception is Fr. L. M. Phillips of 2768 St. Patrick-rd, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, 1003 W. Town-st. Fr. Phillips is a self-made artist.

Fr. Phillips first attempt at art came when he was very young. He drew a frame on a living room wall and then brushed a painting inside of it.

Instead of disciplining him, his parents left the painting on the wall and it was still there when they sold the house years later.

His next attempt at art came when he enrolled in the Zanerian College of Penmanship in Columbus where for a time he corrected the penmanship correspondence lessons.

After that, art became second to other things. Fr. Phillips always felt he wanted to paint but never did until 1959.

Convinced at that time that "anyone who wants to paint can do it if he has the drive," Fr. Phillips picked, up his brushes and canvas and began to work at his easel.

His "opus magus" is a four-foot eight-inch by five-foot 11-inch scene of the "Last Supper." The painting took two and a half years to complete.

Although based on the Da-Vinci painting, it differs by the inclusion of a robe and water pitcher in the left of the picture, and the placement of the figures. The moment depicted is the time of Christ's announcement that one of the apostles would betray Him.

Fr. Phillips spent much time researching the apostles' lives to recreate their reaction at that moment. This was what he wanted to depict.

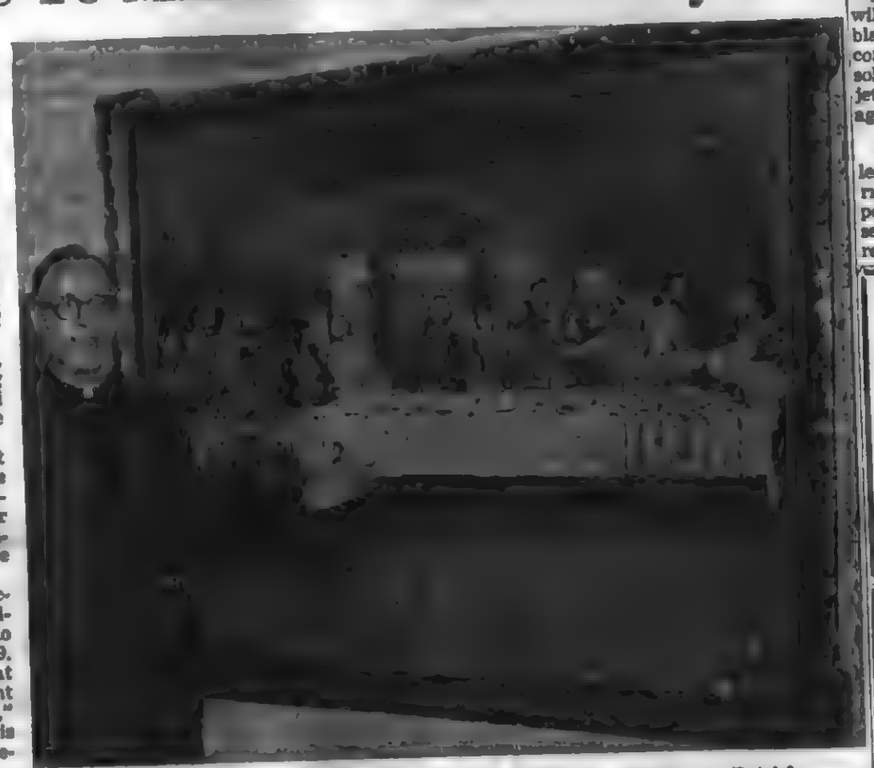
The painting was exhibited at the Ohio Valley Art Exhibit in Bellaire and received much acclaim.

According to Fr. Phillips, the painting was started almost compulsively. Except for "tips" from local artists, the execution and interpretation are entirely his own.

Fr. Phillips' painting is not limited to religious scenes. He copies the works of masters, such as El Greco's "Toledo." In this, he tried to emphasize the mystical aspects of the sky.

Fr. Phillips' approach to art is "trying to express an intangible . . . to feel within a terrific drive on such a work as the Last Supper . . . an obsession to translate inner feelings."

Asked his opinion of modern non-objective art, Fr. Phillips was quite succinct. "I have little or no regard for it." He feels that when someone paints something and can't explain it, it lacks the true spirit of art. "When a monkey can win a prize with a brush and colors something is wrong."



"Perhaps," he mused, "modern art is successful in showing the present day conflict and the confusion of our age."

Fr. Phillips believes art would be good for young people who stand on street corners. It would give them an absorbing means of expression without wasting their time or getting them into trouble. "They might even find themselves in this way," he said.

Fr. Phillips has been at St. John's Episcopal Church since Apr. 11. He is married and has two children, David, and Joann. A graduate of Kenyon College, he has been in the ministry for 29 years.

What are his plans for the future? Plans to do the Last Supper again. Only this time it is going to be 10 by five feet. "I want to get that one scene to perfection," he explained.

Above all, he said, his prime activity will be forwarding his ministry at St. John's.

"LAST SUPPER," as depicted by Fr. L. M. Phillips of 2768 St. Patrick-rd, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, 1003 W. Town-st. Fr. Phillips is a self-made artist and spent two and a half years on the project. The canvas is four-feet eight inches by five feet 11 inches.

We invite you to walk through our air curtain door into our beautiful new Lazarus West suburban store

OPENS THURSDAY AT 11 O'CLOCK

Charge it at Lazarus West

The majority of householders in Lazarus West's vicinity are Lazarus Charge Card Customers. Now that there is a Lazarus store within a few minutes of your home, those who are not will want Lazarus Charge Cards, the most popular retail charge card service in Franklin, Madison, Union, and 27 other Ohio counties. We invite you to visit Lazarus West's credit office, and open an account, or to mail the application on Page 4 of this newspaper.

There are three types of Lazarus accounts the Thirty-Day Charge, the Budget Charge and the "Few-Pennies-A-Day" Plan(sm) with no down payment. Lazarus West also offers Layaway servie.

Parking is a service in which Lazarus has pioneered among department stores. At Lazarus West there is lots of parking, and a first-in-America installation of a new GE development in parking-area lighting.

Picnic Bar. A spot for relaxation and a snack is a standard of Lazarus service. The "Picnic Bar" at Lazarus West is rustic in decoration, and handy to the lounge, the telephone, the rest rooms, and the children's play area.

Lazarus Candy and Lazarus Baked Goods are additional interesting departments with delicious treats at Lazarus West.

The Pharmacy where you may use your Lazarus charge account to have prescriptions filled, is another of the welcome services at Lazarus West.

The telephone number of Lazarus West is the same famous Lazarus number, 221-2121 or CApital 1-2121, perhaps the best known telephone number in Central Ohio.

- a handsome store for your shopping convenience and pleasure
- designed to be a showplace addition to West Broad Street
- your full-service Lazarus West for Fashions and Home Needs

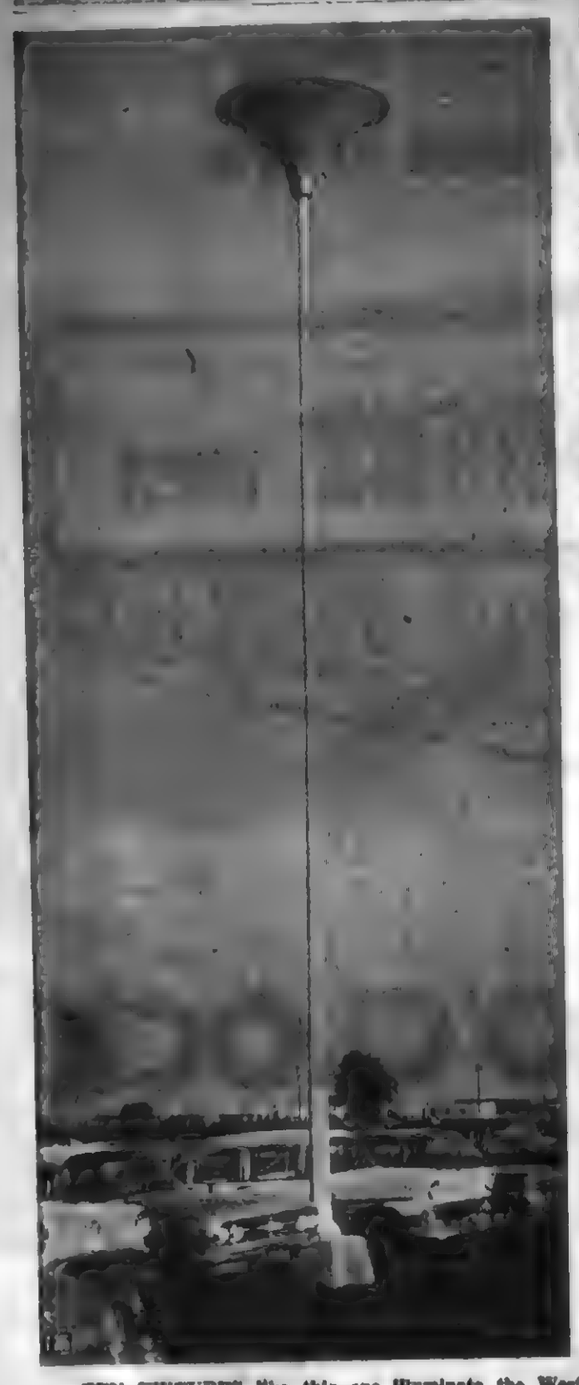
Could there be a more exciting time to open a fine new fashion store? Fall styles and colors presented just as you want to see what's new.

Lazarus West is a big, spacious store, decorated in refreshing colors, and filled with sparkling new fall wearables and home needs.

A really good children's shopping center is just one of the welcome features of Lazarus West. Selections are excellent, in moderate price goods, for young people of all ages, from high chair size to high schoolers.

The pretty departments devoted to junior, misses and women's apparel are just inside the air curtain door that faces West Broad Street—nearby you'll see the surprising breadth of assortments for men.

The fall fashions you'll find so stimulating to see are just a part of the assortments at Lazarus West.



Home needs, such as housewares, kitchen appliances, television and table linens are provided in excellent variety. Sporting goods, cameras, toys, records, and many more household requirements are offered at Lazarus West.

Lazarus West is at West Broad Street and Georgesville Road

G.E.'s Luminaires Introduced In 1200-Car Parking Area

TEN FIXTURES like this one illuminate the West Parking area. They're called Powerglow Luminaires, first in the country of G.E.'s new fixture. Paved parking area, completely surrounding the store, will park 1200 cars, and is accessible both from Broad-st and Georgesville-rd.

Lighting the big parking area of a store open every night, Monday through Saturday, was an important segment of Lazarus West planning.

General Electric's new Powerglow Luminaires were chosen to do the job. This is the first installation anywhere of this powerful lighting method. Only 10 of the powerful new lights are needed to light the entire parking area.

Easy access to the parking area both from W. Broad-st and Georgesville-rd, and special traffic light control in these streets at entrance and exit points required additional careful planning.

The paved parking area, which completely surrounds the store, can handle over 1200 cars at once. There is room for expansion.

DESIGNER PROMINENT

The famous design firm of Raymond Loewy-William Snaith of New York, who have for many years assisted Lazarus as design consultants downtown, were employed to help plan Lazarus West.

Exterior selected is red brick and white stone with a topping of white tile screen wall which is back-lighted at night. Interior provides a pleasant, well-lighted and colorful setting for the merchandise.

Tibbals, Crumley and Musson are the Columbus architects for West. Columbus contractors are Morris Skilken, general contracting; Limbach, mechanical, and Electrical Power Equipment, electrical.

The store is 80,000 square feet in area, measuring 293 by 265 feet. The main entrance, an air curtain door, faces Broad-st. Two other entrances, on the south and east sides, are immediately accessible from the 1200-car parking lot which surrounds the store.

bedding, cleaning supplies, curtains and draperies, dinnerware, drugs, glassware, needlework, housewares, paint, pet supplies, toys, notions, rugs, piece goods, radios, TV sets, linens and many other categories of goods.

"For the very specialized item," Robert Lazarus said, "we know our customers will still want to come downtown."

Even so, West will feature such specialized departments as a Scout shop, maternity shop, pharmacy and bake shop.

All Lazarus services are available at West.

Outlines Store Policies

Speaking of such well-known Lazarus services as credit, lay-away, custom gift wrapping and many others, the retail executive said:

"Over the years we think our store has gained the reputation for service. There seems to be a big trend today in home areas of the modern retail business to eliminate customer service as an easy way to reduce prices.

"We just don't feel at home in a no-service store. And we well know that eliminating service is not necessarily the best way and certainly not the only way to offer the best possible prices."

Lazarus pointed to the store's long-standing competitive price policy saying:

"That you pay no more with us means exactly that."

DRAMATICALLY LIGHTED from the ground, this is the way new Lazarus West looks at night. This is the side of the building that faces west, 265 feet from one end to the other. Same type of landscaping and lighting is duplicated all around the store exterior. Entrances are on the north, south and east sides.

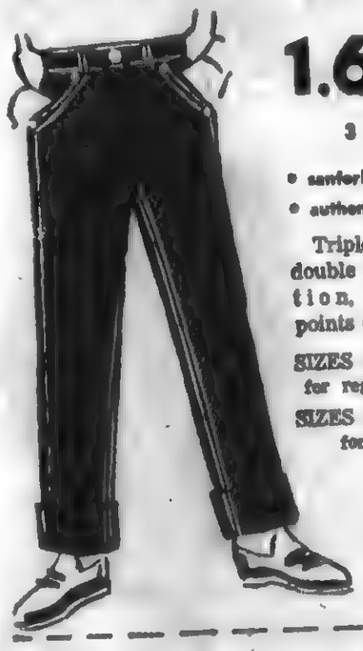
FROM RENOWNED DESIGNER . . .

Store Is Traditional Brick, Stone

The conviction that a store should be an exciting place to see as well as a satisfying place to shop caused Lazarus to enlist the design-genius of the famous firm, Raymond Loewy-William Snaith, in the considerable expansions of the past 14 years.

For Lazarus West, in the green landscape of almost open country, red brick and white stone with a delicate tracery of white tile screen wall forming a top outline, was chosen by the renowned New York designers. The screen wall is backlighted for a dramatic night effect.

An air curtain door, a feature of the downtown store since 1857, was a natural choice for this newest Lazarus expansion. It faces north, toward Broad-st.



(The downtown store's air curtain door faces east. In this part of the country, the direction an air curtain door cannot face is west. The prevailing winds are from the west.)

Inside the store, there is complete flexibility. Weber walls, which can be demounted and moved at will, form all partitions in the spacious 80,000-square-foot interior. Soft lighting of an intensity suitable for candid photographs, lively colors in the background, and almost an acre of luxurious green carpet, create a pleasant setting for fashion and home needs.

The acoustical tile of the ceiling is just as modern in function as the Weber walls. Each tile rests in its own steel frame, and can be lifted for access to lighting, power and air conditioning conduits.

Rustic 'Picnic Bar' Restaurant Seats 71

Seventy-one customers can be served at one time in the Lazarus West "Picnic Bar," which takes the daily Lazarus restaurant capacity up to 11,000 luncheon and snackers.

More than 10,500 are served on a busy day in the downtown store's several customer restaurants.

The bakery that provides delicacies for the restaurants downtown was enlarged 18 months ago and an immediately popular customer bake shop opened in the downtown store.

At the same time the candy kitchen where Lazarus Own Candy is made fresh daily, was expanded.

Both these Lazarus departments, baked good and candy, have departments at West.

The Picnic Bar Restaurant is adjacent to the customer lounge and the Kiddie Play Area at West.

Credit Office Is Located Near Store's West Door

Recent surveys indicate that the percentage of Lazarus charge card households in the vicinity of Lazarus West is even higher than the 70 per cent average for Franklin county.

The credit office, in the new store, is conveniently located near the West entrance.

Long noted in the national retail field for a creative approach to credit service, Lazarus pioneered the no-down-payment technique of extended payment for major items by introducing the "Few Pennies-a-Day" plan in depression days of 1934, and revolving credit with the Budget Charge Account in the mid-1940's.

All Lazarus credit services will be offered at Lazarus West, and the same charge card can be used at either Lazarus store. Layaway service, without extra charge, is another of the popular Lazarus services to be provided in the new store.

Children's Shops Provide Specialized Size Selection

The Lazarus emphasis on fashion assortments, as well as utility clothes, for children, in carefully developed size specializations, is an important reason why people of this area are expected to be enthusiastic about the opening of Lazarus West.

"There is a great difference in styling and sizing in 1 to 3 girls' wear and 3 to 6X girls' wear," a store official said. "It isn't just that the 3 to 6X'ers need bigger clothes; they're no longer babies, so the styling needs to be more mature to satisfy both the little miss and her mother."

Lazarus specializations in children's size shops are so detailed that 15 separate buyers for boys' and girls' wear, infants and high school, are required.

This same close attention to sizing and styling is reflected in the same wide assortments of apparel featured in the children's shops at Lazarus West.

Firm Started Junior Shop Specialization

Almost 40 years ago, in the mid-1920's, Lazarus pioneered the first of its extensive apparel-size specializations by opening one of the country's first junior size apparel shops.

It developed into what is probably the most distinctive group of young-apparel specialty shops in Ohio for the slim, high-waisted young women of 16 to 22 who wear junior sizes 5 to 15.

The junior shops are important at Lazarus West, as are the specialized assortments for misses' sizes, women's regular and half-sizes, tall girls' sizes, high school and pre-teen sizes, and maternity wear.

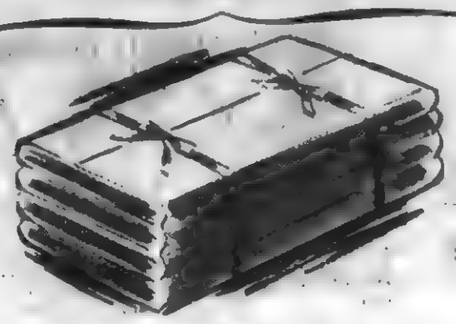
LAZARUS HAS BEEN LONG known for its size-specialized shops for feminine apparel. All are represented at West, including this colorful juniors' department. Just beyond the wall are located the other specialty shops for coats, suits, dresses and sportswear—all at the Broad-st end of the store.

Men's Sports Clothes Dept. Easy To Find

For half a century, men customers have found their clothing and furnishings selections at Lazarus by taking a sharp turn to the right from the front door of the downtown store.

They needn't learn any new directions at Lazarus West. Turn right, from the air curtain door of the new store, and a man is in a totally men's world.

Business, dress and sports clothing are shown, in a complete size selection. The Lazarus emphasis to casual sports clothing is reflected in exceptionally varied assortments of sports coats, slacks, sweaters, jackets and knit shirts.



Lazarus West's Pharmacy Has Separate Phone Number

Phone number CA. 1-2121, is dialed 15,000 times a day on the average, and this number is the one that connects most people with Lazarus — downtown and now Lazarus West.

Another Lazarus number, known only to the medical profession, is called far less frequently, but often these calls are life-and-death concerns. This relatively secret number goes directly to Lazarus pharmacists — also both downtown and now Lazarus West.

Lazarus price lists of staple modern drugs, used in compounding prescriptions, go out to members of the medical profession at intervals.

Rustic 'Picnic Bar' Restaurant Seats 71

Seventy-one customers can be served at one time in the Lazarus West "Picnic Bar," which takes the daily Lazarus restaurant capacity up to 11,000 luncheons and snackers.

More than 10,500 are served on a busy day in the downtown store's several customer restaurants.

The bakery that provides delicacies for the restaurants downtown was enlarged 18 months ago and an immediately popular customer bake shop opened in the downtown store.

At the same time the candy kitchen where Lazarus Own Candy is made fresh daily, was expanded.

Both these Lazarus departments, baked good and candy, have departments at West.

The Picnic Bar Restaurant is adjacent to the customer lounge and the Kiddie Play Area at West.

Credit Office Is Located Near Store's West Door

Recent surveys indicate that the percentage of Lazarus charge card households in the vicinity of Lazarus West is even higher than the 70 per cent average for Franklin county.

The credit office, in the new store, is conveniently located near the West entrance.

Long noted in the national retail field for a creative approach to credit service, Lazarus pioneered the no-down-payment technique of extended payment for major items by introducing the "Few Pennies-a-Day" plan in depression days of 1934, and revolving credit with the Budget Charge Account in the mid-1940's.

All Lazarus credit services will be offered at Lazarus West, and the same charge card can be used at either Lazarus store. Layaway service, without extra charge, is another of the popular Lazarus services to be provided in the new store.

Children's Shops Provide Specialized Size Selection

The Lazarus emphasis on fashion assortments, as well as utility clothes, for children, in carefully developed size specializations, is an important reason why people of this area are expected to be enthusiastic about the opening of Lazarus West.

"There is a great difference in styling and sizing in 1 to 3 girls' wear and 3 to 6X girls' wear," a store official said. "It isn't just that the 3 to 6X'ers need bigger clothes; they're no longer babies, so the styling needs to be more mature to satisfy both the little miss and her mother."

Lazarus specializations in children's size shops are so detailed that 15 separate buyers for boys' and girls' wear, infants and high school, are required.

This same close attention to sizing and styling is reflected in the same wide assortments of apparel featured in the children's shops at Lazarus West.

Firm Started Junior Shop Specialization

Almost 40 years ago, in the mid-1920's, Lazarus pioneered the first of its extensive apparel-size specializations by opening one of the country's first junior size apparel shops.

It developed into what is probably the most distinctive group of young-apparel specialty shops in Ohio for the slim, high-waisted young women of 16 to 22 who wear junior sizes 5 to 15.

The junior shops are important at Lazarus West, as are the specialized assortments for misses' sizes, women's regular and half-sizes, tall girls' sizes, high school and pre-teen sizes, and maternity wear.

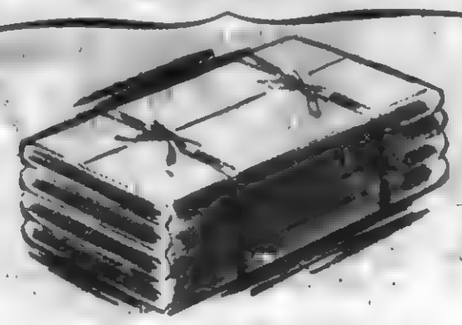
LAZARUS HAS BEEN LONG known for its size-specialized shops for feminine apparel. All are represented at West, including this colorful juniors' department. Just beyond the wall are located the other specialty shops for coats, suits, dresses and sportswear—all at the Broad-st end of the store.

Men's Sports Clothes Dept. Easy To Find

For half a century, men customers have found their clothing and furnishings selections at Lazarus by taking a sharp turn to the right from the front door of the downtown store.

They needn't learn any new directions at Lazarus West. Turn right, from the air curtain door of the new store, and a man is in a totally man's world.

Business, dress and sports clothing are shown, in a complete size selection. The Lazarus emphasis to casual sports clothing is reflected in exceptionally varied assortments of sports coats, slacks, sweaters, jackets and knit shirts.



Lazarus West's Pharmacy Has Separate Phone Number

Phone number CA. 1-2121, is dialed 15,000 times a day on the average, and this number is the one that connects most people with Lazarus — downtown and now Lazarus West.

Another Lazarus number, known only to the medical profession, is called far less frequently, but often these calls are life-and-death concerns. This relatively secret number goes directly to Lazarus pharmacists — also both downtown and now Lazarus West.

Lazarus price lists of staple modern drugs, used in compounding prescriptions, go out to members of the medical profession at intervals.

Here's Sneak Prevue Of New Lazarus West

LAZARUS WEST MANAGER John Sesler stands at one of the 15 "closing areas" spotted throughout the store. The new customer convenience is designed to speed up the checking out procedure after the customer has made her purchase selection with the help of a salesperson.

TWO LITTLE SHOPPERS previewed Lazarus West last week and immediately took to the rides in the store's Kiddie play area. Kathy Holzapfel, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Holzapfel, 4180 Olive-rd, enjoys the rocking twirlybird. Boat driver is Craig Capretta, 5½, son of Mr. and Mrs Louis J. Capretta, 1310 N. Hague. Ten other rides and continuous cartoon movies complete the area, which is adjacent to the public lounge and Picnic Bar restaurant.

LAZARUS STARTED in business in 1851 as a men's store. Men have gotten special handling ever since with a whole series of specialized shops for clothing and furnishings. At West the University Shop is at left with men's clothing and work clothing departments side-by-side. The entire men's section is just inside the store's main entrance facing Broad-st.

A WIDE ASSORTMENT of linens and bedding in the moderate price range forms a key area of the home needs represented at Lazarus West. Hundreds of other categories of home goods include everything from a selection of 2,000 home paint colors to refrigerators and radios.

HAZEL WARE, artist for the New York design firm of Raymond Loewy-William Snaith, completed over 40 murals and color sketches at Lazarus West as colorful wall accents throughout the store. This scene is in the Picnic Bar, 71-seat restaurant.

COMPLETE SCOUT SHOP at Lazarus West includes supplies, accessories and apparel for Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Camp Fire Girls. Merchandise includes key most-in-demand items from the downtown store's huge assortment.

BUC Placement Offices Move

The opening of a new Industrial and Service Placement Office of the Ohio State Employment Service at 309 S. Fourth Street will be effective Monday, Aug. 20.

This move marks the end of local employment service activities at the Cleveland and Buckingham address. State Administrative Offices will continue to occupy the BUC building until its new headquarters, now being constructed downtown, are completed.

The new S. Fourth-st location will handle job placements of persons seeking employment in manufacturing, industrial, construction, hotel, restaurant and service occupations including domestic.

Full facilities will be provided for testing, counseling and referral of job applicants. The District Office staff, supervising employment security activity in Central and Southeastern Ohio, will also be located here.

Phoenix Lodge Will Celebrate 33rd Birthday

Phoenix Lodge of the Greek-American Progressive Association will celebrate its 33rd anniversary with a birthday party at Duros Dude Ranch Aug. 26 at 6 p.m.

James Tertegas, 1704 E. Frankfort-st, will receive special recognition. He is the only living member of the committee which organized the lodge 33 years ago. He also served as the lodge's first treasurer for 11 years and was president in 1940-41-42.

The 13 surviving charter members also will be honored.

Charles N. Pappas, 227 Louise Lane, Grove City, is the current and first American-born president of the lodge.

Youth Picnic At Blendon On Aug. 17

A picnic for youth of all churches will be held Friday, Aug. 17, at Blendon Woods, according to Miss Glenna Salyear, president of the Columbus Area Youth Council. Activities will begin at 4:30 and will conclude at 9:30 with vesper service conducted by Rev. Ivan H. Lane, pastor of Burgess Avenue EUB Church.

Youth fellowships of all churches are invited and those who attend are to provide their own sack picnic supper. The group will eat at 6 p.m.

This new activity in the program of the Youth Council is sponsored by the Columbus Area Council of Churches.

General committee of the youth is Susan Heller, Dave Woodyard and Anita Zeno. Advisor to the Youth Council is Rev. Gerrit DeYoung, pastor of the Olentangy Christian Reformed Church. The group is the Youth Organization of the Columbus Area Council of Churches.

McDonald's Will Open New Unit

The fifth McDonald's hamburger restaurant in Columbus will open at 3605 W. Broad-st on Aug. 21, announced Larry Ingram, manager of the new restaurant.

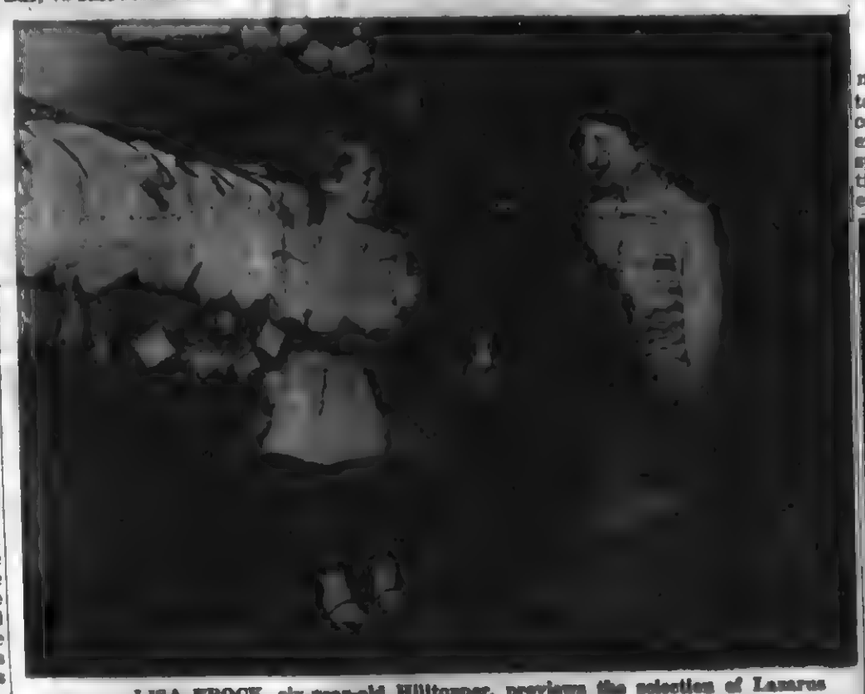
"McDonald's is expanding in Columbus, said Ingram, "to meet the demand."

Serving 41 states with 382 restaurants, McDonald's offers self-service, limited 10-item menu built around the 15-cent hamburger. Prices and service standards are the same throughout the chain.

McDonald's bases their operation on turning out food fast while keeping prices down.

"Customers get their own orders from a self-service window which increases efficiency," Ingram said.

Each McDonald's restaurant has space enough to prepare 6,000 hamburgers a day, and crews can produce a full meal in 50 seconds, or 36 hamburgers in 110 seconds.



In an average month, a typical restaurant turns out 70,000 hamburgers, 31,000 milkshakes and up to 1,700 orders of French fries.

Besides feeding families, McDonald's turns out hamburgers in quantity for local organizations planning picnics and parties.

Seeks Transfer

'Say Darling' Tells Inside Story Of 'Show Biz'

ORSON BEAN and GRETCHEN WYLER star in the current Kenley production of "Say Darling," the comical behind the scenes show of the problems involved in putting together a musical. Author of "Say Darling," Bissell was inspired to write the show after sitting in on rehearsals for George Abbott's production of "Pajama Game," an adaptation of Bissell's book, "7½ Cents."

The 'Fantasticks' Staged At Denison Summer Theater

Denison Summer Theater is staging the popular musical, "The Fantasticks," Sunday, Aug. 19, at 8:20 p.m. in the tent on the lower campus.

William Brasmer, managing director of the company, announces the additional Sunday night performance due to the large demand for tickets. Brasmer is staging the show, and Dale K. Moore is in charge of the musical direction.

Cast in featured roles are John Davidson, Mary Kay Williams, John Schuck, and Tom Ligon. Others in the cast include Robert Armstrong, Jack Johnson, and Joel Neshkin.

With lyrics by Tom Jones and music by Harvey L. Schmidt, "The Fantasticks" has gained international fame this summer, playing in seven major European cities.

"The Fantasticks" is the last of three musicals and ninth of 10 productions this season at Denison Summer Theater. The comedy "49th Cousin" will be performed next week.

'Lolita' At Loews

"Lolita," the film based on the controversial novel by Vladimir Nabokov is currently billed at the Loew's Ohio theater. Starring James Mason, Sue Lyon and Shelly Winters, the story concerns the romance of a mature professor and a teen-age girl.

Pop Concerts Prove Popular

Columbus symphony goers can take advantage of a savings on their pop concert tickets by purchasing them on a series basis. More than 52 per cent of the season tickets sold to date include requests for the two pops concerts.

The pop programs include a Lerner and Loewe concert featuring music from the well-known Broadway shows of the prolific pair and a Viennese evening. This will be the first Columbus concert presenting the music of Strauss and Franz Lehar.

Tickets for the regular series with the pop concerts are available at the Columbus Symphony Orchestra office, 55 E. State st, CA. 4-7774.

Stars At State Fair

LORNE GREENE, patriarchal rancher and father of three sons on television's number one program, "Bonanza," will be appearing at the Ohio State Fair over the Labor Day weekend, Sept. 1-3, along with his oversized son, "Hoss," played by Dan Blocker. Greene entered the entertainment field after becoming interested in dramatics while a student at Queens University in Ontario, Canada and was chief newscaster for the Canadian Broadcasting System until entering television and movies in 1953. Blocker rejected a professional football career and turned to TV. The Ohio State Fair opens Aug. 24 for 11 days.

TIMELY TIPS . . . FOR PLEASURE

'A Taste of Honey' Gives Unsweetened Taste of Life

Out of the dismal tale of a "Taste of Honey" comes a film of pathos and humor. The movie deserves every honor it has thus far been awarded; which to date, includes the Best Film Award at Cannes and winner of four British Academy Awards.

BEVERLY

The story of "Honey" concerns a young unmarried girl who is pregnant, the Negro sailor who loved her, the deviate who befriends her, and a promiscuous mother who deserts her. But don't be misled into thinking this is sordid melodrama. The distinguishing factor of the Shelagh Delany screenplay is that she sees the tenderness, the love in the lives of these four people, all of whom are seeking "a taste of laughter," "a taste of honey."

This is a movie which suggests no solutions for the characters, it leaves the audience with no happy ending; in fact, with on ending at all. There are no moral judgments, no value judgments. This is merely a beautiful depiction of the less-than-beautiful lives of four people who, during the course of the film, you will come to know and to like. The movie is unrelentlessly realistic; it is also suprisingly poetic.

Playing the lead in "Taste of Honey" is a young girl who is "unforgettable as the film itself. Rita Tushingham has assured her stardom with her role as the lonely, vulnerable Jo. Dora Bryan as the mother, Murray Melvin as Jo's friend, and Robert Stevens as the sailor give fine supporting performances.

"A Taste of Honey" is currently at the Bexley and World Theaters.

NATIONWIDE WELCOMES LAZARUS

TO LINCOLN VILLAGE

THE NATIONWIDE DEVELOPMENT COMPANY IS PROUD THAT LAZARUS, AFTER 111 YEARS OF PRESTIGE RETAILING IN DOWNTOWN COLUMBUS, SELECTED LINCOLN VILLAGE FOR ITS FIRST OUTLYING STORE LOCATION!

The men who operate the great Lazarus institution selected Lincoln Village to serve Columbus' fast-growing west side (a population greater than that of Hartford, Connecticut; Madison, Wisconsin, or Albany, New York) and the thousands of workers in the vast industrial complex located in this area.

They wanted to move swiftly. This could be done in Lincoln Village, because the maze of problems that go with developing a retail store site had been resolved. They were actually able to start in March and have a completed facility by August.

Lincoln Village Holds the Answers to . . .

 LOCATION: At the intersection of transcontinental U. S. Route 40 and the soon-to-be-constructed Columbus Outerbelt. Approximately 24,000 cars pass this intersection each day--and this BEFORE the Outerbelt!

 UTILITIES: Storm and sanitary sewers, water, gas, and electric all available on the property.

 ACCESSIBILITY: In addition to an excellent divided highway which carries the east-west traffic to the site, motorists will soon be traveling to it on the Columbus Outerbelt, an Interstate Route (permitting residents of neighboring communities to avoid the tension of in-town driving).

 TOPOGRAPHY: Level land suited to immediate building without the extensive cost of filling and grading.

 ZONING: Through planning and foresight this property was zoned some 10 years ago as part of the Lincoln Village master plan.

 TRAFFIC CONTROL: In addition to an easy trip to the location, the Lazarus customer will enjoy the benefits of detailed planning by one of the nation's leading highway engineers and the Nationwide Development Co. for easy and safe entrance to and departure from the site.

If you are in the business of developing retail outlets, share the wisdom of one of the nation's leading merchants and contact the

Open Ditches Under Attack In Subdivision

EROSION of a ditch through Valleyview Heights No. 2 was patched at this spot through the cooperation of the city and the property owner. Mrs. Robert Cassady, 470 Westmoor-av, (pictured) said her family spent $100 for cement . . . the city furnished the labor. Workmen found rat burrows at this site.

TALL WEEDS and fog spots in another ditch at the north boundary of the subdivision encourage mosquitos. Mrs. Charles Kounts, 2980 Westmoor-dr, examines a half-clogged tile which passes under the railroad behind her home. The city's fogging machine has not visited Valleyview Heights this summer.

WESTMOOR-CT RESIDENTS point as two rats are frightened away when the people approach the opening of a large tile which becomes a ditch at the rear of their property. The families hope to secure city help in diverting or covering the ditch. They're going to City Council Sept. 10.

Keeping Sunday, Sunday

A current report of the Greater Columbus Sunday Association reveals that progress is being made in the efforts of that organization in its campaign to halt the spread of business operations on Sunday.

As of Aug. 16 there had been 131 affidavits filed in which Sunday operators were cited. In this same period there were 57 convictions, 12 dismissals due to insufficient evidence, 20 dismissals at the prosecutor's request, 22 dismissals due to technical and procedural questions and 20 cases still pending.

A finer community and healthier business will come about with a six-day week.

Dog Gone?

A very small black and white puppy with a bob tail was at the back of Hartley Newspapers shop Tuesday morning. Efforts to find an owner at this time have been fruitless and so shop foreman Ralph Wright has taken good care of the dog at his home. The owner may claim him by calling BR. 6 1637. This nice little puppy wants to go home!

Liberty Bell Gets A Home

By ED CHURCHILL

The Liberty Bell has found a home.

Reverberations from an article in the Aug. 2 edition of the Hartley Newspapers have stirred positive action on proper care and display of the bell, given to the state as part of the Victory Bond Drive of 1948.

It had been stored on the Ohio State Fairgrounds for almost 14 years in a rather inglorious state, but as of Aug. 21, it will be proudly and publicly displayed at the 15th-st entrance of the Ohio Historical Society Museum on N. High-st.

Museum Director of Properties Charles Pratt said that museum directors had read the article in the Hartley papers and decided to take action on securing an exhibition spot for the bell.

The directors contacted the Ohio Exposition Manager Rowland Bishop and Governor Michael V. DiSalle's office seeking permission to display the bell.

Both offices had been plagued with complaints about the care of the relic and, according to an observer, were glad to get rid of it.

A crew of men from the museum went to the fairgrounds Tuesday morning and retrieved the bell, which once had been on display temporarily at the museum.

Musuem Director Erwin Zepp said "This is the proper place for it (the bell) and we intend to keep it here and take care of it as long as we can."

Thorough cleaning and polishing will be necessary to put the tarnished symbol into decent shape and then it will be removed from its wooden frame and set into a cement base.

Camp Chase-Golden Arrow Annual Cycle Race Slated Sept. 9

The 14th annual motorcycle race, co-sponsored by Camp Chase Post, American Legion and the Golden Arrow Motorcycle Club, will be staged this year, Sunday, Sept. 9, at the Ohio State Fairgrounds.

Nearly 100 top riders from throughout the country will be present, including Dick Klamfoth of Groveport.

Klamfoth, rated among the country's greatest riders, has won national events at Daytona Beach, as well as races all over the country.

Motorcycle riders will be competing for $2000 in prize money.

The race is scheduled to start at 2 p.m., and time trials at 10 a.m.

Advance sale tickets, at $1, are now available from any Golden Arrow Club member, or from any motorcycle dealer in the city.

Tickets will be sold at the gate for $1.50.

Camp Chase Post members will handle the gates at the race and police the grounds.

Camp Chase Auxiliary members will operate concessions at the affair.

Oran Samuel Toy is commander of the post, and Roger Myers is chairman of the project.

Enroll Now In New Schools

School officials throughout the city are expressing concern over student registration, unusually slow this year, according to C. L. Dumaree, assistant superintendent.

August registrations are important and necessary to schools in their preparation for the fall term.

"People are still vacationing," Dumaree surmised, "and haven't realized that school is less than three weeks away."

Three classifications of children should enroll in public schools:

- Those new to Columbus.
- Those who have moved from one school district to another within the city.
- Kindergarten students who did not register in the pre-school roundup last spring.

School offices are open for registration each weekday from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Reception Planned For Members Of Hartley Golden Wedding Club

All members of Hartley Newspapers Golden Wedding Club will be entertained again this year with the annual reception planned in their honor.

Slaughter House Seeks Variance For Expansion

Marvin W. Southworth of 1510 Sullivant-av seeks a variance to the Columbus Zoning Ordinance to expand a non-conforming poultry slaughter plant at the southeast corner of Rickenbacker-av and Emerson-av, in a one to four-family residential district.

The Immanuel Baptist Church of 3417 Palmetto-st seeks a variance to rear yard regulations to add to a church at the same address, in a one to four-family residential district.

A public hearing on these cases will be held before the Board of Zoning Adjustment in room 228, second floor, City Hall, at 2 p.m. Friday, Aug. 31.

School Patrol Officers To Hold Annual Workshop

School patrol captains and their supervisors will hold their annual workshop at 9 a.m. Monday, Aug. 27, at Central High School.

The one-hour program will start with an AAA film, "Your School Safety Patrol," and a school patrol demonstration by the West Mound Street School patrol.

The Columbus Police Department will instruct the patrol on procedures, responsibilities and privileges of the safety work in which they will be engaged during the school year.

The boys and girls and their principal supervisors will be asked to pass this information on to the patrol members of their school.

There are now over 6,200 members of the school patrol in the greater Columbus area.

The workshop is sponsored by the Columbus Board of Education, the Columbus Police Department and the Columbus Automobile Club.

The program of the workshop will begin with music from the Central High School Band. Presiding over the meeting will be C. L. Dumaree, as-

Top National Rifle Honor Won By Janet Hanley

Janet Hanley, 664 S. Ogden-av, took first place marksman honors at the National Rifle Matches Aug. 6 through 11 at Camp Perry.

Out of 703 competitors, the 16-year-old West High School student was one of 50 women entrants. During the week she won $80 worth of NRA silver flatware. She missed the Women's International Team by one center shot.

In the matches Janet represented the League of Ohio Sportsmen as one of a team of four. She is secretary of the Central Ohio Anglers' and Hunters' Junior Rifle Club.

CITY ASKED TO HELP WHIP ODORS, PESTS

"Open drainage ditches have no place in modern subdivisions," said Columbus Sewerage Chief Carl Schoene this week as he took note of complaints from several residents of Valleyview Heights No. 2.

Local residents have called Schoene's office and sent numerous protests to the Board of Health on what they claim is a rat, mosquito and odors problem. They say the situation is aggravated by a ditch which originates in the county, runs past some 20 homes in the Columbus subdivision, and passes on through a portion of Valleyview.

Mrs. E. M. Gabriel said a group of homeowners in the 3000-block of Westmoor-ct will appear before City Council, Sept. 10, to request that the creek be diverted or the ditch covered. She said most of the residents are disappointed that the builder left the ditch open. "We think the city should require contractors to close them up," Mrs. Gabriel said.

Sewer division men last Friday built a retaining wall and spillway at 479 N. Westmoor-av, where ditchwater had eroded the backyard of the Robert Cassady property. The Cassadys spent $100 for cement, and the city performed the labor.

Meanwhile, the Board of Health said it was satisfied that corrections had already been ordered which would put a stop to odors in the area. Sanitarian Wade King said the following has been done: a sink drain in an older house nearby has been changed so that it no longer empties into the ditch; a veterinarian Friday was ordered to stop open burning of animal clippings and remains; nearby industries are being requested to stop dumping oil and corrosive chemicals in the ditch; the area will get its first "mosquito fogging" soon. King said a property owner east of Valleyview Heights, who stables some horses, is abiding by city regulations for harboring animals.

Railroad Ditch Cluttered

Both department spokesmen said they had not investigated a second open ditch which crosses under the Pennsylvania Railroad and

ANOTHER MOVIE PALACE BITES THE DUST

THE WESTMONT THEATRE, 2686 W. Broad-st, faded fast from the Hilltop scene this week. Built about 1937, the theatre flourished until the age of television came in. First Federal Savings and Loan Co. has purchased the lot from Lee Yassenoff and intends to build a public parking area in space between the firm and the Hilltop Branch Post Office. This picture was taken as the theater walls were being demolished.

Boy Scout News

The annual Troop-O-Rama of Troop 172, Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church, will be held this year on Monday, Aug. 27, in the church parking lot. It will start at 6:30 p.m. Features will include Scoutcraft demonstrations by patrols, movies, refreshments. A special program will be presented by the Indian dancers of the troop, the Mi-Gi-Si. A court of honor will be held at 8:30. Admission will be 50 cents per family, regardless of size. All are welcome. Tickets are now for sale by all scouts of Troop 172, and will be sold at the entrance.

The following members of Troop 172 attended Camp Lazarus for a two-week period: Bill Cash, Jim McVay, Galvy Gordon, Jim Caskill, Steve Seyfried, David Wolfe, Darrel Wolfe, Craig Sonnen, Tom Ruggles, Jerry Alban, Gary Clark, Larry Hutton, Mike Broome, and Delbert Smith.

Adult leaders present were John Birle, Sherm Nighbert, Delbert Smith, Lloyd Sonnen, Tom McGill and Dave Wright. A total of 13 rank advancements and 65 merit badges were achieved. Troop leaders Donald Cooke and David Line from Troop 172 attended Philmont Scout Ranch at Cimarron, N. M., earlier this summer.

Home Building Plan Revealed

General Development Corporation has announced a new home building program in the vicinity of Port Charlotte, Fla. It offers homesite purchasers near Port Charlotte housing on lots located outside of the regular General Development Corporation production areas.

Kingway Homes, Inc., of Fort Lauderdale, under an arrangement with the firm, has designed six models of homes, ranging in price from $8,000 to $14,000. These models are available to people with lots in the Port Charlotte area.

Expansion of the company into a "build on your own lot" program was in response to brokers' and customers' requests for individualized homes that can be built at reasonable cost on scattered lots outside the straight line production areas.

H. A. Yoars, president of General Development, emphasized that the corporation is expanding, not changing, its housing program.

New Drive In Manager Named By McDonald's

Anton J. Felker, regional supervisor of the McDonald's Corporation, today announced the appointment of Lawrence K. Ingram, Jr., 24, as the manager of the new McDonald's Drive In opening at 3605 W. Broad-st.

Ingram, four-year veteran of the Air Force, is a native of Lakewood, Ohio. There he attended Fen College and The American Institute of Banking.

Larry joined the McDonald organization in October, 1961. He became assistant manager of McDonald's Drive In at the Great Southern Shopping Center and more recently has served as manager of the McDonald's Drive In at Lima.

Girl Scout Day Set At State Fair

The 50th birthday of the Girl Scouts will be celebrated at the Ohio State Fair Wednesday, Aug. 29. All girl members in uniform will be admitted free, providing they are able to show their Girl Scout membership cards.

At 1 p.m. in the tent south of building 54, and north of the large flower bed immediately inside the 11th-av (south) entrance to the fairgrounds, there will be a ceremony honoring especially invited international, national and regional Girl Scouts.

Mrs. L. S. Weaver will make presentations to Mrs. Michael V. DiSalle, Rowland Bishop and E. J. Kolms. The 12 French Girl Guides and their leader who are visiting in central Ohio will be attending.

A flag ceremony will be presented by Girl Scouts from Dayton.

Nearly 3½ million persons in the U.S. worked on farms for wages at some time during 1961. Migratory workers numbered 395,000.

FOOD MARKETS THIS WEEK

State Fair Features Local Farm Products

By ESTELLE B. FRANKS

THIS WEEK LOOK FOR:

Fruits — Melons, peaches, seedless grapes, summer apples.

Vegetables — Tomatoes, green beans, sweet corn, endive, squash, peppers.

Protein Foods — Beef roasts from chuck and round, steak "specials," fryers, turkeys, eggs, dairy products.

During the coming week food shoppers will have the opportunity to see Ohio-grown foods at their best. The abundance of luscious fruits and colorful vegetables from local farms will be on display at the Ohio State Fair. But it's equally true in the stores and on roadside stands — abundance, high quality, and the lowest prices of the season.

Mrs. Franks

Melons are outdoing themselves this year. Unusually good crops from many growing areas have filled our market since early summer. Now Ohio melons are arriving by the truckloads. Cantaloupes of all varieties — old favorites and many new hybrids are available, and this week is peak season for local watermelons. Melons, in general are exceptionally sweet and full of flavor this summer.

Colorful ripe peaches vie with melons for desserts and salads. Halehaven, Sullivan, Shippers Late Red, Belle of Georgia and Elbertas are some of the varieties available now and on through September.

Apple harvest is coming on ahead of schedule due to the dry hot weather of past weeks and the cool nights are giving them good color. Maiden Blush, Wealthy and McIntosh are in markets now and the harvest of additional fall varieties will start by the end of the month. All signs point to a good apple year for 1962.

Grape producers are also having a good year. California table grape production is up 29 percent from last year and three percent above average. The Ohio crop promises to be nine percent better than a year ago and 22 percent better than average. Local grapes are a week to 10 days ahead of schedule—you may want to keep this in mind for jelly and juice making.

Bartlett pear harvest has started in Ohio orchards. Growers say the pears are attaining good size and color. A good pear crop throughout the country is expected which likely means bargain prices on pears—you may want to can a few.

borders most of the properties at the northern extreme of the subdivision. It is weed choked and at one point runs near a large pile of building materials. It is in this area that the mosquito and rat complaints are most prevalent.

In practically every one of a dozen homes that were spot checked by this newspaper, a rat problem was reported. Burrows were usually found leading to hollow areas under cast concrete steps.

Sewer expert Schoene said he will make a close examination of the offending ditches so that he may advise the residents on their next move. "If they will buy the tiles (which are expensive), it is possible that the city can provide the labor.

Matter of 'Economics'

Schoene noted that there are even more open ditches to contend with in some new sections in the eastern and southeastern parts of Columbus. "It's a problem of economics," he continued. 'If a builder constructs expensive drainage, he simply has to add it to the cost of his homes. Then he finds the selling more difficult.

'And it's easy to see why a builder hates to put a large drainage ditch underground. He's dealing with something that affects many more property owners than himself."

Schoene said he has not been consulted about any possible rerouting of the Valleyview Heights ditch that might accompany the proposed widening of Valleyview-dr.

About 70 percent of the farmer's gross income last year went to pay for production costs. This compares to 50 percent in 1940, according to a study by the Economic Research Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

hospitality extended last year. Flowers for the affair will be supplied by Rosebud Floral Co., 351 N. Burgess-av.

"Dusty" Miller, retired newspaper publisher and also a member of the Golden Wedding Club, will be the speaker.

Candid portraits of each couple will be taken by J. Curtis Allen, photographer, as lasting mementos of the party.

Hartley Newspapers' staff members will be on hand to guide the program, entertain guests, renew acquaintances made at last year's party, and meet new members.

The assistance of friends and relatives in filling out and mailing the coupons is asked.

Chaplaincy Fund Founded In Memory Of Ray Cave

Mrs. Ray Cave, 603 Crescent-dr, has established a memorial fund with the Columbus Area Council of Churches to provide Protestant chaplaincy service for the patients and staff at Grant Hospital.

Known at the Ray Cave Memorial Fund, the fund honors the memory of the late Ray Cave, pharmacist at Grant for 28 years until his retirement in 1948. Mr. Cave died Mar. 15.

Friends who wish to do so, may contribute to the fund.

The money will be available for use after Oct. 1, and the memorial is symbolized by an appropriate plaque hung in the hospital.

Presentation of the gift was made July 30, and was received by Grant Hospital chaplain, Rev. Mrs. Dorothy Faust, wife of Dr. Floyd Faust; hospital administrator, Erwin C. Pohlman, and Dr. G. Weir Hartman, director Columbus Area Council of Churches.

Mrs. Cave served as dietician at Grant Hospital for two years, and during this time met her future husband.

The couple's son, Richard K., now married and associated with Nationwide Insurance Co. at Canton, was also born in the hospital.

Mrs. Cave is president of the United Church Women of Columbus and Franklin County. The couple was active in Hope Memorial Presbyterian Church throughout their married life.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear sister, Martha M. Lind, who passed away two years ago, Aug. 22, 1960.

In my heart your memory lingers,
Always tender, fond and true;
There's not a day dear sister
I do not think of you.

Sister,

We're Glad They're Back

Lockbourne Air Base's 121st Tactical Fighter Wing of the Ohio Air National Guard has come home. Saturday they were returned from Federal to State control during a ceremony held at the base.

Mobilized last year during the Berlin Crisis, the "Minutemen" spent the last few months at Etain AFB in France, augmenting America's defense program.

Although seeing no combat, the 121st TFW served a useful and convincing purpose — showing our potential enemy that the U.S. will make a stand against communism at any time, place or under any condition.

Leaving their families at home, the "Minutemen" helped give us an added feeling of security and made this place a little more safe for democracy. Should actual combat have been required, it would be reasonable to say, "our boys would have given them a good show."

Fortunately, Russia's bid for an "academy award winning" production to scare the U.S. out of Berlin turned out to be a flop. The Air Guardsmen answered the Soviet bluff and "stole the show."

No one will deny the possibility that other crises may arise, implementing another deployment of the "Minutemen." This creates a new challenge for Ohio's Air Guardsmen.

Can and will they be ready to meet future demands which may fall upon them? Can they be in the air on time after the "scramble" to meet an aggressor? Will they again be prepared to leave their loved ones and answer a possible call to a far-strung point somewhere in the world?

We think so!

For their service to the safety of our country, the only thing we can do is give them a big, THANK YOU!

To the 121st Tactical Fighter Wing at Lockbourne and the other 60,000 plus Army and Air Guardsmen who were activated, we can only say with a deep feeling of respect . . .

WELCOME HOME!

School Dropouts Will Find Rough Going

The young people of our community soon will be faced with perhaps the most significant opportunity of their lives.

When classes resume in our high schools and colleges, teenagers who return to school will continue building the foundations of their future. Those who do not return will face some grave problems.

Young people must be encouraged to remain in school and to realize the value of an education. Jobs and wages naturally are tempting the high school students but the facts are that without sufficient education, which means at least a high school diploma, young people just won't find jobs. Unemployment in this country is presently about seven percent for all ages. It is four times greater for young people under 20 years than any other age group.

The Urban League, a United Appeal agency, is urging all students to return to school this fall. We also urge adults to give valuable advice now to all young people. Students can devote the next nine months to a job which will pay lifetime dividends in increased earning power and satisfactory returns in social, moral and cultural values.

ONE MAN'S Opinion . . .

Whole County Should Boost Next Fair

A good thing can always be made better.

Not such a startling statement, but one that should be considered now that the 1962 Franklin County Fair is in the record books.

This year's fair was probably the best ever, keeping in mind the "best-in-the-state" fair of 1910.

Churchill

Yet there are areas left wide open to improvement and means of making next year's 50th anniversary fair better still.

Members of the fair board have recognized this fact and have stated openly that they will accept and consider any and all suggestions.

Here follow a few which have been compiled as a reporter-witness on the fair scene:

The obvious suggestion and one that the fair board has realized this year is that the county fair is not "countiesh" enough.

Residents on the eastern end of Franklin County don't take enough of an active interest in the fair, and we say here that the board should go out of its way to draw these people's interest and support.

This can be done with publicity and by inviting the easteners to participate in controlling and presenting the fair.

Another suggestion is to start the fair on Tuesday and run through Saturday afternoon since most clubs and organizations as well as councils and school boards meet on Monday evening.

Probably the biggest boost for the next fair would be to get some "big name" entertainers and exhibitors.

A famous personality on the entertainment program would bolster attendance, and accompanying this personality with a lot of home-grown amateur talent would make an almost sure-fire crowd pleasing program.

Exhibits from the large and famous corporations and companies in Franklin County should be enticed. There is hardly a less-expensive advertising medium than a county fair, and both would benefit highly, as well as presenting a more well rounded show for the visitors.

Home builders, grocery concerns, department stores, industries, the Columbus Jets and the highway department to name a few should be contacted and invited to take part.

Members of the fair board agree that this year's presentation was good, but they also agree that much can be done for next year's "golden anniversary" fair, with help and suggestions from everyone, including YOU, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin County.

—Ed Churchill

Guest Pulpit . . .

Philippians 1:21. For me to live.

Our Need Is Not For Things, But For Ideals

With the problems that confront us as a nation there's a demand that every citizen clearly define in his mind his purpose in life and its objectives.

In this statement of the apostle we found real dedication. I would like to ask you, dedication to what? Happiness never comes to a man because he has acquired, but only when he is important to the success of a worthwhile endeavor. In business one person is important to many others, therefore business contributes to one's happiness. On the other hand, one is happy spiritually because of a proper relationship to God. Paul said, "For me to live is Christ."

Communism prospers because it promises material return. Selfishness greedily grasps at these promises; however, nearly one half the population of the world has found that the results have not proven to be the fruit that satisfies.

Dedication to Christ is spiritual. The results, because they cannot be counted in dollars or measured by inches, are not readily sought. The believer, however, finds himself dedicated to eternal life. This is wise and is provided by the life, the work, and the death of Christ.

Peace of heart only comes from a knowledge of sins forgiven and the wounded Saviour is the only one to say "thy sins be forgiven thee."

Romans 10:9 says, "If thou shalt confess with thy mouth that Jesus is Lord, believe in your heart that God hath raised Him from the dead thou shalt be saved." Recognition of sin and spiritual need is a must on the part of men who would have a quiet heart. Responding to a spiritual need is not a mark of weakness but it is a mark of faith and subjection to God.

The providing of things goes along in the minds of men with service. The greatest need today is not things, but an example of ideals; workable but almost forgotten. For me to live is Christ; this is to live honestly. For me to live is Christ; this is to live truly. For me to live is Christ; this is to live patriotically. No man can be the kind of an American he should be and not live with these principles. No man can live by these principles and not be the kind of an American he ought. For me to live is answered in The Book and if I live as I should, the undeniable results of Godless living shall die in me.

Leftovers . . . by John McPeek

Opinionated? You Could Be Worse!

It was a tender domestic scene.

I was sprawled on the living room floor sighting an imaginary 20-millimeter howitzer through my bare toes at an insipid TV announcer.

McPeek

My wife, having just gagged the kids and bound them into their beds, had flopped into a chair and was reading "Leftovers."

"You know what your problem is," queried she in a profound tone. "Your stuff sounds too opinionated, too dogmatic. If I didn't know you, I'd think you were an opinionated jerk. Come to think of it, you are. It's just that I'm so used to not paying attention to your rantings around the house. Yes, you definitely are opinionated."

Naturally, this infuriated me. Not the accusation of being opinionated, but her lapse into insubordination. I thought of giving her a couple of quick karate blows on the back of the neck, but changed my mind. I wasn't sure how tired she was. So I settled for a lecture.

"Honey," said I, thinking such an endearment might hold her attention, "Don't you know that most of the world's problems today can be traced to people who won't form opinions. If everyone were to overcome the fear of making themselves look foolish and would speak out with their views, we would have fewer pumpkin heads running things for us."

I wanted to enlarge on my views, but it was difficult trying to talk through the bathroom door where she had barricaded herself in with the front section of the newspaper.

So I went back to the living room and sulked.

Not until I had picked up the remains of the paper and read Hal Boyle's column did I begin to feel better. Hal's a man of opinions, too. Perhaps not the world's most profound opinions, but certainly better than none.

For example:

"Monogomy has been such a success in the modern world not so much because it is so moral—but because it is so practical. The Koran allows a man up to four wives at a time, but only an idiot would want to cope with four wives in a three-bedroom apartment."

And:

"I think it's every bit as sensible for a 25-year-old horse to wear a bikini as it is for a 40-year-old woman to wear a pony tail."

See what I mean? It's that kind of thinking and subsequent opinions that makes the world a better place.

And we need more of it.

Competitive Casters Unique Fellows – They Seldom Find Time To Really Fish

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

Last week the national tournament casters were in the vicinity, and people from all over the country came to watch and participate in what might be called a "backlash festival." Location was the city-owned Whetstone Park, and host was the casting division of the Clintonville Conservation Club.

For six days the noiseless, well-tuned reels spun, and fly-lines lashed the air, but not a fish was caught. In tournament casting the goal is distance or accuracy, and the techniques and gear used only remotely resembles what you see in tackle stores. This is a sport in itself, and many casters do not fish at all — they are too busy casting to go fishing.

On the other hand, a lot of excellent casters use their skills to put fish on the stringer. A good example was the late Johnny Dieckman, a Californian who was killed in a passenger jet crash this past year. He was a champion-ship caster, and his shelves were full of trophies. When it came to catching fish, he was also at the top of the heap. Dieckman won or placed high in several fishing tournaments, and I had the privilege to watch him in action several years ago at Hot Springs, Ark. He worked hard and piled up tournament points fast by catching big bass and crappies.

Fishing, of course, is a two-phase sport — you must master your equipment and you must know your fish. A skillful caster is not insured to catch fish by any means. And a fisheries biologist may not be a good fisherman either if he can not cast, although he can still dunk worms for a lot of fishing fun.

Most of us rely on moderate mastery of both fields. If you can cast a lure about where you want it, and if you know some of the places to cast then you will catch fish. You will not win any prizes, but fishing is for fun anyway. It is my personal belief that turning any of the outdoor sports into competition detracts from them. The day is a huge success when a boy goes out with his father for the first time and catches one skinny little bluegill. Why spoil this memorable day with the knowledge that someone else caught a dozen big lunkers!

Casting is a competitive sport and is certainly a fine outdoor activity for those who like it. I like to watch the casters in action for an hour or so, but to try to take in a whole tournament becomes a chore to the uninitiated. Some of the tackle or gear is interesting — the unusual - looking rods and reels. Line is also very special and the casters make up their own flylines. Some of the casting line is so hair-like that it can not be reeled back in. It is broken off after each cast.

This area has been a center of casting interest for a great many years, and I believe the national tournament has been held here more often than anyplace else. Casters are great experimenters and many of their innovations are later passed on to fishermen. But it still doesn't seem right somehow that all of this casting is done on grassy fields and in fishless ponds.

Danger In Softening Foreign Policy

To The Editor:

We are again warned against placing our ultimate hope for peace in the United Nations organization. We have recently been warned against aiding those nations whose leaders actively engage in practices inimical to our national well-being.

In the councils of those who seek to institute world government, and in the minds of subjugated peoples, there exists an unfounded doubt as to our desire to sustain our belief in human dignity, and our faith in this nation, where human worth became monumental fact.

It is irrational to weaken ourselves through excessive "aid" to foes of our political system; it is insanity to submit to such a program, to the detriment of our security.

The faith of our fathers, known to us all, was not based upon weakness, nor was their battle-cry composed by spokesmen for "inter-dependence," "mutual assistance," "foreign aid," and "peaceful co-existence."

This nation best serves God and man through strengthening herself. America, the land of the free, is the symbol which mankind must have before it, now and in the hard days ahead. The people of the world must one day have an awakening, a return to reason implying a need for a return to freedom — we must be free, we must be strong both morally and physically. We are a symbolic nation.

Variety . . . by I. F. Howell

Summer is almost gone again and we prepare for Autumn.

Earth's creatures, even most of the insects, estivated under an August sun and now enjoy a brief time of rest to watch earth's fruits maturing before the harvest and the long sleep. Too soon the winter will come with its frosts and dark skies and cold, relentless winds to drive the snows almost in level flight like silver arrows in the night.

We, too, civilized as we think we are, respond to the seasons. Consciously or instinctively we adapt our minds and hearts and bodies to Nature's changing moods. After the gloomy time of winter we greet the first bright days of spring and look to the sun as an old friend too long away. We share the time of waking with the recrudescent life about us.

Then comes summer, too long for some, too short for others. We can be plagued by sudden storms and cosmic heat or be inspired by knowledge that once again we see the ever-recurring miracles of re-creation and growth and rest for another time.

Again we are back in Autumn. Beyond our patterned prison bars of concrete and steel and tools and desks we have seen some of the glory and the majestry of Creation. Despite our carelessness and because it must be, we acknowledge once again our kinship with all things. So may it ever be.

It says here . . . . . .
One deed is worth a thousand words.

The Walk will be held Sept. 13 through Sept. 17 at which time a house-to-house canvass of Greater Columbus will be made to secure funds for convalescent children at the Cottage.

A coffee meeting will be held at Mrs. Taylor's home, 3144 Derby-rd, at 8 p.m. on Aug. 27 at which time friends and members of the Cottage will receive their material for the Walk.

Those not able to attend the meeting may pick up their materials at 8 p.m. on Aug. 30 at the Tuberculosis Society, Washington-av at Oak-st.

City Of Hope Gives Aug. 30 Open House

Mrs. Ted Schmidt, president of the local chapter of City of Hope, will open her home at 2845 Maryland-av, for a tea and garden party on Thursday, Aug. 30, 1 p.m. to honor new members of the local chapter.

Mrs. L. L. Silverburg is membership chairman and Mrs. Hy Stone and Mrs. Ed Reynolds are hospitality co-chairmen for the garden party.

Guest speaker will be Mrs. Edward S. Lubar of Milwaukee, Wis., member of the national board of City of Hope and Mid-West expansion chairman. She will speak on the humanitarian work being done at Pilot Medical Center in Duarte, Calif.

Membership in the local chapter is open to all, and new and prospective members are invited to attend the tea.

MRS. KENNETH E. DARST

Miss Beckel, Mr. Darst Repeat Vows In Marion

White gladioli and candelabra holding lighted tapers on either side of the altar lent atmosphere for the Saturday, Aug. 18, wedding of Miss Carole Anne Beckel and Mr. Kenneth E. Darst.

Rev. Robert E. Linter performed the 7:30 p.m. ceremony in Wesley Methodist Church, Marion.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Taylor, 923 Eaton-av. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Darst, 214 Marilla-rd.

The bride's full length gown was of white chantilly lace and tulle, styled with a fitted bodice and long sleeves tapering at the wrists.

The bouffant skirt of layers of tulle was enhanced with panels of lace and featured a looped back forming a bustle effect.

A beaded and lace tiara held her waist length veil. Her only jewelry was a pearl choker, gift of the bridegroom. Her arrangement of white carnations was centered upon a satin covered Bible which had been carried by her maternal grandfather in WWI.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Ruth Bowen, sister of the bride. She wore a dress in fall blue with a matching headdress and carried pink carnations.

Miss Carol Cluff and Mrs. Roxie Adkinson were bridemaids. They wore pink dresses with matching headdresses and carried blue carnations.

Miss Rebecca Bowen, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a dress of fall blue.

Robert E. Darst served as his brother's best man. Ushers were Mr. Robert Beckel, brother of the bride, and Mr. Phillip Meteer.

A reception in the church dining hall followed the ceremony. Hostesses were Mrs. Arlene Lawrence, sister of the bride, Mrs. Martha Taylor, Mrs. Marlene Beckel and Mrs. Joan Darst.

Prior to the wedding showers were given for the bride by her attendants and Mrs. Merlene Beckel.

The new Mrs. Darst is a graduate of Harding High School, Marion, and Ohio State School of Cosmetology. She is employed at M. Robert Beauty Salon, University City Shopping Center.

Mr. Darst was graduated from Hamilton High School and is associated with Obetz Builders and Supply, Obetz.

Following a wedding trip through the northern and northwestern states, the couple will reside at 1701 Oakwood-av.

Carrie Pospichel, Ralph Kitchen Married Aug. 4 At St. Agnes

Palms and ferns centered with candelabra and vases of white asters adorned the altar of St. Agnes Catholic Church for the wedding of Miss Carrie Lynn Pospichel and Mr. Ralph Anthony Kitchen. Fr. Schmidt officiated at the 10:30 a.m. ceremony Aug. 4.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Pospichel, 2668 Bernadette-rd. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph J. Kitchen, 2189 Refugee-rd.

For her marriage, the bride chose a gown fashioned of silk organza over bridal taffeta, designed with a crescent neckline and brief sleeves, completely overlaid with chantilly lace and encrusted with seed pearls.

A moulded bodice accented a bouffant skirt, and motifs of rich lace were repeated completely around the skirt and in wide panels down the chapel train.

The bridal veil of imported silk illusion draped softly from a Swedish crown of delicate lace and seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white asters centered with a white orchid.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Joseph Kitchen and bridesmatrons were Mrs. Joseph Lindsay and Mrs. Daniel Townsend, sisters of the bridegroom.

They were identically gowned in sheaths of organza over taffeta, designed with oval necklines, brief sleeves and fashionline contour overskirts. The honor attendant wore lilac and the bridesmatrons wore orchid.

Matching queens crowns, highlighted with pearl, completed their ensembles. They carried cascade bouquets of shell pink asters.

Mr. Joseph Kitchen, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were Mr. Clarence Pospichel, brother of the bride, Mr. Ronnie Kitchen, brother of the bridegroom, Mr. Joseph Lindsay and Mr. Daniel Townsend.

A reception in the church hall followed the ceremony. Hostesses were Mrs. Larry Bates, sister of the bride, Mrs. Clarence Pospichel and Miss Judy Dehman.

MRS. RALPH ANTHONY KITCHEN

The new Mrs. Kitchen was graduated from West High School and attended Bliss College. She is employed by the State Taxation Department.

Mr. Kitchen was graduated from Marion-Franklin High School and is associated with American Electric Works.

Following a wedding trip through the Smoky Mountains, the couple is residing at 364 S. Chase-av, Apt. B.

White Carnations And Jade Foliage Adorn Altar For Dent-Pennell Rites

Altar vases of white carnations and jade foliage, 14-branched candelabra and frosted emerald trees decorated the altar and chancel of Trinity Episcopal Church for the marriage of Miss Sharon Lynn Dent and Mr. Paul Wesley Pennell.

Rev. Henry Moore of Richmond, Va., assisted by Rev. Harris B. Anthony, performed the double-ring ceremony at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday, Aug. 18.

MRS. PAUL WESLEY PENNELL

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Dent, 201 N. Chase-av. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Pennell, 659 Racine-av.

The new Mrs. Pennell wore for her wedding a gown of silk organza over taffeta. The Sabrina neckline was edged with embroidered iridescents and pearls that cascaded to the hemline.

The belle shaped skirt, caught at the back waist with a self-bow, terminated in a chapel train.

Her veil of illusion was held by a Contessa crown of lace edged in iridescents and pearls. The traditional Alpha Chi Omega wedding star was pinned to her sheath bouquet of Phaelenopsis orchids.

Mrs. Robert L. Martindale served as her sister's matron of honor and Miss Sandra Badgley was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Joy Huffman, Miss Carole Karshner, Miss Marcia Hoare and Miss Betty Stansbury.

They wore floor length sheaths of seakist blue delustered taffeta. The detachable chapel trains of peacock blue were caught at the back waistline with a self-bow.

Matching pill box crowns and sheath bouquets of Rubriuem lillies and polished camellia foliage completed their ensembles. The honor attendants' bouquets were accented with red Garnet sweetheart roses.

Miss Kelly Sue Martindale, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Her full floor length gown was identical in color to the other attendants' and featured a back bow with streamers flowing to the floor.

She wore a Dior bow and carried a basket of summer flowers.

Mr. David L. Pennell, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Guests were seated by Mr. Robert H. Dent and Mr. Daniel D. Dent, brothers of the bride, Mr. Stephen L. Pennell, brother of the bridegroom, Mr. Thomas Waterman, Mr. Charles Wilson, Mr. Roger Murphy and Mr. Larry Siegfried.

A reception at 3761 Hardling-dr followed the ceremony. Hostesses were Mrs. Russell Winnlestaffer, Miss Judy Castle, Miss Beverly Wright, Mrs. David Selby, Mrs. Stephen Guthrie, all of Columbus.

Miss Joan Shultzman of Orrville, Miss Leann Lucas of Dayton, Miss Phyllis Powell of Ada and Miss Peg Brown of Delaware.

The bride was graduated from West High School and Ohio State University where she served as president of Alpha Chi Omega sorority. She is on the teaching staff of Binns Elementary School.

Mr. Pennell is also a graduate of West High School and Ohio State University. He is on the teaching and coaching staff at East High School.

Following a wedding trip to the East Coast, the couple will be at home at 1037 Binns-blvd.

MRS. ROBERT JAMES HADLEY

Gilbert-Hadley Rites Read By Bridegroom's Father

Miss Judith Ellen Gilbert and Mr. Robert James Hadley exchanged marriage vows on Aug. 11 at Grove City Methodist Church. The ceremony was performed by Mr. Robert E. Hadley, father of the bridegroom, assisted by Rev. E. E. Frazer.

Palms and ferns formed the background of the candelabra decorated with white gladioli and red glamellias. A large arrangement of white gladioli and fuji mums centered with a single red glamellia adorned the altar.

The new Mrs. Hadley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Ralph Gilbert, 654 Binns-blvd. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Hadley of Wilmington.

The bride wore an exquisite gown of silk organza over tulle and taffeta, fashioned along princess lines topped with a scooped neckline with jeweled lace. The push-up sleeves were worn elbow length.

The bodice of her gown fastened in the back with tiny self-covered buttons and was enhanced by a full bow just below the waist. The very full skirt was worn over a Dior hoop featuring a fan shaped lace panel extending into a wide chapel train.

Her bouffant veil fell from a crown of crystals and she carried a crescent shaped wedding bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids, enhanced with feathered carnations and blue millinery leaves decorated with tiny white pearls. White maline was folded gently behind the blooms and foliage.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Glenn Stimpfle and bridesmaids were Mrs. James Kauffman, Miss Carolyn Kaiser and Miss Carol Lowden. Miss Susan Smith, niece of the bride was junior bridesmaid and Miss Diane Young, also niece of the bride, was flower girl.

The attendants were identically gowned in Romance Blue silk organza dresses over net taffeta. The basque bodices featured scooped necklines and brief sleeves worn with short white gloves.

The full skirts were worn over crinoline petties and were daytime length. To complete their ensembles they wore Dior bows on their heads and each carried a single red glamellia.

The flower girl spread shattered red carnation petals as she walked down the aisle.

Mr. Gerald Dickey was best man and guests were seated by Mr. David Snapp, Mr. David Binning, Mr. Phillip Carnes and Mr. Richard Gilbert.

A reception was held at the church. Hostesses were Mrs. Richard Smith and Mrs. Denver Young, sisters of the bride, and Mrs. Frederick Ricker. Miss Karen Smith, niece of the bride, was junior hostess.

The bride was graduated from Ohio State University, College of Education. Mr. Hadley is also a graduate of Ohio State University, College of Arts and Sciences, and is attending Harvard Law School.

After a wedding trip to the Caribbean, the couple will reside at 9A Ware-st, Cambridge, Mass.

Race fans, at the Columbus Motor Speedway, are beginning to win as many times, as top feature drivers, Al Smith, of Dayton and Joe King, of Columbus, but the fans are winning in the game of "Total," not on the track.

Friday night, when King took his third-straight feature, 12 fans collected $400 in cash, as they correctly selected the first-five finishers, in order, in the main race.

On Sunday night, Smith won his sixth-straight feature and his eighth of the season and, at the same time, 14 fans were able to beat the raceway's game of "Total," and they divided $100 in cash.

This Friday, there will be $100 in the jackpot for the fans, when the flying-stocks are back for seven-events. On Sunday night, the super-modifieds will return. Time trials, each night, are at 7 p.m. and the first race gets underway at 8 o'clock.

AUBLEGRAPH

BY JOHN AUBLE, JR.
Hartley Sports Editor

Slaughter's In Coaches Seat, All's Right At Capital U.

Doggone if it didn't happen again.

Maybe it's his dominating personality, maybe his overflowing self-confidence, I don't know. I do know, however, that Gene Slaughter — Capital University's second year grid coach—has gathered another hero-worshipper.

It happened to me last year, too, during a football preview press luncheon. Slaughter was new coach at Capital then but you couldn't help but be impressed with this man's style. I figured that it was just because he was new and that it would wear off.

Gene Slaughter

Then, Thursday afternoon, at the same type of golf outing and luncheon, it happened again. If anything, maybe more so this time.

Slaughter, actually, is a hard man to describe. But one thing's sure, there's something about him that is indicative of the fact that he's a worker, a hard worker, and that he can get the job done and done well at Capital University.

His pupils must've got the same impression since last year was one of the shiniest in Cap's football history. This year's pre-season look-see is so optimistic that Slaughter doesn't seem to have any worries now, either.

Emphasis On Local Boys . . .

Slaughter is a firm believer in drawing from local talent. His 1962-63 grid squad is practically entirely composed of Columbus and Franklin County area boys. The boys he's got are good, too, and that isn't bad.

For instance, Jim Makar, the hot-shot footballer from Eastmoor will be in the Cap lineup. He dazzled the high-schoolers there in his fullback slot and Slaughter is expecting big things from him on the collegiate grid-iron, also.

Also from Eastmoor is Larry Gornall. Other top prospects include Whitehall's quarterback Ron Paxson, Linden's end Tom Moore, North's ace Bob Beelman and West Jefferson's Dave Hockenberry.

Slaughter talked at length about a young man from North named Wayne Caulley. The Cap coach figures the 188-pound lad may have been "the best all-around football player in the city" and that's saying a mouth full. He'll be wearing a Capital uniform this season.

"That boy played every position except quarterback and halfback," said Slaughter, "and, he played them well. I saw him play three different positions in a single game."

'Just Solid, man, Solid . . .'

Slaughter used the word "solid" frequently in describing his football fortunes this season. It was "solid on defense" here and "solid in offensive backs" there.

He also applied "solid" to the kicking game outlook.

Tweaty-four returning lettermen should amply back up those "solid" boasts and, if they don't, the incoming freshmen are ready and waiting and able. In all, 28 freshmen were invited out.

Slaughter figures his biggest "unsolid" spot is the offensive line. He only has his center returning and figures he's going to have a problem here.

Defensively, 9 out of the 11 starters last year are back and Slaughter has some good replacements to fill the vacancies.

Opens Up Sept. 29 . . .

The proof of the spouting will come Sept. 29, however, when Capital opens its season in the Ohio Conference with Mt. Union there.

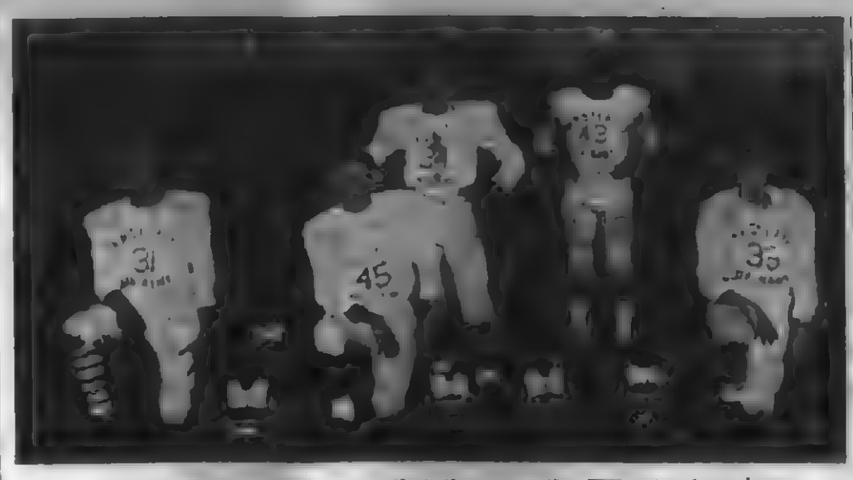
Physicals and equipment handouts will take place Sept. 6.

How will Capital stock up in the Conference? Slaughter sees it this way:

"There will possibly be more good teams in the league now than there were at any other time and there's a couple of good reasons for this.

"One is," he said, "and you can quote me, the fact that schools are no longer ashamed of having good athletes. They're working hard to improve their programs. The other reason is that the schools are hiring the services of good, established coaches. This is far from the pattern 25-30 years ago when there wasn't much of an emphasis put on good grid coaches in the Ohio Conference.

"To show you how the feelings go, our president (Dr. Harold Yockum) said something to the effect of 'If our faculty worked as hard as our coaches, the academic level would rise 1000 per cent'."



Summing up, Slaughter said:

"We have some kids capable of good football and some capable of great football. I'll tell you this, we'll be a handful for any team on any Saturday afternoon."

Somehow you have to believe him.

5 Returnees Holding Key To Ram Season

Replacing missing parts.

This is the situation that faces Jim Snyder, head coach for the West Mound Rams replacing boys from last season.

Twenty -five boys made up the 110 pound team. Snyder lost 20. The five from last season were joined by 30 new prospects last week.

After four seasons under Snyder, the Rams won 21, lost 6 and tied 2.

The team, a member of the Ohio Boys Football Foundation League, National Division for the past two seasons, will open season play on Sept. 23 against Meadow Gold Dairy at Linden.

Snyder, an employee of Ohio Bell Telephone Company, is married and the father of Jay, a two-month old future prospect for the Rams. Mrs. Snyder was the first secretary of the league, a position now held by her husband. The Snyders live at 2750 Rosedale-av.

Assisting Snyder is Bob Van Skoy and Jerry Hollman, line coaches, and John Edington, end coach.

The team is sponsored by the Ram's Booster Club. In addition to the 110 pound team, the club backs a 90-pound or farm system team, coached by Paul Johnson, Dave Sherman and Bob Fox.

Sixty boys are out for this team plus a smaller team that plays on Saturday morning. The Rams, whose home field is Hilltonia Jr. Hi., are looking forward to the big preview game Sept. 15 at Franklin Heights. Both teams (110-90) will be featured along with the other teams in the league.

Remaining season games are:

Sept. 30 — Lockbourne; Oct. 7 — Westgate at home; Oct. 14, Mifflin at home; Oct. 21 — Gahanna at home and Oct. 28 — Beatty at home.

Your Youth

By Hilltop YMCA Staff

The summer program at Hilltop YMCA is rapidly drawing to a close. The regular schedule of Little Nine games was completed last week with the Giants winning the younger boys championship and the Indians grabbing off the top spot in older boys division. Members of the Hilltop "Y" Rangers completed their scheduled activities with a week of special events.

Plans for the Fall program scheduled to get underway with the beginning of the new school year are now being formulated. Building activities will begin on a regular schedule beginning Sept. 17. A list of activities for the Fall and Winter program will be mailed to all members of the "Y" and will also be available at the "Y" office.

A model car show will be held during the "Y" Open House scheduled for Sept. 15-16. The Highwinders Auto Club will sponsor this show which will be open to the public. The two age divisions to be used will be all boys through 15 years of age and those 16 and up. Trophies will be awarded to the top car in each division while second and third place winners will receive models. All entries should be delivered to the "Y" by Sept. 14th.

The next dance at the "Y" will be held Sept. 15 beginning at 8 p.m. This will be held in conjunction with the Open House under the sponsorship if the Hilltop Y's Men. All Jr. and Sr. High School students are invited to attend this special event.

Some of the Indian Guide tribes on the Hilltop will be journeying to Camp Willson the weekend of Sept. 7-9. A new approach will be attempted during this campout as those desiring to arrive at camp on Friday evening will be allowed to do so. In the past these outings did not begin until Saturday noon. Those tribes that did not attend the Spring weekend will be given first choice for accomodations.

'Y' Auto Club To Wash Cars

The Highwinders Auto Club of the Hilltop YMCA will sponsor a car wash Saturday, Aug. 25, at the Hilltop YMCA, 2879 Valleyview-dr. Club members will begin this project at 9 a.m. and will be washing cars until 7 p.m.

Discount tickets are available from club members or at the Hilltop "Y" office. The price without a discount ticket will be $1.25 or $1 with a ticket. All proceeds from this project will be used to carry on club activities.

Bids Opened On Resurfacing Of Route 40

Bids were opened Tuesday on a Rt. 40 resurfacing project in New Rome and Prairie and Franklin townships by the Ohio Department of Highways.

The total of 17 projects is expected to cost an estimated $104,682,254.

The project will start approximately 450 feet west of Hilliard and New Rome-rd and continue to 320 feet east of the west city limits of Columbus.

Heads Demo Voter Drive

Walter F. Heer Sr., chairman, Franklin County Democratic Executive Committee, has announced appointment of James D. Casto to head the registration drive in Franklin County. James Casto lives at 2770 Chester - rd, Upper Arlington. He is a member of the Franklin County Democratic Executive and Central Committees. He is also a member of the Franklin County Democratic Policy Committee.

In addition to the Democratic Ward and Township Committeemen volunteers will be recruited through the Democratic Club.

AUG. 27-30

114 Still Eligible In State Fair Trot

With but a week remaining before the Ohio State Fair harness racing program, Aug. 27-30, 341 Ohio owned or bred trotters and pacers remain eligible for the four big "colt" stakes events, expected to be worth more than $100,000, in total.

The Ohio State Trot, for two-year-olds, tops the list with 114 still remaining eligible. Owners of these juveniles already have paid $100 for each eligible, and face an additional $100 starting fee before post time, Monday, Aug. 27.

Another event for two-year-olds, the Buckeye State Pace, slated for competition on Tuesday, Aug. 28 has 102 still on the list, Wednesday's Director of Agriculture Pace, and Thursday's Governor's Cup Trot, both for three-year-old competitors, have 64 and 61 possible starters. Each event calls for the $100 starting fee in addition to the $100 in nominating and sustaining fees already paid.

It is the advance payments, made earlier in the year, plus the starting fees paid by those owners who actually send their colts to the post, which swell the purses for the four "colt" races to gigantic proportions.

In effect, owners race for their own money as nearly 50 per cent of each purse is accumulated through these payments, plus the $15,000 base for each race, derived from the Ohio tax on pari-mutuel wagering, as prescribed in the Ohio Fair Funds Law.

Police Ordered To Tighten Area Traffic Rules

Police Chief George Scholer has announced increased enforcement on changing course and stop sign violations on Broad and Mound-sts between 4 and 8 p.m.

He has also branded the Spring-Sandusky Interchange as a high accident intersection. The "cloverleaf" was the scene of five accidents during the period Aug. 1 through

Jets Begin Final Trip NextFriday

The defending champion Columbus Jets, currently in a three-way battle for fourth place in the International League with Buffalo and Atlanta, make their final road trip of the regular season starting Friday, Aug. 24.

It's a crucial 13 games in 10 days on the southern swing. First stop for the Jets will be in Jacksonville, Fla. against the high flying first place Suns.

The Jets meet the league leaders in three straight doubleheaders—Aug. 24, 25, 26, the first two are twi-night twin bills and the Aug. 26 date is a Sunday afternoon bargain bill.

The Jets have won four games from Jacksonville, all at Jet Stadium in a row, and have lost all five played in the Florida city.

Following the six game set in Jacksonville the Jets move on to Atlanta for three single games on Aug. 27-28-29.

The Jets have won eight and lost eight against the Crackers this season. The Jets are 4-4 both at Jet Stadium and at Ponce de Leon Park against the Crackers.

The Jets then complete their final road trip with four single games in Richmond on Aug. 30-31, Sept.1-2.

Prior to their final visit to Jet Stadium the Richmond Vees had split in 14 games with the Jets. The Vees had won four and lost three at Jet Stadium while winning three and losing four at Parker Field.

The Jets will be back home on Labor Day for a big twi-night doubleheader with Jacksonville starting at 4:30 p.m. The Jets also have doubleheaders with Jacksonville on Sept. 4-5 and a single night game on Sept. 6 — Sandy's Drive-In Night. Some lucky individual will win a Florida vacation for four people that night.

The Jets then end the season against Atlanta with single night games on Sept. 7-8 and a single Sunday afternoon game on Sept. 9.

Greater Columbus Loop Being Readied

Dave Keller, Greater Columbus Intermediate Football League organizer, outlined plans for the first year of the loop's operaton scheduled to start in September.

Any club or organization wishing to enter a team in the league should contact Keller at BR. 4-9022.

The first meeting to organize things and select officers will be held at the Moose Lodge, No. 11, located at 36 Sycamore-st, on Monday, Aug. 27, at 8 p.m.

There is also a need for a few more boys between the ages of 13 to 15 and weighing from 120 to 145 pounds. Any boy meeting these requirements and wishing to play should also contact Keller.

Each team will be required to furnish its own equipment.

A sponsor may be used to help pay for the necessary items. To defray expenses, a small entry fee will be required.

$20,000 Collision Flames Near West Jefferson

A tractor-trailer and a pick-up truck hauling a house trailer burst into flames after a collision on Rt. 40, 10 miles west of West Jefferson, Sunday. Damage was estimated at $20,000. The drivers were only slightly injured.

Highway Patrolman Tom Lombardo gave this account of the accident: Roy G. Roberts, 26, of Bradenton, Fla., and Joe Coleman, 64, Tallahassee, Fla., both employes of the Gooding Amusement Co., were driving pickup trucks hauling house trailers east on Rt. 40.

Roberts pulled to the side of the road to let Coleman pass him.

A tractor-trailer driven by Terry J. Clonce, 24, of Roachdale, Ind., hit Coleman's trailer, demolishing it. The tractor-trailer stopped on top of Colemen's pickup truck. The crash ignited 200 gallons of gasoline in the house trailer.

Clonce broke out a window of his tractor to escape. He and Roberts pulled Coleman from the wreckage of the pickup truck.

West Jefferson Council 'Does Nothing . . .'

West Jefferson Village Council "did nothing" Monday night, according to Clerk Bob Irwin.

"Nothing" included paying the bills and a short discussion of traffic safety devices, resulting in no action.

Irwin said the meeting lasted only about one-half hour, and promised a full schedule for the next meeting, Sept. 10.

Bearcat Boys Follow 'Red' In Fair Show

By JOHN AUBLE, JR., Hartley Sports Editor

The Ohio Bearcat Football Foundation will be put to what is expected to be its biggest test Friday, Aug. 24, during the opening day of the Ohio State Fair and Exposition.

Not only will two league teams square off in an exhibition game before the largest crowd to ever witness a little guy grid game but the boys are following a tough act—Red Skelton.

Keeping the attention of some 10,000 fans that have been laughed weak by Skelton's material might be quite a task, but the Bearcat boys are eager to accept the challenge.

The whole bit is that Skelton goes on at 2 p.m. in the grandstand along with lovely Tina Robin. After that show—which should be a gas, incidentally — the Bearcat boys' will take the field. You can see now that there'll be two shows for the single Skelton admission price.

Since the Bearcat exhibition is free, however, you don't have to see Skelton. The grandstand gates will open up at 4:30 p.m. and fairgoers will get a chance to see the first time football has ever been offered at the Ohio Exposition.

Two teams have been singled out of the Bearcat Foundation to meet in this game. Namely, the 1961 defending champion Maryland AC team (coached by Bob Rand) will meet the West Side Pirates under the tutorship of Coach Glen Carr.

Probable starting lineup for the Maryland team is:

Paul Carmichael, Ralph Ghee, Calvin Sowell, McKinley Mitchell, Harold Belcher, Danny Hayes, Claude Grant, Gregory Caldwell, Harry Bass, Sam Parker and Wayne Meeks.

Others on the Maryland exhibition squad are Terry Guice, Donald Greathouse, Gregory Reeves, Anthony Coleman, Walter Meeks, Wayne Smith, Jessie Scott, Percell Williams, Hugh Coles, Alden Coleman, Charles Watson, Michael Wiley, Clyde Covington, Deylyn McCampbell, Ernest Osborne, Phillip Starks, William Allen, Ralph Young and Michael Bailey.

Probable starters for the West Side Pirates include:

Darnell Thomas, George Writesel, Ned Martin, John Metzler, Dave Henson, Terry Lynch, James Roberts, Jim Bell, Keith Edwards, Jim Gustin and Wayne Redmon.

Others are Jonny Bussard, Steve Levitt, Ronnie Carter, Ronnie Parker, Butch Bond, Albert Link, Dana Noble, Ricky Ewing, Paul Briggs, Harold Frasure, Tom Reynolds, Louis Clay, Mike Herrell, Mc McGlaughlin, Daryl Moore, John Francis, John Arnett, Joe Marchi and Jim Lucas.

A Sea Scout troop, sponsored by Eastern Civitan, will also get into the act and will supervise the distribution of programs during the afternoon. The attractive rosters feature a picture of Skelton in his "Freddy-The-Freeloader" get-up behind a huge football. That's a souvenir right there.

And, just to keep reactionary groups from writing letters about the inhumaness of little tikes playing football, the Bearcat Association will have two medical supervisors (complete with white coats and black bags) standing by on the playing field. The Ben Casey crew will come from Doctors Hospital, according to a Bearcat spokesman.

The game is mostly made possible by Rowland Bishop, general manager of the exposition, and Jeff Kierns, Youth Day chairman.

GIANTS, INDIANS WIN LITTLE NINE CROWNS

The Indians, under the coaching of Mike Carney and Pete Krull swept through ten opponents to go undefeated in league play. In their last two games they beat the Senators, 8-2 and the White Sox, 11-1. Steve Hedges and Jeff McDorman both pitched and batted their team to fine victories.

Meanwhile, in the younger division, the Giants, coached by Dave and Dan Walker, slipped past the Cardinals with the aid of the last place Dodgers. The Dodgers knocked off the Cardinals on a close 4-3 game in which the winning run was walked across in the bottom of the 6th.

Dog Exhibit Set At State Fair

Members of the Central Ohio Kennel Club will be among the exhibitors at the all-breed dog exhibit at the Ohio State Fair, Aug. 24 through Sept. 3.

Area residents who will participate as members of the Central Ohio Kennel Club include Mrs. George Beichler, Rt. 2, Baltimore, who will exhibit both Pekingese and Pomeranians, and Mrs. Leonard Frantz, 3315 Noe-Bixby-rd, with Poodles and an Irish Setter.

Mrs. Nancy Logan, Rt. 1, Caroll, will show her German Shepherds on Aug. 24 and Sept. 2 as an independent exhibitor.

Saturday, Aug. 25, has been reserved as Central Ohio Kennel Club day at the dog exhibit, with all dogs shown on this date belonging either to Central Ohio Kennel Club members or to independent owners.

The all-breed dog exhibit is planned to present as wide a variety of breeds as possible, as well as to give information on dog care and training through frequent demonstrations in obedience and in grooming.

Under the sponsorship of the Columbus Collie Club, the all-breed dog exhibit is in its fourth year at the Ohio State Fair.

CULMINATION OF A YEAR OF KINDLY CARE

ATTENDING THE DEDICATION

BEEN UP IN THE CLOUDS LATELY?

MEANDERING AROUND the Franklin County Fairgrounds with a camera can net few pictures such as the ones above. In the top picture two youngsters from Cincinnati enjoy a merry-go-round ride. The only comment they had to make was, "We're visiting grandma. My name is Jeffy, her name is Susan." In the next picture, left to right, with the Junior Fair Grand Champion Steer, are Dale King and Barbara Wildermuth, Fair King and Queen! Daryl Montgomery, son of Clyde Montgomery, owner of the M and M Restaurant in Hilliard and purchaser of the steer; Gary Johnston, former owner of the Grand Champion, and Fred Wells, son-in-law of Clyde. The champ sold for 58 cents per pound. In the next picture, attending the dedication of the new Commercial Display Building, are, left to right, Ray Dellinger, Fair Board president; Clay Egner, [illegible] editor of a local TV station; Eldon Brown, County Commissioner; Carl Crandall, Fair Board secretary; Glen Myers, County Commissioner; Robert Terhune, State Director Agriculture, and Henry Koontz, County Commissioner. In the bottom picture Patty Hartley of 1379 Wilson-rd, and Bill Jones of 5949 Timberbrook-ln get "up in the air" about things on the ferris wheel. Hidden between Patty and Bill is Kathy Hartley, age 6.

County's First Fair Held 111 Years Ago

Sullivant's Grove near Franklinton was the scene of the first Franklin County Fair, held in October, 1851 by the newly-organized Franklin County Agricultural Society.

The society had been formed at City Hall on Sept. 6, just two months before the first fair.

Under an act passed by Ohio Legislature in 1846, designed to encourage county fairs, the organization received $200 from the county treasurer.

The Agriculture Society's 339 members contributed $339, and the sale of admission tickets increased the sum Fair Board managers had to spend to $598.50.

The board's profit that first year, after premiums and expenses amounted to $269.14.

Following the first year's success, Fair Board managers purchased in July, eight acres near Alum Creek, and the following October the second Franklin County Fair was held on their own grounds.

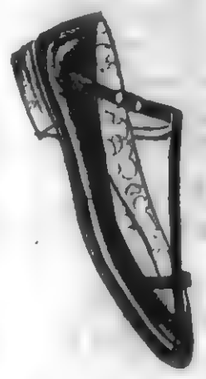
Among those most active in the Fair Society were Michael L. Sullivant, Samuel Mediary, William Dennison, David Taylor, Samuel Brush, G. M. Peters, William L. Miner, Piney Curtis, Joseph O'Harra, W. H. Rarey, Jacob Slyh, Robert Hume, Benjamin Blake, E. F. Jennings, Lucien Buttles, J. W. Baldwin, Moses Seymour and C. W. Speaks.

Michael L. Sullivant, second son of Lucas Sullivant, founder of Franklinton, and his wife, Sarah, was one of the original organizers of the Agricultural Society and served as president of the Fair Board for several years.

First Pilgram Holds Special Services

Dedication and anniversary service will be held at First Pilgrim Church, 60 S. Cypress-av, on Aug. 26. Rev. W. V. Gilkerson, pastor, will direct the opening Door Service and Dr. O. M. Awe will bring the dedicatorial message and the rite of dedication.

Sunday School Door Opening Service will begin at 9:20 a.m. and the Dedication Service at 10:30 a.m.



The congregation was organized Aug. 30, 1920.

These services will climax an expansion program over the past few months. Work completed includes new sidewalks, aluminum entrance, enlarged vestibule, three new Sunday school rooms with tile floors, bulletin board with matching bricks and stone, and modern equipped pastor's study.

Columbus Urban League Enlists Whole Community

By CHESTER JONES

The program of the Columbus Urban League is one aimed at community-wide adult education, using the methods of professional social work including fact-finding and planning.

The Urban League movement was initiated nationally 50 years ago out of concern for the adjustment of predominantly rural Negroes moving into the urban communities of the North. The problems of family breakdown, the lack of adequate employment and housing opportunities and the providing of incentives for obtaining adequate education are still the problems with which the Urban League is concerned today. The resources of the total community are enlisted to help solve the problems of the minority groups.

COUNCIL FORMED

One of the programs of the Urban League emphasizing adult education has been the formation of the Near East Side Area Council (NESAC). This council was formed as a response to the need to interest adults in a voluntary association to help correct neghborhood conditions, to have more voice in community programs affecting the area such as Urban Renewal and Expressway programs, and to help develop local leadership. The community is helped through such a program to define problems and needs, determine solutions and formulate and implement a plan of action.

A neighborhood clean-up campaign was one of the first projects initiated and was tremendously successful. It left the area more aware of its own needs and also increased community awareness of the area potential for solving problems.

One of the long-term goals of the Council is the discovery and development of volunteer leadership. Another is the development of a feeling of community pride and spirit. A third objective has been the involvement of neighbors in various courses of action leading to improved housing conditions. A fourth goal is to develop a working relationship with city government in its planning activities so that better understanding and cooperation between segments of the community can be developed.

DROP-OUT PROBLEM

The school drop-out problem and resulting unemployment is another crucial area in which the Urban League works to educate the general public. During the period 1954-1961, 41. per cent of the school population dropped out of school. Many of these are Negro youngsters whose potential is thus lost to the future community.

The TST (Tomorrow's Scientist and Technicians) clubs, started in area high schools by the Urban League, have been one attempt to meet this problem. Aimed at stimulating youngsters into studying for scientific fields it also hopes to make parents and other adults aware of the possibilities opening to the educated person.

"You Can Be There," a 15 minute color slide film produced by the Urban League, shows interracial work scenes in Columbus in scientific and technical occupations. Designed to motivate both students and parents it has been seen by some 3,000 people in the Columbus area.

HOUSING THEME

The Urban League Guild Workshops on housing represent another approach to community adult education. Such themes as neighborhood conservation, enforcement of housing codes, housing legislation and the community, the housing problems of the aged, and experiences in integrated housing have been explored in the past three years by speakers and panels.

In today's society the strength of any community lies in the strength of its individual citizens. The problems of all minorities become the problems and concerns of the community as a whole. As a planning agency the Urban League feels it is promoting the health and strength of our democratic way of life through community education.

The fastest speed at which a man has ever traveled under his own power was about 75 miles an hour, by bicycle.

4000 Adult Registrants To Enroll In Columbus Public School Classes

During the course of the last half century, thousands of Columbus and Franklin County men and women have taken advantage of the adult education opportunities offered by the Columbus Public Schools.

This fall, more than 4000 persons seeking to enrich their lives, to complete requirements for a diploma, or to attain greater proficiency in a technical skill will enroll in one of the Columbus Public Schools' programs.

To meet the educational needs of these people during the 1962-63 school year, the school system again will staff and operate Evening High School in the Central High building, Evening School at Champion Junior High, Adult Vacational Trade Extension Classes, Adult Vocational Apprentice Programs, and the Practical Nurse School of Columbus and Franklin County.

FULLY ACCREDITED

Columbus Evening High School is a fully accredited four-year high school offering more than 50 regular high school courses and numerous special courses for which more than 15 persons register. Anyone 18 years of age or older may enroll at a nominal fee for a minimum of three and a maximum of 12 class periods of work per week. Anyone 16 or 17 years of age may be admitted after obtaining a full-time working permit.

Most classes meet one period on each of three evenings Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday. These evenings are divided into four periods, starting at 5:45 p.m. and extending to 10 p.m. A few classes meet for three consecutive periods on either Monday or Wednesday.

Registration for the first semester of the 1962-63 school year will take place at Central High between 7 and 9 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 6, and Monday, Sept. 10. Second semester registration dates are Thursday, Jan. 24, and Monday, Jan. 28. Evening High classes will begin Sept. 10.

SAME REQUIREMENTS

Champion Evening School, 1270 Hawthorne-av, will open its doors to adults the same night. Its 14-week program will offer instruction in elementary-school work through the eighth grade and in special-interest areas such as typing, shorthand, sewing, mathematics, vocal music, and art. Classes will be held from 6 to 9 on Monday and Wednesday evening. Entrance requirements are the same as those at Evening High School.

Early registration for the Champion Evening School will take place from 6 to 9 p.m. on Wednesday, Sept. 5, and Friday, Sept. 7, at the school.

Adult Vocational Trade Extension classes are provided for employed adults who wish to increase their skills and knowledge in their chosen occupations. Entrance requirements match those for Evening High School. In addition, the student must be employed or have had experience in the occupation in which he is taking instruction.

ARC WELDING CLASS

First semester Trade Extension classes will include arc welding, blueprint reading and sketching, electrical theory, Electronics I, Electronics III, hydrolics, machine shop, Refrigeration Theory I. Shop Mathematics I, and Technical Illustration I. During the second semester, arc welding, electric motor repair and rewinding, Electronics II, machine shop, Refrigeration Theory II, Shop Mathematics II, and Technical Illustration II will be offered.

Fall registration for Trade Extension classes will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. on Sept. 12, and classes will begin Sept. 17. Second-semester dates are Jan. 16 for registration and Jan. 21 for the first classes.

Adult Vocation Apprentice Programs are organized by the Columbus Public Schools at the request of the Joint Apprenticeship Committee of each trade. Participants receive a minimum of 144 clock hours of instruction related to the trades or industrial occupations in which they are employed.

APPRENTICE RULES

To participate in this program, an apprentice must be registered with the Ohio Apprentice Council or the Apprentice Training Service and must be indentured to an employer on a contractual basis.

Young women between the ages of 18 and 50 may enroll in the Columbus Public Schools-operated Practical Nurse School of Columbus and Franklin County. This one-year course gives students 17 weeks of pre-clinical training and 35 weeks of clinical training at affiliating hospitals.

During the pre-clinical training period, students study nursing principles, hospital practice, body structure and functions, conditions of illness, personal and community health, human behavior and working relationships, nutrition and family living.

Applicants between the ages of 18 and 25 must have a high school diploma; those between 26 and 50 must have completed 10 years of school or the equivalent.

WRITE FOR DETAILS

The next two classes at the Practical Nurse School will begin Sept. 10, 1962, and Jan. 28, 1963. Applications are now being taken at the school. Additional information is available by writing Miss Elizabeth Gurney, Practical Nurse School of Columbus and Franklin County, 1485 W. Fifth-av, Columbus 12; or by calling the school office, HU. 6-0455.

In addition to the programs mentioned, the Columbus Public Schools also offer Americanization Classes for aliens wishing to prepare for citizenship examinations. Classes are continuous and students may enroll at any time at the Evening High School office at Central High.

For further information about the Evening High School or Americanization classes, interested persons should call Principal G. B. Newton (CA. 4-3243); for information about Champion Evening School, Mr. James Wade CL. 2-9615); for information about Adult Vocation Trade Extension Classes, Mr. R. O. Knight CA. 8-3821, Ext. 285).

Human Relations Anti-Defamation League Field

The Anti-Defamation League was organized in 1913 by B'nai B'rith, America's largest and oldest Jewish fraternal order, to cope with the then prevalent pattern of anti-Semitic stereotypes on the comedy stage of vaudeville.

In the half-century since its inception, ADL has broadened its scope and approach into a multi-faceted program of human relations and inter-religious education. The league maintains 25 regional offices throughout the United States.

The Ohio-Kentucky office is located in Columbus, maintaining several services for the use of organizations in this community. Adult organizations in Columbus are invited to avail themselves of the following ADL services:

Audio-Visual Library — A total of over 100 titles of films, firmstrips and recordings on human relations subjects is available for loan with only a nominal charge for postage and handling, to all interested groups. Requests for materials should be submitted at least two weeks prior to desired date of showing to insure availability.

Publications Library — The ADL publishes over 100 books and pamphlets on the subject of human relations. A complete line of materials is stocked in the Columbus office to service requests, from the immediate area, for such materials, promptly. Some of the authors of ADL's publications are Gordon Allport, the Overstreets, William O. Douglas, Ashley Montague, Charles P. Taft and John F. Kennedy.

Speakers—At no cost to interested groups, the ADL provides qualified speakers either to accompany a film, or independently, on human relations or inter-religious subjects. Especially recommended is the "Rumor Clinic," an audience participation program dealing with the subject of rumor and how it is transmitted.

In addition to these year-round services, the ADL, in cooperation with three other volunteer agencies, has, since 1958, been co-sponsor of an annual five-day Institute on Human Relations. The Institute, held under the auspices of the College of Education and the School of Social Work at Ohio State University, invites the attendance of interested individuals from the field of education, social work, public service, industry and labor. Institute scholarships are available through B'nai B'rith and other sponsors.

Inquiries regarding ADL's Adult Education service and Institute on Human Relations are invited. Complete listings of the league's resources and information on speaker services may be obtained by writing to:

RAINDROPS SQUELCH POSE

A STRONG WIND and a few drops of cold rain produced a loud squeal from Karen Ann Butt of Johnstown just before she ran for shelter after posing in a corn field to promote the Millersport Lions 16th Annual Sweetcorn Festival, Aug. 30, 31, and Sept. 1. Karen is the 1961 festival queen and she will relinquish her crown Friday evening, Aug. 31, to her successor who will be chosen from one of 12 entries from Fairfield, Licking and Perry counties.

Furniture Needed At Goodwill

Furniture and appliances which are usable, or can be made so, are needed at Goodwill Industries, according to Rev. George Morey Evans, executive director.

Twenty - two handicapped men and women employed in the furniture and appliances repair department are threatened with lay-off or shorter hours unless more goods come in at once, Evans said.

Goodwill's materials are used clothing, appliances, furniture, books, toys and other discards from homes and business. Handicapped workers recondition the donated goods and re-sell them.

"Clothing and other items are holding up fairly well," Evans said. He indicated that furniture and appliances are expected to net 45 percent of the store receipts each week.

This United Appeal agency operates three general stores in Columbus, located at 1514 Cleveland-av, 2793 W. Broad-st and 1958 Parsons-av, and a Gift and Antique Shop at 909 W. 5th-av.

The number to call for pick-ups of large items is 294-5181.

Any usable discards such as toys, clothing or small household items can be placed in the Goodwill Industries Collection Booths.

Booths in the Hartley Newspaper areas are: Central Point Shopping Center at Central and Mound; Great Eastern Shopping Center, northeast corner; Great Southern Shopping Center, beside Krogers; Great Western, Wilson-rd and W. Broad-st; Grove City, Broadway and Park, beside Standard Oil Co.; Hilliard, by Big Bear Store; James and Livingston, on Kroger lot; Reynoldsburg, Shopping Center, entering Reynoldsburg on Main-st; Town and Country, east of Robinwood, facing Broad-st; West Broad, back of Big Bear Store.

Skin Diving Ban In State Waters Will Continue

The ban on skin diving or using any type of self-contained underwater breathing apparatus in any water area owned by the Division of Wildlife, put into effect Dec. 1, 1961, will not be lifted. This was assured at the August meeting of the Wildlife Council, the division's policy-making body, when the members tabled a request to permit skin diving.

Attorney John A. Weedon, Columbus, representing the Underwater Society of America, made the request. This same ban is in effect in all waters controlled by the Ohio Division of Parks. Swimming, however, is permitted in state parks when lifeguards are on duty.

When the ban was first announced, one of the reasons cited in a committee report to the council was a safety factor. It was stated that many of the lakes had submerged brush piles, fences, snags and foundations and there would be an absence of lifeguards. Ordinary swimming has never been permitted in Division of Wildlife waters.

Veterans Of 37th To Hold Reunion At Nationwide

Veterans of Ohio's 37th Infantry "Buckeye" Division during WWI, II and Korean Conflict are invited to attend the division's 44th annual reunion to be held at Nationwide Inn 4140 W. Broad-st, Aug. 31 through Sept. 2.

Col. Chester W. Wolfe, reunion chairman said there will be open house Friday from 8 p.m. to 10 p.m. for all registered veterans. Saturday another open house will be followed by a dance in the main ballroom; admission will be the veteran's registration badge.

Sunday, memorial services will be held at 11 a.m. with music by the 37th Division ONG Band, with business meetings at 2 p.m.; banquet in the main ballroom at 7 p.m.

Mrs. Dennis A. Langerman, ladies chairman, announced that all wives, mothers and daughters of the 37th Division veterans are invited to attend.

Members of the local Camp Shelby WWII Chapter of the 37th Divisions Veterans Association and their ladies, are hosting the reunion.

New Pipeline Being Built

A pipeline replacement project has been started by Ohio Fuel Gas Co. The three and one-half miles of new pipeline which is 18 inches in diameter is being laid to replace five sections of existing Ohio Fuel line that delivers natural gas to Selma, London, West Jefferson, New Rome and Columbus.

The project will cost $253,500. Work is scheduled to be completed about Sept. 1.

Nearly 70 percent of the total U.S. water supply is lost through evaporation and transpiration by plants.

HIGHLIGHTS SESQUICENTENNIAL YEAR

11-Day State Fair To Open Friday With Many Attractions

Ohio's State Fair opens Friday at 8 a.m. for an 11-day period that promises to be one of the highlights of Columbus Sesquicentennial year.

A festive mood is expected to prevail as Columbus prepares to host thousands of out-state visitors to the annual show at the Ohio Exposition Center.

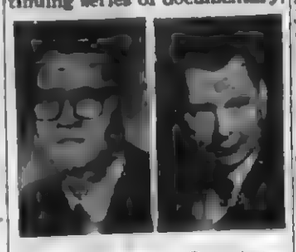
It will feature interesting science and industrial exhibits as well as top-notch agricultural displays and competitions.

"Fairgoers won't be able to see the fair in one visit, and the diversification of the Ohio State Fair makes it necessary for at least three different visits to see all that is being offered," said Rowland Bishop, general manager of the Ohio Expositions Commission.

"Junior Division competition will dominate the first four days and the open division's different classes of competition reach a peak during the middle four days while the Western Horse Show and science exhibits highlight the Labor Day weekend. Entertainment also will be completely different during the three periods."

The Ohio Expositions Commission, in its first year after taking over the reins from the Department of Agriculture, has done a great deal toward lining up a "new look" for the 1962 State Fair. The fair was extended to 11 days, the longest run in its history; games of chance were barred from the midway, and the practice of issuing thousands of free passes to the fair was discontinued.

Some of the highlights will include the biggest sheep show in the world, one of the nation's outstanding cattle shows, the most complete horse show in the midwest, the world's first and largest Junior Fair, largest purse in Ohio State Fair harness racing history, the largest collection of industrial exhibits ever and the fair's first junior science exhibit.



Some of the nation's top talent has been booked for fair appearances. Comedian Red Skelton will be on hand with vocalist Tina Robin during the first four days while an auto thrill show, a 7-Star Jubilee of Grand Ole Opry favorites and World Championship Wrestling fill the entertainment bill the next few days. Lorne Greene and Dan Blocker, stars of television's number one show, "Bonanza," will appear over the Labor Day weekend with the Tom Steiner Rodeo.

A four-day harness racing program, which annually attracts some of the top racing stables in the nation, will have more money and horses than ever before competing for more than $100,000 prize money. The four feature races during the Aug. 27-30 meet are worth between $25,000 and $30,000 each.

WRFD Radio Widens News Programs

Dave Hess, former Hartley newspaper editor, has been added to the staff of WRFD as a reporter and research editor, Since 1959, he has been affiliated with Nationwide Insurance Co. in the news bureau.

WRFD began Aug. 20 a continuing series of documentary, depth news, and editorial opinion programs.

Hess Compton

According to Herbert E. Evans, president of Peoples Broadcasting Corporation, with which WRFD is affiliated, "the staff will also develop documentary programs on controversial subjects, airing all sides of major issues in the nation, Ohio, and the local area."

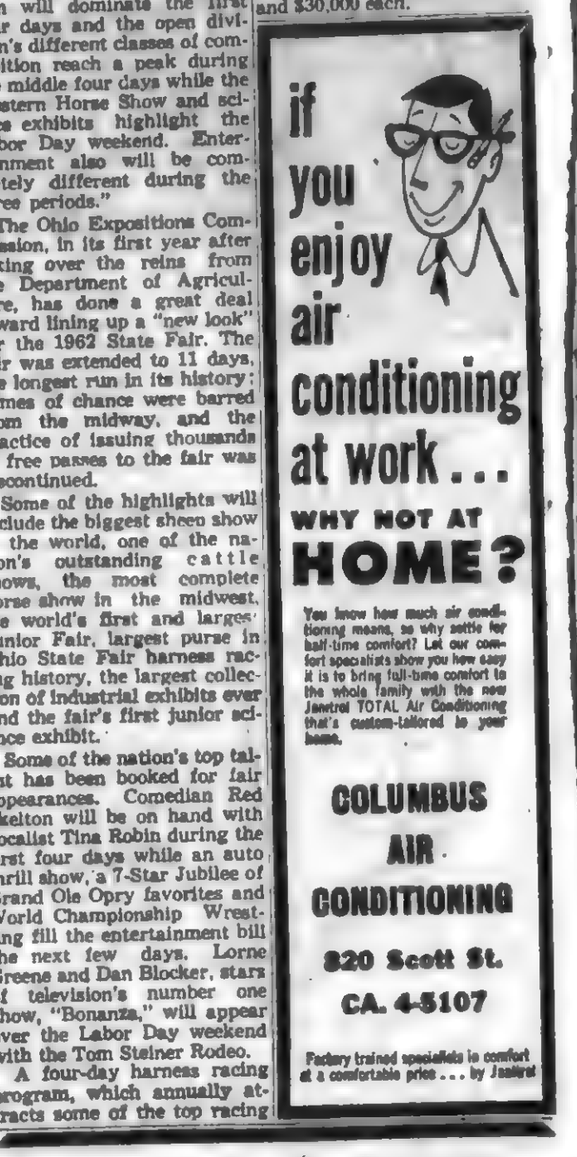
Richard Compton, former news director of KVTV television in Sioux City, Iowa, has been appointed director of news and public affairs. He has traveled extensively in the Middle East, France and Central America in connection with his news gathering.

Others on the expanded news and public affairs unit include Bill Arthurs, senior news editor, and Dave Collins, assistant news editor.

Truck, Bus Tax Due In By Aug. 31

Federal highway use tax applicable to trucks and buses is due Aug. 31, according to the Internal Revenue Service. Revenues collected go to help finance the interstate highway building program.

Tax Forms 2290 were mailed in June to those who filed highway tax returns last year. Copies of this form, as well as a helpful booklet on the tax, Publication No. 349, can be obtained from local Revenue offices and from state motor bureau agencies.



Tax returns for the year beginning July 1, 1962 must be filed by Aug. 31, 1962 for every taxable vehicle in highway use in July of this year. The tax may be paid in quarterly installments Aug. 31, Dec. 31, Mar. 31 and June 30.

Cost of living is rising faster in Europe than in the U.S., say OSU Extension economists. The rise in the U.S. the last 12 months was 1.2 per cent. Denmark, Britain, Norway, and France had increases between 5 and 5.9 per cent.

Beulah Park Racing Nears

Thoroughbred racing resumes its spot in the sports picture in the Columbus area beginning Monday, Sept. 3, when Beulah Parks starts a 41-day autumn meeting.

Applications for stalls indicate that the track will be well supplied with horses, the majority coming from River Downs, Ellis Park and Waterford.

The Ohio Championship, which will be run for the 18th time, will be the top feature of the fall season. It is scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 22, and as usual will be contested at the mile and a sixteenth distance. The race carries $16,000 in added money.

Space Age Hasn't Affected Him

Tarzan Still Jungle King

The Russians may be orbiting the earth in space capsules but Tarzan is still swinging from a vine; and what's more, the American public continues to pay to see him do it.

The Apeman first appeared on the movie screen in 1918, an adaptation of the legendary character created by Edgar Rice Burroughs. Since that date, Tarzan has not changed so much as his loincloth to conform to the civilized world.

What is the lasting [illegible] of this jungle hero who is as out of place in the space age as elephants on the moon? "It is the basic honesty, the basic simplicity in Tarzan that still appeals," stated Jock Mahoney, who becomes the 13th King of the Jungle in the latest adventure "Tarzan Goes to India." Mahoney was in Columbus in connection with the opening of the movie here.

Despite his new, more sophisticated adventures in India, the basic character of Tarzan remains the same; his battle is still against the beast and against the jungle.

One significant change in the current Indian adventure, however, is the absence of Jane, Tarzan's former jungle playmate. The romantic interest in this movie has been shifted to an Indian princess. Tarzan is left to deal with the wild elephants, whom Mahoney claims "steals the show anyway."

For the picture, Mahoney, a former Hollywood stunt man, had to learn to ride an elephant. The 6'4" actor's comment: "One of the most darned exciting things I've done. It took three months to master it."

"Tarzan Goes to India" was filmed in the Mysore province in India where Tarzan tackles a Bengal tiger, a cobra, [illegible], and leads a pack of 500 charging elephants (Mahoney disclosed that firecrackers were set off to scare the elephants into moving fast enough.)

The adventure story is currently playing in Cinemascope and technicolor at the Eastern, Markham, Clinton, Boulevard, and Cameo Theaters and the 17th, National, South and Airport-Drive-Ins.

THE ONLY WILD animal present at the press luncheon for Tarzan was the ice panther carved from a 300-pound block of ice by the Ohio State Inn chef.

Horton and 'Oklahoma' ... Happy Combination At Vets

Robert Horton, star of the current Kenley production of "Oklahoma," took a break during the Monday night rehearsal to talk about one of his favorite subjects—musical theater with a serious book. He puts "Oklahoma" close to the top in his choice of plays that fall into this category.

"It's amazing how good the book is—it's so true. When a play is mediocre, you notice the holes the more you play it. "Oklahoma" wears well. After three weeks of playing it, it becomes more of a pleasure each time. It's a solid play."

And we might add, the Kenley production of "Oklahoma" is a solid hit. The songs are reason enough to see the show. "Oh, What a Beautiful Morning," "I'm Just a Girl Who Can't Say No," and "The Surrey With the Fringe on Top" are a sampling of the already familiar tunes. There are some shows that are a pleasure to see for the first or the 14th time, and "Oklahoma" is one of them. The Kenley cast has outdone themselves on choreography, sets, and a performance of pure delight.

Horton, who has traded in his two guns for some singing roles, has previously done "Pajama Game," "Brigadoon" and "Guys and Dolls." He would like to continue the musical trend. His choice for the best wedding of book and music is "Carousel," a play he would like to do as well as "Kiss Me Kate" and "when I'm older — "Kismet."

Next on Horton's schedule is the series of 10 shows he will do for NBC this fall which promises him a varied season.

Summer Theaters' Playbitts

Kenley Players: Robert Horton starring in "Oklahoma" nightly at 8:30 through Aug. 26. Opening Aug. 28, "Flower Drum Song," with Juanita Hall, Ramon Navarro.

Stars Line Up Begins In Fall

"Fall Festival of Stars," the line up of entertainment sponsored by the Ben Cowall Promotions, will begin its series of attractions Sept. 30 with Mahalia Jackson at Veterans Memorial. The famed gospel singer will appear under the auspices of St. Philip's Episcopal Church; she has played to capacity houses in every appearance at Carnegie Hall.

On Wednesday, Oct. 3, Ray Charles and his band will give a concert at Vets Memorial; following, on October 19 will be pianist Liberace who has been receiving rave reviews for his night club act across the country.

The Limelighters, American folk singers, are scheduled for Vets Memorial Saturday, Oct. 20. For nine days beginning Tuesday, Oct. 23, at the Ohio State Fairgrounds [illegible], the widely anticipated "Holiday on Ice of 1963" will offer stars from this country and Europe.

Closing the "Fall Festival of Stars" will be the appearance of the clowns of the basketball court, "The Harlem Globetrotters."

Tickets for all Ben Cowall attractions will be on sale at Central Ticket Office, 46 N. High-st.

Antioch College Features Operas

The sixth annual music series at Antioch College will feature three performances of "L'Enfant Prodigue" by Debussy and Donizetti's "Il Campanello" by the Turnau Opera Players during the week-end of August 24-25.

On Aug. 31, Sept. 1, and Sept. 2 performances of Bernstein's "Troubles in Tahiti" and Ravel's "L'Heure Espagnol" will be given. All the operas will be performed at 8:30 in the college auditorium.

DENISON TENT ENDS SEASON

'49th Cousin' Is Fun For The Whole Family

Denison Summer Theater will end its 16th season with the family comedy, "49th Cousin," through Saturday, Aug. 25, in the tent on the lower campus.

The traditional season's-end After Show will follow each performance, featuring a 40-minute revue of songs, dances, and comedy staged by the entire company.

Ken Roberts is directing "49th Cousin," and Arnold Popofsky is in charge of set design.

The play concerns the tyrannical, but lovable father, Isaac Lowe and his efforts to direct the attention of his three daughters to nothing but German Jews.

But a charming young peddler, the 49th cousin to a Russian Jew in town, stops at the house and what develops is an hilarious evening of entertainment for the whole family.

Capital University Brings '62-'63 Music, Drama Events

Capital University's distinguished concert lecture series brings a variety of musical and dramatic artists to Columbus during the 1962-63 season.

Opening the four scheduled concerts on Friday, Oct. 19, will be the Cleveland Play House players in Oscar Wilde's satirical comedy "The Importance of Being Earnest." Coming Tuesday, Nov. 13, will be Mexican soprano Teresa Orantes, proclaimed as the Singer-of-the-Year in 1961 by the National Association of Teachers of Singing. On Tuesday, Feb. 12, ballad singer Earle Spicer, called the most "re-engaged" singer by colleges today, will appear at Mees Hall. Tuesday, Mar. 26, pianist Jean Casadesus will perform.

All programs take place in Mees Hall on the Capital University campus at 8 p.m. Ticket information may be obtained by contacting the office of public information.

The Cleveland Play House is touring the United States coast to coast this year.

Miss Orantes from El Salvador, Central America, is currently staff soloist with the Rockefeller Memorial Chapel Choir at the University of Chicago.

Spicer, who started his ballad and folk-song career as a hobby, has appeared at over 500 colleges. He has been featured as guest soloist with symphony orchestras here and abroad and has sung for royalties of Europe and at the White House.

Casadesus launched his career in 1947 when he won the Philadelphia Orchestra Youth Contest.

A Lot Of Horseplay In POG Show Three Men On A Horse

"Three Men on a Horse," the comedy about a dimwitted greeting card versifier and his adventures among the horse-players, is the current attraction at Playhouse-on-the-Green.

The play began a one week engagement on Monday, Aug. 20.

Erwin Trowbridge is the minor poet who, following a disagreement with his wife, wanders into a bar and suddenly finds himself the hero of a group of race track touts. The touts, understandably enough, are amazed to find the bashful Erwin can, and does dope out all the races with unfailing accuracy, although he has never placed a bet in his life.

Erwin is scarcely prepared for all the excitement that comes his way before he finally — and gratefully — returns to his wife and greeting cards.

Martha Miller, Jean Middlebrooks, Lois Kibbee, Peter Harris, Art Kassul, Raymond Thorne, and Paul Berman will appear in "Three Men on a Horse."

St. Marks EUB Organizing In Lincoln Village South

Services at St. Mark's Evangelical United Brethren Mission Church in Lincoln Village South are scheduled to begin Sunday, Aug. 26, at the parsonage, 4673 Stiles-av, beginning at 10 a.m.

Rev. Lloyd Tuttle has been assigned to organize a congregation and lead in the erection of a building at the corner of Stiles-av and Lombard-rd.

He and his wife now occupy the new parsonage where services will be held until the new building is ready.

Other organizations to provide for church-related interests will develop as soon as possible. All are invited to attend services.

Hilltop Man Spots Suicide

Glenn Walters, 43, of 21 Wisconsin-av, alerted police to the apparent suicide of a West Virginia man in the Scioto River. Walters reported he saw a man hanging by his hands from the West Main-st bridge about 2:30 a.m. Aug. 19. The man then dropped to the river and was not seen again.

Firemen recovered the body after more than seven hours of search. Identification was made from the contents of the dead man's billfold.

The body of Jesse Lee DePriest, 38, was found a few feet from the west bank of the Scioto River near W. Rich-st.

Lawn tests at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station show that the source of nitrogen used is not important; it's getting the nitrogen on the grass that counts.

IN NEED OF Specialized HELP
The car's acting up... sometimes he can repair minor problems himself... but this time it looks like it may require the work of a specialist. To correct this problem he needs a mechanic, someone who has the knowledge and equipment for this particular work.
In spiritual matters, individual worship is necessary and vital to one's life, but God in his wisdom has said that we need to worship with others too. At church we can receive help from those who have dedicated their lives to special service for God.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Election Board Schedules New Registrations Of Voters

For purposes of accepting new registrations and making transfers of address the office of the Franklin County Board of Elections, 410 S. Highst, will be open daily from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., and Saturday from 8:30 a.m. to 12 noon.

On the following dates, also, the office will remain open until 9 p.m.: Monday, Sept. 17; Thursday, Sept. 20; Friday, Sept. 21; Monday, Sept. 24, Tuesday, Sept. 25; Wednesday, Sept. 26.

Those who are presently registered as electors of Franklin County but who have moved within this county since last voting must give notice of change of address by notifying the board by letter, post card, or in person, giving the old and new addresses and signing said notice. Such notices must be made not later than Sept. 26.

Those electors who have changed their names since they last registered must reregister under their new names. Those electors who are presently registered but have moved for highway construction or other civic improvement purposes must also notify the Board of Elections by Sept. 26 and in the same manner as for transfer of address in order to be qualified to vote at any future election.

Registrations are not transferable between counties of Ohio. New registrations for persons not presently registered in Franklin County must be made by calling at this office in person not later than Sept. 26. The following qualifications must be met: (1) Must be a citizen of United States; (2) Must be at least 21 years of age by Nov. 6, 1962; (3) Must be a resident of Ohio at least one year by Nov. 6, 1962.

All electors who have voted at least one time in calendar years 1960 or 1961 in this county, who have not changed their names or addresses, otherwise will be qualified to vote on Nov. 6, 1962.

Camp Fire Girls

By NANCY TRUELOVE

Girls from this area attending Camp Wyandot during Period 8 are Barbara Baker, Kathleen Baker, Merle Clark, Janet Clay, Christine Horn, and Debbie McVay.

A new Bluebird group composed of girls from Lindbergh School has been organized under the leadership of Mrs. Orlie Schlichter. The members are Vicki Cline, Debbie Grove, Martha Huffman, Sandy Miller, Lina Stahura, Cathey Guy, Juanita Klyro, and Mandy Schlichter.

Southwest District Day Camp has been underway at Darby since Aug. 6 with approximately 268 campers, 40 adult leaders, and 47 Junior Counselors in attendance. Each day the girls have a special program arranged for them. Some of the highlights include a visit by a naturalist and members of the Ohio Archaeology Society.

On Wednesday, each unit held a cook-out with a wide variety of food prepared. Thursday was Indian Day, and in observance of the Ohio Sesquicentennial, the girls divided into tribes which had lived in Ohio and made totem poles, peace pipes, and Indian dolls to be displayed at the Ohio State Fair. The week ended with a very special ceremonial fire. Mrs. Jerri Fine, Day Camp chairman, wishes to announce that the committee is already on the lookout for adult leaders for next year to help make Day Camp a success once again.

County Schools Create Three New Positions

The hiring of three additional professional staff members to the Franklin County School System has been announced by Superintendent Thomas J. Quick. Hired were:

Lewis D. Evans, formerly an elementary school science consultant and associate of Ohio State University. He has studied at Ohio State, Columbia and the University of Michigan. Evans will be the new county elementary consultant.

Mrs. Pauline Alexander, who has studied at Ohio State, will be a county school psychologist. Mrs. Alexander served in that capacity for eight years at the Ohio School for the Deaf and Blind.

Charles W. Beegle, former principal at Jefferson Intermediate School, will be junior high school consultant. He is the holder of a high school principal certificate and has taught fine arts.

Quick also announced that county teachers and administrators will meet at Mifflin High School on Aug. 30.

The educators will divide into elementary and secretary groups and discuss the use of services offered by new curriculum consultants, the testing program, audio-visual aids and other school matters.

Auto Club Slates Drivers Class

A class to give applicants for temporary driving licenses better preparation for their examinations will be held Saturday, Aug. 25, by the Columbus Automobile Club's Driver Training School.

The free class is set for the Southern Hotel from 1 to 3 p.m. It will be open both to new drivers over 16 years of age and new residents having out-of-state permits who now seek Ohio licenses.

Hilliard Barn Struck By Lightning

A Hilliard farmer's barn was burned to the ground after being hit by lightning during a thunderstorm early Tuesday.

Hazel Seely of 3265 Walcutt-rd lost 3,000 bales of hay, and a self-propelled combine was damaged, according to Hilliard firemen.

Loss was estimated at $10,000.

Autopsy Set On Apparent Suicide Victim

William Franklin Grubb, 21, of 220 E. State-st, walked down the west bank of the Scioto River south of the W. Town-st bridge early Monday morning and apparently committed suicide by drowning.

Deputy Coroner Dr. Wilson Kingsboro said an autopsy would be performed this week.

Firemen dragged the river for more than three hours after passersby reported the incident. They located the body some 150 feet from the east bank and about a thousand feet south of the bridge.

Sesqui Day Set At State Fair

Columbus Sesquicentennial Day will be celebrated at the Ohio Fair Sunday, Aug. 26, with a musical program starting at 2 p.m. at the 11th-av Bandshell.

The Key Rings barbershop quartet and chorus will perform. The 70-voice chorus of the Columbus Maennerchor, oldest active German singing society in the country, will sing and an 80-piece unit of the All-Ohio Boys' Band will play.

The program is free.

Mayor W. Ralston Westlake and Sesqui Queen Sue Zollinger will greet the audience. Master of ceremonies will be the Columbus radio personality, Bill Ellis.

Special Events Mark Playgronds' Closing

The last three days of the summer playground season will see a variety of final playground special events Aug. 22 23 and 24. Among these are family picnics, father and son softball games, wiener roasts, parties and dances.

All recreation department operated playgrounds (except recreation centers) will officially close on Aug. 24.

Following are reports for the playgrounds this week:

at Glenwood . . .

The last big event of the year was held Tuesday evening. This was the annual pageant held at Schiller Park. Glenwood Playground cooperated with Sunshine Playground to produce a skit depicting the historical events which brought about the movement of the capitol of Ohio from Chillicothe, to Zanesville, and eventually to Columbus.

The children from Glenwood who participated in the skit were Tom Price, 329 Whitethorne-av; Linda Baker, 162 Columbian-av; Bill Ayers, 153 Nashoba-av; Kathy Maxwell, 175 Midland-av Susie Dew, 684 S. Harris-av; Kathy Peterson, 186 S. Columbian-av; and Christine and Larry Davis, 136 S. Columbian-av.

Forty of our baseball players attended a free game at Jet Stadium Tuesday as part of the Columbus Jet-Recreation Department Little League program.

The Glenwood Jet League All-Stars defeated the Hauntz All-Stars in an exhibition game 3 to 1.

Dr. Strauss, a veterinarian, gave an inspiring talk Thursday night on pet care.

At Holton . . .

Congratulations to the following girls: Pat McGue, Babs Grace, Sandy Bertram, Ruth Breaeus, Ruth Bertram, Sue McCann, Linda Gusler, Patty Bertram, Rosie Spires, Helen Hunter, Judy Grace and Sharon McCann. In the tournament they won over Karns, and Huy and in the finals they beat out Pilgrim 13 to 11 for the Senior Girls Softball City Championship.

The senior girls' volleyball team won over Highland and Goodale but lost to Huy in the finals.

Doubles in tennis tournaments are being played at the Ohio State courts this week and the following girls and boys from Holton are playing: Doyle Plants, Denny McCann, Norman Parrish, Steve Bertram, Tom Close, Tom Hankle, Ron McDaniels, Bob Grogran, Sue McCann, Patty Bertram, Sharon McCann and Sandy Bertram.

The city-wide pageant was held at Schiller Tuesday evening. Holton's theme was "The Little Red School House" and Ruth and Patty Bertram, Rosie Spires, Bob Grogan, Joe Hunter and Norm Parrish sang "School Days." Sue McCann was the teacher and Michelle Hobbs, Larry Roffe, Jerry Whittacre, Ricky Moon, Dianna and Ricky McCann, Marta and Peggy Renner, Tom Close and Linda Gusler were the pupils. Thanks to Bob Grogan and Mike Spires for their help on transportation.

We also wish to thank Mrs. Renner, who furnished all the transportation for the girls' softball team for the season and also for the lantern parade.

We regret that Diane McCann is confined at home with a broken leg and hope that she will have a speedy recovery.

Thanks to the many parents, children and friends who have helped to make the playground season at Holton a very happy one. So long. — Eileen Gibson.

at Hauntz . . .

Charles Beasley and Jim Alexander became the city's Senior Boys Four-square champions. They Beat Sharon Park in the final match 21-19. Others from Hauntz finishing in the top four places were Sally Doersam and Bill Lanning for the junior Boys Tetherball tournament.

The Junior Boys Softball team beat Sullivant Gardens in the Westside Championship game 4-2. Bob Fryer was the winning pitcher (3-0). These Westside champions lost to Linden in the semi-finals of the city, 10-1. The Westside champions lost to Linden in the semi-finals of the city, 10-1. The Westside champions were R. Wheeler, R. Fryer, D. Adams, Al Taynor, K. Jones, C. Ventola, Al Hoffman, L. Hennick, S. Evans, M. Sprouse, B. Rees, J. Rice, M. Henry, P. Kelly, C. Maynard, Jeff Caborn and John Caborn.

The league champion Intermediate Girls team lost to Westgate 11-7. Jean Kearney was the losing pitcher; Bev Evans led the hitting for Hauntz.

The Intermediate Boys team ended their season with a hard fought win over Holton 12-11. Mike Knolan was the winning pitcher; Ray Robinson, Mike Shaffer and Don Hart led the hitting for Hauntz.

The league winning Junior Girls team lost to Westgate in the Westside championship game. The Senior Boys lost to John Borroughs 4-3 and to Westgate 12-9 ending this season.

In the Junior Jets, the winner of league play (Giants) played an all-star team made up of players from the Braves and the Jets. The Giants won 18-14. Steve Evans was the winning pitcher. The season came to a close as the all-stars lost to Glenwood 3-1. B. Rees and M. Stumpf each pitched three innings. Charles Ventola had a home run. Hauntz had 53 boys attending the Junior Jet Night program at Jet Stadium.

The craft periods this week were devoted to shell jewelry, potholders, yarn craft, and costumes for the pageant held at Schiller Park Tuesday night. Hauntz and West Mound did their version of "Kids" from "Bye Bye Birdie". A hike and picnic was taken to Hiltonia Friday afternoon by 20 people.

Friday, Aug. 24, the annual dance will be held from 7:30 to 10:30. The dance is open to all people 12 and above. There will be a limbo and twist contest at 9:30. No shorts will be allowed. All are invited to this closing event. Refreshments will be served.

At Georgian Hts.

This past week the Junior boys' softball team lost to Westgate 13 to 2 and 8-7 at Westgate in a double header. Byrum, Raike, Gleich, Corbin and Arms each had hits for the losers while Gunning and Wooten made some fine stops defensively.

The Intermediate boys came back in the last inning to tie Eakin 15 to 15. Due to darkness the remainder of the game will be played this week. Moore, Fala, Clark, and Sprague all had hits for Georgian Hts. The Intermediate boys also played Hauntz Friday and lost 14 to 15. It was a hard fought battle all the way with Georgian Hts. banging out a rally in the last inning to come within one run of Hauntz. Brammer, Rick Miller, Rod Miller, Taylor, Carr, King, Clark, and Fala all had hits for the losers.

Although the Junior girls' softball league games are over, the two teams have remained together for fun and practice the rest of the summer. A picnic is being planned this last week of playground operation with some of the girls' softball teams from the West Side area. It will be held at Westgate Park.

Many of the children of the playground have been in deep preparation for Tuesday night's Pageant at Schiller. Our playground put on an act depicting the first supervised playground in Columbus in the early 1900's.

At Sullivant . . .

The Sullivant Gardens junior girl's softball team finished the season with a record of four wins, losing only one game, to place second in District 8.

The intermediate girls won four games and lost two, to finish second in District 8.

The intermediate boys' softball team finished with a record of 6-2 which placed them second in their league.

In volleyball the intermediate girls' team defeated Tuttle.

At the Junior Olympic Track and Field Meet, Sullivant Gardens finished second in the 200 yard shuttle relay for girls eleven years of age and under. The relay team was made up of Lennie Mitchell, Chic Henley, Charmane

BUSINESS REVIEW

Penney's Offers Wall Chart On Space Program

Story of America's space program is depicted in pictures and words in a colorful red, white and blue wall chart now available at Penney's stores.

The 17⅛ by 13¼ inch chart, suitable for mounting and hanging in children's as well as family rooms, is designed to help children in their science courses as well as heighten their interest in space.

The chart, which can be obtained at Penney's shoe department, concentrates on the exploints of the seven original astronauts selected for Project Mercury. There are pictures of the astronauts with capsule descriptions of the Shepard, Grissom, Glenn and Carpenter flights and biographies of the other three astronauts—Cooper, Slayton and Schirra.

Safety Awards Given To 29 By Landmark

Twenty-nine Landmark drivers from throughout Ohio 11 of whom work in this area, received safety awards Aug. 18, for having driven a total of 1,467,479 miles in 1962 with only one chargeable accident. The annual transportation safety award meeting was held at Howard Johnson's Motor Lodge, 999 E. Granville-rd.

"Awards were based on records kept by the National Safety Council," said Dave Alban, manager of the transportation department.

Mark Keith, manager of traffic services presented the safe driving awards to the 29 men.

Three safety experts spoke to the group.

Area award winners were Andrew Beachy, 53 Fairfield-st, Canal Winchester; Clifford Hile, 4395 Melroy-av; Harold Longwell, 133 Maplewood-av; Henry Draper, Ostrander; Elmer Gamble, 100 Heil-dr, Gahanna; Edward Jackson, 2583 Audubon-rd; Garrett Marshall, 885 Westphal; Edward Miller, 1807 Marley-ct; Ernest Norris, 462 Derrer-rd; Dorence Pounds, Ostrander; Richard Sample, 81 Hillside, Mt. Honey bees are the principal pollinators of cucumbers and melons. Poorly pollinated melons and cucumbers will be misshapened or may not form fruit at all, say OSU Extension horticulturists.

Armyworms are species of cutworms that travel in armies. Like solitary cutworms, they are night feeders and hide in plant debris or soil by day, according to OSU Extension entomologists.

Playground—

Davenport and Janet Brewer.

Darrel Watson and Mike Mattox captured the city championship in the junior four-square tournament.

At Highland . . .

The Highlanders have spent a busy week getting ready for the pageant held at Schiller Park, Tuesday, Aug. 21. The following children represented Highland: Mary Bates, Cathy Carter, Betty Carter, Cathy Blakely, Sandra Harrington, Sandra Smith, Lynn Garnes, Eric Harrington, Bill Blakely, Calvin Miller, and Micheal Johnson.

A number of children received their physical fitness certificates last week.

Highland is completely out of all sports tournaments.

The children will be doing shell and stick crafts after Tuesday.

At Sunshine . . .

The last week of the playground season is going to be a busy one. The big events for the week will be the summer pageant and the Sunshine Family Picnic Night.

Sunshine entered a skit in the pageant held Tuesday, Aug. 21 at Schiller Park.

Sunshine and Glenwood cooperated on a skit depicting the early locations of Ohio's capital. David and Sharon Vincent, Kathy and Karin Sparks and Jim (Fred) Taylor and Larry Taylor acted in the skit for Sunshine.

Thursday night, Aug. 23, is Sunshine's Family Picnic Night. This is really going to be an evening of fun for the whole family. Each family should bring their own picnic dinner. There will be a charcoal grill available. A Moms vs. Dads softball game will be the feature event of the evening. There will also be volleyball and an ice cube throw.

Here are some more names of those who have qualified in physical fitness: Mike Smith, Jim Poling, Dave Vincent, Monroe Vincent, Sherry Merritt, Sharon Vincent, Joyce Smith, Anita Jackson, Thomas Humphrey, George Humphrey, Robert Humphrey, Jim Young, Dan Humphrey, Kenny Baer, Jim Nogawick, Brook Dixon, Charley Eing, John Stansberry, Chrystal Johnson, Regina Miller, Eli Belicheski, Jerry Moore, Dennis Ganel, Robert Herran, Fred Anthony, Joe Anthony, and Mark Anthony.

Junior Jet game of the week honors go to the Reds, coached by George "Popeye" Davis, and the Dodgers, coached by Robert Zimmerman. The Dodgers and Reds met in the last game of the season and it turned out to be an upset. The Dodgers bit the dust for the first time since July 6, and the Reds walked off with the 11 to 8 triumph of the season. One homerun was collected by Doug Moran. Pitching honors go to Doug Moran and Dave Lenox.

At Westgate . . .

The Westgate Clowns, girls' intermediate softball team, won the City Championship last Friday over Weinland Playground. The Devils, junior girls, placed second in their division.

The final standing for the Junior Jet League is:

Major League

Chiefs	9-0
Reds	5-4
Yanks	4-4-1
Hawks	4-4-1
Jets	4-5
Colts	0-9

Minor League

Bucks	7-2-1
Giants	6-4-1
Tigers	6-5
Marlins	5-5-1
Braves	1-9-1

The closed shelter-house at Westgate will be the scene of the Junior Jet party Thursday, Aug. 23, at 6:20. Movies on baseball will be shown.

Betty Toney and Tim Weisert have been chosen "Top Teens" by the Columbus Recreation Department. They appeared on the "Fun For Everyone" Show last Saturday. They were presented a dinner at the Kahiki Supper Club on Aug. 27.

The Bicycle Safety Program will be conducted Aug. 24, 12:30 to 2:30. This program is conducted in conjunction with the Columbus Police Department.

We're having a variety show and the playground talent will be displayed for the enjoyment of all comers. The night is Thursday and the time is 7.

Friday will be the last day of the playground season. It will close at 7.

At Eakin . . .

Junior Jet season is over for the Eakin-Georgian Heights league. The final standings are:

Marlins	9	1
Braves	6	4
Reds	4	6
Yanks	4	6
Tigers	4	6
Giants	3	7

In a practice softball game Eakin intermediate boys battled to a 15-15 tie with Georgian Heights.

Skit for the pageant, the final event of the year, was about the Ladies' Benevolent Society, with all the ladies played by boys. Billy Burchett, Ted Branham, Wilbur Wright, Aaron Rockhold, Suzie Romans, Gene Kocher and April Snyder participated.

At Chicago-av . . .

Chicago Avenue Playground went Hawaiian again in the pageant held at Schiller Park.

Participants made invitations for the parents to come to the dress rehearsal that was held Monday evening.

The dancers were Kathy Beatty, Mary Sue Strickler, Pauline Pelletier, Barbara Hults, Kathy Valentino, Becky Skaggs, Bridget and Marsha Neer, Dawne Meadows, Debbie Swain, Nora Tripp, Debbie Gillespie, Virgie Wells, Judy Hughes, Pam Crigger and Debbie Cantrell. Cathy Rhodes and Bobby Neer held the palm trees.

The girls would like to thank Mrs. Skaggs, Mrs. Shallenberg and Mrs. Swain for helping them make leis and costumes.

The playground season will come to a close at 7 p.m. Friday, Aug. 24.

Some snakes lay eggs, while others give birth to living young. Young snakes develop rapidly and must shed their skin to take care of this growth.

The first medical society in the American colonies was organized July 23, 1766, in New Jersey.

tiane from Pathet Lao headquarters in Plaine des Jarres.

Ballenger had been listed as missing since Apr. 22, 1961, along with four American military advisors. The circumstances of the capture have never been divulged by the State Department.

Souphanouvong had promised the prisoners' release following last month's Geneva [illegible] which sanctioned a coalition government for Laos and pledging the country's neutrality.

The release was delayed a number of times, ostensibly because of communication and transport difficulties.

Ballenger's wife, Miyoko, lives near Ft. Bragg, N.C.

Open Till 9 Evenings — Ohio MARKETS — Central Point Shopping Center

West siders massed at the new Lazarus West air curtain door Thursday, Aug. 16, awaiting the grand opening of the convenience store at Georgesville-rd and W. Broad-st.

Area Response Pleases Lazarus West Officials

The new Lazarus West completed its sixth full day of business Wednesday, and all indications point to its popular acceptance by area customers.

Grand opening of the two-acre convenience store was at 11 a.m. last Thursday, (Aug. 16). Closing hour every night is 9 o'clock. Store opens at 11 Monday through Friday and 10 on Saturday.

"We are extremely pleased with the way customers have responded to our new convenience store," Board Chairman Robert Lazarus said. "Business in these first few days has exceeded to a considerable extent our expectations."

Lazarus' first branch is located at Georgesville-rd and W. Broad-st, next to Nationwide Inn.

Merchandise in the new store includes apparel, shoes and accessories for men, women and children, plus hundreds of categories of home needs from 2,000 colors of paint to major appliances.

Lazarus West Manager John M. Sesler credited new sales people with "our very smooth and effective operations in these first few days." Sesler added:

"We knew before the store opened last Thursday that our 300 new people, most of whom live in the west side area, would do an excellent job for us. They're a wonderful, alert group of people. Our belief was confirmed almost as quickly as the first customers streamed in the air curtain door."

Opening Lazarus West marks the completion of the 111-year-old department store's current expansion plan. Second branch store is scheduled for opening in 1964 in the Northland Regional Shopping Center at Morse and Karl-rds in North Columbus. Third branch will open in 1966 at Refugee and Hamilton-rds in the Eastland Regional Shopping Center in East Columbus.

Richard W. Nash has been named sales representative for Waddell and Reed, Inc., for the Hilltop and Columbus area. Local offices of the firm are at 1500 W. Third-av.

He has been a business man on the Hilltop for the past 16 years. He is president of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club and a member of Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church. He resides with his wife, Ruth, and two sons, Dick and Bob, at 626 Crescent- rd.

Waddell and Reed has more than 300 offices in principal cities throughout the United States. They are the underwriter and principal sales agent for United Funds, one of the nation's largest mutual funds providing voluntary accumulation plans and lump sum investments. The local office is managed by Dale Rose a former Hilltop resident.

Scouts Sponsor Sale Of Flags

Boy Scout Troop 219, sponsored by Westway Post 3441, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Junior Girls Unit, sponsored by Ladies Auxiliary 3441, are selling American flags in the Hilltop area.

Those interested in obtaining a flag can call Larry Cash or Judy Cash, junior unit president, at BR. 9-6125; Francis Kline at BR. 4-2417; Eddie Dick at 444-9513, or Jean Lowe at BR. 4-1507.

Police Set Up Traffic Bans For State Fair

"The Ohio State Fair will create a large volume of traffic again in the area of the exposition grounds," Chief George W. Scholer stated today.

Motorists are reminded that effective 6 a.m., Friday, Aug. 24, and extending through Monday, Sept. 3, no through traffic will be permitted on 17th-av between Clara-st and Korbel-av as that portion of 17th-av will be closed from 6 a.m. to 12 midnight each day of the fair.

Also, no through traffic will be permitted during that time on Velma-av between Norwood-av and 17th-av. Traffic going to the State Fair is expected and may use Velma-av between 20th-av and the Freeway to get to the Ohio State Fair parking lot gates on Velma-av.

All motorists not going to the Ohio State Fair are requested to use Fifth-av or Hudson-st to avoid traffic delays.

Slate Barber Sing At City Park Of Roses

The "Singing Buckeyes," a chorus of the Buckeye Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, will present an evening of barber shop harmony at the Columbus Park of Roses, Sunday, Aug. 26 at 7:30.

This concert will mark the eighth consecutive summer appearance at the park by the Buckeye Chapter, and has proven one of the most popular of the summer series.

John H. Furber, 4001 Lyondr, will emcee the program. Robert M. Maher, 1149 Parkway-dr, is president of the chapter.

Falls account for about half of the deaths from home accidents.

Enrollment figures in the Columbus Diocese are an estimated 24,000 and schools in Franklin County total about 22,000.

The school year will hold for public elementary students an extra 18 days of instruction, but the expanded school year will go unnoticed by most.

Added hours to regular school days, rather than an extended school year account for the extra time.

Elementary classes will be held from 8:45 to 11:45 a.m., and from 1 to 3:30 p.m. Last year classes assembled at 9 a.m., and afternoon dismissal was at 3:15.

Junior and senior highs will observe the same schedule as before, 8:45 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., with lunch hours arranged at each school.

Building Total $3,742,033.93

Summer time construction projects in the school system totaling $3,742,033.93 is scheduled for completion in time for schools' opening.

In addition to the four new elementaries, a program of extensive additions and remodeling at existing schools has been underway during the summer.

These include, in Hartley Newspapers' area, a $216,763 project at East High, 1500 E. Broad-st; $100,897 at Dana Elementary, 300 S. Dana-av.

Fornof Elementary, 158 Dering, underwent an $87,528 remodeling; Heyl, 765 E. Whittier-st, $10,000; Ohio Elementary, 505 S. Ohio-av, $19,000, and West Broad, 2744 W. Broad-st, $36,056.

Adult Ed. Council Lists Seven Goals

2—Adult Education Section—Hartley Newspapers

The Adult Education Council of Greater Columbus is composed of a group of dedicated volunteers whose overal purpose is to serve "as a medium of cooperation between those who seek and those who offer adult education."

The Council's major objectives are:

1. To provide an exchange of information about existing programs.
2. To serve as a referral agent for unperformed educational services.
3. To encourage groups doing the same kind of work to cooperate with each other.
4. To develop a program of continuous research in discovering community needs.
5. To promote the training of leadership skills in adult education.
6. To keep abreast of developments in all forms of mass media opportunities for adult education and to utilize them for adult educational purposes.
7. To support legislature which will help increase adult education activity in Greater Columbus.

Monthly Meetings

Any group which performs adult education services may be a member of the Council which meets monthly for ten months of the year.

Members of the Council are from schools, universities, libraries, industry, private agencies, city recreation departments, and women's organizations.

Other members of the Council include such groups as the Urban League, the

By SAMUEL STELLMAN, President

American Association For the United Nations, WOSU-TV, Alpha Wilhelm School of Practical Nursing, the Columbus Milk Council, the Ohio Farm Federation and many others, including the Ohio Technical Institute.

Monthly meetings are devoted to lectures and discussions on matters pertaining to adult education in the city, county, state and nation.

The Adult Education Council has co-sponsored during the past season a series on WOSU-TV titled "Great Decisions—1962."

Film Course

The Council also sponsored a training program for officers of organizations, using specially prepared movies from the University of Michigan. Panels of local "experts" discussed the best ways to conduct meetings of organizations.

Present officers of the Council are Samuel Stellman, assistant executive director of the Columbus Jewish Center, president; G. B. Newton, Columbus Evening High School, vice-president; and Jean Wertz, Ohio Farm Bureau, secretary-treasurer.

Chairmen of the Council's standing committees are Dr. Andrew Hendrickson, Ohio State University, Chairman of Leadership Training; Joseph Franch, Franklin University, Chairman of Publicity and Promotion; and Rowena Kessler, YWCA and William Shipe, Whitehall Schools, Co-chairmen of the Program Committee.

Open Membership

Future plans for the Council include support of legislature for attacking illiteracy in the United States, publishing a directory of adult education activity in Greater Columbus, and conducting further institutes for leaders of adult education programs throughout the Greater Columbus area.

The local Council is affiliated with the Ohio Adult Education Association and the Adult Education Association of the United States.

Membership in the Council is open to those organizations and agencies which conduct and/or participate in adult education activities.

Any officer of the council may accept membership registration.

Learning—A Way Of Life!

"Learn or Perish!" "Learn While You Earn." "Learn a Better Living." These are some of the slogans used by various education agencies in calling attention to their programs. Whichever one of these appeals to you — or if none of them they all call attention to the fact that for most adults continued learning is becoming a way of life.

There may be a short hiatus in learning activities in the period when youth has just finished, with a sigh of relief, some level of schooling. But in a relatively short time he finds that in order to progress and solve his problems he needs to resume the learning process. This does not always mean that he has to go back to the formal classroom.

Learning can be gained through use of the public library, through systematic instruction over radio or television, through reading magazines, or through counseling or attending workshops and institutes. Real learning usually has in it the factors of continuity and seriousness of purpose. In other words, it is continuous, not sporadic; it is organized, not random; and it is directed toward a predetermined goal. In order to obtain this systematic instruction the seeker of knowledge will frequently need to have recourse to one of the many organized adult education programs in the Columbus area.

The increasing pace of change, the technological displacement of workers, the developmental problems which appear to each individual as he progresses through the life span all make continuing education more of an imperative each year. This being true, the question is raised how shall these needs on the part of the large adult population be met?

Clearly no one agency can meet all the needs that exist on all the different levels. Fortunately there are many agencies already offering programs, schools, colleges, libraries, museums, "Y" organizations, neighborhood centers and others. Perhaps not all needs are being provided for. But many more people could be benefited if they knew what opportunities already exist.

To answer this need the Adult Education Council of Greater Columbus has sponsored this special edition of the Hartley papers. In it you will find a wide variety of opportunities to satisfy your vocational, personal, recreational, and cultural needs. By taking advantage of what exists and registering your desires for other offerings, you will be upgrading yourself and helping to better your community.

OSU Adult Education Center Surveys Needs Of Older Learners

Interviews with some 2,200 citizens 65 years of age and older currently are under way in the Columbus area as part of a comprehensive study of the role of universities and colleges in the education of the aged.

The study is being conducted by Dr. Andrew Hendrickson, director of the Center for Adult Education at Ohio State University, as one facet of the Center's continuing program of education, research and service.

Results from this study are expected to help determine (1) those activities for which older persons would be willing to make a trip to the campus, (2) those activities for which he would not make a trip to the campus but would attend if held at a neighborhood center, and (3) those activities for which he would not leave home but which he would like to listen to on radio or television.

Other Research

Sponsored by the U.S. Office of Education, the study is the latest in a series of research projects which have been conducted by the Center for Adult Education.

Dr. Hendrickson and his associates also have carried out reasearch in such areas as educational needs of out-of-school youth and adult education programs in Ohio's public schools.

Of equal importance in the program of the Center is its service in adult education to state and local agencies and other groups.

Currently, the Center provides a home study course in citizenship for the foreign-born and a guided reading course for members of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs.

Publishes Pamphlets

Recently, the Center also has worked with the State Department of Instruction and the Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers in conducting leader training workshops. Handbooks, pamphlets, and reports are published as another service of the Center.

Education is perhaps the most extensive area in the Center's program. It offers undergraduates an opportunity to explore the field of adult education by enrolling in certain elective courses and also offers graduate students a professional training program leading to master's and Ph.D. degrees.

In spite of the population explosion, Dr. Hendrickson points out that the most rapidly growing field of education today is not that occasioned by recent births, but that of the education of adults. It is estimated that annually one out of every three adults is engaged in some systematic educational activity.

Mature adult students are serious about their work. Here, a class held on campus with the cooperation of Ohio State University Center for Adult Education renders rapt attention to the instructor.

Era Of Change

"The sweep of world events and the continuing technological changes are creating a need for education as a lifelong process. Supplying skilled manpower and trained leadership in a time of economic expansion and world competition calls for the constant upgrading of our work force and of our business and industrial leaders. The need to be more effective as a citizen and as a family member increases along with other needs," Dr. Hendrickson said.

Because of these and other reasons, vast numbers of adults are turning to schools, colleges, libraries and other organizations for assistance in satisfying their educational needs. Any such expansion of programs calls for a corresponding expansion in leadership.

Adult education as a field of study draws upon many academic areas, particularly the social sciences. However, in recent years, it has gone far to develop its own specialized body of knowledge, theory, and practice geared to the unique requirements of adults as learners.

Since the first course was offered in 1938, the graduate program in adult education at Ohio State has been under continual development and improvement. Today Ohio State is one of about 15 universities in the United States which offer advanced degrees in adult education.

Related Areas

Ohio State's graduate program in this field is conducted primarily by personnel in the Center, which is associated with the department of education in the College of Education. In addition to a core of special courses in adult education, use is made of courses in related areas such as sociology, psychology, social administration, guidance, higher education, and school administration.

Dr. Hendrickson notes that the graduate program is designed to give the student a broad, liberal background which will help him better understand himself and his society and to understand the role that education plays among the forces that constantly are reshaping society.

Many persons prepare themselves through study at Ohio State to enter upon a career in one of the adult education agencies. Others who already hold adult education positions engage in a program of study to improve themselves on the job.

Training for the master's or doctor's degree is designed to prepare students for such positions as director of public school adult education, university extension work, evening college administration, labor union education director, religious education director, library adult education director, industrial training director, YMCA or YWCA adult education director, government agency training director, or nursing and public health education director.

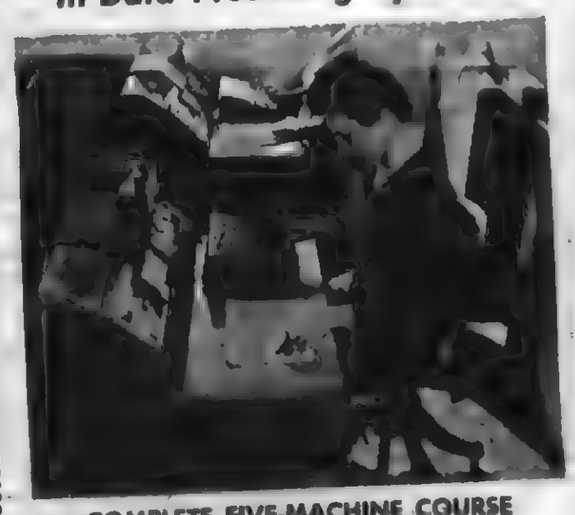
Practical Training

In addition to its formal program in adult education, Ohio State offers many unusual opportunities for practical training in the field. Besides the resources of the Bureau of Educational Research and Service, there are the Teaching Aids Laboratory, the University's radio and television stations, the School of Social Work, and extension work in the College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

Director of the Center for Adult Education since 1960, Dr. Hendrickson has compiled an outstanding record as a leader in adult education in the state.

He became a staff member of the University's Bureau of Special and Adult Education in 1947 after serving at Cleveland College of Western Reserve University as associate professor and assistant dean.

After joining the Cleveland College staff in 1943, he organized and served as chairman of the Adult Education Committee of the Group Work Council of the Cleveland Welfare Federation.



Well-Known Consultant

He served as chairman of the Adult Education Sub-committee of the Ohio Commission on Children and Youth for the 1950 White House Conference and in 1961 acted as consultant to the National

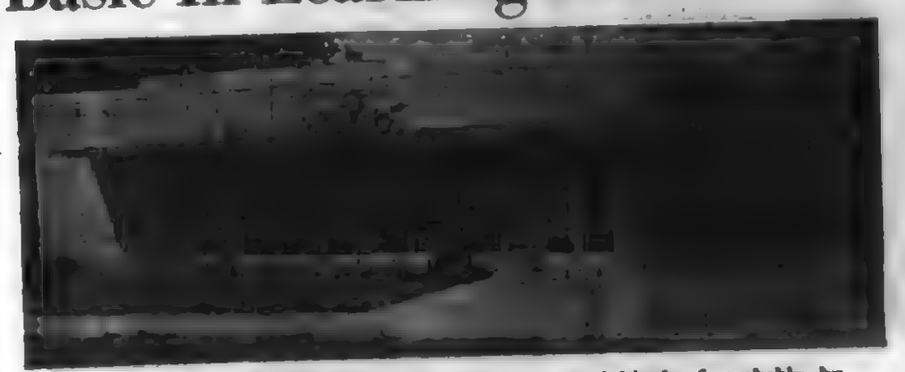
West siders massed at the new Lazarus West air curtain door Thursday, Aug. 16, awaiting the grand opening of the convenience store at Georgesville-rd and W. Broad-st.

Area Response Pleases Lazarus West Officials



The new Lazarus West completed its sixth full day of business Wednesday, and all indications point to its popular acceptance by area customers.

"The business in these first few days has exceeded to a considerable extent our expectations."

Lazarus' first branch is located at Georgesville-rd and quickly as the first customers streamed in the air curtain door."

Opening Lazarus West marks the completion of the Second branch store is scheduled for opening in 1964 in the Northland Regional Shopping Center at Morse and Karl-rds in North Columbus.

Books, Libraries Remain Basic In Learning Process

THE PUBLIC LIBRARY, represented in your neighborhood, probably, by a branch building such as the Parsons Branch of the Columbus Public Library System, shown above, has been called "Everyman's University." Whatever your need for knowledge or your interests, trained librarians can help you start at your present level of understanding and proceed to mastery. It has been said that the average adult, spending only 15 minutes a day in purposeful reading, could read 24 books a year or 1000 books in a lifetime. This is equal to going through college five times and could make you an authority on any subject you choose.

"THE TRUE UNIVERSITY OF THESE DAYS IS A COLLECTION OF BOOKS."—CARLYLE.

As responsible adults, we seek to be good citizens, the best of parents, productive members of society, and growing individuals. We appreciate the necessity of current knowledge for effective fulfillment of these roles.

We know that "a malchiti of slightly out-of-date facts" has a way of becoming "a mountain of educational obsolescence."

We realize that the "erosion of education" by the passage of time can apply equally to us whether we earned degrees at college, ended our formal educational experience with high school, or earned our "diploma" through experience and self-education.

We are aware that "keeping current" is a continuing process and requires taking advantage of the total educational resources available to us. It's such a staggering prospect that we sometimes wonder whom to turn to and how to get started.

Truest Education

Since the truest means of adult education is the receptive mind communing with the expert, the Public Library offers us an ideal opportunity to continue and enhance our store of knowledge throughout life's span.

If you have an immediate practical goal of building a boat, for example, increasing your personal efficiency, or establishing a small business, the experts who have written books are at your fingertips. If you seek greater understanding of the social or physical sciences, the humanities, or any other organized knowledge of mankind, the world's greatest teachers of modern-day life and antiquity are at your command.

Enriching Force

Library books, too, can help you formulate your own philosophy of life and aid you in setting satisfying goals. They can inspire, direct and refresh you as you travel to your destination.—The Richer, Fuller Life.

The Public Library is your community information center. It selects, buys, catalogs, and files books and other informational materials so that you may find them easily.

Among the resources it places at your fingertips for the pursuit of knowledge and pleasure are books; musical and spoken-word recordings; current and back magazines, periodicals and newspapers; sixteen-millimeter educational films; government pamphlets; and an almost endless variety of reports and brochures on practically every conceivable subject.

In the library, you set your own pace, review as often as necessary, and choose your own teachers. This community information center gives you the means of lifelong self-education by providing a wide variety of materials to stimulate thought, to develop understanding, to widen perspectives, to broaden interests, and to suggest alternatives.

Self-Exam Urged

If you are not already engaged in a lifelong learning enrichment program, start today with an assessment of the "total you."

Examine your intolerances, those areas of life in which you have closed your mind to growth. Check your self for understanding in the cultural arts, the practical arts, and the humanities. Analyze your "bedrock philosophy," your personal creed, your orientation to God and your fellow man. Think ahead to the retirement years and remind yourself that you cannot suddenly develop an alert and inquiring mind, a taste for reading and creative and satisfying hobbies—for all these require years of nurture.

Consider all these things and you will be impelled to use the growth and educational resources available to you in the Public Library.

• Just 15 minutes a day devoted to reading will permit you to complete some [illegible] dozen books in a year. Since books are readily portable, chances are good that you can squeeze this brief "reading break" into your daily schedule.

• A good book on how to read more efficiently may help you improve your reading skills considerably. Just as with other pursuits, skill in reading comes with practice.

• Nothing will help you define your interests quicker than to visit a library and browse through its many shelves. Or, merely offer a hint of your interest or need of the moment to the trained librarian on duty.

UCC Information Center Serves As School Referral

The Information Center of the United Community Council will provide information to those seeking assistance in locating some classes or courses in the Franklin County area.

By calling CA. 85696 and asking for the Information Center, any resident of the county may receive information regarding adult programs or agencies which can be of help to them in learning new skills or gaining new knowledge through adult education programs.

The Information Center has a listing of many schools, private agencies, and training institutes which can help members of the community find programs to fit their needs.

The Information Center will put all those making inquiries in touch with the appropriate school or institution.

Reading Perception Clinic Shows Johnny CAN Read

"Reading is the key to education. The poor student is almost always a poor reader," says Dr. Benjamin Center, director of the Reading and Perception Clinic, 481 E. Town-st.

"The fact that the student is a poor reader is not always obvious — however there are symptoms that generally appear that indicate inadequate reading ability: Inability to concentrate; limited vocabulary; slow in completing assignments; poor attitude; difficulty in expressing himself in written work or verbally.

"The child who shows any of these symptoms needs help. Since symptoms only indicate a problem, the Reading and Perception Clinic makes a preliminary study to determine the cause of the problem." As a part of this examination, Dr. Center and his staff evaluates the youngster's visual-reading ability, his development in making proper sounds, and his ability to hear and interpret sounds correctly. Attitudes and mental capacity are determined.

An individualized program is then designed to teach the youngster how to read, how to study and how to retain and remember.

School Doors Swing Wide Wednesday For Record High Enrollment Of 93,000

Longer Sessions Add Up To 18 More Elementary School Days

Long, lazy vacation days of play, at the park or pool, with friends or on trips, are now mostly a memory for students and teachers. Only a few days of summer fun are left before school doors swing wide.

Enrollment figures have, for the 15th consecutive [illegible], replaced, rebound [illegible]; 560 new teachers [illegible] hired, and four new [illegible]ies will join the city [illegible] to bring the total to [illegible]dings.

[illegible]ESAN SCHOOLS

[illegible]hall elementaries will also launch the 1962-63 school year next Wednesday, Sept. 5, and high schools will convene Sept. 6.

Enrollment figures in the Columbus Diocese are an estimated 24,000 and schools in Franklin County total about 22,000.

The school year will hold for public elementary students an extra 18 days of instruction, but the expanded school year will go unrealized by most.

Added hours to regular school days, rather than an extended school year account for the extra time.

Elementary classes will be held from 8:45 to 11:45 a.m., and from 1 to 3:30 p.m. Last year classes assembled at 9 a.m., and afternoon dismissal was at 3:15.

Junior and senior highs will observe the same schedule as before, 8:45 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., with lunch hours arranged at each school.

Building Total $3,742,033.93

Summer time construction projects in the school system totaling $3,742,033.93 is scheduled for completion in time for schools' opening.

In addition to the four new elementaries, a program of extensive additions and remodeling at existing schools has been underway during the summer.

These include, in Hartley Newspapers' area, a $216,763 project at East High, 1500 E. Broad-st; $100,897 at Dana Elementary, 300 S. Dana-av.

Fornof Elementary, 158 Dering, underwent an $87,528 remodeling; Heyl, 765 E. Whittier-st, $10,000; Ohio Elementary, 505 S. Ohio-av, $19,000, and West Broad, 2744 W. Broad-st, $36,056.

SCHOOL CALENDAR

Schools open Sept. 5 and continue through Friday, June 7, 1963, with nine holidays during the year. There will be a total of 183 days of instruction.

Holidays are:
Sept. 14 — COTA meeting.
Nov. 12 — Veterans Day.
Nov. 22, 23 — Thanksgiving.
Dec. 21-Jan. 2 — Christmas.
Jan. 25 — Teachers Conference.
Feb. 22 — Washington's Birthday.
Apr. 12-15 — Easter.
May 30 — Memorial Day.

55 Courses This Autumn At Columbus Evening School

The Columbus Evening High School, an accredited four-year high school, operated by the Columbus Public Schools at 75 Washington-blvd, is offering 55 courses in the semester beginning in September. (See story elsewhere for additional details about the school itself).

English course offerings include English 9, 10, 11 and 12, Business English, Speech, Journalism, and Word Study and Rapid Reading. In languages, students may enroll in Spanish, Latin, German, French and Italian.

Under Social Studies the school offers World History, American History, Social Problems, Government, Geography, and Economics. Science courses include General Science, Biology, Physiology, Chemistry and Physics.

Industrial arts offerings are Drafting and Blueprint Reading and a course in woodworking. Commercial courses include Bookkeeping, Accounting, Typing, Shorthand, Salesmanship, Office Machines and Commercial Arithmetic. In mathematics students have their choice of Arithmetic, Albgebra I-II-III, Plane Geometry, Solid Geometry, Analytical Geometry, Trigonometry; and Review Mathematics.

Other subjects, both credit and non-credit, include Business Law, Psychology, Art, (oil painting, etc.), Vocal Music, Orchestra, English for Foreign Born, Elementary Reading, Spelling and Personal Writing, Elementary Arithmetic, Sewing, Foods and Meal Planning, Citizenship Preparation, and Medical Terminology.

Classes are organized in any of the above or in a subject not listed when at least 15 students register for it. Most classes meet three evenings a week — on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Some of the above, however, require only one evening a week.

For further information, telephone the Columbus Evening High School at CA. 4-3243.

YWCA To Preview Rich Course Offerings

The Young Women's Christian Association sponsors a variety of informal educational classes and workshops in the arts at its main building and at its centers in the Hilltop, the North and Wildwood Centers. The courses, which are open to both men and women, will begin the week of September 24.

The public is invited to attend a preview of the fall program at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 24, at the main building. There will be demonstrations of modern dance, of making unusual articles from odds and ends of materials, jewelry making, and of how to play the recorder, a flute-like instrument popularized by the famous Trapp family singers.

Folk Singing

The evening's program will close with folk and ballad singing led by Miles and Joan Gibbons. Ballad and folk singing is one of the workshops that is being featured on the YW's fall program.

"The Workshops," according to Miss Rowena Kealer, director of Adult Activities at the YW, "are planned to give the participants an opportunity for self expression and to experiment with various art forms." In addition to the regular class sessions, the classrooms will be available for practice at other times without additional expense.

Special Courses

In addition to the regular workshops which last 10 weeks, several short term workshops are scheduled. These include a special three-week course in hat-making for holiday affairs, a five-week course in advanced cake decorating, and a morning session in holiday cookies and Christmas decorations.

The regular educational classes are divided into five categories, language, bridge, self-improvement, the home arts, and arts and crafts.

Conservational French and Spanish are offered for beginning, intermediate and advanced students. Instruction in bridge, followed by a practice period, is scheduled for Wednesday mornings and Tuesday evenings. Courses in duplicate bridge will be given on second and fourth Thursdays.

Cake decorating, hatmaking, knitting, sewing, dressmaking, slip-covers, interior decorating and cooking are a

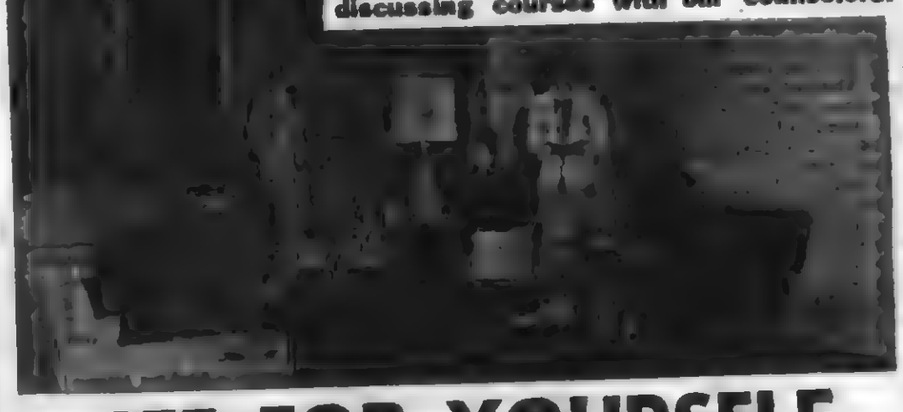
Columbus Business Univ. Nationally Recognized

In 50 years Columbus Business University has grown from an office training school to a nationally recognized institution with a charter to confer degrees. Its graduates are filling top posts in business, industry and the professions.

With the complexity of business today the need for specialization in the areas of office personnel has arisen. CBU meets this need with courses in commerce and finance, professional accounting and auditing business administration, office management, executive and private secretarial, stenographic business machines, IBM key punch, airline reservations, ticketing and teletype, speedwriting shorthand and the Nancy Taylor course in charm and etiquette.

Men in all fields of business will state that it is harder to find good office personnel than well-trained, experienced technicians. Personnel directors and management constantly look to Columbus Business University's free placement to fill vacancies in their staffs. CBU in Ohio is national headquarters for the Executive Forum for Business Schools.



The school is well-staffed and is fully accredited by the Accrediting Commission for Business Schools in Washington, D. C.

SW Schools List 30 Courses

"It is the policy of the Southwestern City Schools to teach what growing and mature adults want to learn," declares Paul S. Noblitt supervisor of adult education.

Noblitt, a former principal of elementary and high schools and now in his second year of adult education work, points to the fall schedule of classes to prove his statement.

Second Year

Thirty classes in subjects ranging from agriculture to squaredancing will be offered in the Southwestern City school's adult education program this fall. Beginning it's second year of operation, the program has grown to that size from the initial eight classes offered in the fall of 1961.

Noblitt

Basic Courses

While the basic courses of the program are the typing, shorthand, and secretarial classes, the vocational courses, including blueprint reading, shop math, sewing, drapery and slipcover making continue to be very popular.

The happy sound of the square dance caller will echo through the halls of Prairie-Lincoln School at 4900 Amesbury Way in Lincoln Village each Monday evening beginning Sept. 24. That's when the fall term of Southwestern Schools' Adult Education Program begins.

Cleveland (Jake) Huffer, a caller and teacher with many years of experience, will teach Ohio style square dances with some transition to western style during the final meetings of the class. Huffer currently teaches square dancing to several clubs in various parts of the city, and in Bexley.

Free Catalog

A complete listing of courses to be offered starting Monday, Sept. 24, will include also: Vocational Agriculture, Art sketching and painting.

Manck

Ceramics, Business arithmetic French, German, Spanish, Infant and Child Care, Ladies' Exercise Course, Investing, and Public Speaking.

A catalog listing all classes offered is available and may be obtained by calling TR. 5-2318. Registration dates are Sept. 10 and 12, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. and from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Classes begin Sept. 24. Catalogs are also available at the high schools.

"Besides attempting to provide classes where sufficient interest is shown to warrant such a step," Supervisor Noblitt said, "we have also attempted to provide the classes with top-notch teachers."

Art Expert

He cited the signing of Robert Mauck, nationally known animal illustrator and artist, to teach art in the Southwestern City Schools adult program this fall.

Mauck, who has done portraits of many of the championship show animals of today, is particularly noted for his renditions of horses and dogs. A professional animal illustrator for 18 years, he works only by commission.

Currently associated with the H. Cole Co., dealer in artists' materials, Mauck has taught classes affiliated with the YMCA, the YWCA, and church and art league groups.

He will concentrate on the areas of basic drawing, pastels and animal illustration in the classes to be offered from 8 to 10 p.m. each Monday evening at Grove City High School beginning Sept. 24.

Jewish Center Serves Needs Of Over 5000

The Jewish Center of Columbus is a United Appeals agency located on the east side of Columbus and serving a membership of over 5000 men, women and children. The Center is a family agency where every member of the family finds activity to suit his or her taste.

There are 2800 adult members at the Jewish Center and a great deal of adult education activity is conducted to meet the needs and desires of those adults who wish to enjoy their leisure time in meaningful classes, courses, concerts and lectures, and physical education programs.

Trained Staff

The program of the adult department of the center is planned by a professionally trained staff in cooperation with various committees of interested members of the community. Through the democratic process of mutual exchange these committees take major responsibility for initiating, planning, and carrying out programs suggested by staff, members, and other members of the community.

The Columbus Center is one of 320 Jewish Centers in the United States and Canada which are joined together through the National Jewish Welfare Board.

The local center is guided by a staff of trained professionals who are drawn from fields of education, social work, physical education and business.

Arts Are Central

For the courses and classes which are conducted, a special staff is drawn from all parts of the Columbus community. Instructors come from the universities, high schools, and professional personnel in the community.

The cultural arts have a central place in the adult educational program of the center. Classes are conducted in painting, ceramic tile, and sculpturing.

Art exhibitions, open to the public, are held regularly. Paintings, sketchings and sculpture pieces of local and national artists are displayed.

The center's famous theatrical group presents performances of the highest caliber to the community at regular intervals.

Theatrical Training

Last season the major production was "The Three-Penny Opera" making its midwest debut after seven years on Broadway.

The Gallery Players conduct workshops which are devoted to teaching drama techniques to would-be thespians. The group also sponsors a series of international films also open to the public. Harold M. Eisentein, Director of Adult Education for the center, is also director of the Gallery Players.

Also in the cultural arts area is the Jewish Center Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Richard J. Suddendorf. New musicians are always invited to join the orchestra. The orchestra rehearses weekly and gives a public performance once or twice during the winter-fall season.

Modern Dance

A choral group for men and women who can read music and enjoy singing rehearses under professional direction and also performs for the public.

Dorothy bloom, well-known dance instructor, conducts a modern dance class for women. Fundamentals of the dance are taught each week to beginners and advanced in the center's gym.

Concerts are presented for the public by other groups which are brought in by the music committee for the enjoyment of the public.

In keeping with the purposes of the Jewish Center, the Institute of Jewish Studies is conducted throughout the fall and winter season. Faculty for the Institute is drawn from the university, from the local rabbinate, and from scholars in the community. Courses are conducted in such subjects as Hebrew language, history, bible, philosophy, zionism, and sociology.

Family Education

One of the important areas for discussion is the Family Life Education sponsored by the center in cooperation with the Jewish Family Service. Lectures and discussions are held bi-monthly beginning in November on subjects dealing with problems affecting families, including teenage problems, marriage, and so forth. Books Clubs which meet alternweeks are a part of the National Great Books program. These are led by trained leaders.

A public affairs club meets for enlightenment. Speakers are invited from various fields to discuss current problems.

Democratic discussions are held on problems which affect all people from the United Nations to Federal problems of controversy.

Folk Dancers

Classes are taught in sundry other subjects such as bridge, rapid reading, chess, investments and foreign languages.

The newest in folk dancing is taught by local specialists. Square dancing is part of the folk dance group's repertoire. Social dance classes are taught weekly by Ted Holmes, well-known local dance instructor.

Physical education classes are conducted for adults as a part of the extensive health and physical education program of the center.

Classes are taught by a trained physical education staff headed by Howard Banchefsky. Mrs. Sam Stellman is director of women's physical education.

Fitness Classes

For men, classes are held in such sports as volleyball, handball, paddle ball, wrestling, golf, judo, and fencing. Physical fitness classes which include calisthenics, body building and swimming are taught regularly.

For women classes are held in swimming, calisthenics, judo, golf, fencing, volleyball and badminton.

The physical education department also conducts health education lectures with the cooperation of local physicians and health specialists. Classes are also taught to women in the proper manner of grooming, including use of makeup, how to dress properly, and the importance of proper posture and carriage.

Adult education techniques are used in various special groups which have special problems. Members of the center's "Parents Sans Partners" group, with the help of experts, learn how to bring up children more effectively with only one parent in the home.

The Young Married Couples Club studies the impact of modern living on the young couple of today.

The Golden Age Club, made up of over 100 people over 65 years, has classes in reading and writing, art, bowling, problems of the aging, and other aspects of aging which make the lives of our older people more enjoyable.

Some 40 adult Jewish organizations in Columbus meet at the center throughout the year. Almost all of these organizations conduct some facets of Adult Education activity.

The Jewish Center is a nonprofit organization. Richard J. Abel is president, Mayer Rosenfeld is executive director and Sam Stellman is assistant executive director.

School Doors Swing Wide Wednesday For Record High Enrollment Of 93,000

Longer Sessions Add Up To 18 More Elementary School Days

Long, lazy vacation days of play, at the park or pool, with friends or on trips, are now mostly a memory for students and teachers. Only a few days of summer fun are left before school doors swing wide.

Enrollment figures have, for the 15th consecutive year, reached a record high. Some 93,000 students are expected to enroll in the Columbus public schools.

Approximately 3,000 students have been added to the rolls each year for the past 15 years.

Some 2,500 teachers will be needed, replaced, rebound ed; 560 new teachers n hired, and four new ies will join the city to bring the total to dings.

OLUMBAN SCHOOLS hall elementaries will also launch the 1962-63 school year next Wednesday, Sept. 5, and high schools will convene Sept. 6.

Enrollment figures in the Columbus Diocese are an estimated 24,000 and schools in Franklin County total about 27,000.

The school year will hold for public elementary students an extra 18 days of instruction, but the expanded school year will go unnoticed by most.

Added hours to regular school days, rather than an extended school year account for the extra time.

Elementary classes will be held from 8:45 to 11:45 a.m., and from 1 to 3:30 p.m. Last year classes assembled at 9 a.m., and afternoon dismissal was at 3:15.

Junior and senior highs will observe the same schedule as before, 8:45 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., with lunch hours arranged at each school.

Building Total $3,742,033.93

Summer time construction projects in the school system totaling $3,742,033.93 is scheduled for completion in time for schools' opening.

In addition to the four new elementaries, a program of extensive additions and remodeling at existing schools has been underway during the summer.

These include, in Hartley Newspapers' area, a $216,762 project at East High, 1500 E. Broad-st; $100,897 at Dana Elementary, 300 S. Dana-av.

Fornof Elementary, 158 Dering, underwent an $87,528 remodeling; Heyl, 765 E. Whittier-st, $10,000; Ohio Elementary, 505 S. Ohio-av, $19,000, and West Broad, 2744 W. Broad-st, $36,056.

SCHOOL CALENDAR

Schools open Sept. 5 and continue through Friday, June 7, 1963, with nine holidays during the year. There will be a total of 183 days of instruction.

Holidays are:

Sept. 14 — COTA meeting.
Nov. 12 — Veterans Day.
Nov. 22, 23 — Thanksgiving.
Dec. 21-Jan. 3 — Christmas.
Jan. 25 — Teachers Conference.
Feb. 22 — Washington's Birthday.
Apr. 12-15 — Easter.
May 30 — Memorial Day.

No Garbage Pickup Monday

Because Monday, Sept. 3 is a legal holiday there will be no collections of garbage and refuse on that day.

The Division of Sanitation will work overtime two hours per day the remainder of the week.

Issued Building Permit

The Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. has been issued a permit for a $44,000 addition and alteration to a brick building 62 S. Glenwood-av. B. R. Lepper Construction Co., 47 N. Washington-av, is the contractor.

Ohio Technical Institute Marks 10th Year Of Service

The year 1962 marks the tenth year of continuous operation of the Ohio Technical Institute, 261 S. High-st. Ohio Tech was founded by Samuel Oppenheimer in May, 1952.

First classes were held in two rooms on N. High-st, with engineers from WTVN-TV among the students. It didn't take long to outgrow the location, and in October of the same year, the school was moved to larger quarters on N. Grant-av.

SCHOOL OFFICIALS — Ohio Technical Institute registrar Raymond M. Watson (left) and Thomas M. Mathias, technical director, are among the top-notch educators affiliated with the 10-year-old institution.

The school continued to grow, and in August, 1954, Ohio Tech moved into its present location. In the next few years the school is planning another move into new and larger facilities. The growth of the school and the success of its graduates and the acceptance by industry of Ohio Tech graduates can be attributed to the high standards set by the school administration and faculty.

Two-Part Program

Ohio Technical Institute is the only school in the Central Ohio region that is entirely devoted to the training of electronics engineering technicians. This training is available on a full time or an evening basis. The full time curriculum requires 2160 contact hours and is completed in 18 school months. The evening program is divided into two parts: an electronics technology curriculum requiring attendance two evenings a week for two years, and an advanced electronics course requiring an additional year of evening training.

The job opportunities available to graduates of Ohio Tech have been truly remarkable! It has been the usual practice for recruiters from various industries around the country to call on seniors at the school as much as two months in advance of graduation. Some of the graduates of this school are working in South America, South Africa, Hawaii and Alaska.

Day school classes are formed twice a year, in the fall and spring. Evening school classes are formed every 12 weeks. The following is a detailed schedule of both the day and evening schools.

The day school fall quarter starts Sept. 10. There will be classes in the first, third and fifth quarters. The winter quarter of the day school starts Dec. 3, and there will be classes in the second, fourth and sixth quarters. Spring quarter starts Mar. 4, 1963, for the day school, with classes scheduled in the first, third and fifth quarters.

Classes Listed

The evening school fall quarter starts Sept. 10. Classes in operation are:

Electronics 100 (DC circuits analysis), currently in session; Mathematics 101 (algebra), currently in session; Electronics 200 (AC circuits analysis), starts Sept. 5; Mathematics 201 (trigonometry), starts Sept. 5; Electronics 300 (electron devices), starts Sept. 23; Electronics 400 (application of electron devices), curently in session; Electronics 600 (transistor theory and application) which starts Sept. 4.

Proper credit will be given to persons with previous training.

The professional training at Ohio Tech is very complete, including such subjects as radar, servomechanisms, computers, industrial electronics and semiconductors. At OTI the student is not only taught the theory of electronic circuits and systems, but also has laboratory experience on these subjects.

Valued Diploma

At the Ohio Technical Institute the student will find himself in a highly stimulating course conducted by experienced and capable teachers. The OTI diploma is valued and respected by industry all over the country.

Ohio Technical Institute is a member of the American Technical Education Association. The purpose of this organization is to promote technical education for the interested and qualified youth and adult, to recommend standards for technical education, and to provide an opportunity for an exchange of ideas among persons in the technical field.

Franklin University Serves Youth And Adults

Franklin University offers adults formal evening education in law, accounting, business management, industrial management, electronics, drawing, typewriting, shorthand and dictation. Day Programs in electronics, drawing, and secretarial courses are offered for youth and adults.

A branch of the Columbus Young Men's Christian Association, Franklin University is located in the east wing of Central YMCA at 40 West Long Street. The University's offices and library are located on the second floor. The office is open until 8 p.m. so that adults may visit the University after working hours. Policies of the University are set by a Board of Governors composed of twelve business and professional men.

Franklin University's work with adults started before 1900, when the YMCA started classes in a few courses to help young men who were working during the days.

Formal Education

For the past 60 years Franklin University's chief work has been that of offering evening formal education to the adults of Columbus and Central Ohio. Enrollment for the fall 1962 will be over one thousand students. The fall trimester starts on Tuesday, September 4, 1962.

Both men and women attend Franklin University, which has been coeducational since World War I. Approximately one-fourth of the students are women. The University is open to all people regardless of race, creed, or national origin.

A student body of well over 1000 is expected at Franklin University this fall. Rapt attention and eagerness to learn seem to characterize the average Franklin University student. Here, all eyes are focused on Robert Garrow and his explanation of the slide rule in a math class.

Evening students work during the days and attend classes on one or more evenings each week. Students may enroll for single courses, a certificate, or for degree programs. The University offers the junior college, or associate degree, and the college, or bachelors degree, in the evenings. The associate degree may be earned in the day division of the Technical Institute.

Employers Assist

Adults attend Franklin University to improve their education and to help them in employment. Some adults want to learn enough so that they may enter a new field of employment. Others want to upgrade themselves on their jobs or to keep up-to-date on their present job.

A few students are being retained for employment since their jobs were eliminated by automation. Many students are assisted by their employers who pay for one-half to all of the tuition if courses are completed satisfactorily.

Franklin University operates three trimesters each year. Trimesters are sixteen weeks long. If a student enrolls in one course, he attends class one evening each week from 6 to 9 p.m. The Fall Trimester traditionally starts the day after Labor Day. The first Monday of each year, and the Summer Trimester starts around May 1.

Four Divisions

The University is a non-profit institution of higher education, which is operated to help educate persons interested in improving themselves and to serve the community. Advisory committees' opinions, student requests, and employers needs are used in developing curriculums and planning schedules.

Franklin University is composed of four divisions which are the Law School, the General College, the Technical Institute, and the Secretarial School.

The Law School accepts adults under 41 years of age if they are graduates of accredited four-year colleges or universities. The degree of Bachelor of Laws can be earned by attending class three evenings each week for approximately four years.

The faculty is composed of five full-time professors and 10 prominent lawyers of the local bar and bench who teach part-time. Enrollment varies from 100 to 120 students. Students work at full-time positions and attend evening class.

It is not unusual to find people who have earned advanced degrees enrolled and working for a law degree. Four or five women are usually enrolled. The Law School has approximately four hundred Spring Trimester starts the living alumni. Many of these are prominent in the legal profession and in business.

Mature Adults

The General College accepts adults of any age. Mature adults who are not high school graduates are admitted as special students. Approximately 500 students attend

Central YMCA Offers Opportunities For Physical Fitness, Creative Living

The 107 year old Central YMCA at 40 W. Long-st offers adults of all races and creeds many opportunities for self improvement through its Informal Adult Evening School, athletic programs, physical fitness programs, men's and family camping program and other social activities. Thousands of Columbus men have found that the YMCA offers a pleasant and effective way to get and keep in trim.

In the days of the old Third Street YMCA, the organization pioneered physical fitness of business men by having them run around the State House Square. Now, the Central YMCA boasts of one of the few indoor running tracks for its members.

Also, the Y has a modern swimming pool with filtered and properly treated water which according to regular testing is as safe as drinking water. The pool is used for social family groups, swimming events and water safety courses.

College-trained specialists map programs to fit their needs. And guide them toward their goal. Every step . . . every minute of their progress is fun!

Keeping in trim the Y way means much more than 1, 2, 3, bend - and much more than muscular development or weight control.

Y members feel good, all the way through, when they join in any of a dozen or more sports and recreational activities. An exciting game of volleyball or a lively swim builds a glow of health. And it is genuine good health—the kind that will stand by you when the going gets tough. Regular exercise does the following: strengthens heart, lungs and muscles; improves circulation; aids elimination; and is nature's own tranquilliser! Exercise does this by putting vital organs to work—something they don't do when you are bound to a desk all day, and flop in an easy chair all evening. And through sports and games the members make new friends and develop new interests while getting in shape.

The athletic facilities at the Y are among the best in the nation and the activities include swimming and skin diving, basketball, volleyball, handball, squash, paddle rackets, badminton, gymnastics, trampoline, judo, wrestling, weight lifting, fitness classes, track, sun bathing, health services and camping.

In the Informal Adult Education program, approximately 60 different classes and activities are offered in season. The courses cover a wide range of creative and stimulating topics including art, crafts, languages, hobbies, social skills, religion and personal finance. (See advertisement for complete list of [illegible])

Social activities and clubs, which offer fellowship, fun and recreation include dancing, bridge, chess, hiking and youth hostelling.

Excellent opportunities for young men and women from 21 to 35 are offered through the Y's Men's Club and the Pacemakers. These clubs offer programs for social interaction on a high level, opportunities for personal growth and worthwhile projects for service to the community, state, nation and world.

All of the above activities and facilities have been planned to further the purpose of the YMCA which is to promote the spiritual, intellectual, social and physical education and growth of its members and constituency, consistent with the spirit and teachings of Jesus Christ; and in cooperation with the home, the church, the school and other institutions, to render such service in the community as will tend to secure better social, economic, moral and spiritual conditions for society.

"As long as we insist on defining college as the only means of further growth after high school, we shall have increasing—and ultimately unmanageable — pressures for admission of unqualified students. And we shall do needless harm to those who cannot make it."—From: Ohio Guidance News, February 1962.

this college during the fall trimester.

Some adults enroll for only one course, such as Principles of Real Estate. Other persons take enough courses to earn the associate or bachelor's degree. Courses in accounting, business administration, industrial management, English, foreign languages, psychology, social studies, and the like are available.

Many students attend the University to get the "know-how" for job advancement, others to learn new professions. Some students, graduates of other four-year colleges and universities, are learning new professions, keeping up-to-date, or simply taking courses in which they are interested. Students and graduates are found in responsible positions in local business, industrial, and governmental organizations.

Tech Institute

The Technical Institute of Franklin University offers programs in electronics and drawing to both youth and adults through day and evening courses. Its programs are designed to educate engineering technicians. Technicians are defined as persons who have had two or more years of education beyond the high school; who have studied mathematics, science, oral and written communications, and their specialty; and who have earned the associate degree.

These technicians are educated to be assistants to engineers and supervisors of craftsmen. Various groups have reported that from three to five technicians are needed to support every engineer. Currently technicians are in demand in many fields due to the increased use of complicated equipment.

The University discontinued its vocational education at the beginning of World War II. Since that time, the University has educated engineering technicians in electronics and drawing. Instruction is performed by a staff of full-time instructors, together with several part-time instructors, who are engineers, scientists, and technicians working in local business, industries, and research institutions. Approximately three hundred and fifty students attend this division. Graduates work locally, as well as in many parts of the nation.

The Secretarial School conducts day and evening classes for youth and adults. Certificate programs are offered, but students may enroll for one or more courses if they desire. Although this school is co-educational, most of its students are women. Many women who are reentering the business world after some years of absence attend this school to build up their speed in typewriting and dictation.

St. Mary Of Springs Launches 13th Year of Adult Courses

The adult education program at the College of St. Mary of the Springs will begin its thirteenth academic year with the opening of classes on Sept. 24.

The evening sessions for both men and women are offered as part of the College's long-standing policy of making its faculty and facilities available to area persons wishing to further their cultural and intellectual development.

Varied Curriculum

The adult curriculum at St. Mary's includes a variety of courses which may be taken for college credit or simply for their cultural value. Included are classes in the fields of art, economics, education, English, history, government, library science, music, philosophy, science, sociology, speech and theology.

Courses which have received increased interest in the adult program are scheduled for the 1962-63 year. Among these courses are: Creative Writing; the Philosophy of Communism, and Introduction to the Great Books, which is designed to give a liberal education in capsule form.

The college will also hold a weekly seminar and give credit for students wishing to take the television course "The American Economy," which will begin on Sept. 24.

In addition to the evening school, St. Mary's offers Saturday classes as part of the adult education program. For these sessions, students may select courses from the areas of English, education, French history and science.

More detailed information on the adult education program at the College of St. Mary of the Springs may be obtained by contacting the Registrar, Columbus 19, Ohio, CLearbrook 2-2137.

...ESAN SCHOOLS ...hall elementaries will ...also launch the 1962-63 school year next Wednesday, Sept. 5, and high schools will convene Sept. 6.

Enrollment figures in the Columbus Diocese are an estimated 24,000 and schools in Franklin County total about 22,000.

The school year will hold for public elementary students an extra 18 days of instruction, but the expanded school year will go unnoticed by most.

Added hours to regular school days, rather than an extended school year account for the extra time.

Elementary classes will be held from 8:45 to 11:45 a.m., and from 1 to 3:30 p.m. Last year classes assembled at 9 a.m., and afternoon dismissal was at 3:15.

Junior and senior highs will observe the same schedule as before, 8:45 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., with lunch hours arranged at each school.

Building Total $3,743,833.93

Summer time construction projects in the school system totaling $3,742,033.93 is scheduled for completion in time for schools' opening.

In addition to the four new elementaries, a program of extensive additions and remodeling at existing schools has been underway during the ...mer.

These include, in Hartley Newspapers' area, a $216,762 project at East High, 1500 E. Broad-st; $100,897 at Dana Elementary, 300 S. Dana-av.

Fornof Elementary, 158 Dering, underwent an $87,528 remodeling; Heyl, 765 E. Whittier-st, $10,000; Ohio Elementary, 505 S. Ohio-av, $19,000, and West Broad, 2744 W. Broad-st, $36,056.

SCHOOL CALENDAR

Schools open Sept. 5 and continue through Friday, June 7, 1963, with nine holidays during the year. There will be a total of 183 days of instruction.

Holidays are:

Sept. 14 — COTA meeting.
Nov. 12 — Veterans Day.
Nov. 22, 23 — Thanksgiving.
Dec. 21-Jan. 2 — Christmas.

Psychological Counseling Often Aids Student To Progress

By Betty Madigan

The program of Psychological Counseling and Educational Services is unique in that it brings together a wide scope of professional services available for families, individuals, children or adults, integrated around the needs or interests of the person requesting them. For example, the program often begins when parents seek professional counseling for marriage problems. In resolving these, the couple may come to realize that their own tensions have adversely affected their children's emotional development, social adjustment, or achievements in school work.

Other times, our relationship with a family begins with parent's concern about a child's school progress. Outright failure, or more often inadequate achievements in reading, math, for example, are important evidence, to parents and teachers that a child is having problems with which he and/or they, need professional help. A student's personal and social adjustment may improve markedly with psychological help. However, he could still be seriously handicapped as far as reading or other learning skills are concerned unless a program is organized for him to include educational assistance. Thus an integrated program ...ssed both at emotional causes and remedial measures should enable a student to catch up with or excel in school work, according to his intellectual ability.

A tutoring program by itself cannot be very helpful to a student whose problems are caused by emotional difficulties. Before such a student is ready or able to profit by more instruction, a person trained or equipped with professional skills must help him get at the causes of his lack of achievement, the root of his problem. When his psychological or emotional conflict is resolved, he may find remedial instructions unnecessary.

Students, at secondary or college levels are receiving assistance in developing higher level study skills; or are being totored in specific academic subjects. Teachers instructing them are competent, certified and experienced.

Likewise, many adults who have yet to learn to read, to write, to spell or to "figure" have been coming to us to start their education.

Time and time again, this integrated program of psychological Counseling and Educational Services has proved successful in bringing about happier individual and family situations in which adults and children are living more effective and fuller lives.

In operation, this program of Psychological Counseling and Educational Services has been favored by consultation and collaboration with clergymen of all faiths, pediatricians, psychiatrists and other physicians as well as school and social work personnel.

This program of Psychological Counseling and Educational Service is dedicated to community life of Columbus, in particular. It hopes to contribute to the enrichment of our human relations through assisting individuals and families toward happier, more mature and effective citizenship.

Miss Madigan's professional training includes an MA from the University of Cincinnati in social and psychiatric casework, post MA courses at Western Reserve University in psychonalytic theory and therapy, Ohio State University doctoral program in psychological counseling, mental hygiene and education.

She was formerly clinical psychologist at Columbus Juvenile Diagnostic Center and at the Counseling Center, University of Chicago. She has served as assistant professor of education and psychology at Ball State Teachers College in Muncie, Ind., University of Delaware and Brooklyn College.
